Did you know that the Hamilton County Artists' Association (HCAA) has a youth membership program that is open to all high school art students in Hamilton County? They meet on the third Wednesday of each month. This is a valuable opportunity for students to meet juried artists and learn new techniques and avenues to enhance their knowledge of art, from drawing to painting, and from realism to abstract to Impressionism. They even learned about spinning yarn from fresh cut and cleaned wool. Next month they will get a lesson in clay sculpting. HCAA encourages its youth members to pursue art in all its variations and the camaraderie of getting to know other high school artists in Hamilton County. These costs do not include family needs such as lodging, food and transportation during the transplant stay. Additionally, post-transplant medications and medical care costs often add up to more than $10,000 annually. Very few transplant families have the resources to meet these tremendous financial demands. When faced with the burden of a child's potentially fatal diagnosis, most families need help."

Help is exactly what COTA provides. Based in Bloomington, Ind., COTA is a non-profit organization that focuses on providing financial assistance and support to families with children in need of live-saving transplants. COTA helps these families by organizing fundraising campaigns, community events, and mobilizing volunteers to cover transplant-related expenses such as medical bills, travel costs and post-transplant care.

The organization aims to alleviate the financial burden on families facing the challenges of pediatric organ transplants, fostering hope and support throughout the transplant journey for both the children and their loved ones.

"For over 40 years, raising more than $160 million, The Children's Organ Transplant Association has been assisting transplant families across the country, remove the financial burdens to life-saving transplants," Gallagher said. "Currently, we are serving 48 children throughout central Indiana. We've been able to serve every child that has come to us, we just haven't been able to get in front of every child that needs us. Which is how the Cicero Kiwanis Club and other organizations like yours can help, by spreading the word about COTA and our services."

Brimberry added, "We would like to thank Melissa Martin, President of the Hamilton Heights Education Foundation, and Dr. Derrick Arrowwood, Superintendent of Hamilton Heights School Corporation, for their help and support in forming our foundation."

The group is planning a major fundraiser for Aug. 3: a Jeep Event. The day will include a Jeep parade down Sheridan Main Street, ending at the Sheridan Airport with a band and many activities.

"The airport is planning a fly-in on that day also, which will create great excitement," Brimberry said.

Donors recognized at the reception included business donors KV Elliott Post 67 American Legion and Legacy Images. Individual donors honored were Sharon Brimberry, Robert Burnell, Kenneth Burnell, Jane Newblom, Barbara Glunt, Kim Zachery, Brian Zachery, Randy Brimberry, Bob Boone, Nancy Boone, Judy Langdon, Roy Langdon, Dave Glunt, George Kristo, Tony & Renea Scott, Marie Mosbaugh, Arynn Boone DeLuca, and Phyllis Kounsere.

When asked about how Sheridan supporters can get involved, Brimberry urged them to attend fundraising events and to help spread the word about the foundation and its purpose.

"We are so fortunate to have this dedicated group of supporters," Sheridan Superintendent Dr. Dave Mundy said. "Sheridan is a tremendous place with great people who always step up for their teachers. No community supports its school more than Sheridan. I'm excited to see continued growth and I appreciate all the Foundation is doing."

an antibody injection for infants. There is heightened awareness that RSV is not only a potentially serious pediatric illness but also a major threat to older adults and especially for those with chronic underlying conditions. Over 14,000 seniors die each year from RSV. The current recommendation is for a single vaccination; additional immunization in subsequent years is under study.

The immunization rates (as of Jan. 12, 2024) for these three infections are poor and lagging behind historical levels. For flu, it's 46.8 percent among adults and 74.1 percent for 65 and older. For the new COVID booster, it's 21.4 percent for adults and 41.5 percent for 65 and older; for RSV it's 20.1 percent for 60 and older. Regrettable. These diseases account for tens of thousands of hospitalizations and deaths yearly – the prevention of which is the greatest value of these vaccines.

