The Hamilton East Public Library Board last Thursday afternoon voted to suspend the moving of specific books in its young adult section pending a future meeting about its Collection Development Policy.

Board member Michelle Payne said, "We need to take responsibility and accountability" on the language and requirements of the policy.

The board oversees the libraries in Fishers and Noblesville.

A loud argument ensued. She was a pincher. I was a hairpuller. We expressed our feelings loudly and with a bit of physical aggression.

I can still hear my mother's gentle but admonishing words, "Girls, don't be ugly."

She separated us into "time out" corners and explained that we would not always agree, but we needed to treat each other nicely and respectfully.

Neither one of us would give up our chalk. We backed away from the chalkboard. I remember having to say I was sorry, as did my cousin. I don't think we grasped precisely what my mother was trying to teach us. Neither do I think we were all that sorry.

This lesson was taught many years ago, and I will always hear my mother's voice saying, "Don't be ugly."

It took time and a few more admonitions from my mother to fully understand that when I believe I am right, I can be very wrong if I do not treat others with respect and civility when I disagree with them. I had to learn to disagree agreeably. I can stand my ground with grace and kindness. I can never bully someone into agreeing with me.

Mom was never one to raise her voice, but it had a bit of an edge as she got her point across. She also had the "Audrey look" whenever she had had enough. Neither my cousin nor I ever wanted to cross that look.

Mom taught me never to get into an argument with someone who is shouting or name-calling. Just because I am louder

CHAMP Camp champions children

Jamie Mitchell, Executive Director of CHAMP Camp, spoke to Cicero Kiwanis on Saturday, Aug. 19.

Established 34 years ago, CHAMP Camp provides a summer camp experience for children and adolescents with tracheostomies and those who require technological respiratory assistance. Prior to CHAMP Camp, children with such needs had extremely limited opportunities to enjoy an overnight outdoor experience and their families needed to be with them.

Through this camp experience, children spend a week independent of their families, fully participate in fun and challenging activities, and meet others who have similar medical issues. Volunteer counselors, who are in the medical field, provide the attention and medical expertise these kiddos need. Their families are then able to have a respite from the ongoing care they give.

Westfield to establish new park in honor of Joe Edwards

The REPORTER

City Councilor and lifelong Westfield resident Joe Edwards was honored on Monday, Aug. 21 at an event at the future Lantern Commons mixed-use development site at 161st Street and Westfield Boulevard.

Front Street Partners, the developer of the 60-acre project, have named the future park in Lantern Commons "Joe Edwards Plaza."

In the surprise announcement that drew family, colleagues, and friends, Edwards expressed his gratitude, saying, "I'm not sure I deserve this, but I am honored."

Edwards continued, "My heart is in this city and this is where I will die. I will always think of Westfield with great fondness."

Hamilton Heights ag educator Emilie Carson named Husky Hero

The REPORTER

Emilie Carson, Hamilton Heights High School Education Agriculture teacher and FFA Chapter Advisor, has been named Husky Hero for the month of May.

Carson has been at the helm of Heights' agriculture program and FFA Chapter sponsor since 2016. Ag education and the FFA program at Heights has grown in size and scope under her leadership.

"Mrs. Carson spends numerous hours outside of the classroom helping her students achieve their goals," said Katie Anderson, HHHS '21 and former FFA member. "She allows her students to compete in competitions that they are interested in even if she doesn't know much about that specific contest, she will find someone to help them. She spends many evenings after school in the classroom having practices with her students to make sure they have all the materials they need to succeed. Her love and passion for Agriculture Education goes beyond the classroom and continues year-round as her students participate in agricultural-related activities throughout the summer."

Anderson added, "There are very early mornings, and even later nights that she puts into her students, so they have every opportunity to participate in the contests of their choice. She truly cares about her student's success in and out of the classroom. Her passion goes above and beyond. She has led many of her former students to do great things within the industry after graduation. I believe she makes a great impact on her students' lives that they will carry with them throughout whatever their next steps are after high school."

For Carson, the importance of her work lies in how she can educate students and change their lives.

"Wow! I was so surprised and so humbled by this nomination," Carson our FFA talent and build said when presented with the recognition. "Being selected as a Husky Hero is a huge honor. This is the type May's Husky Hero. Thank Standing behind the scenes watching my students strive for success gives me the opportunity to watch these young men and women become leaders of the next generation. Leadership, tenacity, and determination are the foundation of what we work to achieve in the Agriculture Department throughout the year."

Carson's dedication to agricultural education at Hamilton Heights is recognized by students, fellow teachers, and administrators.

"Emilie has steadily built this program from the ground up," said Jarrod Mason, Hamilton Heights High School Principal. "She has done a great job of developing leaders in our FFA both at home and at the state and national level. She is constantly looking to showcase community partners with our AG program."

