Sheridan Schools & ICPYAS partner to promote online safety

Submitted by Sheridan Schools

The online world can be very scary, and Sheridan Community Schools (SCS) wants to help parents keep their children safe.

SCS is partnering with the Indiana State Police to offer "Keeping Our Students Safe in an Online World" for parents at 6 p.m. on Wednesday, April 17. The event will take place at the Sheridan Elementary cafeteria and include dinner and childcare. The speaker will be Megan Banet from the Indiana Center for Prevention of Youth Abuse & Suicide (ICPYAS).

The presentation will include information for parents of children of all ages. Banet explained that she will share information about how parents can educate themselves on the apps their kids use, as well as the importance of supervising kids online, using safety/parental settings, and how to have ongoing conversations with their kids about on-line safety.

"We share some statistics and real-case examples, but we don't focus on specific apps and platforms since that information tends to become dated quickly," Banet said.

Superintendent Dr. Dave Mundy expressed his support for the program.

Running the Boston Marathon, part 2

As we started to find our rhythm and settle into the 26.2-mile journey to the finish, I made sure I had my things in order for a smooth ride. The weather was great for my husband. It was about 50 degrees and overcast, with light rain here and there. Honestly, not too bad for me either. We've trained in much worse.

AMY SHINNEMAN

Going through the different towns, it was neat to see all the people who came out to cheer the runners on. Their cheers were so loud at times that it was overwhelming, especially when we went through the Wellesley College scream tunnel. Jamie had tried to explain this to me, but seeing and HEARING it in person was incredible. The students were lined up for a long way and were screaming and cheering as loud as they could. It was incredible and a great boost along the course. We both agreed that was a race highlight.

Duke Energy requests rate increase

Voluntary 'time-of-use' rates proposed to help manage customer bills

Submitted by Duke Energy

A modernized electric grid more resistant to power outages, hundreds of miles of new power lines, environmental responsibilities, increased electric grid security and new systems for customer convenience are some of the key parts of Duke Energy's Indiana rate request submitted to state utility regulators.

Pinegar

"Since our last base rate increase in 2020, we've invested $1.6 billion in our electric grid, power plants and overall system on behalf of our customers, including advanced technology that has helped prevent more than 185,000 power outages," Duke Energy Indiana President Stan Pinegar said. "We know that utility costs can be a major part of a household and business's budget and that customers expect us to do our part to keep bills as low as possible. We have kept our day-to-day operating costs flat since 2020 while we make long-term investments to serve customers. We also are proposing voluntary, 'time-of-use' rates to help manage customer bills. Fortunately, fuel costs for our electricity production have declined, and residential customer bills are about 25 percent lower than they were in late 2022."

Reporter asks for clarity

The REPORTER

After receiving a press release from Duke Energy about their April 4 request to the state for a 16 percent rate increase over the next two years, The Reporter reached out to Duke Energy Senior Communications Manager McKenzie Barbknecht for some clarity on how the "voluntary time-of-use rates" will work.

"When energy demand is low, meaning fewer people are using electricity, your rate would be lower," Barbknecht said. "Alternatively, when electricity is in high demand and the grid is working hard, then prices are higher.

By shifting your energy use to times of less demand, you could save on your bill."

On-peak hours are defined by Duke as 6 to 8 a.m. and 5 to 9 p.m. in winter months and as 5 to 9 p.m. in summer months. During this time, you would pay more per kilowatt-hour (kWh) used if you opt in to the program.

The discount period will be 10 p.m. to 4 a.m.

"The discount period would provide customers an even lower kWh charge than standard off-peak hours," Barbknecht told The Reporter.

You don't want THAT!

Here's another story from my mother, Dorothy Howard Adler, written in 1984.

The land was good with great possibilities. The buildings all needed repairs or replacement. The house had no foundation; it was on stones which held it up several inches off the ground. When it rained, there were ponds under the house, in the front yard, in the backyard, in the barnyard.

Trees were scarce, flowers nonexistent. So I started planting anything anyone gave me. Weeds were plentiful - you can't imagine! When I asked my aunt for lilies of the valley, she said, "You don't want THAT! They'll take the place!" (They didn't.) When I asked for a yellow rose, I heard the same thing: "You don't want THAT! They'll take the place!" (It's been gone over 30 years.)

STAR Bank presents High School Senior Showcase Scholarships with Fishers Arts Council

The REPORTER

Fishers Arts Council (FAC) cordially invites you to attend the STAR Bank Senior Showcase exhibit, which presents to the Fishers community the excellent work of senior students in the visual arts and writing programs at both Hamilton Southeastern and Fishers High Schools.

Visual Arts teachers from both high schools - Jasmine Osborne, Danielle Ontiveros Goodwin, Lisa Brown, and Erin Warner (Fishers) along with Angela Fritz, Julie Strawhacker, Daniel Moosbrugger, Craig Helming and Lauren Reed (Hamilton Southeastern) - have been working with their students all year to help them hone their skills, create new projects, and learn and appreciate more about the arts.

The exhibit opened to the public on March 28 and will be on display through Friday, April 26. The gallery is open Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and Fridays by appointment. To make an appointment,

RATE

Filed on April 4 with the Indiana Utility Regulatory Commission, the request is for an overall average bill increase of approximately 16 percent, which, if approved, would be added to bills in two steps, approximately 12 percent in 2025 and about 4 percent in 2026. The annual revenue increase would be $492 million.

The increase will vary among consumers depending on the cost to serve different types of customers, such as residential and business. The total monthly impact of the two steps for a residential customer using 1,000 kilowatt-hours a month would be about 19 percent, or $27.63.

As a regulated business, Duke Energy's rates can only be changed after approval from state utility regulators, so there is no immediate impact from this request. There will be extensive public proceedings, including opportunities for customer input. A regulatory decision is possible in early 2025.