We are in the winter season when the risk of these respiratory illnesses is greatest. The illness and hospitalization rates for these diseases are currently surging. But most Americans are looking at the COVID pandemic in the rear-view mirror and letting down their guard. Many are vaccine fatigued with some brushing all vaccines aside.

Seniors being vaccinated for flu, COVID, and RSV is essential. And they should also remember the CDC-recommended one-time pneumonia shot at age 65. Lifesaving measures.

Hamilton County graduates 20 from Ivy Tech Leadership Course

The REPORTER

The Hamilton County Human Resource Department announces the successful graduation of 20 employees from the Ivy Tech Leadership Series, marking a significant milestone in the county's ongoing commitment to workforce development.

The semester-long program was designed to equip county employees with essential leadership skills and knowledge in topics ranging from behavior and communication styles to poor performance and conflict resolution. Held during work hours, the training series provided employees with free on-campus coursework and three hours of college credit.

Reflecting on the experience, Sam Sachs, a class graduate and Airport Director at the Indianapolis Executive Airport, said, "The Ivy Tech Leadership Class has been transformative for me. The lessons learned will stick with me for the rest of my career. I am grateful for the opportunity to have been part of this program."

In addition to the leadership and skills training, Ivy Tech will continue to provide Hamilton County employees with career coaching and mentoring, contributing to the overall professional development of its workforce.

"Fortunately, we don't have a lot of turnover at the county," said Sheena Randall, Director of Human Resources. "But that also means we have an aging workforce. We need to start planning for succession, to upskill our younger employees, and to build a pipeline for future leaders so they're ready to fill those gaps when they open."

Fishers Arts Council welcomes four new board members

The REPORTER

Fishers Arts Council (FAC) announces the addition of four new board members for 2024. They are Susan Dickey, Tom Rich, Latrica Schooley, and Amanda Wilhite.

SUSAN DICKEY moved to the west side of Indianapolis in 1983 and in June 2003 she relocated to Fishers. She worked for VisitIndy for 30 years, partnering with meeting planners bringing conventions to Indianapolis. An avid flower gardener, she enjoys giving away surplus blooms.

Always on the lookout for new restaurants, retail, and attractions to share with others, Dickey has a grasp on what is where in the area. Going to First Fridays, Second Saturdays, and other arts events plus annual local art fairs is a favorite pastime. “Meeting artists and seeing their studios is the best part of making purchases.”

TOM RICH hails from Western Pennsylvania, but spent 30 years in suburban D.C. He has lived in Fishers for the past 29 years and is a former board member of FAC where he served for six years in various roles such as Treasurer, Vice President, and President. His goals are to work with the city of Fishers, local businesses, and various artist organizations to expand opportunities for artists to exhibit and sell their art; to expand the opportunities for residents and visitors of Fishers to enjoy the visual arts; and to promote additional opportunities for the performing arts in Fishers.

Rich is also a member of Fishers Police Academy Alumni Association. He earned a B.S. in Education from Indiana University of Pennsylvania and an M.A. in Curriculum & Instruction from the University of St. Thomas in Minnesota. He lives in Fishers with his wife, Connie. Free time is spent with grandchildren, Nash and Cooper, and traveling.

LATRICA SCHOOLEY has been an entrepreneur and community volunteer for 29 years. She has been a lover of the arts since sixth grade when she started her journey at Emerson Performing Arts School of which she is proud to be a graduate as a music major. It afforded her opportunities to attend college with the assistance of a music scholarship coupled with an academic scholarship as a first-generation college student.

Schooley’s focus in volunteering has been with youth groups at Grace Church and she has a deep passion for speaking up for children who cannot speak up for themselves whether they are differently abled, and/or in foster care. She is a mom, wife, and grandmother. She enjoys visual and performing arts and looks forward to assisting the Fishers Arts Council bringing Arts forward to community members and meeting more residents in Fishers.

