I've become my mother

Simmer down! Don't get yourself in such a dither!

I've heard my mother say both of those phrases. Her voice, as well as her sayings, had a way of calming me down.

She would also say, "Holler if you need me." Sadly, she can't hear me hollering from her home in Heaven. I miss her and her voice.

There are moments when someone gets under my skin, and I want to beat the tar out of them or at least jerk a knot in their tail.

Lord, have mercy! I've become my mother.

The words I find coming from my mouth are those of my mother and her sisters. There is a lot of wisdom that comes from those sayings.

Madder than an old wet hen. Oh, yes, I've been that angry. Usually, it's because someone has done my family or a friend dirty. Things done to me, I can, more often than not, shrug off and consider the source.

Thou shalt not be ugly was one of Mom's commandments. It had nothing to do with looks but with actions. More mothers should have had that as a commandment, as we sure have a heap of ugly actions going on these days.

Noblesville announces first 'Holiday in Lights' parade

The REPORTER

In celebration of the city's bi-centennial, Mayor Chris Jensen has announced the Holiday in Lights Parade, the inaugural evening holiday parade that will start at 6:30 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 2.

"I'm excited to try a new spin on the traditional downtown parade," Jensen said. "With First Friday on Dec. 1 and activities taking place downtown on Dec. 2 leading up to the parade, it's going to be a very festive weekend in Noblesville and a great way to kick off the holiday season."

The parade route will be different than others. While it will start at 16th and Harrison streets and travel south on 16th Street to Logan Street, the parade will continue west through downtown and across the Bridge of Flowers, before passing Federal Hill Commons along State Road 19.

"With storefronts, the Courthouse Square, and homes lit up, this parade will be picturesque," Jensen said. "This will be a way for all residents and guests to recognize the different holidays that families celebrate in our community."

Hamilton County Emergency Management Agency is assisting the city by providing additional portable light stands to better illuminate the roadway along the route. Any nonmotorized entry needs to have reflective material or glow sticks/bracelets on any walkers to ensure their safety.

A look back at our Civil War past, Part 3

The American Civil War was like no other war we have fought. It was a conflict that tested whether our nation would last as the United States, if our liberty was for all Americans, if our rights were to be protected by the law and extended to all people.

To answer those questions, more American soldiers died than in any other war in our history. 620,000 men died in the Civil War. That was 2 percent of the U.S. population at that time.

To get a comparison, if 2 percent of the U.S. population died in the next four years, that would be 6.5 million people – or nearly everyone in the state of Indiana! Those war deaths were more than the sum total of American fatalities in the seven wars surrounding it: the American Revolutionary War, War of 1812, Mexican War, Spanish-American War, WWI, WWII, and the Korean War.

After the war ended, many groups sought to both honor

1987 NCAA champion player talks about Coach Bob Knight

By STU CLAMPITT
news@readthereporter.com

Joe Hillman didn't just play for Bob Knight, he was part of the 1987 NCAA championship team. In the wake of Knight's passing, The Reporter offers readers some insights on the man known as "the General" from one of the players who was part of the season everyone remembers.

"There is a huge misconception about what everybody hears and what they think they know," Hillman told The Reporter. "Yes, he was very demanding of the team. I've always said it took a unique individual to play for Bob Knight. If you didn't like it, that was okay, you left. But that wasn't Bob Knight's fault. That's the way he was, and he wasn't going to change it for you."

Community First Bank give $25K to Westfield Library Foundation

The REPORTER

Community First Bank (CFB) of Indiana has donated $25,000 to the Westfield Library Foundation to support the library’s new building set to open next year. $15,000 will be dedicated to creating a playhouse in the Children’s Department, while $10,000 will be used to establish a new seed library for gardening enthusiasts.

“The Westfield Library Foundation is thrilled to receive this generous donation from Community First Bank of Indiana,” WLF President Erin Downey said. “Its support will significantly enrich our library’s offerings.”

CFB’s generous donation will fund one of three playhouses in the new library that are part of a larger mock town. The seed library will provide a space where residents can borrow, exchange, or donate

Hillman said Coach Knight made the game easier for his players by breaking down details from game films to help them predict what the opposition would do and by drilling his motion offense.

“On the defensive end, we knew what their team was going to do the majority of the time, which made that easier for us,” Hillman said. “With the motion offense, once you learn it, there was really no way of stopping us from getting shots unless we were sloppy with our cuts and screens. You didn’t have to be the most athletic, you didn’t have to be the best player, because we could get shots and we could get to the free throw line. We were hard to guard.”

Hillman said 1987 was no different than any other year, other than Knight pushing a little harder and demanding higher standards because he knew that could be their year.

“I think he thought we were going to be really good,” Hillman said. “But there was never – in that season – really any relaxation whatsoever. It was, ‘okay, so we won this game. It doesn’t matter if we just beat Michigan, now we got to go beat Illinois.’ It was interesting that in the 1987 season I don’t think we played a whole lot of our best basketball in the tournament, but we just found a way. We were determined enough and found a way to win.”

Hillman said playing for Knight was not all about scoring. It was about stopping your guys, rebounding, being mentally tough, and overcoming adversity.

“The ’87 team did that better than any team I’ve ever been associated with,” Hillman said. “Bob Knight won games. People might say, ‘well, he did this or he did that.’ No, no, no – he won games. One of the things that really bothers me still is when people say, ‘oh, he was verbally abusive to the players; he wasn’t fair to the players.’ He wasn’t like that. Bob Knight was as fair as you could possibly be because if you played well in practice, you played in games. There was no set starting five.”

Hillman said when his team got beat, there were changes made. Knight’s theory was, “We didn’t win with those guys. I’m going to give other guys a chance.”

Knight wanted to build teams that were hard to play against.

“If somebody goes out and upsets the number one ranked team in the country, they’re probably going to lose the next night because they’re all patting themselves on the back and telling each other how great they are,” Hillman said. “There was never a big win in Indiana. Never. Winning was what you were expected to do. Every loss was like it was the end of the world.”

Hillman stayed in touch with Knight long after graduation. Hillman called Knight “a great needler” who not only liked to poke fun, but who liked it when guys came back with something clever so he could just laugh.

“If I needed something, you know, all I’d do is call my head coach,” Hillman said. “And he’d say, ‘Ah, Jesus, you only call me when you need something. What do you need?’ But he would always do it though. He would just call me sometimes and say, ‘Hey, Hillman, how’s things going? You doing all right?’ Once in a while I’d go, ‘What do you need?’ He’d laugh and say, ‘I don’t need anything from you. If I needed something tonight, I wouldn’t call you.’ He had a great sense of humor. That was stuff people didn’t get to see.”

In the days since Knight’s passing, a lot of the focus has been on moments he barked at refs and the time he threw a chair, but those rare moments seem to have become the norm for coaches now.

Hillman, then

Hillman, now

“Coach Knight sat in a chair to watch 90 percent of the time,” Hillman said. “Now all these coaches just run up and down the sideline. Coach Knight sat in the chair and watched because his job was done. He had prepared us. We had readiness for the game.”

Hillman said he is bothered by ESPN and other media outlets running highlights of Knight yelling at a ref or yelling at some kid.

“How about him giving Quinn Buckner and Scott May a hug?” Hillman said. “Or Isaiah and Wittman and Kitchel – those guys hugging – or hugging Alford at the end of game? That’s what Coach Knight was all about.”

Hillman wants Knight to be remembered as one of the greatest basketball minds.

“You know why you don’t see motion offense today?” Hillman asked. “Because there’s not a coach who knows how to teach it. And that’s sad because that’s the way basketball is meant to be played – not on ball, pick and roll. The reason why that’s all you see now in the NBA too is because that’s easy to coach. ‘Hey, I’m going to have three guys go stand. I’m going to take my best ball handler and we’re going to pick and roll.’ What do you have to coach there? If you’ve got good players, you’re done.”

Hillman said he also wants Knight to be remembered for his ability to build great teams.

“I want you to remember him as a guy that won games,” Hillman said. “The yelling and the screaming – that gets way overblown. We had a text thread going with about 10 or 12 of us the other night that played on the ’87 team. Somebody made the point, ‘Man, I’d just like to hear him yell and scream at me one more time.’ I said, ‘Heck yeah! That’d be great.’”

Hillman told The Reporter he has no regrets about his time on Knight’s team.

“The guy was a great coach, and his record speaks for itself,” Hillman said. “When people ask me about what it was like to play for Bob Knight, I said, ‘You know what? If I had to do it all over again, I’d do it again without any reservations at all.’”

No injuries in Westfield school bus accident

The REPORTER

At approximately 8:15 a.m. last Friday, Westfield Washington Schools bus No. 44 and a truck towing a backhoe collided at the intersection of 193rd Street and Mule Barn Road.

Westfield Fire Department assessed all people at the scene and determined that there were no injuries to the 21 students and the two drivers involved. Out of an abundance of caution, three students and the bus driver were taken to hospital for assessment but were released without injury.

A separate bus transported the students to school from the scene of the collision. Families of the students were notified of the incident.

CINDERELLA

According to WHS Director of Theatre M. Lance Grubb, when the decision was made to do a fairytale show this year, they chose the Rodgers and Hammerstein version of Cinderella because they thought this one was the best adaptation for the students.

“It’s mainly known for the teleplay that Whitney Houston and Bernadette Peters were in,” Grubb said. “This is one of our larger casts. We have 75 kids total and that’s between cast and crew and that’s all high school students.”

When asked what it takes to put on a high school show with 75 people involved, Grubb told The Reporter is requires a big story to tell, and it helps that Cinderella has an ensemble, so they were able to make the cast as large as they needed to accommodate talent.

“To do that, we have to take a lot of a lot of time and effort and putting it into our audition process,” Grubb said. “Every student has to do a singing audition and acting audition and a choreography audition. So that way we can make the best decisions for who’s going to be in what role and who can be on tech as well. So we do a tech application process. So that’s for anybody that works backstage, whether it’s prop, makeup or costume, plot, a scene rendering for what they think the show could use. And we kind of evaluate them on that on those qualities.”

According to Grubb, one of the largest standouts in this production is Amaya Smith.

“She plays our fairy godmother, and she just has a way of bringing out characterization and character development,” Grubb said. “It’s hard to teach that. She just has like this inkling of knowing what needs to be done at what time before I could even tell her what to do.”

Another thing Grubb said will make this production special is the contributions of the volunteers.

“I want to say how much we appreciate how much goes into the show without the parent volunteers and the community volunteers and sponsors we have,” Grubb said. “We couldn’t put on the productions we do.”

Some of those sponsors include Samantha’s Royal Celebrations, Savvy Décor, Card my Yard, Sam & Adrienne Epstein, Courtney & Josh Bryant, Camtoonist Designs, and Westfield Theatre & Choir Boosters Association.