Sheridan Education Foundation forms to meet growing needs

By EMILY WILL & BRIANNA DUKE

Sheridan Education Foundation

"Grant money would relieve the financial burden that so many of us feel as we work to grow as educators and improve the educational experience for all of our students."

This is a quote from Sheridan High School's Spanish and Education teacher, Jill Cali. As a way to help relieve this burden, the Sheridan Education Foundation, Inc. has recently been formed.

The Sheridan Education Foundation (SEF) is a committee made up of representatives from local businesses, retired teachers, school board members, and Sheridan youth. This committee exists to provide grants to teachers at all three Sheridan schools.

These grants are given through applications and will likely happen biannually. Once applications are submitted, the members of SEF will meet and discuss or winners will be chosen and awarded a grant, varying in amounts needed.

The goal of this board is to help provide financial support to meet the needs of teachers and students in our community. This will ultimately improve the school Sporting events leading up

To help celebrate Sheridan High School's 100th Homecoming football game, there will be a Sher-Staff/Alumni/Blackhawk fan dinner, which will take place from 4 to 6 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 16 at the Sheridan Elementary School Cafeteria. The cost is $12 per person. The dinner's main course will be the famous Blackhawk Bowl, consisting on the formation of SEF. of mashed potatoes, corn, chicken, cheese, and gravy. It will be served with a roll, salad, dessert, and drink. This is a favorite of many Blackhawk students.

After the dinner, shuttles the applications. The winner will be available to transport you to and from the football field to enjoy the game.

> The input of Sheridan's teachers on the importance of this board and the support it will bring is important. SEF members talked to one high school teacher, Jill Cali about her thoughts She stated, "Federal grant money is hard to come by and the application process is often so daunting that teachers don't bother applying for something that feels like such a long shot. I think that having grant money available from a local foundation would mean so much more than most of the pub> lic could understand." One of SEF's goals is to make the grant process easy for teachers to get help from the school community.

Ms. Cali also shared,

"We, as teachspend an unbelievable amount of money on making classrooms welcoming and having the supplies need to function. That doesn't even include the money spent on necessary supplies for specific learning activities for our courses."

SEF hopes to provide grants for these types of needs to help lessen the financial burden that it causes many teachers.

Middle school math teacher Adam Spencer said, "I am very grateful for the starting of a foundation like this.It was long overdue ... I want to thank everyone who helps the rising of the foundation and hopes that it will continue for many years to come."

Mr. Spencer and Ms. Cali both shared that they pay hundreds of dollars out of their own pockets each year for students. After hearing from some of Sheridan's teachers, it is evident how important it is that the Sheridan Education Foundation, Inc. exists.

Please support SEF in taking steps to better every Sheridan classroom. See you for the 100th Homecoming dinner on Sept. 16.

As a result, the library board's nominating committee met at 2 p.m. last Thursday, an hour before the full board meeting. The full library board has seven members.

During the nominating committee meeting, Alerding suggested Ditlevson replace her as president. Maddalone suggested Miksha or Craig Siebe as president. A discussion occurred about whether Ditlevson can serve on the Fishers City Council and the Hamilton East Library Board at the same time, but an attorney said the library board can discuss that prospect if

History of Arcadia's Phi Beta Psi Delta Chapter, Part III

Phi Beta Psi Sorority

Submitted by VICKI COOPER

Phi Beta Psi, Delta Chapter

As Delta Chapter of Phi Beta Psi gets ever closer to its 100th birthday celebration on Sept. 9, 2023, let's get the last chapter – for now of Delta's history finished.

The FUNdraising never stops!

Going through Delta's minutes starting with 1991 to glean some facts we've probably forgotten was a bit of a chore but totally enjoyable if one likes history! We have been (and always will be) a busy group in fundraising, giving, and having fun!

Some of our many fundraisers not previously mentioned included: selling Rada knives, Moore's pies, nuts, candles, poinsettias, flashlights, book drives (took them to Half Price Books), white elephant sales, purse auctions, bagging sales at Kohl's at Christmas, Euchrama yearly from 1990 until 2008, Breakfast with Santa starting in 2015, motorcycle rally with Cicero American Legion since 2017 (just finished 2023's), and taking part in Jim Dandy's fundraiser at both Noblesville and Tipton.

Money from our fundraisers always goes to our National Project of cancer research and our State Project of scholarship and a scholarship given to a Hamilton Heights senior each year. Several programs and events at our local schools have been recipients of our donations through the years. We've given to Ronald McDonald House, sent packages to service men and women in the early 2000s, sent seasonal cards to nursing home residents, helped local folks purchase glasses, hearing aids, among other needs brought to our atten-

Love-Friendship-Truth tion. In December 2007, we days of each month. On purchased books from Kim Martin's Hair Fairy Project to go children undergoing chemotherapy.

