IndyCars. These things all scream SPRING IS HERE to me.

However, it doesn't truly feel like the fresh beginning to a sun-drenched season until I've plummeted my bare hands into the clay-filled soil of my yard. There is something so rewarding about breaking my back to shovel and spreading the mulch that makes our gardens pop or cutting an outline in our yard of what will be my daughter's garden of her very own.

One of my favorite pastimes is sitting with Megan on our back patio with a cup of coffee or glass of wine (depending on time of day, of course), watching the daylilies open for their day of glory, the cardinals and hummingbirds gliding to their respective feeders, the vegetables beginning to sprout buds, and the bunnies deciding which of our plants are going to be their dinner that night. Not to mention trying to keep our dogs from digging everything up.

The mark of a good teacher is when they imprint on you an appreciation for something new, instead of just cold hard facts. That is why I know I am incredibly blessed to have my wife and best friend as my educator to all this beauty right in front of me. It makes me

New Works: An Arts Commission Project

Franks also was a 2021/2022 season Fishers Arts + Culture Commission and an Indiana Arts Commission grant recipient. Additionally, her original piece Suits is a 2023 New Works: An Arts Commission Project winner and will be premier at the Center for the Performing Arts on June 10, 2023.

Now in its second season, the New Works competition is an initiative by the Center for the Performing Arts to promote and sustain central Indiana's working artists and arts communities in an inclusive way by supporting the creation of new works across all performing arts disciplines.

Suits is an original dance piece incorporating various styles and techniques, including ballet, contemporary, Graham, and jazz, to be performed by 19 En Pointe pre-professional student dancers. Franks, an En Pointe instructor and former dancer with Dance Kaleidoscope, choreographed Suits based on her own career transition from professional dance to office-based work. The narrative is a mystery about a stolen document, set amid the human dynamics of corporate culture.

"I think the Palladium is one of the most beautiful stages in Indiana," Franks said. "As a dancer, a beautiful theater just makes your heart happy. I'm so excited our students will get the opportunity to dance at the Palladium alongside some incredible artists. I think it'll be an experience that they'll hold on to for the rest of their lives."

Emily Franks on Music in Motion

"The incredible staff, both artistic and administrative, that I work with at En Pointe is insanely talented," Franks said. "All the teachers lead their classes with humility and kindness. I'm one of the younger teachers, and they've seen me grow up during different phases of my Indy dance life. While I look up to all of them professionally, I admire them all as people more. They've become family, and I'm so grateful for their encouragement, especially when I come to them with exciting community projects like Music in Motion."

feel like a kid again to have my eyes opened to a whole new world of God's glorious perfection. I get to see Megan teach my children these same lessons, as their eyes light up when they are given the opportunity to discover this amazing wonderment.

I remember many years ago, Megan was staring at the backyard of our first house that we had just purchased. She looked at me and said, "I'm going to need a large garden right over there by the fence for all of our flowers."

I glared at her and said, "What flowers?"

She rebutted, "The flowers we're going to buy and the one's we're going to get from my mom's house."

"Oh, those."

I remember thinking at the time that she'd forget that conversation, since it was currently December, but boy was I wrong. The first warm weekend in April, she told me to put on clothes that can get dirty and I went out the back door.

I found myself mapping out a plan for the garden. I didn't have the first clue what I was doing. I had a lawn mower, a shovel, and a tiller. I slopped my way through it and ended up with a garden space that I felt had a decent design, considering I was a complete novice. We filled that up with day lilies, live forever, Asiatic lilies, lambs' ear and anything else we could buy or was gifted by Megan's mom. I remember being surprised at how fulfilling the work was. Once they started growing and blooming, I considered them our babies (this was prior to actual babies) and couldn't believe how beautiful it all turned out. I was hooked!

Well, since then we expanded the garden, added more flowers, moved, took many of those flowers with us, started new gardens, and the whole cycle continued and repeated. I am so proud of all I've learned and all the sweat and blood we have put into our yard. Gardening has been such a bonding experience for my family, and I am forever grateful for the never-ending learning and beauty.

Nature is teaching us to learn, grow, and love. Are we paying attention?

Other individuals who received recognition at this year's commencement include Outstanding Faculty Award recipient Dr. Stephen Prunier, and Outstanding Adjunct Faculty Award recipient Dr. Brian Bartley.

The student commencement speaker who addressed her graduating Class of 2023 was Troi Wharton, who graduated with both a degree in Business Administration and General Studies.