You can see the WHS production of Cinderella Nov. 9 to 11 at the WHS auditorium, 18250 N. Union St., Westfield. Tickets are $15 and can be purchased online at WestfieldTheatreChoir.com.

Get tickets for CSO’s Veterans Day concert

The REPORTER

Carmel Symphony Orchestra (CSO) will present a special Masterworks 2 concert event for Veterans Day with a performance at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 11 at the Palladium.

Opening with a powerful and evocative performance of Valerie Coleman’s “Umoja, Anthem of Unity,” this CSO performance will weave together intricate melodies and rhythms inspired by African and African American musical traditions, creating a celebration of unity and cultural richness.

“This is truly a concert about unity in diversity,” Guest Conductor David Commanday said. “Coleman’s ‘Anthem of Unity’ is a tribal, choral piece that was orchestrated 20 years later for the Philadelphia Orchestra, the first time the orchestra had ever played a piece by an African American woman composer. It is truly a brilliant orchestration.”

Next, prepare to be transported to a bygone era with its Baroque influences and graceful melodies by Maurice Ravel’s “Tombeau de Couperin.” Ravel was a veteran of World War I. Unable to serve in a combat role due to medical reasons, he drove an ambulance during the war. He worked on Tombeau, a memorial to an 18th century French composer, through that war for piano, but orchestrated, brilliantly for full orchestra, himself. He dedicated each movement to a friend who had died during the war.

Charles Ives’ “Variations on America” injects an element of playfulness into the concert, where symphony musicians tackle this innovative and daring exploration of the American national anthem. With its surprising twists and turns, Ives challenges the conventional boundaries of orchestral music.

Lastly, delve into William Grant Still’s groundbreaking “Afro American Symphony, No. 1.” This pioneering work, the first symphony by an African American composer to be performed by a major orchestra, exudes a profound sense of pride and identity. Its blend of African American folk themes with European classical forms showcases the rich cultural tapestry of America. This piece was started in the 1920s and finished in the 1930s. It became a most popular, often-performed American symphony.

Special guest soloist

J’lan Stewart, an 18-year-old from Kokomo, will join the orchestra as a soloist, fresh off his work with The Songbook Academy run by the Great American Songbook Foundation Founded in 2007 by five-time Grammy Award nominee Michael Feinstein. J’lan is currently pursuing musical theater and human services at Ivy Tech after a high school career that included performing in Show Choir, Solo and Ensemble, and scholarship competitions.

“The CSO is proud to present this concert of diversity and unity, especially on Veterans Day,” Executive Director Anne Marie Chastain said. “We need to remember the importance of unity and shared values, during times of peace as much as during times of war. We are so grateful to our Veterans, who make freedom, necessary to unity, possible.”

Experience awe and inspiration at the Palladium. This Carmel Symphony Orchestra’s Masterworks Concert stands as a testament to the enduring power of music to connect contemporary voices and perspectives.

You can see the full CSO season schedule at CarmelSymphony.org.

Season tickets for 2023-24 are available at the Palladium Fifth Third Bank Box Office by calling (317) 843-3800 or online at thecenterpresents.org. Tickets for individual performances are also on sale.

the war dead and recognize the veterans who had returned home. On a national scale, places like Arlington National Cemetery were opened for military burials. Most battlefield sites also opened military cemeteries where Union soldiers killed in action were reinterred.

In Noblesville, Crownland Cemetery opened in 1867. On July 4, 1868, the Civil War Monument was dedicated there. It honored all the heroes of Hamilton County who volunteered for service during the war.

If you walk around Crownland Cemetery, you might also notice some other tributes to the Civil War dead. A total of 277 soldiers from Hamilton County were killed during the war. They are buried in other states. When a soldier was killed during the war, they were typically buried in haste where they fell on the battlefield. Some were buried in mass graves. After the war, these bodies were disinterred and buried in a military cemetery.

The passage of time made it impossible to identify every soldier. For instance, Antietam National Battlefield Cemetery contains the remains of over 4,000 Union soldiers – many were Hoosiers. Only Veterans’ groups led the effort to honor their fallen colleagues. Crownland has a monument to Unknown Soldiers in the Civil War Soldiers’ Lot. This was funded by the Lookout Women’s Relief Corps, Number 72, an auxiliary of the Grand Army of the Republic (GAR). The GAR was the largest Union Veterans’ fraternity in the nation. The monument is not a grave marker, but rather a monument to the boys who did not come home and were not identified on the battlefield.

One other item in the Soldiers’ Lot that cannot be missed is the large Parrott Rifled Cannon. The cannon was originally on the Hamilton County Courthouse lawn until 1940. That’s when it was moved to the Soldier’s Lot to rest next to the graves of Civil War veterans. But is it an authentic Civil War artillery piece? If it wasn’t moved to the cemetery until 75 years after the war, might it belong to some other era? It is indeed an authentic Civil War cannon, manufactured in Cold Spring, N.Y., in 1862.

I will be leading the Crownland Cemetery Civil War Veterans Walking Tour at 11 a.m. on Saturday, Nov. 11 – Veterans Day. I will be talking about the cannon, other monuments and markers related to our Civil War heritage in Hamilton County and Indiana. The event is free, but you need to register.

If you are looking for a unique way to honor our veterans and learn about the history of our past, I encourage you to attend. For more information, go to CivilWarVeteransWalkingTour.com.

Heights wins inaugural Golden Shovel Award

The REPORTER

Last month, students from Hamilton Heights High School and Garrett High School had the opportunity to compete in the first of what is expected to be an annual event, the Golden Shovel Competition.

Hosted by MacAllister Machinery Company in Indianapolis, construction trades education students from both districts had the opportunity to show their skill and knowledge in this inaugural heavy equipment construction skills competition.

According to Charlie McCullough, Communication Specialist for Indiana Constructors, Inc. and Work IN Roads, the competition centered on the Civil Construction Pathway education program and marks a significant milestone in civil construction education and Indiana’s commitment to build Indiana’s infrastructure. The Golden Shovel Competition is designed to bridge the gap between high school students and the construction industry directly. Offering a platform to showcase the excitement of construction to students and connect with potential employers.

“The event, backed by some of the biggest contractors in the civil construction industry, were present to see the students in action,” said Kevin Sheets, Hamilton Heights High School Construction Trades Education Teacher. “Students earned points through a variety of skill tests that included working as a team to survey a 20-by-20-foot square lot that was eight inches tall. They performed a job hazard analysis and a complete equipment check, loaded up a dump truck with dirt, unloaded it on the site, leveled and graded the lot within one inch of specs, and returned the lot to its original condition. Despite what team earned enough points to take a top spot, all participants had the opportunity to showcase their skills and learn a lot from the experience.”

Hamilton Heights sent four teams of three students per team. Two teams were comprised of upper-class students, and two teams were comprised of freshmen and sophomore students. At the end of the day, the team comprised of Jake Drummond, Kendall Flanders, and Nate Williams won first place and the team comprised of Isabel Morrow, Ethan Halverson, and Logan Hickman placed third.

Hamilton Heights High School brings home the first Golden Shovel Award with a first and third place in this inaugural heavy equipment competition for high school students taking the civil construction graduation pathway. petition and it showed. Ryan Swingley (ESP Associates), who served as the onsite surveyor for Heights, said our boys know about hard work and have a lot of passion for it. He was spot on. They have passion, take ownership, learn from past successes and mistakes and are competitive. All our teams worked hard and showed they know their stuff in this field.”

“It was great to see the students take a math principal, the Pythagorean Theorem ($A^2 + B^2 = C^2$) and bring it to life in a real-world application,” said Ryan Swingley with ESP Associates, and a director of the Indiana Society of Professional Land Surveyors (ISPLS). “It was a win for everyone involved. For students, the event gave them the opportunity to move dirt with a specific purpose. They utilized their classroom instruction and optical and laser measuring equipment to know how much material to move to make the pad perfectly level. For surveyors, the event was a unique opportunity to take students to the next level – show them what surveyors do.”

Junior Ethan Halverson, who is interested in a career in the trades, said the event really sparked his interest in the civil construction industry – specifically asphalt roadwork.

“I felt prepared, my team was prepared to handle whatever came our way, and at the end of the day, we did well,” said Halverson, whose team placed first in this year’s competition.

“It was a great experience,” said Junior Isabel Morrow, who is interested in pursuing a career as a residential electrician. “It wasn’t your average off-site school function. It was a cool experience serving as a leader, working with our coaches, and interacting with the industry professionals. It also opened my eyes to careers in the heavy equipment industry.”

Morrow’s leadership and work in the field was noticed. After the event, she was approached by an industry professional offering up an opportunity to work as a project manager for a local construction company.

“This competition was a great way for students to showcase their skills and highlight what is taking place in the civil construction pathway program in school districts across the state,” said Emily Bay, Marketing Manager for Rieth-Riley Construction, Co., who has been helping to grow this pathway at Hamilton Heights for the past four years. “This competition drew in the top players from the industry, teachers from other schools, and contractors there in support of this event which is expected to grow in size and scope in the years to come. It was exciting to see the students who were able to participate this year take the lead, handle equipment, and work as a team to manage a project. It’s a great path forward in our industry for students looking for good paying jobs with great career opportunities beyond graduation. With the new federal infrastructure bill there will be even more opportunities in the heavy highway industry well into the future.”

Tate Blackketter, Project Manager for GRADEX, enjoyed the opportunity to Coach Hamilton Heights’ Team 2 at the first Golden Shovel Competition.

“It was very exciting to be a part of this event,” said Blackketter, who hopes to be considered as a coach for one of Heights’ teams next year.

Blackketter first got involved with Heights after he learned about the district’s outdoor classroom, the Sandbox. At just 24, Blackketter, backed by a degree in Building Construction Management from Purdue University, is extremely passionate about the civil construction field.

“When I was in high school, I didn’t have any exposure to this field or heavy equipment operation so giving it a spotlight is important because it is as critical to our infrastructure as any other type of construction,” Blackketter explained. “It is rewarding to work with students at both the high school and college level helping them learn about the many avenues for a worthwhile and meaningful career with or without a college education.”

Junior Cooper Doucette, a student in Sheets’ Civil Construction class, attended the event with other classmates, said, “It was pretty cool to watch the teams operate the different machines and work together to prepare the site to the specs given. I learned a lot from just being there, watching, and talking to the different professionals who were there.”

James Zachary, also a junior in the same class who also attended the event, agreed.

“It was cool,” Zachary said. “One of the professionals at the event, Ryan Swingley, had a connection to a local surveying company that may have an opportunity for an internship over the summer.”

“We owe a great debt of gratitude to our industry partners who have played a major role in helping our students grow their skill and knowledge in the trades,” Sheets said. “They have been engaged, involved, and present in our classroom and at the Sandbox. They share their time, equipment, and expertise and it is paying big dividends in enhancing the educational value of our students. Chad Flanders (Beaty Construction), Eric Holmes (Rieth-Riley Construction, Co., Inc.), Ryan Swingley (ESP Associates, Inc.), and Tate Blackketter (Gradex) are a few of our industry partners who have been outstanding mentors and attended competition.”