In October 1991, Delta again hosted the Indiana State convention at the Radisson, Keystone at the Crossing with a fall theme of "Ain't God Good to Indiana." One of our member's fathers had carved several hundred small pumpkins for favors for this convention. We spent months prior to convention sanding and painting them – chatting and laughing a little bit too! We had no Tasting Party that convention. (Note: in 1996 we had no Tasting Party that year either and the last tasting party was in 2011.)

It isn't expensive to be a member of Phi Beta Psi. At National Convention in 2007, national dues were increased to $35 per year per member from $25 after 30 years. State dues are $5 per year per member. Some chapters also have a membership fee. Delta doesn't. We just expect members to help with fundraisers, try to help bring in new members, suggest where donations might be needed and attend meetings as often as possible.

No matter where we meet . . .

For years, Delta Phi Betes met in members' homes. In early 2000s we met in the among the members. She Shaffer Community Center loved the fashion shows and at Arcadia Town Hall several times, and in September 2016, we started meeting at the Shaffer Room regularly for most of our meetings. From its inception, Delta catering to the older folks met the first and third Tues-

Nov. 4, 2008, we voted to start having one meeting a month, so we started meeting only on the first Tuesday of each month from September through June.

was a weird year for everyone because of COVID-19, which affected us all in many ways. Some of our meetings early in the year were canceled but at the start of our new year, which for us was Sept. 1, 2020, we met regularly and practiced social distancing and masked up. It worked!

There was no National year due to preparing for Convention in the summer of 2020, but $297,318 was given to six cancer research doctors by Phi Beta Psi anyway. There was no Indiana State Convention either, and we didn't have our Breakfast with Santa.

Remember longtime members

Many members who reached 50 years as Delta Phi Betes have passed on and we remember them fondly. Currently we have two members who are 50-year members and one who has been a Delta Phi Bete for 64 years. Talking with Janice Fisher, mentioned in our second history article, who has been in Delta since February 1959, her favorite thing about being an active member for so long is the camaraderie tasting parties, and in the late 50s and early 60s, she liked the dress clubs with Mr. Eds and Willits. Jo Edna Bardonner, 50-year member, loved (her words) in the commu- years!

nity, taking them food and helping them do small jobs. She always liked making the candy wreaths and doing the pie sales and flower sales. Shirley Stover, our other 50year member, loves the fact we raise money for cancer research and always enjoyed the style shows.

2021 State Convention

In 2021, we once again Remember year 2020? It hosted the Indiana State Convention. It was held at the Cambria Hotel in Westfield in October. The theme was "Tackling Cancer." The football theme was complete with a "tailgate party," "1st half," "halftime," "2nd half," and "Homecoming Victory Dance." Two weeks before our convention the Cambria underwent a name change to Wyndam, but nothing changed for us - our plans went on as planned and we scored a "touchdown!"

100 years of good work

In its 100 years, Delta has seen many members marry, celebrate 50-year anniversaries, have children and grandchildren, enjoy great friendships, travel to state and national conventions and other special places. We've watched history unfold in our state and country. We've worked hard to raise funds in many (legal) ways for many worthy projects.

Our parties have had us "come as you are," dress like hobos, mask up, have picnics in the park, cookouts, eat in nice restaurants, sit on Santa's knee, enjoy great meals at Arcadia Church of Brethren, and pay tribute to our Founders every year. We have mourned the loss of many members and family members.

And all the while, we've tried to be the "best that is in womanhood."

What is the reason for our mental loads?

As most of you know, I've been talking about the mental load in this column over the past two months and how it creeps into almost every area of our lives.

This week, I'll talk about the reason so many of us deal with this often-overwhelming load. It can be summed up in one simple word: MORE. More square feet in our homes, more vehicles, more than one job supporting a family. More kids' activities, more pets, and more invisible responsibilities at work and increased hours spent on the job.

COLUMNIST

Perfectly Imperfect

More elaborate holidays and celebrations. More complicated vacations and hobbies. More caregiving responsibilities, especially as we get older, and more ways to help our community.

After reading this series, I'm sure many of you are ready to scream, chuck it all, and move to the wilderness - maybe somewhere like Elk Droppings, Montana. Sorry, but there is no such town called Elk Droppings, Montana. Apparently, there is a product called Montana Elk Droppings, which are chocolate covered almonds. But let's get back to our subject. I didn't start this series to bring you down, but rather to help you see the extent of the problem and its origins. I promise you there is hope and we can make some big changes. We obviously can't and shouldn't get rid of all our responsibilities. But some of them are optional, and we'll explore how to gradually (or suddenly) let go of these things in our lives without our world collapsing.

In fact, by decreasing or getting rid of some of these responsibilities, we'll be more productive and energetic for the things that truly matter in life.

We'll talk about the many ways we can lighten our mental loads by 50 to 75 percent in each of the areas I've mentioned this summer. We'll explore various techniques that have worked for others as well as some fabulous free or low-cost technology.