During the ceremony, graduates also heard from President of Ivy Tech Community College Dr. Sue Ellspermann, who conferred degrees.

"I never dreamt that I would serve in elected office when I finished my first engineering degree," Ellspermann said. "But then I got asked to run ... first as a State Representative and then Lieutenant Governor. My education and degrees were essential elements of my confidence, competencies, and success. And now, I want to make the same request to you. I hope that you will leverage your current success academically to serve your community, state, or nation in public service in the future. We know that well over 90 percent of Ivy Tech graduates will stay in Indiana ... and we are so proud of that. Thus, if we want a strong Indiana, it will be Ivy Tech graduates, like each of you, who will secure our bright future. Think about that."

Ellspermann told graduates to keep learning and keep growing, but on graduation day she asked them to stop and savor the moment first.

"By making it this far you've proven that you know how to take care of business," Ellspermann said. "But you also know how to take care of YOU. Never forget that important learning either!"

Nicole Southerland succeeds Joanne Tedesco as chair of Westfield disabilities council

The REPORTER

The Westfield Mayor's Council on Disabilities (WMCD) has announced that Nicole Southerland, a 30-year Westfield resident and Director at CICOA Aging and In-Home Solutions, will immediately assume the role of chairperson.

"It has been an honor and privilege to lead the Westfield Mayor's Council on Disabilities for the past year," WMCD Founder Joanne Tedesco said. "During that time, we have formed valuable partnerships across Hamilton County. As we continue to provide our community with quality resources and valuable disability-related information, we must remember that positive change will come from systemic transformation at the state level."

WMCD events have included conversations about planning for the future, special needs estate planning, post-secondary education opportunities, disability employment, deaf and hard of hearing resources, and the importance of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). This civil rights law prohibits discrimination based on disability. The WMCD will celebrate the 33rd anniversary of the ADA on July 26.

"I'm thrilled to take on the leadership role for the Westfield Mayor's Council on Disabilities and believe my skills and experiences will add great value," Southerland said. "I've been working at CICOA for over 20 years and have a pulse on statewide programs, funding, and behind-the-scenes details that will benefit the disability community."

Along with Mayor Andy Cook, Westfield Council member and presumptive Mayor Scott Willis was an early supporter of a disability council, which Cook's administration subsequently adopted.

"While I'm disappointed that we weren't successful in securing a disability ordinance in Westfield, we have made enormous gains," Willis said. "This Council has uncovered issues and has started some critical conversations that will impact not only people with disabilities but the city overall."

Joanne Tedesco and Nicole Southerland.

"The disability population is a passionate group that works tirelessly for inclusion, acceptance, and understanding," Mayor Cook said. "I'm thrilled that we have WMCD up and running and am confident it will be just as vibrant in the future."

The WMCD will continue to positively impact the lives of people with disabilities by addressing current challenges people with disabilities in Westfield face and uncovering quality solutions that break down barriers.

Marketing! It might as well be a four-letter word

Is marketing a conundrum for you? Conundrums are mysteries pure and simple. Marketing is a mystery for too many, especially marketing in the New Economy.

We are in a chaotic era right now, a disruptive moment, where change is the only constant. It comes at us like a tsunami with no image of a resulting future. Entire industries are disappearing – being replaced by some new idea, new technology, or service. That is Elon Musk's incredible success; he doesn't change products or services, he changes industries. He thinks bigger than the typical mortal.

The renaissance we're in has changed the customer in a profound way that's often overlooked. Funds are almost as tight as our time management these days, so customers are now looking for affordable, trustworthy solutions that are effective in resolving their issues. Since projected costs for marketing support is expected to rise to over $200 billion in 2023, attention is being given to the different forms marketing is taking with digital marketing heading the pack.

Trust has become a critical ingredient of people

GUEST COLUMNIST

JANET HAUTER

What is case study marketing?

In a way, case study marketing inverts the pyramid. Historically, businesses were the experts in providing quality work. The New Economy sets up a different paradigm: your customer is the expert! The customer recognizes an issue needing someone outside his skill set. He does online research, which offers a list of sorts. Some may choose the closest service provider; others will check with friends and family. Others yet will take it to the next level and begin to get quotes.