To help customers manage their electric bills, Duke Energy is proposing time-of-use rates where customers can shift some of their power use to times of day when energy is less expensive. If the program is approved, it would be voluntary for residential, commercial, and industrial customers interested in participating.

Investments, improvements & upgrades

Some of the components of Duke Energy's request include:

- Duke Energy is adding state-of-the-art sensors to its Indiana power lines. Much like the GPS in a car that can identify an accident ahead and reroute a driver around the incident, the technology can quickly identify power outages and alternate energy pathways to restore service faster for customers when an outage occurs. Click here to see a video of how the technology works.

- The company is hardening its system against severe weather to reduce power outages, including changing wood poles to steel, undergrounding power lines in targeted, outage-prone areas, and rebuilding miles of overhead lines. When last spring's tornadoes ripped through Indiana, steel structures on Duke Energy's Indiana system withstood the weather.

- In the wake of physical attacks to the electric grid nationally, the company is taking steps to improve physical security and protections at some of its key infrastructure delivering power to Indiana communities.

- Indiana's economy is growing, and Duke Energy expects to have more than 60,000 new residential and business customers by 2025. The company is adding 345

"We recently learned that Duke Energy filed a rate case with the Indiana Utility Regulatory Commission (IURC). I am disappointed with Duke's pursuit of a utility rate increase from the IURC. While I understand the need for investment to maintain infrastructure and ensure reliable service, an increase in utility rates would burden residents when Duke reported a 17 percent increase in profit for 2023. I urge them to explore alternative solutions that prioritize the well-being of our residents and engage in transparent dialogue with the community. As Mayor, I will continue to advocate for the best interests of our residents."

miles of new power lines and infrastructure to serve them.

- Federal rules require changes to the management of coal ash generated from electricity production and stored at power plant sites. Duke Energy is closing its Indiana ash basins responsibly and in compliance with environmental regulations.

- The company needs to keep pace with evolving customer needs and expectations and has installed new systems, such as the ability for customers to initiate service at a new location online and receive service the same day.

Energy assistance & bill management

In addition to the proposed time-of-use rates, Duke Energy has more than a dozen energy assistance and bill-lowering tools, including:

- Usage Alerts that send customers a notification of how much electricity they are using and its cost so they can make adjustments before their billing period ends.

- Free Home Energy House Calls, where energy professionals assess a home for efficiency and provide homeowners with a toolkit of energy saving devices.

- Budget Billing, which helps ease the impact of higher seasonal bills by leveling out monthly payments.

- Interest-free payment plans for customers needing flexibility.

- Share the Light program funded by Duke Energy shareholders for qualifying customers who may be struggling to pay their energy bills.

CLARITY

"While anyone can save by shifting usage to these hours, customers with electric vehicles who charge overnight can greatly benefit from this time period."

Off-peak hours are defined by Duke Energy as "all other times of the day not designated as on-peak or discount hours when there is less demand on the system and electricity prices are lower and well-suited for energy-intensive tasks."

According to Barbknecht, this would be an entirely voluntary program. Customers would need to opt into the program to participate.

When asked how Duke expects people to shift their electric demand to off-peak hours, she offered the following suggestions:

- Program your thermostat so you use less during on-peak hours.

- Set your dishwasher timer to run overnight.

- Run your washer and dryer during off-peak and discount hours.

- Have an EV? Charge your electric vehicle at night when energy is less expensive.

- Have a pool? Schedule it to run during off-peak and discount hours.

"Again, this would be a voluntary program that's designed to give customers more control over their energy use, if they choose to participate," Barbknecht said.

In the last several years, Duke Energy has taken several steps to strengthen the electric grid and increase reliability as the demand increases and the county grows. Some of those include:

- Upgraded power line circuits along Olio Road in Fishers to improve reliability, reduce power outages, and support growth in the region.

- Upgraded power line circuits fed through its substations in Westfield and Noblesville. Crews have installed modernized equipment and automated technologies along the power line circuits that can automatically restore power (like the circuit breakers in your house) or reroute power to other power lines to help mitigate outages.

- Upgraded physical security measures at key substations, including in Hamilton County. These new technologies will help the company proactively identify threats and potential issues before a bad actor is able to damage critical assets.

As far as The Reporter can tell, those did not come with rate increases.

"In addition to the examples I provided earlier – Duke Energy is investing, on average, $25 million each year in infrastructure in Hamilton County to meet the increasing energy needs of the community," Barbknecht said.

Crepe Myrtle from a neighbor was supposed to take the place. They don't want THAT! (It doesn't even cover one corner.) Same story with hollyhocks. And would you believe they did cover several square feet one summer? After the septic tank had to be replaced, the hollyhocks took over and turned a bare spot into a beauty spot. But they have long since given way to grass. No, they didn't take the place.

Morning glories were going to take the place. Wild ones try to in the field, but the heavenly blues lasted only one season. Honeysuckle, likewise. Do you even know where it is? Yes, it still grows but I certainly wouldn't say it has taken much of anything. The fields are still good. The tiling, weed spray, fertilizer, and Dad's good management have improved them. The house sits on a proper foundation.

There are roses, wisteria, honeysuckle, many varieties of iris, poppies, four kinds of lilies (besides lilies of the valley) bleeding heart, peonies, obedience plant, tulips by the score, lilacs, alyssum, creeping phlox, mums, violets, grape hyacinths, hen and chickens, and several plants I can't name. Candy tuft comes up every year and the skunk plant grows vigorously.

This year there will be gladiolas for about the first time. There will be other annuals such as marigolds, petunias, scarlet sage. Trees and evergreens are plentiful. Dad planted fruit trees last year and more this spring.

But so far nothing is taking the place!

Students selected to represent their school will be notified before the end of this school year, with council meetings starting in the 2024-2025 school year.