AMANDA WILHITE is a Corporate/M&A attorney and has lived in Fishers for two years. She holds a JD from Howard University School of Law and a BA from Alabama State University. She considers herself an avid admirer of art and enjoys helping stage the gallery. She looks forward to serving the community and its artists as a FAC board member.

The addition of these new board members puts FAC in a strong position to continue its work supporting and promoting visual and performing arts in Fishers.

Executive Officers were also elected at the January annual meeting: Ross Hilleary as President, Chris Hayes as Vice President, Douglas Dusseau as Treasurer, and Olivia Harris as Secretary. Returning board members are Greg Dierfeldt, Pat Grabill, Tyna Green Seall, Olivia Holt, Philip Paluso, and Laura Villanyi. Les Reinhardt will continue to serve as Executive Director for 2024.

Westfield's own Madelyn Macallister graduates from Indiana Connections Career Academy

The REPORTER

More than 40 students recently graduated from Indiana Connections Career Academy, a tuition-free full-time public virtual school, as part of the Class of 2024, including Madelyn Macallister from Westfield.

Indiana Connections Career Academy provides students with a safe, engaging environment that offers STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Art, and Math) and career-focused courses for specific skill development and career exposure.

In its seventh year of operation, Indiana Connections Career Academy students utilize the same long-standing and developed online curriculum and technology as its companion school, Indiana Connections Academy. The difference between the two high school programs is that Indiana Connections Career Academy students pursue graduation requirements to earn a high school diploma while also completing a career-focused program that prepares them for joining the workforce in one of Indiana's high-growth fields. By engaging in Career Education Live Lessons, completing career-facing activities, and demonstrating employability skills, students earn badges, gain elective credit, and are better prepared for life after high school.

Enrollment for Indiana Connections Career Academy's 2024-2025 school year is now underway for students in grades 6 to 12. Interested families are encouraged to attend one of the upcoming online information sessions to find out if virtual school is the right fit for their students.

Carmel seeks applications for 2024 City Arts Grants

The REPORTER

The City of Carmel is now seeking applications for 2024 City Arts Grants, a program designed to support local arts organizations whose work keeps the city vibrant and appealing to residents and visitors alike.

Since 2004, more than $17.3 million in arts grants have been awarded.

"There is no doubt that the culture of arts in our city has been a major benefit to our residents, visitors and small business owners,"

Mayor Sue Finkam said. "Carmel is known nationally for our Arts & Design District and our Center for the Performing Arts. By investing in our arts organizations, we encourage economic activity that supports small business and enhances quality of life."

Carmel's nonprofit arts and culture industry generated $42.7 million in economic activity in 2022, according to the Arts & Economic Prosperity 6, an economic and social impact study conducted by Americans for the Arts. That economic activity – $17 million in spending by nonprofit arts and culture organizations and $25.7 million in event-related spending by their audiences – supported 981 jobs and generated $10 million in local, state and federal government revenue.

Local arts groups are encouraged to apply. The deadline for the initial round of applications is 5 p.m. on Friday, Jan. 26. Click here to apply.

Carmel reader calls on Hoosiers to oppose state legislators' plan to legalize bobcat hunting

Dear Editor:

Bobcats, Indiana's last remaining native wildcat, are finally making a comeback. The shy, elusive critters are rarely seen as they go about their work of hunting rabbits, mice, and other rodents. Bobcats perform an essential (and free!) service to our backyards, farms, and ecosystems, and they are a delight to observe if you're lucky enough to spot one.

Given the benefits of letting bobcats return and thrive in our state, it's difficult to understand why there's a bill currently before the state legislature that would open a trophy hunting and trapping season on Indiana's bobcats. The bill, S.B. 241, would charge residents just $15 for a license to "take" a bobcat. Bobcats are not hunted for food; they are killed solely for trophies, for fun, or to sell their skins to the global fur trade. The steel leghold traps used on bobcats leave them in pain and suffering in the elements for hours.