I'm cautiously optimistic in my hopes that in 10 to 20 years, all the depressing information I shared earlier will be ancient history. It's my dream that we look back on it and sigh with relief knowing we've made the right changes and won't repeat those mistakes. I believe lightening this mental load will make us a happier, healthier, more productive society.

Where will we begin next week? As the saying goes, "It all starts at home."

A special "Thank you!" goes out to Leah Johnson, who wrote a wonderful note to me in the mail about my high school reunion column. Thank you, Leah, for your kind words and for sharing your experiences. I hope you meet you someday!

Let's (not) talk religion

Trying to expand horizons from my Hoosier farm-boy background, on two occasions during my time at Purdue I had a Chinese roommate.

The first was very bright. He lived in Hong Kong and knew more American movies than I did. As an incoming freshman engineering student, he tested out of my junior year of mathematics as a mathematics major! On a trip home over the holidays, my mother was embarrassed when she asked him how his mother did the laundry, only to find out that he was the seventh child of the second wife, and it was the upstairs maid that did the laundry for the children. The downstairs maid did the laundry for the adults. Malcom Cho was certainly a privileged and intelligent man.

My senior year saw five of us who leased a house near campus. After graduation, I was working at a walnut cabinet manufacturing factory helping to manufacture walnut cabinets and not doing much else. Weekends were leisurely with no responsibility of work, family, or community calling upon us.

One weekend, an irritation that arose was a neighborhood lady. She was a member of Jehovah's Witnesses and would arrive early at the house, ring the doorbell, and want to talk about her religion. As you might imagine, none of us were interested in an early morning with her. After several weekend interruptions, my Chinese roommate, Wilson Wong, said that he would handle the problem. He had officially changed his first name to Wilson because the English pronunciation of his first and middle name didn't exactly convey the message he wanted to convey.

Sure enough, as the next weekend rolled around the doorbell rang, and the lady and her children were ready to proselytize. Wilson answered the door and said in his Chinese-English accent: "You talk-a your religion, I talk-a my religion." Of course, she readily agreed. He then began unbuttoning his shirt with a comment "I be a nudist, let's take all our clothes off." For some reason, the lady was no longer interested in our house.

I finished out that summer in relative peace until I answered Uncle Sam's draft call to become a tank mechanic. As a tank mechanic, I worked primarily on the M88, which is basically a wrecker to retrieve damaged or bogged down tanks. We've seen homicide rates on the rise vey shows similar trends. for a number of years in Indianapolis. From 2020 to 2022, more than 740 criminal homicides occurred in Indianapolis, according to IMPD statistics published on Fox59. Compare this to less than 500 criminal homicides for the three years prior, 2017 to 2019.

There are many root causes of violent crime, such as health issues, poverty, education, family situations, etc.

One way we can address crime is making sure we have enough police officers on the street. This is a problem nationwide. An analysis of two years of U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics and Census Bureau data shows a steady decline in both law enforcement jobs during the pandemic. From local law enforcement employees decreased by 4 percent, the most recent data show. The Census Bureau's government payroll sur- senting Carmel's Southeast District.

Carmel has done better than most cities when it comes to hiring police, but, like most cities, we are always looking for more.

If you know someone interested in joining CPD, refer them to carmel.in.gov/government/departments-services/police/ career-opportunities. They can also reach out to cpdrecruitment@carmel.in.gov.

I feel very honored that I've been endorsed by the Carmel Fraternal Order of Police, and I pledge to continue to give our police department the tools and training they need to keep us safe. I also support initiatives to provide better pay and benefits and find more ways to attract new officers to join CPD.

Crime prevention is priority number March 2020 to August 2022, the number of one. Without a safe city, we don't have a great city.

Overdose Lifeline provides training to combat substance use disorder & overdose at Guerin Catholic & Sheridan Community Schools

The REPORTER

Overdose Lifeline, a nonprofit dedicated to helping individuals, families, and communities affected by substance use disorder, is releasing first-year results from its School Naloxon and Emergency Preparedness Project, in partnership with CareSource.

The goal for the program is to reduce stigma around substance use disorder and improve preparedness of Indiana schools to respond to an overdose situation.

A year after the implementation of the program, 88 school districts across the state of Indiana now have at least one person trained to respond to an overdose, with 505 total participants now trained. In Hamilton County, school staff at Guerin Catholic School and Sheridan Community Schools have been trained to recognize symptoms and administer naloxone safely to anyone experiencing an overdose.

"Around 90 percent of addictions in the U.S. originate during the teenage years. With this reality, it's essential that Indiana schools are prepared to know the signs of an overdose and respond accordingly," Overdose Lifeline Executive Director Justin Phillips said. "With our training programs, we've already seen encourages an individual to conprogress in reducing stigma and educating school staff on appropriate responses to an overdose." In a survey given to participants before and after completing their training, they are asked questions about their education and skill perception regarding opioid overdose and naloxone distribution. After taking the training, 99 percent of participants were correctly able to describe how naloxone stops an overdose. The survey also shows improved responses around the misconception that the opioid training and overdose resources, overdose reversal drug naloxone visit OverdoseLifeline.org.