RUNNING

I was starting to be fatigued by this point, but knew I had to do my part and carry on. Encouraging Jamie and mentally helping him, as it was of course getting increasingly difficult for him. The hills were no joke. Remember, he's pushing this big bike with me in it. Most runners are just getting themselves up those hills, which is also incredibly difficult! My husband gets a lot of encouragement from fellow runners along the way.

Speaking of encouragement, I'm not just encouraging my husband along the way, but I take the time to encourage other runners as well. We've had several come up to us either during or after races saying they love running next to us because of the level of crowd involvement that the duo bike draws in. They love being a part of that, too. It's easy to understand why, because it is just an overwhelming sense of human love and kindness. Something we all need.

Around mile 23, the skies opened, and it started pouring. It was both miserable and exhilarating at the same time! About that time, I had started to look for our sons who were not too far from the finish. Somehow, with all the rain, and a sea of people, we looked over at the same time and made eye contact with our sons, who were cheering loudly. That was an incredibly moving moment for both of us. It was a split second, but it felt like slow motion.

After that, it was the final push to the finish as we rounded the final turn. The crowds were thick, the cheering overwhelming! It was still pouring, which really did make for an exciting finish. We crossed the finish line in 3 hours and 23 minutes! Our goal was 3:15, but we were both pleased with our result. I was SO proud of US. Months and months of training in the freezing cold Indiana temperatures. I can no longer say I'm just a fair-weather rider. I'm well-seasoned in all types of weather at this point!

When participating in a marathon, there is always a racecourse story, and a post-race story. Some are good, and some not so good. Of course, you always want it to be that wonderful, happy celebratory moment. Unfortunately, that is not the ending I had. What happened next was a post-race first for me.

Carmel PD announces new appointments

The REPORTER

On Wednesday, Carmel Police Department (CPD) Chief Drake Sterling announced two new appointments to his command staff.

D.J. Schoeff, a 20-year veteran of the department, will serve as Deputy Chief of Administration and Anna Flaming, a 15-year veteran of the department, will serve as Major of Performance and Planning.

Deputy Chief Schoeff's duties will include the oversight of training, community outreach, support services, the crisis intervention unit, and many other administrative functions. His promotion comes after most recently serving as Lt. of Community Relations and his background also includes overseeing CPD's robust school resource officer program as well as patrol supervision.

In her new role, Major Flaming will oversee field training, internal affairs, accreditation, strategic planning, and recruitment. She most recently served as a lieutenant over professional standards. She is also the first woman to be given this title with CPD.

"I am extremely excited to bring D.J. and Anna into the command staff," Chief Sterling said. "D.J. is a fantastic leader and someone I think will help improve both internal operations and our external image. His background and the relationships he has built in Carmel over the past 20 years make him an excellent candidate to lead CPD from the front. Major Flaming brings experience from the administrative side, policy preparation and patrol. She is a visionary and an innovative leader. With the creation of the Performance and Planning Division, Anna will have the opportunity to steer CPD in the direction we want to see."

To facilitate these changes, Brady Myers will assume the role of Deputy Chief of Police Services. Myers previously served as Deputy Chief of Administration, and Sgt. Katy Malloy has been slated to back-fill Schoeff's position as Lt. of the Support Services Division.

Ball State recognizes County Health Department for internship program

Collaboration helping to advance field of public health

The REPORTER

Ball State University's Department of Nutrition and Health Science honored the Hamilton County Health Department with an award for Outstanding External Organization/Partner at a ceremony on April 5.

The award acknowledges the significant contributions made by an external organization to the department's mission and goals.

The Health Department's Health Education Department hosts an internship every summer. At least two current employees at the Hamilton County Health Department were Ball State University students and interns under this program.

"We are truly honored to receive this award from Ball State," says Jim Ginder, Health Education Specialist and head of the department's internship program. "We are proud to support the education and professional development of students in the field of public health."

This is the second time the County Health Department has been honored with this award. Health Department Administrator Jason LeMaster, an alumnus of Ball State University, says that's a testament to the department's ongoing commitment to advancing the field of public health.

"As an alumnus of Ball State University, I am especially proud of the partnership between our department and the university," LeMaster said. "This award reaffirms the value of our collaboration and the positive impact it has on future health professionals."

Letter to the Editor

Noblesville reader has had enough of negative campaign advertising

Dear Editor:

As the election season heats up, it's getting frustrating and depressing to say the least. Both congressional and gubernatorial candidates continually make accusations at each other or the opposite party without truly explaining any of their own plans. Problems always seem to be the fault of another.

Since this is only the primary, I dread the mudslinging to come.

I commend Suzanne Crouch. Her ad is the only one I've seen that highlights an issue that she wants to address (mental health) without blaming another.

My first question to any candidate from any party for any office is: Are you willing to discuss, understand, and compromise with others who may not share your views? If not, we have no hope of positive forward progress.

Virtual companion schools hold in-person prom

Indiana Connections Academy & Indiana Connections Career Academy celebrate teenage milestone together

The REPORTER

Junior and senior students from Indiana Connections Academy, a tuition-free full-time public virtual school for students in grades K-12, and its companion school, Indiana Connections Career Academy, a tuition-free full-time public virtual school with a special emphasis on career readiness for students in grades 6 through 12, recently attended an in-person at the 502 East Event Centre in Carmel.

“Despite being 100 percent virtual, Indiana Connection Schools recognize the significance of in-person interactions in shaping students’ social skills and overall well-being,” said Kelly Simone, executive director of Indiana Connections Academy and Indiana Connections Career Academy. “The schools organize small and large social events throughout the academic year, culminating in the highly anticipated prom night.”

The junior and senior prom at Indiana Connection Schools blends tradition and innovation. While upholding classic elements such as prom court, formal attire, themed décor, photo booths and live DJ performances, what sets this prom apart is its steadfast commitment to inclusivity. Indiana Connection Schools’ prom provides an environment where all students engage with one another freely, dance and forge meaningful connections.