Arrowood speaks to Cicero Kiwanis about Northern Hamilton County Academy

The REPORTER

The Kiwanis Club of Cicero recently welcomed one of its own to speak to the club, Dr. Derek Arrowood, Superintendent of the Hamilton Heights School District.

Dr. Arrowood spoke about the Northern Hamilton County Academy, a collaboration between Sheridan Community Schools, Hamilton Heights School Corporation, and Westfield Washington Schools. The Academy, which is located in Sheridan, provides an opportunity for students who struggle in the traditional educational system.

“These at-risk students, who face challenges like academic difficulties, behavioral issues or lack of support, often require an alternative approach to help them thrive,” Dr. Arrowood said. “That’s where the Northern Hamilton County Academy comes in, offering a supportive and tailored environment that fosters growth and success for students who don’t fit the traditional mold.”

For the idea to become reality, it took a herculean effort between the State, Hamilton County, and the school districts.

“We were building this aircraft while it was taking off,” Arrowood said. “What normally takes a year to plan and develop, came together in a matter of months thanks to State and local leaders like County Councilman Steve Nation and County Commissioner Mark Heirbrandt.”

The Northern Hamilton County Academy offers a more flexible curriculum that caters to the diverse needs of at-risk students, customizing their programs to address specific academic requirements while incorporating life skills development and hands-on learning opportunities.

There are currently eight students who attend the Academy the (maximum number of students is 30), and the three seniors who are currently students are all on track to graduate this year.

“It takes academic professionals who truly care about providing every student the opportunity to regain control of their educational journey, activate their strengths and develop the skills necessary to thrive personally and professionally,” Kiwanis Club of Cicero President Todd Clevenger said. “Hamilton County is lucky to have school administrators who truly want each and every one of their students to succeed and the Northern Hamilton County Academy is just one more example of how truly committed these educators are to making sure every student receives the attention and support they need to overcome academic challenges and unlock their full potential.”

Noblesville man dies in single-car crash

The REPORTER

At approximately 3:06 a.m. last Saturday, Noblesville police officers responded to the area of 146th Street and Promise Road regarding a report of a single-vehicle crash.

Officers arrived at the scene a short time later. Evidence and witness statements indicated that a 2013 Chrysler 200 was traveling eastbound on 146th Street at a high rate of speed when it struck the curb on the south side of road just west of Promise Road. The vehicle left the roadway and rolled over several times before coming to rest on the south side of 146th Street. The driver of the vehicle was ejected as a result of the crash. There were no other occupants in the vehicle.

The driver, Derrick M. Shetler, 35, Noblesville, was pronounced deceased at the scene.

The Noblesville Police Department’s Crash Reconstruction Unit was summoned to the scene to investigate.

Eastbound 146th Street was temporarily closed while investigators collected evidence and investigated the crash. The closure was in place until 7 a.m. Saturday.

The cause of the crash is still under investigation.

MY MOTHER

Southern expressions are a language of their own. Most are pretty endearing. Growing up, I heard them so often that they became a part of my vocabulary and speech.

I knew if someone “took to the bed,” they were very sick or tired.

“Over yonder” meant close by but not in any exact location. “Fixin’ to” meant getting ready to start.

More and more, I hear Southern sayings coming from my mouth, and they hug my heart.

Sometimes, I find myself explaining what I am saying to my husband as he was raised in western Indiana, and they did not speak with the same expressions as my southern Kentucky-raised parents.

As Mom would say, some things do get my panties in a bunch. I don’t understand Daylight Saving Time. (Yes, it’s that time of year.) You can explain why we do it, but I can tell you this ... there is no rhyme or reason to hold so many people hostage to such misery. Understand my thoughts? Yes, I thought so. No one ever said, “Happy Fall Back Day!”

Sometimes, I go to a Southern State of Mind (thank you, Darius Rucker), and I hear my mother’s voice and reflect on the wisdom she was still sharing at 94 before she passed. Her nurses would tell me that they would visit her room to check on her, but the truth was she always made them feel better whenever they had a rough day. There were lots of them during the Twilight Zone of COVID.

Mom would remind me that getting upset over something would waste both time and energy. Would it matter in five years? That was how she weighed the reasoning of how upset I should be. She might not have always taken her words to heart.

When I was a little girl going to a friend’s house to play, she always said, “Now, Janet Kay, you be nice.” I knew everything that meant. Be kind. Mind your manners. Don’t fight over toys. Don’t make any messes. Be respectful to their parents. “Be Nice” covered a lot of dos and don’ts.

In some ways, saying what Mom used to say is a bit like hollering because I need her. Those words are like a hug to my heart; I know where that hug comes from.

Thanks, Mom, for your words of wisdom and for teaching me your Southern expressions. They are still being used today, as I find myself saying ... Good Lord, I’ve become my mother.

Westfield to hold first Veterans Day Ceremony

November brings about many things: falling leaves, cooler weather, and every grocery store having all their chicken stock sold out.

But November also brings Veterans Day. What was originally known as Armistice Day, marking the end of the First World War, the purposefully ceremonial date and time of 11 o'clock on November 11 brought an anticlimactic end to a tragically horrendous war, where shelling continued until the very last second – despite that the document providing the ceasefire was agreed upon and signed a few minutes prior to 6 o'clock that morning. The Veterans Day we know today was put into effect in 1954, when the word “Armistice” was replaced with “Veterans.” It was later established as a federal holiday the same year.

Distinguishing between Veterans Day and Memorial Day can be confusing for some folks. They are both federal holidays and both revolve around military service. The difference is whom you are garnering respect towards. Memorial Day is in memory of those of made the greatest sacrifice. Veterans Day is for those who bore witness to those sacrifices.

I, by no means, am the first person to write about Veterans Day or differentiating the two holidays. However, while roaming Noblesville, I stumbled across the memorial to fallen servicemembers that sits between the old county courthouse and the Hamilton County Government and Judicial Center. After reflecting on the names etched in stone, what occurred to me was the absence of names that never would be engraved: the veterans.

On Memorial Day, we gather at cemeteries, public parks, statues, and memorials to give our due respect to the fallen. For Veterans Day, most of us will simply enjoy a day off work and spout a quick “thank you for your service,” to someone wearing a military veteran hat.

But as I pondered the two holidays, I realized that we do visit memorials on Veterans Day. The bitter-sweet reality is that the men and women hosting these ceremonies every year – the members of your local American Legion or VFW Posts – are living memorials themselves. They represent a different type of sacrifice. They are the ones who are burdened with bringing the memory back to us. This revelation makes the phrase “Happy Veterans Day” mildly oxymoronic. While no veteran will likely complain about getting a free stack of pancakes at IHOP (if that is still being offered) among the other sporadic perks exclusive to the day, those same veterans won't complain about the weight they carry the remaining 364 days of the year.

Don't take this column as one person's outcry to belittle the public's enjoyment of a holiday. By all means, if you have the day off, enjoy the long weekend to its fullest extent (safely). Don't be afraid to thank that veteran for their service (and a tip for you veterans/servicemembers out there: a good reply that takes away the awkward silence or “uh, thanks,” is to say “thank you for your support”). Just remember, when you offer that handshake, you're not just acknowledging a person, you're experiencing Hamilton County's living memorials.

And to the living memorials out there who may be reading this column: a heartfelt thanks to you for your experiences that made you a living memorial. After all, one experience may not define a person, but a person is nothing more than the sum of their experiences.

Reducing the mental load at home: shopping & meal planning

We’re continuing our series on reducing our mental labor. For the next couple of weeks, we’ll focus on shopping and meal planning.

Groceries. Personal hygiene items. Pet food. Prescriptions. Clothing. These items are necessary for most households, but they don’t magically appear when we need them. (Darn it!)

For groceries and most personal items, you can always go the delivery or pick-up route.

In central Indiana, I’ve used Shipt, a service that delivers things from local stores. Of course, there are other options, but this is the one I’m most familiar with.

With Shipt, you simply select what you need online using an app or visiting their website. You pay an annual fee of $99 or $10.99 a month. Prices on some items are slightly higher than what you would find in the store, although they have many things on sale each week. And you should tip your shopper.

This all may sound too expensive, but if you are often guilty of making impulse buys, you could come out even. I know I’m not the only one who runs to Target to buy a few things and ends up coming home with 20!

Grocery pick-up services are also convenient and not as costly. I use Kroger’s free grocery pick up (for orders $35 or over). Other stores charge around $5 per order or a little more for expedited pick up. Most of these services are similar. You place your order online and select a future pick-up time. Then at that designated time you pull into the parking lot and slip into one of the marked spots. From what I’ve seen, you are not expected to tip these shoppers.

I think these services are brilliant for many situations. When you’re sick, it’s wonderful to be able to stay home and rest, or at least just drive up to the store and sit inside your vehicle versus dragging your nearly lifeless body inside the grocery. And your fellow shoppers are probably grateful that you’re not sharing your icky germs.

If either of these services had been available when my kids were little, I would’ve taken advantage of them! My nephew’s wife had a baby right before Christmas years ago. She posted on Facebook about how relieved she was to be able to use Shipt and not worry about exposing her precious little girl to a bunch of germs. I hadn’t thought of this benefit, but it sure made sense.

Once again, I know many people might be reluctant to try this service. When I first started to use Shipt, some of my friends wondered if the shoppers would be as particular about selections as I would be. Wouldn’t they also make some errors? But I’ve found that most shoppers are as picky as I am, especially with produce. And if they ever are

Don’t walk alone

Mom tells the story about her mother-in-law Theresa Sarah Adler.

The young woman was strong and vigorous. In one hand she carried a milk pail as she walked down the long lane toward the barn. It was a little late to be milking – the cows had been lowing their protests for an hour or more – but her husband was late in returning from work.

She really enjoyed milking, but tonight walking was difficult because she was great with child. The boy at her side was about three or four; he clung fearfully to her hand and pressed himself so close to her side she could hardly avoid stepping on his toes.

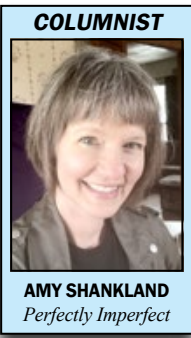

“Mama,” he asked with a tremor in his voice, “are you ‘fraid, too?”

That was a difficult question to answer because she had been feeling a bit uneasy herself. She wanted to be truthful. How should she answer the little fellow? His voice became more insistent and he leaned even harder against her. “Mama, I’m scared. Let’s go home.” He half turned so he could see the lamp light streaming from the kitchen window.