"Education is the best thing we can do to remove the stigma around substance use disorder," CareSource Indiana President Steve Smitherman said. "Seeing schools across the state embrace training for their staff and continue to support children affected by SUD after this first year is a rewarding part of our partnership. We're looking forward to seeing the impact to come over the next two years."

Obituary ——

Jack Meachum

November 21, 1991 - August 22, 2023

Jack Meachum, 31, Sheridan, passed on Tuesday, August 22, 2023.

Jack's life was cut tragically short, but his time spent on this Earth was lived to the fullest. His motto in life was "Every day is a great day to have a great day." He especially loved to recite this to his high school lacrosse team at early morning practices.

Jack gave 110% to every aspect of his life, from his love and dedication to his beautiful wife, Bethany; to coaching his Carmel High School Lacrosse Team; to being a director at True Lacrosse. Jack grew up in Naperville, Ill. He attended Naperville North High School. From there Jack attended Carthage College in Kenosha, Wis., where he played lacrosse. After graduation Jack moved to Ashland, Wis., to build and coach Northland College's first lacrosse team. This is where he met the love of his life, Bethany Best.

Together the two moved to Indiana to begin their life together. Jack started coaching as Carmel High School's varsity lacrosse coach where he served for the last six years. This year Jack's team went all the way to the state finals and won the state championship. He was named "2023 Coach of the Year" for Carmel High School. He also was honored this year as "USA Lacrosse Coach of the Year." Jack attended graduate school at Indiana University and earned a Master's Degree in Strategic Leadership and Design. He coached and mentored so many students and they learned through Jack's example to be not only a great lacrosse player, but to be a person of character on and off the field. This year, Jack married the love of his life, Bethany Meachum, on June 10. Jack loved being with his family and friends, playing hockey, running, weightlifting, anything active, and spending time up north. He was a dancing enthusiast especially when "Who Let the Dogs Out" was playing. Jack loved nothing more than spending time with his wife Bethany and his dog Moonshine.

He is survived by his wife, Bethany Meachum; parents, John and Lauren Meachum; twin siblings, Kate (Robert Bernstein) Meachum and Dan (Vicki) Meachum; and niece and nephews, Teagan, Asher, Ezra, and Quentin.

He was preceded in death by his grandparents. Visitation and funeral services were held on Sunday, August 27, 2023, at White River Christian Church, 1685 N. 10th St., Noblesville, with Mike Morley officiating.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to Heaven After Hell Animal Rescue, 6819 W. 21st St., Indianapolis, IN 46214 (heavenafterhellrescue.org); or to the

Barbara Ann (Barmore) Sampson November 25, 1941 – August 22, 2023

Barbara Ann (Barmore) Sampson, 81, Westfield, was born on November 25, 1941, to Denzel (Myers) Barmore and Clyde Barmore in Home Place, Ind., and was called home on August 22, 2023.

Barb's family would like to thank the staff at Wellbrooke of Westfield for their outstanding devotion and care over the last year and the staff at Paradigm Health for their wonderful hospice care and support.

Barb is survived by her loving daughter, Shannon (Sampson) Stuart, her son-in-law, Tim Stuart of Westfield and grandchildren Tyler, Siera, and Carly Stuart of Westfield. Barb was preceded in death by her husband, William (Bill) Sampson, and her parents.

Born and raised in Home Place, Barb attended Clay Center School and was part of the first class to graduate from the new Carmel High School in 1959. During her time in high school, Barb was a CHS cheerleader and a member of Sunshine Club, 4-H, National Honor Society, and Methodist Youth Fellowship. She was an excellent typist and set the record for shorthand at 100 words per minute and typewriting at 57 words per minute and worked in the Dean's Office. While a student at Indiana Central Business College, Barb was asked to teach the shorthand class for the semester when the teacher took a leave of absence. Needless to say, Barb graduated with honors and her love of teaching was born!

Barb worked as the Executive Secretary to the President of Schoolcraft, Inc. and then went on to serve as the Executive Secretary to Director of the Indianapolis Marion-County Building Authority where she met her future husband, Bill Sampson. It wasn't quite love at first sight when Bill rushed in late for his interview at the City-County Building (nine speeding tickets in hand) and ran right into Barb, the gatekeeper for the interview. When Bill landed the job of Operations Director anyway, the two worked closely together, reporting to the same boss, and decided to call a truce. On May 7, 1967, Bill and Barb became the first couple to be married at the new Pleasant Grove United Methodist Church in Home Place.