Interacting with other students is a big part of what makes attending Indiana Connections Academy and Indiana Connections Career Academy an enriching educational experience. In addition to meeting with peers in the virtual classroom, students can participate in in-person activities, clubs, and events. When available, each school offers in-person field trips, events, and service projects throughout the year.

Enrollment for Indiana Connections Academy and Indiana Connections Career Academy 2024-2025 school year is now underway for students in grades

K through 12 and 6 through 12, respectively.

Interested families are encouraged to attend

Submitted by City of Carmel

The City of Carmel has launched a community-wide branding initiative and three-phase Research, Creativity, and Action process to create Carmel's own authentic and ownable brand identity.

"Carmel is a beautiful city that attracts many people to it. We know this. But how can we better refine and continue to grow our national reputation?" Chief Marketing Officer Rebecca Carl said. "The Carmel city brand will serve as a cohesive narrative that communicates our city's unique identity, culture and amenities to residents and visitors while also helping us differentiate the city in a crowded marketplace, attracting talents and investment. We are very excited to hear from residents of Carmel on what makes this city great so we can continue to elevate the city as a premier destination."

A request for proposals was sent to both local and national agencies and a robust committee of city staff and city council was formed to conduct the review process of the submissions.

"We received submissions from a wide-ranging perspective of agencies that did place-branding as well as those that did not," Carl said. "Ultimately, our decision was based on the best value and quality of work and the agency's understanding of our vision."

To partner with the city to drive its branding efforts, the committee selected Florida-based agency North Star Place Branding + Marketing.

"We really appreciated and connected with North Star's research-based process and their creative approach to gathering stories from the community to inform the branding strategy," said City Councilor Shannon Minnaar, who served on the selection committee and emphasized the importance of the community's voice in creating Carmel's story.

Integral to the branding process for Carmel will be the collection of feedback from residents and businesses. The results of the Community Survey that launched in February will be just one of the resources that will inform the branding strategy.

The Carmel team has begun to engage focus groups, meet with residents where they live and work and will gather information from the Distinctly Carmel website, created specifically for the branding project and open to all who wish to share their story or provide feedback.

"I think it's great that the city is trying to share its brand with a wider audience, as we're already so well known for our arts, education and walkable community," Carmel resident Amal Anthony said. "I hope that diverse members of our community are given the opportunity to share more about what makes Carmel the place they choose to call home, and why these attributes that we're already known for, are critical to our continued success as a community."

Hamilton County communities get over $5M for road improvements

The REPORTER

Hamilton County and local communities can roll forward with road and bridge projects thanks to a recent boost in state funding, according to local legislators.

"A safe and reliable transportation network is critical to keeping our state and local economy running strong," House Speaker Todd Huston (R-Fishers) said. "The Community Crossings grant helps communities make much-needed road and bridge improvements, which support Hoosier jobs and lead to economic development opportunities."

A total of 252 communities across the state will receive over $207 million through Indiana's Community Crossings Matching Grant Program. Funds can be used for road and bridge preservation, road reconstruction, intersection improvements and other items.

"This program is about the state making strong investments in our local communities," State Rep. Chuck Goodrich (R-Noblesville) said. "These dollars go directly to specific projects, which bring improvements to our area along with creating jobs."

Area grant recipients include:

- Arcadia: $174,000
- Cicero: $877,537
- Fishers: $1.5 million
- Noblesville: more than $1.1 million
- Hamilton County: $1.5 million

"I want to congratulate Hamilton County and the cities of Fishers and Noblesville for working hard to fund our roads and bridges and seeking out this matching grant funding to do so," State Rep. Victoria Garcia Wilburn (D-Fishers) said. "I know that this funding will be put to good use maintaining our current infrastructure and executing new projects where possible. I will continue to support infrastructure funding for House District 32's communities in Carmel, Fishers, Noblesville, and Hamilton County. Statehouse leadership has indicated that next year's budget session will include a robust conversation about Indiana's road funding formula, which overwhelmingly disadvantages larger communities like ours. My goal for budget negotiations next year is to make sure our district receives a larger, more equitable proportion of funding – that way our roads, bridges and sidewalks can continue being excellent for years to come."

"Indiana's infrastructure is one of the best in the nation, and these matching grants are one of the many reasons why," State Rep. Chris Jeter (R-Fishers) said. "This program relieves some of the financial strain many cities and counties feel from increases in road maintenance costs."

To qualify for the competitive grant, smaller municipalities provide a 25 percent match in local funds, while larger communities provide a 50 percent match. State law requires 50 percent of the available matching funds be awarded annually to communities within counties with a population of 50,000 or fewer. Since 2016, Community Crossings has awarded more than $1.6 billion to improve local roads and bridges.

"Hoosiers rely on our roads to travel safely, whether that's to the grocery store, school or work," State Rep. Donna Schaibley (R-Carmel) said. "Maintaining our local infrastructure is vital to our community's economy and quality of life, and this money will help us continue to make critical investments for the future."

"The Community Crossings grant program works because of the strong relationships between our state and local cities, towns and counties," said State Rep. Jerry Torr (R-Carmel). "Indiana has taken necessary steps to preserve our roads and bridges, which gives our state an advantage for future growth."

Sen. Braun introduces bipartisan bill to lower food costs by strengthening supply chains

The REPORTER

U.S. Senators Mike Braun (R-Ind.) and Sherrod Brown (D-Ohio) introduced bipartisan legislation on Wednesday that aims to help lower food costs by strengthening the infrastructure and supply chains that farmers and food businesses depend on to get their products to market.

The Food Supply Chain Capacity and Resiliency Act would expand the Department of Agriculture's Food Supply Chain Guaranteed Loan Program to support new investments in America's food supply chain by providing low-interest loans to businesses investing in food supply chain operations and prioritizes investments in rural or economically distressed areas.