Our treasured bobcats don't deserve to be cruelly, needlessly killed. Hoosiers came together in 2018 to resoundingly defeat a proposed bobcat trophy season. It's time to speak up for bobcats again and oppose S.B. 241.

Sheridan reader offers context for "waters of the United States" SCOTUS case

Dear Editor:

I read with interest the letter written by Alex Libby (Dec. 8, 2023) discussing the Supreme Court Case Sackett v. EPA.

The Sacketts are a couple who purchased land in Priest Lake, Idaho, to build a home. This case took 16 years in supporting the Sackett's claim against the EPA.

The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) became involved and told the Sacketts they had to stop their construction of their home immediately or be fined thousands of dollars per day if they continued their construction of their home.

The Sacketts had obtained all the permits in 2004 to build their home which was in a subdivision. Take note: "in a subdivision," which had to be approved by the local authorities. Were other homes already built in this subdivision or in the process? Why were the Sacketts singled out?

It may be that their lot was in the area of "the waters of the United States." The Sacketts had to level out the dirt by backfilling on their lot in preparation of building their home. The EPA declared this backfilling was against the Clean Water Act alleging the property was a protected wetland under federal authority.

The issue here is the definition of navigable waters. In this case their property drained into a ditch which drained into a creek which drained into Priest Lake, a navigable, intrastate lake. The Sacketts sued, alleging that their property was not "waters of the United States."

The problem with the act initiated by Congress in 1972 has caused confusion about adjacent wetlands and adjoining wetlands near covered navigable waters. Adjacent means side by side and adjoining indicates connecting.

In the case of Rapanos v. United States, "To assert jurisdiction over an adjacent wetland under the CWA, a party must establish "first, that the adjacent [body of water constitutes] ... 'water[s] of the United States' (i.e., a relatively permanent body of water connected to traditional interstate navigable waters); and second, that the wetland has a continuous surface connection with that water, making it difficult to determine where the 'water' ends and the 'wetland' begins."

Justice Alito delivered the opinion of the Court. He asked these questions about "waters of the United States." "The Act applies to "the waters of the United States," but what does that phrase mean? Does the term encompass any backyard that is soggy enough for some minimum period of time? Does it reach "mudflats, sandflats, wetlands, sloughs, prairie potholes, [and] wet meadows? How about ditches, swimming pools, and puddles?"

In the Sacketts' case, how much water will be coming from their property with a continuous flow from the pipe to the ditch to the creek continuing on to Priest Lake? Will their ditch be a seasonal puddle?

This Supreme Court case was very important to property owner rights and using common sense about ambiguous laws concerning government overreach. As stated in the facts of this case, the EPA provided the Sacketts "no proof of any violation and no opportunity to contest its claims."

Libby claimed, "With the snap of its fingers, land can be lost, water can be polluted, and humans can suffer." The Sacketts suffered for 16 years of court cases and most likely financial stress.

Goodrich's bill to expand work-based learning advances

The REPORTER

The Indiana House of Representatives advanced on Tuesday State Rep. Chuck Goodrich's (R-Noblesville) bill to expand work-based learning access in Indiana.

If passed, House Bill 1001 would expand the Frank O'Bannon Grant and the 21st Century Scholarship beyond traditional college coursework to include job training. Goodrich said this bill would provide opportunities for Hoosiers who may not be interested in pursuing a two- or four-year degree, to use these funds to skill up and obtain high-demand job.

"We know that college isn't for everyone and that there are numerous opportunities like apprenticeships and other work-based learning experiences that can open up new pathways for students to learn the skills they need," said Goodrich, a member of the House Education Committee. "Expanding what our students can do with these scholarships will help ensure more Hoosiers are better prepared for jobs today and into the future."

Goodrich

Goodrich said this bill builds on a law he authored during the 2023 legislative session, creating Career Scholarship Accounts for Hoosier students to pay for career training, apprenticeships, certifications, and internships. These accounts can be used by sophomores, juniors, and seniors to enroll in earn-and-learn opportunities, as well as to pay for items like transportation and uniforms to remove barriers to accessing these experiences.