After Shannon was born in 1974, the couple moved to the "country" in Westfield where they built their home and their lives together. Barb was a member of Christ United Methodist Church in Westfield where she taught Sunday School, led VBS, worked fish fries and elephant ear booths, and, of course, taught thousands of children in the preschool over her 39-year career. Barb studied early childhood education at Marian College and served as the Director of CUMC Preschool until her retirement in 2016. She loved reading, playing, singing, crafting, going on field trips to Stuckey Farms and the Indy Zoo, performing as Chef Combo to teach good nutrition, and crafting the perfect handmade gifts and themed Mother's Teas, Dad's Days, Open Houses and Preschool Sings. Her quick wit, warm smile, playful attitude and love of learning made her the perfect first friend to so many little ones who trustingly took her hand on that first day of preschool.

Barb was a dedicated and loving daughter, wife, mother, grandmother, and friend. She was a voracious reader, and a generous and thoughtful giver who shared her love of learning and creativity with her daughter and grandkids. She spent her free time driving "Mom's taxi" to take Shannon and her friends on many adventures, sports practices, and activities in her prized baby blue 1967 Chevy Nova SS. She was a proud Brownie and Girl Scout Leader for Troop 199, a sponsor to the WMS cheerleading team, a Westfield PTO volunteer and past-president, and gave her time, talents, and money to support kids, families, and animals in need. She loved God and her pets, fed the birds and the wildlife, and helped organize and contribute to scholarship funds at CUMC Preschool and the Westfield Education Foundation. She loved games like euchre, crosswords, Tripoley, and fishing, and once held the record for the largest Muskie caught by a woman in Minnesota. Above all, she loved her family and was the biggest fan and cheerleader to her community, daughter, and grandkids in music, art, sports and life. Go CHS Greyhounds, WHS Shamrocks, Berklee Jazz Cats, Marian Knights, UIndy Greyhounds, and Indianapolis Colts, Pacers, and Indians!

Family and friends celebrated Barb's amazing life at Randall and Roberts Funeral Center at 1685 Westfield Road, Noblesville, with visitations on Saturday, August 26 and on Sunday, August 27. Funeral services were held on Sunday, August 27 at the funeral home, and graveside services immediately followed in Oaklawn Memorial Gardens.

Memorial gifts in lieu of flowers may be sent to either:
• The Liberty Acres United Rescue Animal Sanctuary,
3546 E. Mitchell Road, Liberty, IN 47353 (libertyacresunited.com) to support senior, hospice, and special needs rescued pets and farm animals in Indiana; or

• The newly-established William and Barbara Sampson Family Scholarship through the Westfield Education Foundation, 19500 Tomlinson Road, Suite B, Westfield, IN 46074 (wwswef.org/williamandbarbarasampson) to support the secondary education of Westfield students in early childhood education, not-for-profit leadership, or civil and social services.

The Guerin Catholic Golden Eagles were able to control the entire game for a convincing 27-3 in their home opener last Friday night. GCHS overwhelmed the Knights of Lafayette Central Catholic to win the Bishop's Cup and race to 2-0 on the season.

According to Guerin Catholic Coach Tom Dilley, the coaches were the key to the performance given the challenges they faced with the extreme heat this week.

"This was a little bit of a unique week with some of the weather concerns, but our coordinators were able to put together a good game plan and our assistant coaches were able to get their kids to execute."

The game started off slow with both teams exchanging three and outs before the Guerin offense was able to kick into gear. Senior Ryan Zimmerman was able to connect with junior Hayden Cler for two big passes to ignite the first points of the game. "We knew going into the game they would play about eight to 10 yards off the ball, we knew the hitches would be there. I just knew when I got the ball, I had to make plays," said Cler. After two big chunk gains, senior Peter Rooney was able to race into the end for the first of his three touchdowns on the game.

the defense became increasingly stifling with junior Dylan Vargas and the rest of the team constantly hounding the LCC offense. Multiple tackles for a loss and pass breakups led to only three points on the entire game for the visiting team. Junior Malcolm Houze was pivotal as he was able to pull down two interceptions, including one in the red zone to cap off the stifling defense. "When the ball was in the air all I knew was that I had to get it. I wanted to return it, but given I was almost out of bounds I just secured it. The second interception was thrown right to me," proclaimed Houze.

Both teams suffered from several cramps which prolonged the game to just over three hours. Still, Coach Dilley was excited about his team's path for the season ahead.

"Yeah, the game certainly took a while - but we are proud of our team and will work to get better. I'm really pleased to come out with a really good performance against a really good program like LCC. Bottom line is we are going to work to be better tomorrow."

Rooney led the rushing with 194 yards in 18 carries. Fresh off the win, Rooney said that he is "looking forward to giving it 100 percent for the rest of the season" both Cler and Houze added "it would include a lot of wins."

Carmel boys basketball Walt Morris getting the word out on aortic dissection symptoms

By RICHIE HALL

sports@readthereporter.com

Last summer, Walt Morris learned a lesson that he now wants to teach other

The longtime basketball coach and Noblesville native was having several episodes of neck and jaw pain, and it came to a breaking point on July 25, 2022. Morris soon learned he had an aortic dissection, which required a lengthy surgery.