"Supporting our Hoosier farmers that put food on the table for Americans is vital to our nation's food security," Sen. Braun said. "I'm proud to lead this bill with Sen. Brown to prioritize investments in rural communities in Indiana and across the country so we can maintain a strong domestic food supply chain and lower food costs."

Disruptions to the food supply chain have affected millions of Americans, from transporters and distributors to consumers at the grocery store. The Food Supply Chain Capacity and Resiliency Act would address the disruptions and lack of capital access by investing in domestic infrastructure for food production, aggregation, processing, manufacturing, storage, transportation, wholesaling, and distribution to increase capacity and create a more resilient, diverse, and secure U.S. food supply chain.

The legislation is endorsed by the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, the Controlled Environment Agriculture Alliance, the Breakthrough Institute, Regenerate America, National Cooperative Business Association, the American Sustainable Business Network, LandCore, the International Fresh Produce Association, National Fisheries Institute and National Rural Lenders Association.

Rokita launches massive lawsuit against manufacturers of 'forever chemicals'

Companies sought to conceal overwhelming evidence of severe health risks, lawsuit alleges

The REPORTER

Indiana Attorney General Todd Rokita announced on Wednesday a lawsuit against 22 companies that, contrary to law, continued manufacturing substances known as "forever chemicals" despite these same companies possessing overwhelming evidence the substances posed serious health risks.

"We're taking action today to hold these companies accountable for their clear violation of laws designed to protect human health," AG Rokita said. "For decades, they sought to hide research showing that their products were extremely dangerous to people everywhere, including Hoosiers. And they did it so they could make million-dollar profits at the cost of our health and well-being."

The companies manufactured a category of water-resistant substances known as PFAS – an acronym for "per- and polyfluoralkyl substances." PFAS are used in the making of non-stick cookware, stain-resistant carpets and clothing, and firefighting foam.

These chemicals do not degrade easily in the environment – hence their classification as "forever chemicals." Once PFAS are used, these toxic and hazardous substances remain in the environment and contaminate air, drinking water, groundwater, and soil. They are difficult and costly to remove.

The level of PFAS in animals and humans can also increase as they are consumed up the food chain – a process known as biomagnification.

Testimony from former employees and other evidence have shown that over several decades companies actively sought to hide internal research highlighting their products' harm to consumers.

In recent years, public-health scientists have linked PFAS exposure to cancer, infertility, and childhood developmental issues. National blood sampling by the Centers for Disease

Rokita

Control and Prevention has found PFAS in the blood of nearly every person tested since 1999.

"Addressing the PFAS emergency that Defendants have caused requires substantial effort and expense to investigate, treat, and remediate the contamination," Indiana's lawsuit states. "The Defendants who created and profited from the creation of this problem must pay to address the PFAS contamination throughout the State."

The lawsuit is being filed in Shelby County, where a 2022 site investigation at the Shelbyville Army Aviation Support Facility found that PFAS contamination was likely caused by defendants' aqueous film-forming foam ("AFFF") — a product used for firefighting training and emergency response.

Elsewhere in the state, Grissom Air Reserve Base and Fort Benjamin Harrison are likewise contaminated as a result of AFFF, with elevated levels of PFAS detected in soil, sediment, surface water, and/or groundwater near fire training areas, fire stations and hangars.

Sampling conducted by the Indiana Department of Environmental Management between March 2021 and December 2023 revealed levels of PFAS above EPA Health Advisory Levels in public drinking water in the following counties: Bartholomew, Carroll, Cass, Clark, Crawford, Decatur, Elkhart, Floyd, Gibson, Harrison, Jackson, Jefferson, Johnson, Lake, Laporte, Madison, Marion, Perry, Posey, Scott, St. Joseph, Sullivan, Vigo, and Warrick.

The companies have violated state and federal environmental regulations, the lawsuit contends, in addition to other laws such as the Indiana Deceptive Consumer Sales Act and the Indiana Product Liability Act.

Former State Senator Luke Kenley endorses Alaina Shonkwiler

Submitted

Alaina Shonkwiler, Republican candidate in the Indiana House District 29 race, has been endorsed by Luke Kenley, former State Senator from Noblesville and Senate Appropriations Committee Chairman.

"Alaina Shonkwiler has the determination to do what's best for Hoosier taxpayers and embraces our Hamilton County conservative values as a longtime public servant for our community," Kenley said. "I had the privilege of serving our community in elected office for 25 years and retired to allow the next generation of conservative leadership to step up. I fully support Alaina in her campaign to be our next State Representative. As our leaders at the Statehouse prepare for the upcoming budget session next year, I know Alaina will serve us well with her understanding of how critically important financial responsibility and a high level of accountability is to taxpayers. She will stand with law enforcement, fight to protect our traditional Hoosier family values, and work to fund our priorities while keeping taxes low. Alaina is the person we need to keep Indiana on the right track, and I give her my full endorsement."

As head of the Senate

Appropriations Committee, Kenley led the state's biennial budget process from start to finish, ensuring priorities including public safety, education, infrastructure and healthcare were fully funded, while protecting state investments and taxpayer dollars. He served in the State Senate from 1992 to 2017 where he spearheaded major reforms including the removal of the state's inheritance tax.

"I am honored to consider Senator Kenley a friend and mentor, and proud he was among one of my very first supporters," Shonkwiler said. "He has arguably shaped the state's spending priorities more than any other state lawmaker and has a proven track record of advancing conservative fiscally responsible policies. He is a true statesman in every sense of the word, and I do not take Senator Kenley's support lightly. I will always look to follow his example of selfless service to our state as our next State Representative."

Alaina Shonkwiler lives in Noblesville along with her husband, Jason, a Sergeant with the Noblesville Police Department and current High School Resource Officer, and their two school aged children, Hannah and Kyle.

Maxine Ella Reddick

January 16, 1930 – April 8, 2024

Maxine Ella Reddick, 94, Noblesville, passed into eternity and graduated to Heaven on Monday, April 8, 2024, with her loving daughters and grandchildren at her bedside.