HB 1001 now heads to the Indiana Senate for further consideration. For more information, or to watch session and committees live, visit iga.in.gov.

AG Rokita warns fellow Hoosier families of recent cyber kidnapping schemes

The REPORTER

After recent, heartbreaking cyber kidnapping stories have surfaced in the U.S., Indiana Attorney General Todd Rokita pushes Hoosier families to beware of false ransom threats.

"This type of attack largely targets our students as they travel overseas," AG Rokita said. "These malicious scammers are willing to dupe and terrify families as they create a false kidnapping heist – all to convince them to hand over their hard-earned money."

Cyber kidnapping occurs when victims are tricked into paying a ransom fee to free a loved one who they believe has been threatened with violence or death. In reality, cyber kidnappers have not actually kidnapped anyone, but they have instead obtained a photo of the alleged person alone in a secluded area.

The worrisome photos are used to create the illusion that an individual has been kidnapped and needs immediate aid. After the family members or friends receive this information, they are asked to wire ransom money immediately.

According to the FBI, these cases are extremely difficult to investigate since the calls typically come from outside of the country.

This crime often occurs when family members are unable to track the location of the person, contact them, or verify their safety.

"Do not hesitate to contact our office if you suspect or witness this type of crime," AG Rokita said. "Our Consumer Protection Division is dedicated to helping Hoosiers when they're faced with these devastating situations. When your loved one is being threatened, it is your natural instinct to jump to their aid, but we also need to be informed of the newest scams."

The AG's Office suggests the following:

- Beware of incoming calls coming from an outside area code, sometimes from Puerto Rico with area codes 787, 939, and 856.

- Beware of calls that do not come from the alleged kidnapped victim's phone.

- Beware of callers who go to great lengths to keep you on the phone.

- Beware of callers who prevent you from calling or locating the "kidnapped" victim.

- Beware of ransom money that is only accepted via wire transfer service.

If you receive a phone call from someone who demands payment of a ransom for a kidnapped victim, the following should be considered:

- Try to slow the situation down. Request to speak to the victim directly. Ask, "How do I know my loved one is okay?"

- If the callers don't let you speak to the victim, ask them to describe the victim or describe the vehicle the victim drives, if applicable.

- Listen carefully to the voice of the kidnapped victim if he/she speaks.

- Attempt to call, text, or contact the alleged victim via social media. Request that the victim call back from his or her cell phone.

- While staying on the line with the alleged kidnappers, try to call the alleged kidnap victim from another phone.

- To buy time, repeat the caller's request and tell them you are writing down the demand, or tell the caller you need additional time to meet their demands.

- Don't directly challenge or argue with the caller. Keep your voice low and steady.

- Request the alleged kidnapper allow the victim to call you back from his/her cell phone.

- At the earliest opportunity, notify your local police department.

Range Line Road Corridor in Carmel receives ACEC Indiana Engineering Excellence Awards

American Structurepoint and the City of Carmel have earned an Honor Award from the American Council of Engineering Companies of Indiana in the 2024 Engineering Excellence Awards for the Range Line Road Corridor.

American Structurepoint provided multiple engineering services to the City of Carmel to transform a 1.5-mile stretch of Range Line Road into a pedestrian-friendly, tree-lined, multimodal corridor with parallel multi-use paths and six new roundabouts that replaced existing traffic signals.

A landscaped median replaced a two-way, left-turn lane, improving traffic flow and safety by eliminating mid-block left turns. Raised crosswalks, accented by decorative brick pavers, were incorporated at intersections and at several mid-block locations to increase pedestrian safety and visibility. A cycle track, buffered by heavy-duty planters to protect bike traffic, was integrated into the project and replaced one vehicular travel lane.

The six roundabouts were designed to accommodate the future placement of corridor-defining public art features in the central islands of these circular intersections. The design team included public gathering spaces along the corridor to create an engaging, vibrant environment.