But Morris got through the surgery, and now wants to spread the word about the symptoms, and the need to get help right away - something that saved his life.

"I don't want anybody else to go through what I did," said Morris. "I'm fortunate to be here."

Early symptoms

A couple months prior to his diagnosis, Morris said he was having episodes where he was having trouble swallowing and started sweating. He was also having neck pain and "a lot of jaw pain."

"I blew it off, which wasn't smart," he said.

On that fateful day, Morris said he had just finished a three-mile walk/ run. When he got home, he was experiencing "jaw pain from my ear to my jaw," that he said knocked him to the ground. A man tried to help him up, but he walked back to his house.

Once he got home, he told his wife Lisa, who immediately got her husband to Riverview Health in No-

Morris participated in a series of tests that lasted the brother had. entire day. The doctors kept him overnight so he could have an ultrasound electrocardiogram (EKG) test. What was supposed to be a diagnosed Morris with an aortic dissection, in which a tear occurs in the inner layer of the aorta, which is the body's main artery. The ensuing rush of blood through the tear causes the inner and middle layers of the aorta to split, or dissect. (More information from the Mayo Clinic tinyurl.com/Mayo-AorticDissection.)

Minutes later, Morris was in an ambulance for a drive to Ascension St. Vincent Heart Hospital in Carmel.

"That was a bit surreal," said Morris. He remained calm and said prayers for his family during the ambulance ride, which Morris estimated took about 15 to 20 minutes.

The surgeons and staff were waiting for Morris when he arrived. The resulting surgery took 11 hours, but when it was done, Morris said "those incredible doctors somehow saved my life. Most men, you find them somewhere."

While the surgery was a success, it also required a few months for Morris to recover. That included getting back to his assistant coach duties with the Carmel boys basketball team, helping head coach Ryan Osborn.

"I thought I wasn't going to be able to coach and a lot of things were over," said Morris. "Coach Osborn was very patient."

"It was definitely a scary situation," said Osborn. "I think we're very fortunate that his wife was home and knowledgeable to get him the care that he

But by late September, Morris was able to get message out, hopefully back to business with the save some people," he said.

Greyhounds.

"It takes a while," said Morris. "You get your body opened up like that. It was scary for a while."

The 63-year-old Morris' main message with his story is that if anyone is having these symptoms, they need to get checked out right away. Morris was going through his daily routine in the months prior to his aortic dissection, but ignored the symptoms.

"I was physically active, worked the whole month of June," said Morris. Meanwhile, he felt those symptoms and "blew it off." He noted that the same condition can happen to "very active people, some of them in much better shape than I am. If you have this, it doesn't matter."

Another important aspect is family history. If patients mention that someone in their family have a history of this condition, a test will be set up quickly.

"If they don't say anything doctors and physicians aren't going to bring it up," said Morris. Patients have to be willing to go to bat for themselves in order to get the test.

"My father had an anuerysm at age 69," said Morris. "That's the other part, it was in my family history. I never told my doctor about it or my cardiologist. I didn't let them know, so there was no way to set me up for the EKG that I needed.'

After Morris' episode, everyone in his family got tested. His sister also had the exact same condition as Morris, and she had the same surgery that her

"They did her surgery in February," said Morris. "She's doing great now."

One year later

Almost one year to the half-hour test lasted a min- day after Morris' surgery, ute and a half, after which he put out a video that was posted on the Carmel boys' basketball Twitter account. The video lasts 1 minute and 23 seconds, but it makes its point very con-

Morris talked to Osborn, who said that if he could "put a good quality, short video together, we'll put it on our Twitter."

"It was Ryan's idea to do that," said Morris.

"I think as teachers and coaches, we talk about the negative impacts of social media, and it's also proven in this scenario that it's a positive," said Osborn. Since it was posted on July 26, the tweet has received over 28,300 views. (You can view the video at tinyurl.com/CoachMorrisVideo.)

"He sat on it and really felt compelled to use it as a way to make an impact, and it's just the type of guy that Walt is, super positive and always wanting to help people," said Osborn. "Through this, he's been able to accomplish that."

Now ready to go for another season of Carmel boys basketball, Morris is happy to be back to his regular routine.

"I'm walking four and a half miles a day now, doing all of my normal part-time jobs, feeling better than I ever felt in a long time," he

And with this new lease on life, Morris also wants other people to be aware of the symptoms and to make sure they are ready to take action to save their own

"I'm never going to of the situation, and able know if this helps anybody," said Morris. "My job's to get it out."

"I just want to get this

Carmel boys basketball assistant coach Walt Morris went through an 11-hour surgery last July to repair an aortic dissection. Morris wants to share his story to make people aware of the symptoms and be ready to take action to save their own lives.