Maxine was born at home on January 16, 1930, to Paul Dotsy and Cecil Alice (Gibbons) Rogers alongside her twin sister and lifelong best friend, Madeline. They pulled out two dresser drawers and put one in each to use as cribs. Maxine and her twin were middle children, having four born before them (one being still-born), and two sisters after them. Before they were born, her parents had a set of twins (Paul & Pauline) so there were two sets of twins in succession.

Maxine grew up in and attended Noblesville Schools. Maxine was all about her five daughters. She was extremely proud of them. Maxine's sole purpose in life was her five girls.

Maxine raised her children until the youngest, Tina, started second grade. She then finally started working (through encouragement from a friend) and Riverview Hospital in Noblesville as the "best" CNA ever. Maxine loved the camaraderie and friendships that working outside the home afforded her. She worked from the age of 40 to 76 years old when she reluctantly retired.

Maxine didn't really have any "hobbies" – just taking care of her children was her main focus, then the grandkids. She did love her dogs – most recent one, Boston Terrier "Bugsy" and then "Little Oso."

Maxine did have three indulgences she allowed herself. 1. Love of coffee: always sipping on a cup. 2. Soap operas: only time she got to sit down and relax. 3. RED LIPSTICK!

Maxine's grandchildren were always there staying all night, or one would be babysitting while some of us worked – AND THIS IS WHILE SHE WORKED NIGHT SHIFT AT RVH.

Maxine spent the last five years of her life in the Memory Care unit at Riverwalk Village in Noblesville. She received very loving, consistent, attentive care there. They were all wonderful but one special "shout out" to Belen Mallaber for going above and beyond for Maxine, extra special care and love to all her residents. She is one-of-a-kind.

The family would like to thank Anew Hospice for their care of Maxine.

Maxine will be forever sadly, but lovingly, missed by her daughters, Pamela Brandenburg, Karen (Eddie) Doty, Lisa (James) Everitt, Teresa (Bob) Waugh, and Tina (Gary) Owens; twin sister, Madeline Statzer; grandchildren, Jason Sherrill, Angie, Derek Owens, Natalie Spittler, Kelli Waugh, Eric Waugh, Nicole Green, and Nathan Everitt; 12 great-grandchildren; six great-great-grandchildren; and many nieces and nephews, but also special nephew, Jon Statzer.

In addition to her parents, Paul & Cecil Rogers, Maxine was preceded in death by her husband, Donald G. Reddick; grandchildren, Jill & Kevin Doty; sisters, Ester Maxine (died at birth), Virginia Luevano, Pauline Kelley, Patty Tyner, and Janet Wood; and her brother, Paul Rogers.

Visitation will be from noon to 1 p.m., with services at 1 p.m., on Friday, April 12, 2024, at Randall & Roberts Funeral Home, 1150 Logan St., Noblesville. Burial will be at Crownland Cemetery in Noblesville.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to Riverwalk Memory Care, 295 Westfield Road, Noblesville, IN 46060 (ascseniorcare.com/riverwalk-village); or Humane Society for Hamilton County, 10501 Hague Road, Fishers, IN 46038 (hamiltonhumane.com).

Frank Michael Deal Jr.

August 18, 1934 – April 10, 2024

Frank Michael Deal Jr., 89, Westfield, formerly of Indianapolis, passed away on Wednesday, April 10, 2024, at Harbour Manor Care Center in Noblesville. He was born on August 18, 1934, to Frank M. and Ruth C. Deal in Joplin, Mo.

Frank graduated from LeTourneau College with a bachelor's degree in engineering. He attended Thrive Church and Christ United Methodist Church, both of Westfield. Frank was a former Scoutmaster for Westfield Troop 107. He was a former member of the Jaycees, volunteered on the logistics team for the Indianapolis Air Show, and enjoyed being part of the Solo Seniors Group. Frank retired from the State of Indiana, was a seasonal tax preparer for H&R Block, and loved working for the Safety Patrol team at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway for over 40 years. He loved being able to help people and especially loved spending time with his family.

He is survived by his daughter, Ruth (Steve) Hopkins of Westfield; son, Frank "Mickey" Deal, III of Sao Luis, Brazil; daughter, Rachel (Arnold) Patton of Carmel; grandchildren, Caroline (Brandon) Crum, Nicole (Ash) Short, and Bethany Patton; and great-grandchildren, William and James Crum.

JOSEPH IN CHARGE OF EGYPT

Before the years of famine came, two sons were born to Joseph by Asenath daughter of Potiphera, priest of On. Joseph named his firstborn Manasseh and said, "It is because God has made me forget all my trouble and all my father's household." The second son he named Ephraim and said, "It is because God has made me fruitful in the land of my suffering."

The seven years of abundance in Egypt came to an end, and the seven years of famine began, just as Joseph had said. There was famine in all the other lands, but in the whole land of Egypt there was food. When all Egypt began to feel the famine, the people cried to Pharaoh for food. Then Pharaoh told all the Egyptians, "Go to Joseph and do what he tells you."

When the famine had spread over the whole country, Joseph opened all the storehouses and sold grain to the Egyptians, for the famine was severe throughout Egypt. And all the world came to Egypt to buy grain from Joseph, because the famine was severe everywhere.

Westfield picks up 10th win, Carmel plays solid while navigating tough schedule

By RICHIE HALL
sports@readthereporter.com

CARMEL – Two Hamilton County boys volleyball teams met at the Eric Clark Activity Center on Wednesday. Both have plenty of potential.

Westfield traveled to Carmel for a match that the Shamrocks won in straight sets, 25-23, 25-18, 25-23. It was a tough sweep, as the Greyhounds fought back to lead 23-22 in the third set before Westfield took the final three points.

Both teams have new coaches. The 'Rocks are supervised by Pat McAndrews, who said his team is "off to a really good start." He's not kidding: Westfield is 10-2 for the season.