“Fear not for I am with thee,” the voice had spoken, yet she heard the words again, “Fear not for I am with thee.” The load seemed to lift. “No, son, I’m not afraid. We don’t need to be scared because Jesus is with us.”

“I’m not scared,” the little fellow said and proved it by skipping a step or two ahead. Many years later the lady told me this incident and added, “I’ve never been afraid since. Not really afraid. When you walk with Jesus, He casts out fear. It’s true, He really does.”

I knew her well. I never knew her to be afraid.

AMY SHANKLAND
Perfectly Imperfect

This is my 14th year teaching fourth grade. My students present an All Saints’ Day Celebration of the Saints where the children choose a saint to research, write a report on them, and on All Saints’ Day, which is on Nov. 1, the students dress up as their saint for the student body. They share how their saint spread the light of Jesus. It is a cute tradition that for many families has become a rite of passage.

While I love the longstanding tradition of All Saints’ Day, I particularly love the day after, All Souls Day. In Mexican culture, this day is often referred to as The Day of the Dead. While the day of celebration may vary, in the Catholic Church, this day is celebrated on Nov. 2. In my faith, it is believed that when someone dies, their soul still lives. This is a day to celebrate the faithfully departed.

The month of November is a time to particularly focus on those we love who have died. This day is one of comfort for me because it makes me appreciate that even though someone we love may have passed away, they are not forgotten, and it’s a special time to come together and purposely pray for their soul. It is a day that makes me think of my dad and of other people that have passed. Even though their physical body is not here, their spirit and soul lives on and that is something to be celebrated and thankful for.

The idea of making sure that someone’s spirit still lives on is so important to me. My children will not have the opportunity to meet my dad, but I know that the way that I speak about him will lend itself to the way my children feel like they knew the man he was. I know this firsthand from the way my mom always spoke about her Mema.

My mom always told me about her grandmother and how she always made her feel so special. She told me that she never realized her Mema was poor when my mom was a child because of how much trouble she went to and how special she made everything. Each kid in their family had a drawer of a dresser that her Mema would place special things in for them and when they’d come and stay for the weekend, my mom would always have something in her drawer. It wasn’t anything of any great expense, but it was the fact that her Mema specifically chose it with her in mind and remembered her.

My mom recently came across an old platter that belonged to her Mema and family heirloom wine glasses. I absolutely loved them; not just because they were beautiful, but because it belonged to my great-grandmother, a woman that I grew up hearing so much about.

My mom also gave me the mahogany dressers that belonged to her Mema and Pap (that’s what she called her grandfather). Pap was also someone whom I never met, but I grew up hearing how my mom used to sit on his lap and drive around the front yard in his car and how he always chewed his gum with his front teeth. I know that my uncle still wears his wedding ring.

I placed a jewelry box given to me by my Papa when I was a little girl on top of the same dressers that once belonged to his folks. My husband and I shared a bottle of wine and drank out of the heirloom wine glasses and made a charcuterie board with Mema’s platter. The dresser sits in our master bedroom, and I can’t help but think about the memories and periods of time that the dresser has seen over the years.

Regardless of your faith background, All Souls’ Day and the month of November invite all of us to remember the people that are no longer here physically but are here in everything we do. Nature provides us with the season of fall. Fall is representative of death and things passing on, but it is also a reminder of the life that exists beyond death. This season and each day are giving us the opportunity to share with others about those whom we love that have transitioned to Heaven. And for that, in this season of gratitude and remembrance, I am very thankful.

All about Honkai Star Rail video game

By JOHNATHAN POPIELA
Sheridan High School Student

This column is brought to readers by Sheridan High School dual-credit program students and Human Services teacher Abby Williams.

The game Honkai Star Rail is a semi-open world game where you can play as different characters from across the galaxy in the Honkai Star Rail Universe. There are multiple places to visit currently in the game and players start off at the Herta Space Station. Then, after bringing peace to the space station, you go to Jarilo VI.

The place where the main character first visits in Jarilo VI is the city of Belebog and it has two major parts: the Overworld and the Underworld. Afterwards, you bring peace to Belebog and Jarilo VI with the help of Seele, Natasha, Bronya, Serval, March 7th, and Dan Heng. After you save the planet on your way to the next planet Penacony, you get sidetracked because the main villains are the Stellaron Hunters, and they want you to go to the Xianzhou Loufu. Then the entire main cast takes a vote to see if you go to the Loufu. The results say that you go to the Loufu to bring peace to the place. It turns out that the Stellaron Hunters lured you to the Loufu for one of them to take revenge on Dan Heng.

As you explore the Loufu, you are rejected multiple times by the people of the Loufu to help with the Stellaron crisis. You also end up having multiple encounters with Kafka, who enacts the will of Elio who sees the future and is the leader of the Stellaron Hunters. Later, Kafka is captured by the people of the Loufu and is put into the Matrix of Prescience to reveal why she is there.

The Loufu is being attacked by the Stellaron and it summons powers of Yaoshi, which takes the form of a deer. You then have to fight the deer but you end up not being able to defeat it because of its incredible healing ability. You proceed to then go to different nearby regions to “cut the roots” of the tree from where the deer came from. You then have to go back and defeat the deer. After a long and difficult battle against the deer, the leaders of the Loufu finally recognize your strength.

The Loufu then sends you on a journey to the alchemy commission because there are immortality fumes that make long life spe-

After you have stopped the fumes from spreading all over the alchemy commission, the real reason that The Stellaron Hunter’s persuaded you to go to the Loufu instead of Penacony is revealed. Phantylia the Undying is revealed by ending her possession of Tingyun.

At the same time, Dan Heng is making way to the Stellaron Hunters for Blade to fulfill his revenge. Once Dan Heng gets to the shore with the Stellaron Hunters, he realizes that there are only two of the Stellaron Hunters there, Blade and Kafka. Kafka then allows Blade to have “The Mara” take control of him and to start his “revenge” on Dan Heng. Then before everything happens Yanqing shows up and joins in the fight with Dan Heng.

The fight then begins and Dan Heng loses by revealing his true identity: Dan Heng Imbibitor Lunae. Dan Heng Imbibitor Lunae then sides with Blade to defeat Yanqing. Jing Yuan and Bailu show up just at the end of the battle between Dan Heng Imbibitor Lunae and Blade against Yanqing. Dan Heng Imbibitor Lunae, after some convincing by everyone who was there, decides to split the waters at Scalagourge Waterscape to defeat Phantylia. After a long, tedious battle against Phantylia, with the help of Jing Yuan you defeat Phantylia and manage to prevent any more of the creature’s that worship Phantylia from being in the Loufu again.

Noblesville Lions Club refills Township Trustee’s food pantry

The REPORTER

On Thursday, Oct. 26, the Noblesville Lions Club (NLC) purchased and delivered $3,000 worth of food to refill the Noblesville Township Trustee food pantry.

The Trustee’s Office has been short of food lately and unable to help those they serve. An additional $2,000 was donated to the Trustee’s Office for walk-in needy that require help other than food.

This donation was made in the remembrance of Irv Heath, who was a many-year supporter of the Boys and Girls Club of Noblesville, as well as a member of the Noblesville Lions Club. Upon his death, a donation was made in his name to support the many causes of the Noblesville Lions Club. A portion of this donation was used as one of those causes.

Spotlight on Art benefits three local groups who serve county’s children

When asked by Esther Lakes to serve as Honorary Chair of Spotlight on Art, which takes place on Thursday, Nov. 9 at Hotel Carmichael, I immediately said yes!

I know Esther is dedicated to the care of the children in our community and her belief in the importance of each child. Spotlight on Art has been her vision and dream for several years. This event is a reality because of her hard work with a devoted committee of community supporters.

The purpose of this event is to better serve families and care for our children so that they can reach their potential. This event raises funds through the sale of art to support organizations that care for our children. Ideally, we would like it if our children were never harmed or placed in painful situations. As much as we try, sometimes these situations, including life's challenges and obstacles, do occur. We want our children to be known for how they overcame their situations and not be defined or limited by them.

We may never know how our efforts to help our children today will affect children not yet born. As a Judge my hope has always been that each child develops a spirit of self-reliance and understanding of their individual purpose. We must help instill in them the personal belief that if they work hard and never give up, they can accomplish anything.

This is why supporting this event which benefits Prevail, Boys & Girls Club of Noblesville, and Children's TherAplay is crucial. These organizations have proven their commitment and ability to provide our children and their families with the tools to overcome difficult situations. They work nonstop until each child has the possibility of reaching their highest potential. Therefore, we must join to support this event, as a caring community, that is watchful of our children.

I have always believed in the greatness and ingenuity of the people of Hamilton County. We have come together to provide answers for the needs of our citizens and to set a better course. Consider joining us at Spotlight on Art benefiting children.

Carmel Rotary’s Leadership Connection brings together over 170 of tomorrow’s young leaders

The REPORTER

The Rotary Club of Carmel concluded Leadership Connection 2023 on Friday, Oct. 27, which was attended by over 170 Carmel and Indianapolis students.

Rotary Club of Carmel President Arnold Elston had the following message for Leadership Connection Chairman, Tim Flint, and Vice Chairman, Louise Jackson:

“You and your team did an OUTSTANDING job. The work you did provided hope in the lives of the young people that participated in Leadership Connection and the volunteers. Thank you for putting a smile on my face!”

1988: catfishing with The King

In the late 1980s, when I was a cub reporter fresh out of J-School in southern Indiana, a wave of Elvis Presley sightings was reported in the U.S., a disturbing thought considering The King had presumably died on the toilet in Memphis in 1977.

Top journalistic publications like National Enquirer, Weekly World News and others profited from the mass hysteria of the moment by resurrecting Elvis and making him a news rag cover king once again. I scoffed at such lowbrow reporting until ...

I fished with Elvis yesterday.

That’s what he does a lot now.

He fishes.

Said he likes to spend time in the outdoors, away from everybody, away from it all.

I know what you mean, I said. It’s why I fish.

I offered Elvis a beer. He declined.

Said he doesn’t touch the stuff anymore.

If I died, I probably wouldn’t touch the stuff either, I said.

He laughed. A joke between Elvis and me.

I was fishing for catfish. I put raw chicken livers on large hooks. Elvis wasn’t fishing for anything but peace. He had nothing on his hook but water.

Said he doesn’t go to bait stores anymore. People have started recognizing him out in public more and more.

Said this upsets him a little because he likes to fish.

Peace is fine though. He had a stringer full of peace now. He showed it to me, an empty stringer dripping with water.

Elvis, I said. The cats aren’t biting, but you are welcome to use my liver.

Thanks, he said.

I ended up putting the slimy stuff on his bare hook for him. He couldn’t get it to stay on properly. He was out of practice – a long time had passed since Tupelo ... and Memphis for that matter. Every time he cast his line, the liver would fly everywhere. Some dropped to his shoulder and oozed down his Red Man T-shirt.

I baited a hook for Elvis yesterday.