(B) the taxes and special assessments on the real property that are due and payable in the year of the sale, whether or not they are delinquent;

(C) all penalties due on the delinquencies, and

(D) an amount prescribed by the county auditor that equals the sum of: (1) fifty-five dollars ($55) for postage and publication costs; and (2) any other costs incurred by the county that are directly attributable to the tax sale; and

(E) any unpaid costs due under IC 6-1.1-24-2(c) from a prior tax sale. No property listed below shall be sold if, at any time before the sale, the Total Amount for Judgment is paid in full. If the real property is sold in the tax sale, the amount required to redeem such property will be 110% of the minimum bid for which the tract or real property was offered at the time of sale, if redeemed not more than six (6) months after the date of sale, or 115% of the minimum bid for which the tract or real property was offered at the time of sale, if redeemed more than six (6) months after the date of sale, plus the amount by which the purchase price exceeds the minimum bid on the real property plus five percent (5%) per annum interest on the amount by which the purchase price exceeds the minimum bid on the property. All taxes and special assessments upon the property paid by the purchaser subsequent to the sale, plus five percent (5%) per annum interest on those taxes and special assessments, will also be required to be paid to redeem such

In addition, IC 6-1.1-25-2 (e) states the total amount required for redemption may include the following costs incurred and paid by the purchaser or the purchaser's assignee or the county before redemption: (1) The attorney's fees and cost of giving notice under IC 6-1.1-25-4.5; (2) The costs of title search or examining and update the abstract of title for the tract or item of real property. The period of redemption shall expire on Monday, October 14, 2024 for certificates sold in the tax sale. For certificates struck to the county, the period of redemption may expire Friday, February 09, 2024.

If the tract or item of real property is sold for an amount more than the minimum bid and the property is not redeemed, the owner of record of the property who is divested of ownership at the time the tax deed is issued may have a right to the tax sale surplus.

The Auditor and Treasurer specifically reserve the right to withhold from the sale any parcel which has been listed in error, or which otherwise becomes ineligible for sale either prior to 10/12/2023 or during the duration of the sale.

This notice of real property tax sale, and the tax sale itself are undertaken and will be conducted pursuant to the requirements of the laws of the State of Indiana which regulate the sale of land for delinquent taxes, pursuant to I.C. 6-1.1-24-1 et seq.

The County does not warrant the accuracy of the street address or common description of the property, and a misstatement in the key number or street address does not invalidate an otherwise valid sale. Minimum bid amounts are prescribed by law and are subject to change prior to the auction date.

Pursuant to IC 6-1.1-24-3(e), property descriptions may be omitted for properties appearing on the certified list in consecutive years. A complete property list may be obtained at www.sriservices.com or in an alternative form upon request.

WESTFIELD - Attention, class: Academy Sports + Outdoors is open for business.

The assignment for those who attend this Academy is to get outside and "Have Fun Out There," according to its hashtag on X, formerly known as Twitter. The 85-year-old sports and outdoors store is officially opening its first Indianapolis-area location right here in Hamilton County last week.

Academy is located at 1960 Greyhound Pass, just north of the Westfield-Carmel border in the building that had formerly been occupied by Marsh Supermarket. Customers were already in the store on Thursday, taking advantage of a wide selection of sporting goods and outdoor gear.

And there is quite a selection in the 75,000 squarefoot store

"This store is a sports and outdoor store, so we have everything from hunting, fishing, camping, kayaking," said Khatijah Smith, the store director of the Westfield-Carmel location. In addition to the outdoors section, Academy also offers goods for various sports, including basketball, baseball, golfing, ice hockey, wrestling, football and much more.

"Geared towards fun," said Smith.

Academy's clothing and shoe selection ranges from national brands such as NIKE, Columbia, adidas and the North Face, as well as private labels such as BCG, Magellan Outdoors, Freely and Roe. There's also plenty of team apparel available for fans, including for the Indianapolis Colts, Indiana Pacers and college teams.

The fishing section has everything from bait - including the store's private label, H2OX – to electronic fishfinders.

"Everything in our fishing department can be for the professional angler to just somebody who's a beginner, intermediate," said Smith. "We do also like to highlight our reel bar. We do free line spooling as well for our customers."

If you also enjoy eating outdoors as much as playing outdoors, there is a sizable grilling section at Academy. The store offers charcoal and gas grills, along with a goodsized selection of spices to flavor up your food.

Academy got its start as the Academy Tire Shop, which opened back in 1938 in San Antonio, Texas. The store became a military surplus store the following year, moved to Austin, Texas in 1956, then to Houston in community that we can be 1978. Two years later, Academy began offering sports and just provide more fun and outdoor items.

In 1990, the Academy headquarters relocated to its opening, Academy is givcurrent home in Katy, Texas, ing back to the Indianapolis and soon began expanding across the country. Academy entered Indiana in 2014 and