"We've got a young group with only one senior and lots of juniors and lots of first-year varsity players," said McAndrews. "To come out with a hot start's been really exciting. They've bought into what we're trying to do."

All but two players on the Shamrocks' varsity roster are juniors. That includes outside hitter Carlo Huisden, who did a little bit of everything during the match. Huisden hit 15 kills and two aces, made 10 digs and had four blocks.

"Carlo is definitely one of our leaders," said McAndrews. "As a leader, he brings a lot of emotion and energy. Just a great leader. Hard worker and just a very dynamic player."

McAndrews said his team's middle backs, the junior trio of Nick Gerow, Max Hammond and Fletcher Farrar are "doing a good job." Gerow had three blocks for Westfield with Hammond making two blocks.

Setter Graham Weddige dished out 33 assists and also collected 11 digs. Dominic Parisi, the team's lone senior, served two aces and CJ Fox hit nine kills.

As for defense, libero Chase Graff led the digs with 13. McAndrews said that Graff is one of the leaders in the state in that category.

"He's a tough kid, goes for every ball, wants every ball," said McAndrews. "He's been a good leader for us as well."

Westfield's victories included two big early-season wins over Hamilton Southeastern, which was ranked No. 2 at the time, and Brebeuf Jesuit, which held the No. 1 ranking at that time.

"Those early wins really helped propel our confidence and helped us start out playing well," said

McAndrews.

The Shamrocks beat Avon Tuesday in another sweep, 25-13, 25-16, 25-17. Parisi hit 16 kills, followed by Huisden with nine, Fox with seven and Gerow with five. Farrar and Gerow combined for six blocks. Graff, Kyle Kujawa and Huisden led the back row defense with solid passing.

Westfield hosts Zionsville on Tuesday.

Rebuilding year

The Carmel team is being coached by a Greyhounds graduate. Andrew Fuller was part of Carmel's first two boys volleyball state championship teams in 2011 and 2012. He started the boys volleyball program at Guerin Catholic several years ago before returning to his alma mater.

"It's a huge rebuild here at Carmel," said Fuller. The coach said he is "really proud of our defense. That's our identity. It's worked well for us all season and if we can figure out our offense, I think we'll get going in the right direction."

Fuller said the team graduated "a handful of seniors last year, that heavy experience. We had to find a way to completely redirect the program."

This year's seniors are stepping up. Xavier Clawson hit six kills, while Nick Wold made six digs. Junior Griffin Holdcraft had 13 digs and two aces. Sophomore Shep Spidel dished out 23 assists.

"My first day at open gyms, I took Shep because he's our most athletic kid," said Fuller. "He's a sophomore and we're training him from the ground up as a setter."

"We're in a huge rebuild, putting a lot of trust in younger kids," said Fuller. "It's just what we expected. I think we're closer than we thought we'd be. We're playing better volleyball than I thought we'd be. But we're definitely doing some really nice things."

Carmel is 3-13 for the season, with wins over Park Tudor, Guerin Catholic and McCutcheon. Fuller said that according to the Z-rating and MaxPreps, the 'Hounds have played the third-hardest schedule in the state. That included No. 1 Cathedral, whom Carmel took all the way to a fifth set before losing by a close 15-12 score.

"We've played nothing but top 10 teams," said Fuller. "We've been right there with them. We just haven't been able to close out yet."

The Greyhounds host Brownsburg tonight.

Newgarden leads rain-shortened SPORTS SCHEDULE first day of Indy 500 Open Test

Submitted by IMS

Josef Newgarden must like the view from the top at Indianapolis Motor Speedway, as he was fastest Wednesday in the rain-shortened first day of the Indianapolis 500 presented by Gainbridge Open Test.

Reigning "500" winner Newgarden turned the fastest lap during the morning session on the 2.5-mile oval, 228.811 mph, in the No. 2 PPG Team Penske Chevrolet. Two-time NTT INDYCAR SERIES champion Newgarden also led the Indy 500 Open Test in 2022 and last year, when he returned in May to earn his first victory in "The Greatest Spectacle in Racing" after a scintillating, last-lap duel with 2022 winner Marcus Ericsson.

"We're not trying to do it because I had no idea," Newgarden said of leading the Open Test for a third straight year. "I didn't know it was three years in a row. We want to check off things on our list. Obviously, it's been right at the front, which is a good sign."

The first day of testing, which featured separate sessions for veterans, and Rookie Orientation Program and refresher tests, was halted numerous times by passing raindrops, including one midday delay of 67 minutes. Heavier showers arrived shortly after 2 p.m. to end on-track activity.

Testing is scheduled to resume from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Thursday, with live coverage in the United States on Peacock and live international coverage on INDYCAR LIVE.

While it was little surprise to see NTT INDYCAR SERIES oval master Newgarden atop the speed chart, the second-fastest driver raised eyebrows and anticipation in equal measure. 2021 NASCAR Cup Series champion Kyle Larson clocked in second at 226.384 in the No. 17 Hendrickcars.com Arrow McLaren Chevrolet as he prepares for his first start in "The Greatest Spectacle in Racing" while also attempting the "Hendrick 1100" double of racing at Indy and in the Coca-Cola 600 NASCAR race at Charlotte Motor Speedway on Sunday, May 26.

"Getting in some traffic and feeling the turbulent air," Larson said. "The first time I got in traffic, I think my tires still had good grip, so I was surprised. It didn't feel that different in traffic. Then the last time, I was building understeer, and Newgarden got by me and I was super tight behind him.

"I'm just trying to learn all that and process all that and knowing what I can do in the car to cope with that. I'm just trying to figure out any bit of racecraft today, which I know is tough. Just get notes in my head and all that."

2008 Indy 500 winner and six-time series champion Scott Dixon was third at 226.346 in the No. 9 PNC Bank Chip Ganassi Racing Honda, followed by reigning series champion and teammate Alex Palou at 226.201 in the No. 10 DHL Chip Ganassi Racing Honda.