Elvis really didn’t say much. Unless, of course, to answer questions. I don’t think he really wanted me around. But what the hay, this was The King, and although I didn’t like his movies, I felt it was my duty to keep this lonely man company on the riverbank.

I asked him to sing “Hound Dog.”

Said he can’t. Said he doesn’t sing the old songs anymore. Otherwise, it gives him the itch to end this whole charade, return to the stage and to the lights and to the adoration. And to the women. Lordy, the women.

en. Don’t get me started on the ladies, he said.

Said if he ever returned to that madness, it would kill him all over again, once and for all.

How about a little “Heartbreak Hotel?” I asked.

I can’t, he said. I don’t expect you to understand.

I understand, I said.

What do you do for a living, Elvis asked.

I told him. Without thinking, I told him that I’m a reporter.

Elvis looked away.

Look, I’m not with the Enquirer or any of those crap publications, I said. I don’t go around writing about four-headed snake women from Mars ... although I did date one once. And I won’t go around saying Elvis is alive when he really isn’t.

I think I dated one of those once too, he said. Wait, I thought she was from Venus.

Elvis felt a big tug on his line, but it was just the river’s current, not a mud cat, messing with him.

So what do dead people drive, I asked.

Said he drives one of those big trucks that stand about 20 feet in the air. Gunrack on the rear window. Skoal bumper stickers. Southern Indiana camouflage.

I can’t believe it, I said. Elvis is disguised as a red-neck.

Hey, it has worked for the most part, he said.

But his disappearing act was wearing thin. People were starting to catch on. Once again his face was looking back at us from the magazine racks of drug-stores and supermarkets, bringing The King back to life.

Does it bother you, I asked.

Elvis began reeling his line in. Said it’s time to go back to his truck and keep one foot ahead of the press.

He stood up from the muddy bank, but before calling it a day, he let me in on a secret.

Said he knew I was a reporter all along. Said he has been in the area for a couple of weeks and had seen my columns. Said I have the ability to write stories that no one knows whether they are true or not. Said he likes that about me.

He yawned. I’ve got to get to bowling league, he said.

He stood. Said, you know that question you asked me? Do I mind all these stories being written about me again?

Yes, I said.

It’s nice to be remembered, he said. Do me a favor though. Don’t write about this fishing trip, OK?

Don’t worry, Elvis.

He winked. I winked.

I lied to Elvis yesterday. He knew I would.

Duke Energy grant will fund recycling program at Carmel Christkindlmarkt

The REPORTER

A new recycling program at the Carmel Christkindlmarkt will aim to reduce the Market's landfill impact by upwards of 30 percent – almost 200 cubic yards – thanks to a $20,000 grant from Duke Energy and a $5,000 grant from Hamilton County Tourism, Inc.

New this year, the Market will have 30 recycling bins for guests to use when they visit, along with facts about recycling in Germany that will be posted around the Market. For example, in the 1970s, Germany had more than 50,000 landfills. Today, they have zero active landfills.

"We appreciate the opportunity to partner with Carmel Christkindlmarkt to bring a recycling focus to this year's event," said Mark LaBarr, government and community relations manager at Duke Energy. "By supporting the purchase of these recycling receptacles, we hope to help reduce the amount of recyclable waste that ends up in a landfill during this year's festivities. This sponsorship is just one small way we can help protect our environment and make a positive impact on the well-being of our customers."

Carmel Christkindlmarkt CEO Maria Murphy said recycling aligns with the organization's mission around German cultural awareness and education.

"While living in Germany, it was striking to me the seamless way in which recycling was a part of the cultural norm for German families," Murphy said. "The systems they have in place and the positive impact those systems are having on the environment is remarkable. My hope is to mirror those efforts one small step at a time here at the Carmel Christkindlmarkt. I'm so grateful to Duke Energy and Hamilton County Tourism for partnering with us to make this endeavor possible."

While the recycling receptacles are new this year, the Market staff plan to reuse them for years to come, encouraging guests to recycle all the cans, cardboard and more that result from purchases at the Market. In 2022 for example, the Market sold nearly 15,000 canned beverages. This year, the hope is that most if not all of those will be recycled. The Market also hopes to expand this program in the future.

"The Carmel Christkindlmarkt's new recycling program perfectly aligns with Hamilton County's Tourism commitment to environmental sustainability," said Sarah Buckner, assistant director of community engagement for Hamilton County Tourism, Inc. "By supporting responsible waste management practices, we can enhance the overall experience for attendees while reducing our impact on the environment."

The Market opens for the season on Nov. 18. To learn more about the Carmel Christkindlmarkt and see all the official hours, please visit CarmelChristkindlmarkt.com.

Serve Noblesville & Temperature Service join forces to bring warmth & comfort to local family

Submitted

Serve Noblesville and Temperature Service have announced a heartwarming partnership that has warmed the hearts of a local family. This collaboration showcases the power of community and the kindness that flourishes when individuals and businesses come together to make a difference in the lives of those in need.

Temperature Service, a trusted HVAC company known for its commitment to excellence, recently reached out to Serve Noblesville with a generous offer: a donation and installation of a gas furnace for a family in need within Hamilton County.

"Acknowledging the shared responsibility we have for our community, the team at Temperature Service was happy to provide a furnace and its installation to a local family in need," Owner and President of Temperature Services Michael White said. "It's a simple gesture in the grand scheme of things, but it's our way of contributing to the warmth and well-being of our neighbors. We are in this together, and it's essential that we look out for one another."

Recognizing the significant impact this act of kindness could have, Serve Noblesville eagerly accepted the offer. Serve Noblesville is an asset-based organization dedicated to serving the local community by identifying opportunities and mobilizing resources to match them.

To identify a deserving family, Serve Noblesville collaborated with the Hamilton County Youth Assistance Program, a non-profit organization that has been supporting families and children in Hamilton County since 2009.

Working together, these three parties – Temperature Service, Serve Noblesville, and Sheridan Youth Assistance Program (SYAP) – coordinated the installation of the donated gas furnace. This collaboration not only ensured a warm and comfortable winter for the identified family but also exemplified the strength of unity within the community.

"I was excited to find this rare opportunity for this Sheridan family," SYAP Program Advocate Lisa Samuels said. "Carrie is so willing to give her time weekly to volunteer with the SYAP clothing and furniture pantry. I know they look forward to a comfortable winter season thanks to Serve Noblesville and Temperature Service for making it happen."

However, Serve Noblesville's commitment did not end there. Recognizing the importance of a complete HVAC system for the family's well-being, Serve Noblesville rallied community support and sponsorships to secure a brand-new air conditioner for the family.

Additionally, another opportunity was revealed where Serve Noblesville was able to assist a second family in Westfield that needed some siding installed and additional home repair completed. Serve Noblesville reached out to a dedicated team of volunteers who gladly took on the home repair projects. The generosity and dedication displayed by Serve Noblesville and its partners have truly made a lasting difference in the lives of those they serve.

"I was coming home from work the other day and saw the entire team working on my house," said Jenny, a mother and homeowner in Westfield. "At that moment, I was just so overwhelmed with gratitude and simply had no words. I felt so much love for my daughter and me in that moment. I truly don't have the right words or actions to express my gratitude because I'm so very thankful for all they have done. I've been a single mom now for six years and have felt so defeated with the situation with my home that I was even at the point of trying to seek something cheaper for us as I couldn't make these repairs on my own. It was all overwhelming. Thank you so much to Serve Noblesville and Westfield Youth Assistance, my daughter and I finally have a home that's functional and beautiful too!"

You can make a difference, too!

Six Points Church among others in the county also stepped in, offering their financial support to help make the air conditioning installation happen. Serve Noblesville, Temperature Service, and Sheridan and Westfield Youth Assistance Programs express their gratitude to the local community for their continuous support and remind everyone that together, we can create a warmer, more comfortable, and compassionate community for all.

The initial estimated costs for replacement and correcting previously overlooked work is $10,000. Serve Noblesville invites the community to join this noble cause and make a positive impact on the lives of local families. Your contribution, no matter the size, can help make a difference.

Utter perfection: Royals are now state champions following undefeated season

By RICHIE HALL
sports@readthereporter.com

MUNCIE – The Royals got a perfect ending to a perfect season last Saturday night.

The Hamilton Southeastern volleyball team put together an undefeated season that culminated in a four-set win over Castle in the IHSAA 4A state championship game at Ball State University’s Worthen Arena. The Royals triumphed over the Knights 25-18, 24-26, 25-20, 25-15 in a hard-fought match.

Lauren Harden, one of the many seniors on this HSE team said this group “is a really special group. We have a big senior class and that was a big thing for the runs that we had this season.”

Southeastern won the first four points of the match, with kills from all three of its big hitters. Lindsey Mangelson got the first point, then Harden and Tiffany Snook both put down kills. Castle began to work its way into the match after that, but Southeastern’s timely hitting gave it enough of a cushion to win the set. Snook hit a kill to finish things up.

Southeastern led 21-17 in the second set, then had three set points at 24-21. But Castle’s Megan Harpenau hit a kill to start a five-point run, and Katie Kopshever hit back-to-back kills to level the match.

The Knights led 4-1 early in the third set before Southeastern won the next four points. Snook started the run with a kill, then Mangelson hit two more. The Royals never trailed again after that point and began to steadily build a lead throughout the set. Breonna Goss helped out with a pair of kills, then Harden blasted another kill on set point.

“She’s been a leader for us all year long,” said HSE coach Jason Young. “I thought she did an unbelievable job, either attacking and also defending, making plays to keep balls alive and make things happen.”

With that, Southeastern led two sets to one. The Royals began to see the finish line, and jumped out to a 7-2 lead, with Madi Evett, Goss and Mangelson all hitting kills. With the lead at 10-5, Harden spiked two more kills, and another one got HSE ahead 14-6.

Castle made one more four-point run to get within 14-10, but Southeastern erased that with a four-point run of its own. Harden hit a kill to get the Royals to match point, and Snook put down another kill to finish the match.

Southeastern had four players hit double-digit kills. Mangelson led the way with 17, followed by Snook with 14, then Harden and Goss each hit 13. Macy Hinshaw handed out 38 assists, with Ava Hunter dishing out 20 assists.

“I think we have two of the best outsiders in the entire country,” said Young.

Southeastern shares the secret to success

By RICHARD TORRES
For The Reporter

MUNCIE – The secret behind top-ranked Hamilton Southeastern’s success isn’t measured in numbers or statistics.

It’s defined in moments, and when the defending Class 4A state champion Royals needed a push last Saturday night against fifth-ranked Castle inside Ball State University’s Worthen Arena, both seniors Tiffany Snook and Breonna Goss elevated.

On paper, neither topped more than 200 kills entering the IHSAA

4A volleyball state championship game, but each took control in crucial situations.