Case studies showcase your company as a thought leader who demonstrates success stories so that you hear from happy customers and why they had a positive experience. What used to be effective marketing was telling people about the stuff you sell – period. Now, your customer tells your prospects how you resolved a challenge they had coupled with their gratitude to you for your help. There is no better way to understand how your business can help another than to step into the shoes of a happy customer!

Why makes case studies so effective?

Case studies are compelling real-life stories of how your product or service helped a customer. Hearing a story from someone like themselves opens up a relationship of equals: customer to customer. Sharing another customer's challenging story and how your company helped resolve the problem makes you and your company heroes.

Case studies have incredible return-on-investment applications for you. They are often on waiting room tables, appear on your website as a testimonial with quotes, or included in sales presentations as a persuasive tool that demonstrates why customers work with you. They are also used in onboarding new employees offering insight about your values while generating more leads.

A one-time investment (generally from $350 to $500) per case study (the average company has two to three created) can go a long way in creating a competitive advantage proving why 73 percent of the most successful marketing copywriters use case studies now.

Rep. Victoria Spartz travels to Turkey as election observer

The REPORTER

Last weekend, Rep. Victoria Spartz (R-Ind.-05), Commissioner to the Commission on Security and Cooperation in Europe – Helsinki Commission, traveled to Turkey to observe national elections as part of the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe Parliamentary Assembly’s (OSCE PA) election observation mission.

Spartz and Helsinki Commission staff observed the general election through visits to polling stations during opening, voting, and closing procedures.

In 1990, OSCE participating states pledged to hold free and fair elections and invite foreign observers to observe them. Since

Boating restrictions in place along White River in Noblesville

The REPORTER

Attention anyone who plans to use the White River for boating, kayaking, canoeing, rafting, and or other recreational activities: Construction of the new Pleasant Street bridge in and around the White River is causing some water traffic restrictions in the area approximately 2,700 feet south of the State Road 32/Conner Street bridge. The river will remain open during construction, but the waterway has been restricted in the construction zone. Buoys and construction signage have been placed along the river in critical locations to alert waterway users and guide them through the construction zone. The City of Noblesville and Beaty Construction have been coordinating the restrictions with Brian Cooley, the CEO of Outdoor Excursions, Inc., who operates the White River Canoe Company to help alert boaters and others about the construction. Since this is an active construction zone, everyone should exercise caution as they navigate the

Due to the nature of construction, there could be unforeseen restrictions and/or closures of the waterway as the project progresses. Humbled by community support

As a 501(c)(3) not-for-profit that doesn't accept government money, fundraisers are our lifeblood. Receiving private grants, corporate sponsorships, and cash donations keep food moving through pantries in Hamilton County.

This past month we hosted the Feeding Team volunteer and host recognition dinner. Lisa and I were blessed to be a part of recognizing dozens of neighbors who volunteer hundreds of hours annually; sorting, stocking, cleaning, and maintaining pantries

FeedingTeam.org
Facts
50 pantries
10,000 meals in March 2023
Over 30 volunteer families to provide thousands of meals each month. The community raised over $7,000 to feed hungry neighbors. We continually are humbled by the community support for Feeding Team.

Special shout outs to Charity, Michelle, Rocky, Jeff, Bob, Shawn, Jon, the staff at The Mill Top, Nameless Catering, TalentLogistiX, JR Gaylor, and EquipCon for making this event special and successful.

As has become our custom, we told pantry stories. Stories of people whose paths cross someone from Feeding Team. An audience of almost 200 supporters listened to the small chapters of neighbors' lives. We don't use the real names of our neighbors.

Folks like Martha who just had a kidney transplant and needed food before returning to work at her fast-food job. Like Beth, the daughter of an elected official, out of work and embarrassed that her situation would be discovered by her father. Like Bill, a Navy veteran who survives on pantry food plus his pension. Like Susan who lived through a frigid winter in her car with her boyfriend, surviving on food from the pantries until her life circumstances changed.

crowd with table magic and followed that with an incredible stage show. It's no wonder he is in such high demand and performs nationally now at large venues.

I am so proud of the team. They have hearts of gold and live to serve. I am so proud to live in Indiana where people care. I am so proud of the people of Hamilton County and how service and charity are integral in the fabric of daily life. I am convinced that Feeding Team is meant for times such as these, but also, specifically it's meant for a place as special as Hamilton County Indiana. Thank you.

With over 44,000 food-challenged neighbors in Hamilton County, FeedingTeam.org is a registered 501(c)(3) not-for-profit organization that provides outdoor 24/7/365 no-questions-asked free food pantries throughout the county.