This included an extensive public outreach campaign, conceptual design and renderings, traffic studies and high-level regional traffic management analysis. American Structurepoint also provided design engineering services for roundabouts at three intersections – 116th Street, Medical Drive and Executive Drive – and for the connection pieces between all six roundabouts. The firm also provided landscape architecture design of the streetscape for the entire corridor and construction are meeting our goals to be a more bike and pedestrian-friendly community,” Carmel City Engineer Jeremy Kashman said. “This project also is an example of the City of Carmel leading the nation in our Safe System initiatives. Planning began years before the Federal Highway Administration championed similar efforts for all cities to follow.”

The Safe System approach aims to eliminate fatal and serious injuries for road users by designing roads that reduce serious crashes, manage speed better, and manage crash angles. Statistics show that roundabout intersections result in a 90 percent reduction in fatalities, a 76 percent reduction in all injuries, and a 35 percent reduction in pedestrian crashes.

“American Structurepoint is grateful for this recognition,” American Structurepoint Vice President Mike McBride said. “However, we are more grateful for the opportunity to help the City of Carmel achieve its goal of transforming Range Line Road into a safe, sustainable and vibrant destination for travelers.”

Phillip Ragan West
May 22, 1946 – January 18, 2024

Phillip Ragan West, 77, Lebanon, Ind., and formerly of rural Kirklin, Ind., passed away on Thursday evening, January 18, 2024, at Signature Healthcare at Parkwood in Lebanon. Born on May 22, 1946, in Lebanon, he was the son of the late Thomas Ragan and Julia Ellen (Marlow) West.

He was a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of both Kempton and Ekin.

He was a 1964 graduate of Sheridan High School and continued his education at Indiana State University. Two years into his studies, Phil enlisted in the U.S. Naval Reserves. He quickly found himself aboard the USS Higbee and honorably served his country as a radar man during the Vietnam War. After his time in the service was complete, Phil returned home with many stories to tell. He also returned with a newfound desire to seek out parts unknown. He enjoyed traveling to various states and never passed up a chance to hit the open road on his motorcycle (or do some drag racing outside of town).

Phil spent most of his working life in telecommunications. He was employed at Indiana Bell as a lineman and worked on nearly everything in the company's arsenal during his 30-year career. He enjoyed the people he met along the way and thoroughly enjoyed what he did (even if it meant shimmying through some very tight attics and crawlspaces). The company Phil worked for may have changed from Indiana Bell to AT&T, and finally Lucent Technology, but the attention to detail and the pride he took in his work never did. After leaving the phone company, Phil worked for CNH in Lebanon before finally retiring in 2019.

On September 10, 1972, Phil's life would change forever. He married the love of his life, Juanita Lynn Kirby, and together they embarked on a lifelong adventure of laughter and memories. A devoted father and husband, Phil never let his work take away from his time with his family. He and Juanita spent countless hours working on their home, which sometimes put his handy man skills to the test. There was also equal time devoted to the property as well. From working the garden to mowing on his and her lawnmowers, the hours spent taking care of the homestead was quality family time well spent. There wasn't too much that Phil couldn't fix or build, and somehow there always seemed to be extra hours in the day and days in the week to get everything done. However, no matter how busy things got, there was always time to sit and enjoy the wonder of watching a good storm roll in.

As the kids grew older and became more involved in sports and activities, Phil made his attendance a priority. Phil's AT&T van was usually in the parking lot at most of the kids' events, creating even more memories for the family to look back on.

Sports and politics were favorite topics for Phil. He would print out a monthly calendar, listing all the games, times, and channels, so he wouldn't miss a thing. Playing football, basketball (his favorite), and running track at Sheridan H.S. instantly made him a lifetime Blackhawk fan, but he was equally dedicated to IU basketball and the Colts. If IU wasn't playing, Phil would suck it up and turn on the Purdue game, just to get his basketball fix. And just like any self-respecting Hoosier, he loved the Indianapolis 500. Many a race day were spent in the backyard listening to the radio broadcast and cheering on his favorite driver, A.J. Foyt.