“It’s whoever is hot. Sometimes, they’re sitting on Lauren (Harden) when she gets so many kills in a row that we have to go to the next person,” Goss remarked after HSE’s 3-1 win over Castle for the 4A state crown. “We just go back and forth because that way they can’t stop us.”

The Knights (34-4) struggled to account for Goss and Snook, and the duo helped propel HSE towards a program-first back-to-back titles, a 67th straight victory for the program and a historic perfect 33-0 season finale.

In the first set, Snook took control, as the Castle defense keyed on outside hitters Lindsey Mangelson and Harden. With a team-high seven kills in the 25-18 opening set victory, Snook chipped in two more in the second three more in the third and finished with 14, including the final kill to initiate the on-court celebration.

Goss found her opportunities in the second, third and fourth sets. She swiftly hammered down a pair of middle net kills to put HSE ahead 24-21 in the second set before the Knights charged back to win 26-24 and tie the match.

However, Goss wasn’t done. In the third set, she turned four kills into seven and ended the night with 13 along with a solo block and a block assist.

Young said that Goss has been “spectacular all year. The kid is going to Duke for a reason.” The coach also said Snook, a Memphis commit “is unbelievable, and she had some key kills for us as well.”

WISH-TV veteran Anthony Calhoun earns IHSAA’s Distinguished Media Service Award

The REPORTER

Hamilton Southeastern got a chance to be part of a special honor for one of Indiana’s biggest supporters of high school sports last Friday.

Anthony Calhoun, the sports director at WISH-TV, received the IHSAA’s Distinguished Media Service Award for District 2 during halftime of the Royals’ sectional championship football game with Fishers.

The Distinguished Media Service Award recognizes outstanding members of the Indiana news media from each of its three legislative districts for excellence in the coverage of high school sports. District 2 covers 28 counties across northern and central Indiana.

“Being from the state of Indiana, I know just how important the role of high school sports plays in our communities,” Calhoun told the Reporter at the game. “And they called me a couple of months ago about this opportunity to present me this award. It was really humbling because I grew up here playing high school athletics and I know what the IHSAA meant to me and my family, and to receive this recognition is really special.”

A.C., as he is affectionately known to many, is the longtime sports director and main anchor at WISH-TV and has covered Indiana high school sports for 25 years.

Besides his daily reporting and anchoring, Calhoun hosts several highly rated shows including SportsLocker, seen every Sunday night on WISH-TV. During football season, you can also catch him on Countdown to Kickoff, the Colts pre-game show on Sunday mornings.

A.C. anchors The Zone, a weekly high school football and basketball highlight show on Friday nights. He also hosts The Zone Extra on Thursday nights which is believed to be the only weekly 30-minute show on television dedicated solely to Indiana high school sports.

Calhoun also originated The Zone Banner “spirit award” that recognizes the Best Student Section in Central Indiana during the football season. This coveted spirit award has helped generate passion and fervor among high school students on Friday nights for many years.

Calhoun was presented the award by IHSAA Commissioner Paul Neidig, Sports Information Director Jason Wille and Assistant Commissioner Janie Ulmer, who was the principal at Southeastern prior to joining the IHSAA.

After the presentation, a few HSE students presented Calhoun with a congratulatory banner and a cake, and

Royals defend sectional title, set to play Westfield in regional

By RICHIE HALL
sports@readthereporter.com

FISHERS – Donovan Rhodes gave his Hamilton Southeastern football team a little insurance on last Friday night.

The Royals were leading Fishers 31-21 in the fourth quarter of the Class 6A Sectional 3 championship game. The Tigers had the ball just yards away from the end zone, but on third-and-2, Rhodes made an interception.

Rhodes would get another pick minutes later, and that set up another Southeastern touchdown. A few minutes after that, the Royals were celebrating a defense of their sectional title with a 38-21 win over the Tigers.

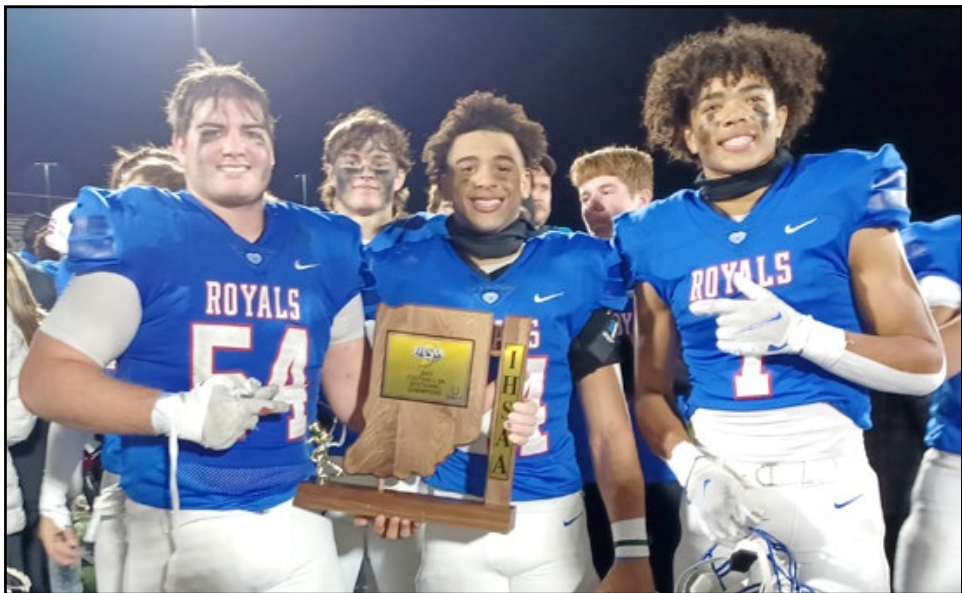

“It’s always a great feeling,” said Southeastern senior Jalen Alexander. “Ever since I came here and transferred here my sophomore year, I’ve always thought we had something brewing up in the culture of HSE.”

Alexander said he was glad “the state and the city” were getting a chance to see the game, and quite a few people from the city of Fishers were on hand to watch the hard-fought contest. It seemed like it would be a high-scoring game at first when the teams traded touchdowns during the first three minutes of the game.

Royals quarterback Chandler Weston dashed off on a 52-yard run to put the first points on the board. The Tigers responded seconds later when quarterback Bennett Gorak connected with Joe Syrus for what turned into a 70-yard touchdown pass.

Not to be outdone, Donovan Hamilton caught a touchdown pass of his own midway through the first quarter. That one was a four-yard reception from Weston. That would be the last score of the period, and the Royals led 14-7.

into the end zone. The score would stay 14-14 until just before halftime: Southeastern’s Hugo Belmonte kicked a 33-yard field goal and the Royals led 17-14 at the break.

“We told them at the start of the week, it’s going to be up to the line of scrimmage. That’s going to tell the game,” said HSE coach Michael Kelly. “And we knew it was going to be a challenge. They have a great defensive line.”

“Our offensive line did a great job and then our defensive line as well did a great job,” said Kelly.

The second half of the game belonged to Alexander, as he rushed in three touchdowns. Alexander’s first score came midway through the third period on a 27-yard breakaway to put the Royals up 24-14.

But the Tigers stayed close. Gorak launched another long touchdown pass, this one to JonAnthony Hall for 29 yards. Jonathan Tangara made extra-point kicks after all three touchdowns, and Fishers was within 24-21.

“Our kids kept battling the whole night,” said Tigers coach Curt Funk. “They made big plays. When they needed a takeaway, they got a takeaway at crucial times of the game, and we just unfortunately just weren’t able to convert some of our drives and fell up short.”

Alexander began the fourth quarter with a five-yard touchdown run, and the Royals were up 31-21. The Tigers began a long drive and got to a first-and-goal situation at the one-yard line.

Southeastern pushed Fishers back to the two by third down, and that’s when Rhodes made his first interception, returning it to the Royals’ 35-yard line. The Tigers held HSE to a three-and-out to get the ball back, but Rhodes intercepted the ball again.

“I feel like we needed a little bit more energy, and it just put the game away,” said Rhodes.

The Royals were soon marching down the field, and Alexander finished the job with a one-yard touchdown run.

“His work ethic, his attention to detail in practice, the amount of effort he puts in, it’s so well-deserving,” said Alexander of Rhodes. Alexander said he was glad to see all of Rhodes’ preparation translate into success in a game.

“I think every college coach should be jumping on him,” said Alexander. “He’s a great prospect.”

Alexander is great himself and will be giving Ball State football fans something to cheer about when he heads to Muncie next year. He finished with 137 yards, including his three touchdowns. Weston totaled 103 yards on the ground. In addition to his field goal, Belmonte kicked all five extra points. Mason Wright had seven total tackles, followed by six for Jack Seyferth and Judah Parker, and five for Rhodes and Michael Hoog.

As for the Tigers, the Indiana University-bound Martin finished with 129 yards, while Gorak went 8-for-11, totaling 197 yards. Hall had four receptions. Owen Folta led the defense with eight tackles, with seven each for Leo Morrow, Carter Imes and Reagan Themblemubu.

Grant Haworth, Jev Hutton and Kaleb Sweeney all made six tackles, with Hutton getting one sack. Fishers finished the season 7-4.

Southeastern is 9-2 and plays Friday at Westfield for the regional title.

Blackhawks get 21st sectional title on the road, now ready for regionals

The REPORTER

Sheridan made a nice second-half comeback at Monroe Central last Friday.

As a result, the Blackhawks are sectional champions again.

Sheridan overcame a 14-0 halftime deficit to get past the Golden Bears 27-22 in the final of Class 1A Sectional 45. It’s the second consecutive sectional title for ‘Hawks, as well as the 21st in program history.

“We decided to play,” said Sheridan coach Bud Wright. The coach said his team was “in a daze” during the first half, but in the second half, “we came out ready to play and took it to them.”

Eli Kolb helped Sheridan back even with Monroe Central. He scored two third-quarter touchdowns, running the first one in from nine yards, and the second in from 10 yards with a minute and a half to go in the period. Owen Bell made both extra-point kicks.

At the start of the fourth quarter, the Golden Bears got the ball back at their own one-yard line. But on the first play of the drive, Monroe Central and Trent DeCrane recovered the ball in the end zone. With that, Sheridan was in the lead, and Bell’s kick made the score 21-14.

The Golden Bears went back ahead on a 30-yard touchdown pass, then ran in a two-point conversion for a 22-21 lead. But Sheridan made a resolute final drive to take back the lead. Zach Bales finished it off with a one-yard touchdown run. The Blackhawks’ defense then stopped Monroe Central in its final drive.

Kolb finished the game with 141 yards rushing, while Bales totaled 117 yards.

Sheridan is 9-3 for the season and hosts North Decatur Friday for the regional championship.

Heights’ bid at perfection ends in sectional final

By RICHARD TORRES
For The Reporter

ARCADIA – Two words were echoed as the Class 3A fifth-ranked Hamilton Heights Huskies broke their final huddle to head to the locker room last Friday night, and coach Jon Kirschner used them both repeatedly.