The pantries exist to meet the food insecurity needs of gap families, neighbors who may not qualify for public assistance and could use a few meals before payday. The pantries serve as many food-challenged neighbors as possible, and our hearts are with those who, like my family, could not always make ends meet.

Thank you for supporting the pantries. We love serving with so many neighbors across Hamilton County. In future columns, we will share more stories about how your generosity served neighbors in times of need. The face of hunger in Hamilton County is not what you may think.

In practical terms, this straightforward way to help neighbors is having real impact on lives, families, and our communities. Thank you. A few meals can change the course of a person's life. A can of green beans means so much more when you have nothing to feed your kids.

Would you like to get involved? Volunteer opportunities are available. We are evaluating new pantry locations. If you think you have a potential location, please contact us.

Mark and Lisa Hall are the Founders of Feeding Team. They may be reached at lisa@feedingteam.org and mark@feedingteam.org or by calling (317) 832-1123.

World Premiere of Mr. Confidential absolutely impresses

It isn't very often (make that never) that Mrs. K and I are able to attend a World Premiere event in central Indiana.

What I do get to do is to set down my impressions of a brand spanking new production. One thing I intended. Then two add-know, its birth wasn't easy. ATI had to forego the entire first week of shows due to a rash of illness in the cast encompassing seven cases of COVID. The setback was well-handled, but likely caused some patrons not to be able to visit the show as planned. Then two additional "preview" dates were scrubbed, which is why I finally saw the show at a late date, midway in its final week this past weekend.

Samuel Garza Bernstein is the lyricist as well as the author of the book for this musical adventure. Bernstein also serves as director of the ATI production. David Snyder is the composer and Willem De Vries takes on the choreography duties.

The story is set in New York and Hollywood and tells how Bob Harrison (played by Don Farrell) creates an American sensation when he invents Confidential Magazine in 1952. Leaving behind his girlie magazines business, which causes him a bit of trouble, Harrison hits on the idea of writing about peoples' secret lives in lieu of the offending 'cheesecake' photos. Mixing in whispered truths and innuendo about politicians, Hollywood types, and other famous people doesn't hurt the cause, so off he goes, outselling TV Guide at one point. Filling the pages with gossip and hearsay requires 'sources,' and this need sends Harrison's niece Marjorie (Shelbi Berry Kamohara) to California with a bundle of money to obtain them. Publicity stunt stories about Harrison and about his commie chasing partner Howard Rushmore (Tim Fullerton) increase sales and further boost Rushmore's attempts to rid the USA of Reds.

The rising success has its downsides, and not just for Harrison. His entire family (which staffs the magazine) falls into legal trouble over charges of fraud, libel, and obscenity among others. A California trial takes place, the results of which change Harrison's life (and those is his circle) in a myriad of ways.

Inspired by real events, Bernstein has created a multi-faceted story with depth in not only the Harrison saga but also the related arcs of Rushmore and his wife Frances (Judy Fitzgerald), niece Marjorie and her family, and Harrison's close family – future wife Jeannie (Diana O'Halloran), sister Edith (Cynthia Collins), nephew Michael (Jacob Butler) and Marjorie's husband Fred (Kieran Danaan).

Together with composer Snyder, lyricist Bernstein has set down a diverse score, with ideal enhancement by the De Vries choreography. Snappy tunes, jazzy beats, ballads, tangoes and 1950s close-harmonied trios are all represented in the 18 musical numbers which deftly advance and color the story. Offered by a cast of extremely talented, very well-cast performers – the longish production (timed at around 2 and 3/4 hours with intermission) moves along well.

Don Farrell has always been notable in his abilities on stage and as Harrison he sets the bar very high with a powerful vocal performance. This is accompanied by his winning portrayal of this very creative businessman. Diana O'Halloran matches his levels as Harrison's girlfriend/wife Jeannie. Shelbi Berry Kamohara is the type of performer who – when you hear the lead-in to her upcoming song – you say, "Oh good, she's going to sing again!" and as Majorie, she once more charms us with her talents. Tim Fullerton's dynamic turn as Howard Rushmore is strengthened by the power of his singing.

John Vessels Jr. adds facets to songs and characters that only John Vessels Jr. can provide with his originality and verve. Judy Fitzgerald's sympathetic portrayal of Frances Rushmore is a sad story all its own. Cynthia Collins is properly concerned in her role as Harrison's down-to-earth sister, Edith.