Family was everything to Phil. He was blessed to have gained even more family to cherish during his years at Parkwood. He enjoyed working large difficult puzzles, and his room became the hangout for those who were in the know. He loved visiting with everybody and was a wonderful support system for those who didn't have anyone in their corner. Phil's room ultimately became a part of the facility tour, and with that came ample opportunity to brag on his grandkids to visitors, residents, and staff alike. His years at Parkwood also helped him reconnect with his older brother, Harold. There was always a fun time to be had when those two would hop on the golf cart and drive around Lebanon.

On behalf of Phillip West, his family would like to extend a heartfelt thank you to each and every person that touched his life while living at Parkwood. You provided him a great retirement and a wonderful environment for him to live and his family to visit. God Bless.

Phil is survived by his son, Brant Ragan West (Paige) of Lebanon; two daughters, Michelle Lynn Ramsey (Brett) of Reynolds and Mindi Lee Cheek (Travis) of rural Frankfort; 14 grandchildren, Braedon Ramsey (Levi), Broderick Ramsey (Nancy), Arianna Ramsey, Kyleigh Bolinger, Hayley Bolinger, Brayden Bolinger, Trace Cheek, Raigan Cheek, Kynlee Cheek, Trenton Cheek, Lauren West, Rachel West, Sarah West, and Hannah West; great-grandchild, Crew Ramsey; sister, Arilla June Holt of Florida; and several nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Thomas Ragan and Julia Ellen (Marlow) West; granddaughter, Morgan West; infant sister, Beth Ann West; brother, Harold Thomas West; sister and brother-in-law, Louise Price and husband Vernon; mother-in-law, Betty Egler; brothers-in-law, Ronald Kirby and Gerald "Butch" Kirby; and by his loving wife, Juanita Lynn (Kirby) West on June 4, 2019. She and Phil were married on September 10, 1972.

Services with military honors will be held at 7 p.m. on Thursday, January 25, 2024, at Kercheval Funeral Home, 306 E. 10th St., Sheridan, with visitation from 4 p.m. until the time of service. Pastor Robert Trafford will be officiating.

Phil will be laid to rest at Crown View Cemetery in Sheridan.

Condolences: kerchevalfuneralhome.com

She reoriented her life after her first child, John, was born, becoming an advocate for people with developmental disabilities and their families. She earned a master's in special education from Indiana University and founded the Parent Information Resource Center (PIRC) in 1975, expanding it into a national network, Parentele. Pat and Leonard also won a federal civil rights suit against the segregation of developmentally disabled students at IPS.

In 1980, Pat realized a long-held dream, opening a used book business, Abstract Books, in her home. She was one of the early book dealers online and the business is still in operation.

Her love of architecture, seen in her work at each family home, helped shape the new church at St. Ann's in Indianapolis where the family became parishioners in 1989.

She was devoted to her family and is survived by her children Lisa Barks, Susannah Koerber, and Kin (Ravi) Koerber; grandchildren Caron (Tim) Phillips, Lauren (Trevor) Green, Edward Barks, Sameer and Arnav Kuber; and great-grandchildren Max, Archer, James, and Amelia.

She was preceded in death by Leonard, her son John, her sister Wanda Lee Chatel, and her brother Kenneth Kinsey "Bud" Pickett.

Visitation will be held from 5 to 7 p.m. on Friday, January 26, 2024, at Flanner Buchanan Decatur Township, 5463 Kentucky Ave., Indianapolis, with the Mass of Christian Burial on Saturday, January 27, 2024, at St. Ann Catholic Church, 6350 S. Mooresville Road, Indianapolis. She will be interred at Crownland Cemetery in Noblesville following her mass.

In lieu of flowers, please consider a gift to St. Ann's Building Fund, Brebeuf Jesuit Preparatory School, or Outside the Box.