The first was pride. The second didn’t trail far behind. “They had fun. They had a blast. They loved football. I know it’s always fun when you’re winning, but it was that way last year, too, for these seniors. They were that way as sophomores. It’s been a mentality with them to have fun,” Kirschner said. “That’s why we are where we are, and they’ve trusted the process.”

Where the Huskies (11-1) finished the 2023 season was in the sectional title game against defending 3A state champion Bishop Chatard, a destination Hamilton Heights hadn’t reached since 2014.

A prolific 11-0 entering the sectional final, the Huskies posted their longest winning streak since the 2012 team won 13 straight. Their 11-0 run marked the best start without a loss since the 2010 program went 12-0 before losing to Chatard in the regional final.

History, it seemed, would repeat despite a stout defensive effort by the Huskies, as top-ranked Bishop Chatard advanced, 28-8, to secure its second consecutive sectional title and 31st overall.

While the host Huskies’ bid at perfection closed along with their pursuit of the program’s first sectional championship since 2012, coach Kirschner’s showed their grit.

“I’m beyond proud. This group has stuck together, these 19 seniors. They followed the process for four years to be able to put themselves in position to win tonight,” Kirschner said.

In the first quarter, the Huskies won the battle initially, forcing the Trojans (12-0) to punt on their first possession to open the game.

Hamilton Heights’ defense, which ranked ninth in the state with 10.08 points allowed per game, forced a turnover on downs on Bishop Chatard’s ensuing possession on fourth-and-10 from the Huskies’ 23-yard line.

However, the Trojans regrouped and scored twice before halftime and twice more in the third quarter to take a commanding 28-0 lead before the Huskies could respond offensively.

“We executed our defensive game plan. We were able to do some things that would dictate where we wanted them to be offensively to play into our hands. Their defense is very good. They’re a talented football team, so offensively, we just couldn’t get much going,” Kirschner said. “But defensively for a while, we hung with them.”

The Trojans rushed for 228 yards on 42 carries and three touchdowns, including a pair by Daniel Shaw. Daniel Adams added the third rushing score, while quarterback Aidan Arteaga completed 11 of 26 passes for 156 yards and a touchdown.

Arteaga’s touchdown screen pass to running back Riley Kinnett gave Chatard a 7-0 lead late in the first quarter and kicked off the Trojans’ wave of 28 unanswered points. Arteaga completed 11 of 26 passes for 156 yards to nine different targets.

The Huskies defense stymied the Trojans’ offense into three punts and six turnovers

Rocks’ second-half momentum overcomes Noblesville to take sectional championship

By CRAIG ADKINS

NOBLESVILLE – Fall weather officially set in for last Friday night’s sectional championship. That served up quite the atmosphere for the Shamrocks and Millers to battle it out for the Sectional 4 championship.

After a chess match in the first half kept the scoring to a minimum, Westfield found their ways to victory for a 24-12 sectional championship, its fourth in a row.

Trading field goals in the first half, eventually one of the two teams would find a way to crack the other.

The Millers got on the board first, using up just over half of the first quarter and grabbing an early 3-0 lead with 5:28 in the quarter on a 26-yard Jack Letourneau field goal.

Westfield tied it 3-3 on its ensuing possession with Brody Boehm sailing a 27-yard field goal through the uprights.

A couple series later, Letourneau matched Boehm’s previous and drilled a line-drive 27-yarder himself that gave Noblesville a 6-3 edge with just two seconds left in the half for a low-scoring, three-point halftime advantage.

“I wasn’t real surprised. There were five total possessions. That’s what happens when you play them. They got three and we got two. We had penalties that stopped us on one of ours and we got a field goal on the other,” Westfield head coach Jake Gilbert said.

“We stopped them one out of three and held them to field goals on the other. So, I honestly thought it was a decent first half. We did some good stuff. The penalties are what cost us,” Gilbert continued.

Each punted on their first drives of the second half and then Shamrock kicker Brody Boehm pushed a 28-yard field goal attempt wide left.

The Millers’ next series were forced to punt. The snap was off and at the feet of Letourneau and he had to scramble to his left. The senior punter was taken down deep at his own eight, putting Westfield in a prime spot.

“That was a great game. We had the bad breaks in the third quarter, but we did we ever respond and had a legitimate chance to win the game. Being down 11 and coming right back. We had a chance to win it with five minutes to go and we couldn’t convert,” said Noblesville head coach Dave Sharpe on his team’s resilience.

Just a few plays later, tailback Kendall Garnett ran in the game’s first touchdown from two-yards away, putting the ‘Rocks in front 10-6.

On the kickoff, Miller kick returner Blake Widget fumbled the ball deep and it was recovered by Westfield.

Then, with 12 seconds left in the third, Garnett would score again on a one-yard drive. In just two short minutes, two scores later the Shamrocks were now leading 17-6.

“Clearly, special teams were the difference. They had two special teams turnovers, but then we also got a hand on that punt in the first half. And realistically, we scored on a fake field goal,” stated Gilbert on Westfield taking advantage of Noblesville’s special teams miscues.

Early in the fourth, the Millers put together a solid drive, ending with a one-

Tigers roar in season opener

By RICHIE HALL
sports@readthereporter.com

FISHERS – The Fishers girls basketball team got off to a splendid start in its first game of the season.

The Tigers hosted Ben Davis last Tuesday. Fishers, last season’s Class 4A state runner-up, jumped out to a big first-quarter lead and rode that momentum to a 65-49 victory over the Giants.

It was all Fishers from the outset. The Tigers scored the first seven points of the game and held a double-digit lead four minutes into the first quarter. Joidyn Smith opened with a 3-pointer, Allison Scheu scored with a layin, and Talia Harris added another layin after Fishers had made two offensive rebounds.

Smith and Harris are seniors, while Scheu is a junior who got significant minutes last year. Their leadership carried the Tigers to a 24-9 first-quarter lead, with Harris scoring eight points. Smith (two 3s) and Scheu both had six points.

“I thought we did a really nice job defensively to start the game and that gave us some opportunities for transition buckets,” said Fishers coach Lauren Votaw. “I thought we converted well on those transition buckets. We were taking high-quality, balanced shots in transition and then we were able to use that to build our lead. So then when we had some lulls later in the game, we were okay.”

Fishers was in front by at least 13 points during the remaining 24 minutes of the game. Ben Davis battled for the entire game and made things interesting with hot outside shooting (the Giants drained five 3-pointers in the second half.) But the Tigers never BD get back into the game.

Case in point: Fishers led 37-21 at halftime. Zoe Wheeler opened the second half with a three-point play and the Giants had cut the Tigers’ lead to 37-24. Fishers responded with a 7-0 run to put their lead at 20 points for the first time. Nevaeh Dickman scored four points of that run, with a Harris 3 in between.

“We talked before the game about the fact that Ben Davis is going to thrive off of those runs, and we have to make sure that we remain poised,” said Votaw. “If we turn it over, if they get a few buckets in a row, it’s okay, grab the ball, take a deep breath. And I thought we did a really good job of doing that.”

Dickman wound up as the leading scorer with 18 points. She scored in each of the four quarters and was solid from the free-throw line, making 8 of 9. Dickman was one of four Tigers that reached double-digit scoring: Harris had 15 points, Scheu scored 12 and Smith had 11.

Four seniors are on this year’s Fishers team: Harris, Smith, Kate Thomas and Morgan Roberts.

“They know what our schedule is like, they know what our competition is like,” said Votaw. “I think the best way that they lead is they aren’t as fazed by it. And so they’re able to stay calm in those situations.

Shamrocks prove tough in season opening shootout against Panthers

By RICHIE HALL

WESTFIELD – The Westfield girls basketball team put together a tremendous season-opening victory last Wednesday night.

The Shamrocks beat North Central 61-41 in a home game at CSI Gymnasium. Westfield got an outstanding shooting performance from senior Reagan Lorenzen, scoring field led 16-5. The ‘Rocks would stay comfortably ahead for the entire game.

Lorenzen totaled four 3s in the first quarter. She wasn’t done yet, though. The senior made one more triple in each of the next three periods, finishing with seven and a game-high 21 points.

“It was kind of like a high almost,” said Lorenzen. “It was nice to be able to get out there and shoot and my teammates hyping me up. It was a great way to start our first game of the season.”

Westfield led 26-19 at halftime, as the Panthers stayed within striking distance during the second quarter. But the Shamrocks pulled away for good in the third period. Aubrey Crockett opened the second half with a 3-pointer, then Lindsey Van Dyke made a layin, and a free throw to make it a 6-0 run.

The ‘Rocks later went on a 12-0 spurt that bridged the third and fourth quarters. Lorenzen hit triple No. 6, Price hit a layin and Kelleher’s basket finished the third period. Kelleher would turn that into a personal 7-0 run, as she opened the fourth quarter with a layin and a 3. Westfield now led 48-29 and rolled through the final period.

“We got really good looks,” said Steele. “We were able to work the ball inside against their zone, which helped us create some open looks offensively. Ultimately, I felt like we played together.

Westfield’s Ellie Kelleher scored 14 points for the Shamrocks during their season-opening win over North Central last Wednesday.

And I really felt like we were able to stay poised under some of their pressure.”

“I’m really proud of how we played,” said Lorenzen. “Our goal this season was toughness, so I’m just really proud of our team being able to come out tough.”

Kelleher added 14 points. Eight different Westfield players scored at least two points, with MaKayla Hatcher adding seven and Price scoring six.

“We know that they’re all capable of that,” said Steele. “We just want them to continue to be the best versions of them.”

The Shamrocks won at Pendleton Heights last Saturday by the score of 51-35. Van Dyke led Westfield with 16 points, followed by Kelleher with 10 and Crockett with nine.

The ‘Rocks are 1-1 and play this Saturday at Lawrence Central.

The REPORTER

The Noblesville girls basketball team opened their season last Saturday with a huge Hoosier Crossroads Conference victory at Avon.

The Millers won 68-38. Noblesville outscored the Orioles in all four quarters, leading 21-15 after one period and 35-22 at halftime. The Millers further outdistanced themselves from Avon with a 17-6 third quarter.

Five Noblesville players reached double figures, starting with Meredith Tip-pner’s 19 points. Ava Shoemaker added 14 points, Kate Rollins scored 12, C.C. Quigley contributed 11 and Reagan Wilson scored 10.

The Millers host Hamilton Heights Friday at The Mill.

Hamilton Heights started its season by winning the Jennings County Tip-Off championship last Saturday.

yard touchdown run from Gage Gulley, cutting it back to a 17-12 deficit.

“It’s the resiliency of this group. We always fight back. We were down in many games and we always fought back and that’s how this senior group will stay in my heart forever. It’s going to be very sad to replace these seniors. They’re a great group,” Sharpe stated about his seniors and their impact on the program.