Most of the other performers treat us with their fine ensemble work, filling the stage with song and dance. The background trio of Megan Arrington, Jaddy Ciucci, and Emily Bohannon does especially amazing things. Jacob Butler,

Civic Theatre unveils 2023-2024 season

The REPORTER

Booth Tarkington Civic Theatre has announced its 2023-24 season.

Civic's season will kick off with the regional premiere of The Prom. Four eccentric Broadway stars are in desperate need of a new stage. When they hear that trouble is brewing around a small-town prom, they know that it's time to put a spotlight on the issue ... and themselves. The town's parents want to keep the high school dance on the straight and narrow – but when one student just wants to bring her girlfriend to prom, the entire town has a date with destiny. On a mission to transform lives, Broadway's brassiest join forces with a courageous girl and the town's citizens and the result is love that brings them all together.

Elf the Musical will return to the Knebel Stage in December 2023. Buddy, a young orphan, mistakenly crawls into Santa's bag of gifts and is transported to the North Pole. The would-be elf is raised, unaware that he is actually a human until his enormous size and poor toy-making abilities cause him to face the truth. With Santa's permission, Buddy embarks on a journey to New York City to find his birth father and discover his true identity.

The first play of the season will be William Shakespeare's iconic Romeo & Juliet. In this 90-minute version of the Shakespearean classic, you'll be transported to fair Verona. In this new interpretation, adapted especially for the Civic stage by Director Emily Rogge Tzucker, you can expect the romantic tale of star-crossed love, with an extra dash of energy and excitement. Dark, contemporary, and just a little bit rock-and-roll, Civic's production promises the best of the old, while breathing new life into a classic tale of love and loss.

The second play of the season will be Driving Miss Daisy in the Studio Theater. A Southern matron forges a bond with her Black chauffeur in the racially-divided 1960s South. Only when he is retired and she is confined to a home for the elderly do the two fully realize that they've been friends and kindred spirits all along.

Closing out the season will be the beautiful Anastasia. From Tony winners Terrence McNally, Stephen Flaherty, and Lynn Ahrens, this dazzling show transports its audience from the twilight of the Russian Empire to the euphoria of Paris in the 1920s, as a brave young woman sets out to discover the mystery of her past. Pursued by a ruthless Soviet officer determined to silence her, Anya enlists the aid of a dashing con man and a lovable ex-aristocrat. Together, they embark on an epic adventure to help her find home, love, and family.

Alongside these main-stage productions, Dr. Seuss's The Cat in the Hat will return in February 2024. The Jr. Civic musical will be Finding Nemo Jr. and the Young Artist's Program will present Revue! and Andrew Lloyd Webber's Cats.

"We are thrilled to offer a diverse season with a variety of opportunities for both our patrons and our performers," Civic's Executive Artistic Director Michael Lasley said. "Opening with the regional premiere of The Prom and closing with the first local community theatre production of Anastasia is truly exciting for all our constituents. The return of Elf the Musical, our first time producing Romeo & Juliet and Driving Miss Daisy in the Studio Theater truly round out a powerful season. The Cat in the Hat, Finding Nemo, Jr. and the Broadway classic Cats are all wonderful icing on the cake!" Subscriptions are available now with single tickets going on sale on Thursday, July 27. To learn more, visit CivicTheatre.org.

County Commissioner Christine Altman endorses Suzanne Crouch for Governor

The REPORTER

Hamilton County Commissioner Christine Altman has pledged her endorsement for Suzanne Crouch for Governor.

"Lieutenant Governor Suzanne Crouch has a proven record of leadership and a unique understanding of local government and finance," Crouch said. "Suzanne is responsive and has been instrumental in navigating state government to help move Hamilton County projects forward on a timely basis.

But for her work, support and partnership, many Hamilton County projects just would not have become a reality. I look forward to Suzanne guiding the state as Governor!"

Matthew David Conwell, and Jason Frierson complete the ensemble cast providing a myriad of diverse characters.

Costume design is a big factor in marking the era and Anthony James Sirk's work for the show hits the mark. Likewise, wigs and hair design by Amanda French are just right for the times.

The stage setting is sensational with a range of vivid projections designed by Zach Rosing. Colorful scenic paintings by Ronald Shore set the locations, and a stack of magazine depictions, some offered by Debby Moses Ferrari, along with graphics of headlines and covers and flipping pages of the original Confidential publications are tremendous additions.