Golden Eagles roll past tough Liberty Christian

By RICHIE HALL
sports@readthereporter.com

NOBLESVILLE – The score of the Guerin Catholic boys basketball team’s Tuesday victory over Liberty Christian on Tuesday night doesn’t tell the whole story.

Golden Eagles coach Bobby Allen would be the first one to tell you that. Class 3A No. 3 Guerin Catholic had to battle with a Lions team that’s receiving votes in the 1A poll. Liberty Christian had leads on GC in the first half before the Golden Eagles took over in the second half, sailing to a 78-61 victory at the Eagles Nest.

“They’re a young team with nothing to fear,” said Allen. “They have incredible energy. Their coach does a great job with them. They’re a dangerous team and they showed it tonight.”

The first half was almost all scoring runs from both teams. Guerin scored the first seven points of the game, with five of them coming from Robert Sorensen. The Lions responded with an 8-0 spurt, including five from T.J. English, one of three promising freshmen on the LC team.

The Golden Eagles blasted back, outscoring the Lions 17-4 in a run that carried into the second quarter and was led by Guerin Catholic’s big men. Dylan Murans made a couple dunks, while Bryson Cardinal was good on a pair of three-point plays. Ben Grissom finished the run with a triple early in the second period, and the Golden Eagles led 24-12.

Liberty Christian responded with a 14-0 run, facilitated by five different players. English and Kendrick Martin, another freshman, both had four points. Murans stopped the spurt with a layin, then Sorensen took over, adding seven points in the final 2:45 to give Guerin Catholic a 33-30 halftime lead.

The Golden Eagles began to pull away in the third quarter, outscoring the Lions 20-13. Jack Cherry helped out with five points, including a 3. This was Cherry’s fourth game back after missing the first part of the season with an injury, and he is coming back strong.

“It feels good to be back,” said Cherry. While the senior said it was tough to be on the bench, he took a positive attitude, saying he was able to see what his teammates – “you get to see what they can do and it gives other people opportunities to play.”

Cherry showed everyone what he could do. He had a perfect shooting night that translated into 12 points: Cherry made both his two-point attempts, both his 3-point attempts, and both of his free-throw attempts.

“Robert Sorensen does a really good job scoring the ball, and the teams take him away,” said Cherry. “Then you just got to step up.”

Guerin Catholic led 53-43 after three quarters, then poured in another 25 in the fourth. An 8-0 run gave GC its biggest lead of the game at 69-49; Cherry hit a 3 and two free throws, then Murans nailed a 3. Cardinal had nine points in the quarter, including his third and-1 of the game with 3:12 left.

“We also had 15 turnovers in the first half, which is too many,” said Allen. “We came out in the second half, we only had three. So, when we take care of the ball and when we get the ball in sight first, then we find success.”

Sorensen scored 23 points, while Cardinal earned another double-double, 19 points and 10 rebounds. Murans totaled 16 points and Cherry had 12.

The Golden Eagles rebounded Liberty Christian 38-19. Sorensen collected seven rebounds and Andy Caron had five. Guerin Catholic had 21 team assists, with Cherry dishing

No. 5 Royals outlast Pike in regular-season finale

The REPORTER

Hamilton Southeastern hosted the Pike Red Devils on Tuesday night for their regular season finale. The Royals would be tested throughout, but they were able to outlast the visiting Red Devils, 76-71. HSE was clinging to a 20-18 lead after one quarter. The Class 4A fifth-ranked Royals found a little bit of breathing room in the second, scoring 22 and holding Pike to 15 for a 42-33 halftime score. That second quarter momentum carried over into the third with Southeastern posting 22 again to take a 64-47 lead into the fourth. Pike wasn't going to go away quietly. The Red Devils gave the Royals all they could handle in an attempt to upset HSE. But, despite outscoring Hamilton Southeastern 24-12 in the quarter, HSE would hold on for the 76-71 win to close out the regular season. Pike (9-13) will host Class 4A Sectional 11.