Westfield would pooch punt off of the foot of quarterback Jackson Gilbert, but after Noblesville quarterback Jacob Baker threw an interception, the ‘Rocks were back in business and in control with the clock on their side.

Key plays would get Westfield in position to put the game out of reach. Maximus Nosler had an 11-yard run with 3:45 left. Parker Knott converted a big second and six at the Miller 11 for 10 yards down to the one.

The Millers stood tall on defense for a couple plays, forcing a field goal attempt from Boehm again. With Jackson Gilbert as the holder, Westfield pulled out a trick play. Gilbert took the snap and pitched the ball to his left and Boehm ran in the fake field goal for a two-yard touchdown for what turned out to be the final score of 24-12.

“It worked. I had just decided yesterday. It was great for our special teams, which we are generally pretty strong in that area and we were excellent tonight,” stated Gilbert on the Shamrocks’ special teams play.

“We did enough to beat a great team, but unfortunately we had a couple bad breaks,” continued Sharpe on his team’s play.

Noblesville ends its season at 4-7 and says goodbye to a great senior class that leaves its mark in many ways. The Millers won a sectional football game two seasons in a row for the first time since 2001.

They also were able to celebrate Logan Shoffner breaking Paul Height’s all-time rushing record, which stood since 1983 and kept adding to it all season long. Shoffner leaves his Miller career with 4,177 yards rushing on 540 attempts for an astounding 7.7 yards per carry, scoring 27 touchdowns. He also caught 41 passes for 562 yards.

“There might be some debate, but I think Logan Shoffner is the best Miller of all-time. He’s one of my favorite kids and definitely the best overall football player that I’ve coached,” Sharpe said, praising Shoffner.

“With his work ethic, his size, brain. For him to show a whole town what can be accomplished when you put your heart and soul into something, I hope it has a long-lasting effect on our community. The same with Gage Gulley,” Sharpe continued on both Shoffner and Gulley.

Gulley is another one of those hard-nosed, gritty players that did what it took for the good of the team.

“The same with Gage Gulley. What an absolute warrior, tremendous football player,” said a grateful Sharpe.

“Those two guys, they were our identity and it’s a special duo,” Sharpe stated on how special Shoffner and Gulley have been as back-field mates.

Shoffner led the Millers with 30 carries and 123 yards in his final game. Kendall Garnett had 141 yards on 23 attempts and two touchdowns to lead Westfield.

Westfield (10-1) advances on to the regional championship Friday and will host Hamilton Southeastern (9-2).

Huskies

on downs, but in response Chatard’s seventh-ranked defensive unit (8.75 ppg allowed) forced seven punts and four turnovers.

Hamilton Heights turned the ball over on fourth-and-1 during their first offensive series at Chatard’s 26. A forced fumble and sack by Chatard’s Matthew Woods on a first-and-10 at the Huskies’ 43 halted Hamilton Heights fifth drive.

Two second-half interceptions off of senior quarterback Bodie Derrer didn’t lead to Chatard points, but it kept the Huskies from generating any momentum until the final 7 minutes of the fourth quarter.

Hamilton Heights was averaging 32.2 points scored per game. Against Chatard, the Huskies’ running game netted negative yardage and Derrer was capped at 121 yards on 14 of 33 completions.

Derrer broke the Trojans’ shutout attempt in the fourth quarter with a chuck yardage completion for 37 yards to Cam Fleming on first down to open their scoring drive from Chatard’s 40.

Two plays later, Derrer rushed into the end zone for a 3-yard touchdown, and Eric Balcom converted a two-point run with 6:11 remaining.

Prior to the score, the Trojans tried to initiate a mercy-rule running clock, but they failed three consecutive possessions, including two turnovers on downs in Hamilton Heights’ red zone.

“Obviously, it didn’t turn out the way we wanted, but we fought to the bitter end. I am very proud of how we stayed fighting,” Kirschner said. “Some teams might have rolled over, and they won’t. That’s not who they are, and that showed.”

The Huskies were playing shorthanded with leading wide receiver junior Tyler Champion (645 yards, seven TDs), senior defensive back Eli Millsaps, junior defensive end Michael Cain and senior defensive lineman Kendall Flanders out.

The finale, however, does nothing to tarnish the strides taken by the Huskies, which were 8-3 last season, 6-4 in 2021 and posted no more than nine wins since 2014 until now.

“I could go down the list. Five consecutive games with shutouts, a school record. Tied the school record for most shutouts in a season. First time we’ve been in a sectional championship in nine years,” Kirschner said. “We hadn’t scored a special teams touchdown in six or seven years, and we scored five this year. It was this group.

“In a nutshell, I couldn’t be happier for what we’ve done. They put us on the map.”

he happily took a picture with those Royals.

“We have places that we enjoy going to, and there’s no doubt going to HSE or going to Fishers is always a treat every Friday night,” said Calhoun. “And whenever these two schools get together, we know it’s always going to be a great battle on the football field, but also among the student sections as well, because they support those student-athletes and these football teams better than most schools in the state of Indiana. That’s how special these student sections are and just the whole community. And you look around with 10,000 folks here during the regular season, and here they are in the post-season coming out to support their teams. There’s nothing like it here.”

“Harden is unbelievable.” The coach also said that Mangelson continues “to take steps in the right direction every single year to become an elite player. She’s an elite player.”

Southeastern finished the season 33-0, only dropping five sets during the entire season. The Royals have won 67 straight matches.

“Sometimes we let it sneak into our minds, but we have to keep it out because if we let it sneak in, then we will stress and we’ll just get out of control,” said Mangelson.

Sophie Ledbetter led the digs with 17 (going over 1,000 for her career) and also served two aces. Hinshaw collected 16 digs, while Maye McConnell and Harden both had 11.

While it was a triumphant moment for the Royals, Young also called it “bittersweet,” as it was the last time this very special group of seniors would play for Southeastern.

“I’m just proud of them and proud of what they’ve done for the program and how they’ve left it,” said Young. “It’s a group of young ladies that I’m proud to have around my daughter. They’re role models.”

“I wouldn’t want to be anywhere else,” said Harden. “A lot of people view it as, ‘Oh, all the players on our team aren’t getting like 1,000 kills or 1,000 assists,’ but it’s just because we just have so many great players on this team.”

SUCCESS

The duo posted consecutive kills in the third set, increasing HSE’s lead 23-19 before Harden put the game away. In the fourth, Goss buried four clutch kills during a Royals’ 8-3 run en route to a decisive 25-15 finale.

“It means so much. Last year, we won, and this year felt like we kind of had to because we won last year, and we only lost our one senior. It feels good to do it again,” Snook said.

Right at Home

HSE senior libero Sophie Ledbetter is committed to Ball State University, and she made it a milestone home court by surpassing 1,000 career digs during the championship match.

“That’s special to do it here at Worthen, and I’m thrilled to death,” HSE head coach Jason Young said.

Ledbetter finished with a team-best 17 digs, six assists and two aces.

“It was so special,” Ledbetter said after HSE became just the fourth team in 4A history to win state unbeaten. “I love this arena so much, and I love playing in it. I’m so excited for the next four years.”

There’s just one problem, though. She needs to trade in her Royals’ blue for Cardinal red.

“Yeah, I know. That’s the only thing,” Ledbetter joked. “Fishers is our rival. Red is our rival color, but it’ll be fine. I like Cardinals.”

Pete Schwartz

Republican for Noblesville City Council, At Large

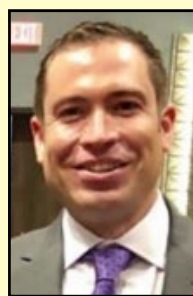

As a lifelong resident of Noblesville, it gives me great pleasure to serve the citizens of Noblesville on the Common Council. Due to district realignment, I have decided to run for the at-large position.

The last few years serving on council has taught me that Noblesville residents are just as passionate as I am.

When I ran my first campaign, I pledged to address traffic issues, support public safety, and be transparent to the public by being accessible to constituents. I couldn't be more enthusiastic about keeping my promises to Noblesville residents, seeing through the Pleasant Street project, and other strategic infrastructure investments.

Currently, I am the liaison for the parks board. I am also on the public safety committee. I was recently chosen to be on the Noblesville Arts Council.

My wife Amber and two children Conner and Emmalee couldn't be happier to call Noblesville home and look forward to an exciting future.

Victor McCarty

Republican for Westfield City Council, District 2

I’m just a kid from the trailer park that wants to serve the community I love. As a lifelong Shamrock, my love for Westfield started when I was mascot at WHS. At that time, I had lost 100 pounds and didn’t know where I was going. By being mascot, I was out in the community interacting with businesses and our residents. It gave me a sense of purpose. Simultaneously, Westfield became a city. Since then, I have had a deep passion for our community and every step I have taken has been to ensure that I am prepared to be a positive leader for Westfield. Through my experiences, I have learned that if we RISE together anything is possible. By building positive Relationships, investing in our aging Infrastructure, supporting our public Safety teams, and providing Engagement opportunities, we can create a welcoming community for all to live, work, and visit.

I earned my MBA from Indiana Wesleyan, and most recently completed the Indiana GOP Diversity Leadership Series, the Richard G. Lugar Excellence in Public Service Series, and am currently enrolled in the Indiana Leadership Forum. Also, I recently completed the Fishers Government Academy and the Fishers Citizens Fire Academy.

My daughter and I moved to Fishers 15 years ago. Currently, she is a graduating senior at IU Bloomington and accepted into the Doctorate of Chiropractics program at Logan University.

Jocelyn Vare

Democrat for Fishers City Council, At Large

Jocelyn Vare is an at-large member of Fishers City Council and is the first Democrat ever elected to Fishers municipal office. Citizens know that a long-standing supermajority (of any party) is unhealthy. Balanced government serves citizens best. Councilor Vare delivers balance, accountability, fiscal responsibility, checks and balances and government transparency in Fishers.

In 2022, Councilor Vare ran for Indiana State Senate and earned 16,000 votes from Fishers residents. She is a 22-year resident of Fishers, the mom of two HSE Schools graduates, a local small business owner, a volunteer and a champion for the community she loves. Councilor Vare is a member of the Fishers Finance Committee and Fishers Arts + Culture Commission. She served as a committee chair for the successful HSE Schools referendum in 2016. She is a graduate of Fishers City Government Academy, Hamilton County Leadership Academy, Ball State’s Economic Development Course and Community Development Course. In 2021, Councilor Vare was recognized as an Impact Award nominee, one of 30 alumni designated in the Hamilton County Leadership Academy’s 30-year history. “I am eager to continue to serve the Fishers community on the City Council and fight to provide the good local government that all taxpayers deserve.”

My wife Amy and I moved to Fishers in 1993 where we have raised our three children, Joshua, Jillian, and Jack.