Finally, I cannot fail to recognize the awesome work of the musicians in this production. Musical director Nathan Perry leads a small but complete variety of players as they provide the accompaniments for the cast. The sounds are flawlessly created and deserve recognition as they are an important part of the show's powerful effects.

Bottom line: Mr. Confidential impresses with its style, its story, and its performances. The fully developed musical score is well-suited to the action and I was actually humming the finale as I left. Talking to Director Bernstein briefly at intermission, I learned that there are some hopeful possibilities in the works for the piece – one in nearby Chicago. Whatever the future success of this production may be, it will always be noted that the World Premiere was right here in Carmel in central Indiana.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

Then I saw "a new heaven and a new earth," for the first heaven and the first earth had passed away, and there was no longer any sea. I saw the Holy City, the new Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, prepared as a bride beautifully dressed for her husband. And I heard a loud voice from the throne saying, "Look! God's dwelling place is now among the people, and he will dwell with them. They will be his people, and God himself will be with them and be their God. 'He will wipe every tear from their eyes. There will be no more death' or mourning or crying or pain, for the old order of things has passed away."

He who was seated on the throne said, "I am making everything new!" Then he said, "Write this down, for these words are trustworthy and true."

U.S. Attorney's Office commemorates National Police Week

The REPORTER
In honor of National Police Week 2023, U.S. Attorney Zachary A. Myers recognizes the service and sacrifice of federal, state, local, and tribal law enforcement officers who made the ultimate sacrifice, as well as the family members, friends, and fellow officers they left behind. In 1962, President John F. Kennedy issued the first proclamation for Peace Officers Memorial Day and National Police Week to remember and honor law enforcement officers for their service and sacrifices. Peace Officers Memorial Day, May 15, honors law enforcement officers killed or disabled in the line of duty. According to National Law Enforcement Officer Memorial Fund, in 2021, 472 U.S. law enforcement officers died in the line of duty, including 319 who succumbed to COVID-19. The following seven officers who died in the line of duty in the Southern District of Indiana had their names read and added to the wall at the National Law Enforcement Officer Memorial on Saturday, May 13, 2023, during a Candlelight Vigil in Washington, D.C.

"We honor these fallen heroes who made the ultimate sacrifice in service of their communities," Myers said. "We must never lose sight of the danger and difficulties that law enforcement officers face on our behalf. Without them, we cannot protect the public and maintain the rule of law. We are forever grateful for their bravery, selflessness, and sacrifice." Additionally, according to 2022 Statistics reported by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) through the Law Enforcement Officer Killed and Assaulted (LEOKA) Program, 60 law enforcement officers who died in the line of duty in 2022 were killed as a result of felonious acts, whereas 58 died in accidents. Deaths resulting from felonious acts decreased in 2022, lowering 17.8 percent from the previous year. Royals earn their seventh consecutive sectional title

Southeastern prevails in tough battle against Carmel & Noblesville

By RICHIE HALL
sports@readthereporter.com

FISHERS – The Hamilton Southeastern girls track and field team continued its sectional streak Tuesday on its home turf.

The Royals won their seventh consecutive sectional trophy in a tight battle with Carmel and Noblesville. Southeastern totaled 120 points, with the Greyhounds scoring 114 and the Millers 110.5. It was a competitive sectional, with multiple winners for each school, and people stepping up in different events.

“Our girls really stepped up,” said Royals coach Julie Alano. “We talked about just everybody in every event doing what they could.”

In addition to winning the sectional, Southeastern qualified several athletes to next Tuesday’s regional at Lafayette Jefferson. The top three finishers in each event automatically qualify for the regional, and there will likely be several callbacks for the Royals (and the other schools, too.)

“We talked about, top seven could move on with callbacks,” said Alano. “So, making sure you get in there and scoring the points and trying to get in the top seven. If you’re not three, don’t give up.”

Southeastern won two events, both in the distance area. Elizabeth Butler was first in the 1600 run, while Maggie Powers emerged from a very close battle to win the 3200 run. Powers finished in 11 minutes, 1.55 seconds, just a third of a second ahead of Noblesville’s Nadia Perez.

Alano said another highlight was HSE placing second and third in the 200 dash. Freshman Chloe Senefeld was second, while Jocelyn Davis finished third. Riley Williams helped out with a second-place result in the pole vault.

“We knew she could do that,” said Alano, who noted that it was just a matter of “finally having the chance.”

“We tried some other things and she’d had some knee issues, but we knew she could come through pretty well there,” said Alano.

The Hamilton Southeastern girls track and field team won its seventh consecutive sectional championship on Tuesday. The host Royals emerged from a tough battle with Carmel and Noblesville to place first with 120 points.

Carmel won five events, including a sweep of all three relays. The Greyhounds won two of those relays in new sectional record time, with Olivia Cebalo, Kara Wenzler, Audrey Ricketts, Kaitlyn Oshimura setting a new 4x800 mark of 9:17.01 and Gabriela Grande Rosas, Cebalo, Cambell Wamsley and Emily Norris clocking in at 3:54.50 for the 4x400 relay.

Cebalo and Wamsley finished 1-2 in the 400 dash, while Norris won the 200 dash.

Noblesville also picked up five event wins. Hannah Alexander dominated the throwing events, setting new sectional records in both the discus and the shot put. Alexander won the discus with a top throw of 157 feet, 10 inches, and took the shot put in 47 feet, 4.25 inches.

Summer Rempe also set a new sectional record, practically sprinting through the 800 run to finish in 2:12.72. Rempe also joined Brinkley Cooper, Ansley Applegate and Riley Flynn to take second in the 4x800 run; their time of 9:18.56 was under the old sectional record. Malina Miller was first in the high jump and Delaney Teachnor won the pole vault.

Fishers placed fourth with 78.5 points. Maya Taylor was second in the 100 dash, and was part of the runner-up 4x100 relay with Mireya Benjamin, Zinnia Pineda and Kya Hoskins. Macey Miller placed second in the shot put and third in the discus.

Westfield scored 67

Hamilton Heights totaled 42 points. Ella Ewing led the Huskies with two event victories in the long jump and the 300 hurdles, also taking second in the 100 hurdles.

Golden Eagles get win No. 23, put stop to Millers' five-game winning streak

By RICHARD TORRES
For The Reporter

NOBLESVILLE — A nearly flawless, whirlwind week for Class 3A No. 2 Guerin Catholic carried over into Monday night at Donald J. Dunker Field, and the final result was win No. 23.

Five days after sweeping Circle City Conference foe Roncalli at home for an outright league title, and three days following a decisive win over Heritage Christian at Victory Field, the Golden Eagles (23-2-1) capitalized on their opportunities and defeated county rival 4A No. 3 Noblesville, 4-3, at the Dunk with pitching and plate discipline.

The loss halted the Millers' (18-5) winning streak at five consecutive games while locking down the Golden Eagles' sixth victory in seven contests.

Guerin Catholic beat visiting 4A Greenfield-Central, 11-10, to open their double-header this past Saturday before tying the Cougars in the second, 4-4, as the finale was suspended due to darkness.

"It was a big week for us last week. We had to sweep Roncalli in order to win the conference. That was Tuesday, Wednesday, then you get a chance to play at Victory Field on Friday night (for the Victory Field Classic), so emotions were high. And Saturday was senior day," Guerin Catholic head coach Keith Nunley said. "We had four emotional days there in a row, and we were a little flat in the second game against Greenfield, but that's a good ball club, too."

While victory was on the Golden Eagles' title-hungry minds at the Dunk, respect was given to the host Millers, who led 3-1 after three innings before Guerin Catholic plated three unanswered runs in the top of the fourth to win the battle between two, top-five ranked programs.

"The team was pumped. We've been looking forward to this game ever since our Saturday senior day. We came out fired up, and we just did our job. We didn't play our best game, but the team came out on top," GC senior and Wabash commit Will Fremion said.

Guerin Catholic's early-game setbacks turned into motivation, after the Millers utilized a fielding error to extend the bottom of the second, which set up a two-out, RBI single by Jacob Edwards (1-for-3) and a 1-0 lead.

The Millers loaded the bases four times in the bottom of the third, scoring two runs on no-out, RBI walks drawn by Nolan Decker and Jack Shade to make it 3-1.

The eight at-bat frame opened with singles by Trevor Corbett, Aiden Reynolds (2-for-3, triple) and Eastern Illinois commit Bryce Riggs (1-for-3).

However, a slick double-play on a bases-loaded grounder to third base kept the Millers off the board before Guerin Catholic starter Davis Wagner posted his third of four total strikeouts to end the rally.

Wagner pitched 4.0 innings with four hits allowed, two earned runs and four walks for the win.

The Millers led off the bottom of the fourth with back-to-back hits by Hunter Corbett (1-for-3) and Trevor Corbett (2-for-4) before Wagner walked the bases loaded with no outs, but the Millers could do no more damage.

Noblesville hitters loaded the bases seven times overall, including four times in the third.

In the fourth, Wagner induced a pop up to short-stop, struck out another and knocked down a comebacker to the mound for a putout at first base to escape unscathed.

"Davis wasn't completely on his game tonight. The arm looked good, but he just didn't quite have the command he normally has, and we were fortunate our bullpen did a nice job there at the end," Nunley said. "Much respect to Davis, too. He's worked really hard, and here we are late in the season, and he's going to be a big part of our postseason."

The Golden Eagles' bullpen protected the 4-3 advantage behind a one-hit, one-strikeout performance from Nate Gremelspacher (2.1 innings pitched) and a save by Alabama recruit Tate Troxell, a freshman, who went 0.2 IP with a strikeout looking to end it.

Guerin Catholic tied the game 1-all in the top of the third off a Fremion (2-for-4) one-out, RBI single to right-center field; and in the fourth, the Golden Eagles loaded the bases twice to score three without a single hit.

"The pitching isn't what beat us. It was the fact that we didn't come through tonight with the bases loaded and nobody out. That's what it came down to," Noblesville head coach Justin Keever said.

"In the fourth, we walked five in one inning, giving up toll-free bases. I don't think they had a hit, and then we had the bases loaded, no one out, and didn't score a run (in the fourth). It's hard to do those two things and win a ball game."

The Golden Eagles put their first runner on base with one out in the top of the fourth on a throwing error. A walk followed by a fly out, gave the Golden Eagles two on base before three straight walks and a pair of wild pitches plated a trio of runs.

AJ Nunley brought home the first run with a bases-loaded, RBI walk.

"I don't know if they made that many mistakes. Justin is a great coach, and they run a great program. They've got a lot of talent, and they're a very respectable program throughout the state of Indiana, so I think we used the hand we were dealt in order to try to get a W tonight," Nunley said.

What the Golden Eagles were supplied with was a quintet of Miller pitchers, as Keever and his program preserved their arms with a crucial two-game Hoosier Crossroads Conference series finale against Zionsville ahead beginning on Wednesday at the Dunk.

The Millers lead the HCC with a 9-3 record, just one game up on rival Fishers (8-4) and two ahead of Westfield (7-5) in the race for first.

Dylan Keever started the game for the Millers, going

2.0 IP with one strikeout and one hit allowed through a pair of clean frames. Fellow senior Tom Talarico (0.1 IP) entered in relief, followed by junior Quinton Black (1.1 IP) and freshman Beckett Doane (1.1 IP). The trio walked a combined six batters.

Doane came in with the bases loaded and a 3-1 lead, but he retired four of the final five batters he faced despite the high-pressure situation to start his outing.

Junior Garrick Addison suffered the tough loss, going the final 2.0 innings with one hit permitted, no runs allowed and two strikeouts.

The Millers defense kept the game close throughout, as Edwards caught two runners stealing with a pair of laser throws from home to second base, and a rundown situation to get Fremion out in the third inning that led to a runner stranded at third base.

Guerin Catholic left four runners on base. Noblesville had 10.

"We left a small nation on the bases tonight," Keever said. "I thought some of the young guys came in and did a nice job. Beckett Doane came in with the bases loaded and had his own clean inning after that, and Garrick Addison did a good job. I thought Dylan (Keever) did a great job starting the game and got us two clean ones."

"Again, we should have scored more than those three runs that ball game. We didn't and credit to Guerin with a nice one."

Guerin Catholic travels to Lawrence Central on Thursday to wrap up the regular season before sectional play begins for the program at Bishop Chatard on May 24 against conference foe Brebeuf Jesuit, a team the Golden Eagles swept last month.

"It's been fantastic ever since my sophomore year here. We were 10-19 (in 2021) and not the best culture team," Fremion said. "We had a coaching switch and give coach Nunley props, he totally flipped this program around and went 20-10 last year, lost in the sectional championship. We're 23-2-1 right now, looking to win our school's first (baseball) sectional championship. We just won our first outright conference. It's only up from here."