Colton Herta rounded out the top five at 225.907 in the No. 26 Gainbridge Honda. Herta was the only driver among the top five to turn his best lap in the brief afternoon session before testing was washed out.

All three veterans requiring refresher tests – Marco Andretti, Pietro Fittipaldi and Katherine Legge – completed that program. Christian Rasmussen, Kyffin Simpson and Nolan Siegel each finished the three-phase Rookie Orientation Program.

The 108th Indianapolis 500 presented by Gainbridge is scheduled for Sunday, May 26. Practice opens Tuesday, May 14, with PPG Presents Armed Forces Qualifying on Saturday, May 18 and Sunday, May 19.

Meet the Candidates

Dear Readers,

It's primary election season, and we have a fine selection of candidates for you to get to know.

In these pages you will read all about the candidates who have chosen to respond to The Hamilton County Reporter's request to share their information and help you make an informed decision at the polls on or before May 7.

Candidate information is presented as it was submitted.

The Reporter takes no responsibility for any typographical, grammatical or factual errors. These are the candidates speaking to you in their own words (or in the words of duly designated campaign staff). The only edits we have made have been to cut down those statements that were submitted over the 200-word limit we set to ensure everyone had equal space in our pages.

Candidates vying for the same office are grouped together in a shaded box.

Sincerely, The Hamilton County Reporter

Matt McNally

Democrat for State Representative District 39

Matt is a veteran of Afghanistan, airline pilot, union member, and proud husband and father. He served in the military for over 22 years and retired in 2022 after attaining the rank of lieutenant colonel. Matt currently serves the Carmel and Westfield communities as the Senior Vice Commander of VFW Post 10003, on the board of the Westfield Kiwanis Club, and was an English as a second language instructor with Exodus Refugee. He and his wife, Brooke, have two children who attended Westfield public schools.

Matt first ran in 2022, when his campaign connected with more than 30,000 voters on their doorsteps. Matt is running because, after talking to many community members, he knows the policies pushed by the current super-majority are out of step with Hoosiers in the 39th District. Matt is ready to start working together for Indiana.

Laura Alerding

Republican for State Representative District 29

I am a Conservative Republican serving my fourth year on the Noblesville School Board. My conservative record makes it clear that I stand up for Parents Rights, children, family and faith.

As a twenty-year business owner, I understand budgets, and working with client's of all sizes from Eli Lilly to an individual's small project. Working with clients begins with listening followed by asking questions to learn their goals. I provide solutions and products within budget. This is how I will work as your State House Representative.

I will show my gratitude for your vote by working long hours with grit and determination to find solutions to issues that affect your daily life. I am pro-life, pro-business, pro-family, and pro-first responders and I will stand strong to protect each group. You may see me knocking on doors introducing myself to voters, or meeting with business owners, elected officials, residents, or community leaders to learn their concerns, or perhaps at a school board meeting where our work affects the $160 Million Dollar budget, 10,300+ students and 1500+ employees.

My husband Jim and I love Noblesville and living close-by to many of our children and grandchildren!

Dr. Chris Hartig

Democrat for State Representative District 29

Dr. Chris Hartig was raised by a Vietnam Veteran Marine who taught him that "you must put in the work to get the results," and a mother who gave him the values to "do the right thing, especially when it seems like a hard choice." He is ready to put in the work as the Democratic candidate for Indiana House Representative, District 29 (Noblesville and part of Fishers).

Dr. Hartig worked 15 years in the mortgage and finance industry and spent the last decade as a Management and Leadership professor at WGU Indiana, supporting working Hoosiers to upskill to earn training and certifications to improve their lives. He earned a Doctor of Education in Organizational Leadership from Northcentral University, an MBA in Management and Strategy from Western Governors University, and a BA in Economics from Ball State University.

His legislative priorities are to serve as a guardrail against the unchecked extreme supermajority, protect personal freedoms, and support public schools.

Sue Maki

Republican for County Council At-Large

Sue Maki is currently serving as Hamilton County Councilor At-Large where she holds the position of Vice President. Sue has been active in the Hamilton County civic community for many years. Her leadership roles include past president of Hamilton County Tourism Commission, Carmel Rotary, Carmel Middle School PTO and the Hamilton County Solid Waste Board. She currently serves on the board of Invest Hamilton County, the Economic Development Organization for the County.

Her professional experience includes 18 years in the insurance industry with most of the time in a management capacity. She worked for the City of Carmel Utilities for 15 years, retiring from them in 2022 to devote her time to County Council work and other volunteer endeavors.

Making an impact across all towns and cities in Hamilton County, Sue served as Executive Director of the Hamilton County Leadership Academy from 2000 - 2003. She is also a 1999 graduate.

Sue holds a Master of Business Administration degree from Anderson University and a bachelor's degree in political science from Baldwin-Wallace University Berea, Ohio.

Sue lives in Carmel with her husband of 41 years, Tom Kapostasy. They have two grown sons, a daughter-in-law and a Cairn Terrier dog, Cooper.

Joel Levi

Democrat for State Senate District 20

Joel was born and raised in Anderson, Indiana. He attended Anderson University where he met his wife Megan. After getting married they lived in Nashville, Tennessee from 2013-2020. Upon moving back home, they settled in Cicero, Indiana where they now live with their five year old son Mitchell. Joel's son currently attends the Little Huskies Pre-K at Hamilton Heights.

Megan and Joel have always had a heart for healthcare. His wife is a nurse practitioner at Community Health. Joel is a pharmacy technician in the Coumadin Clinic and Outpatient Pharmacy at Riverview Health in Noblesville.

Levi is running for State Senate so that our children can live in the Indiana they deserve. This starts with our kids feeling safe at school. The simplest way to ensure this is with common sense gun laws.

If elected into the Indiana State Senate, Levi's top priority would be spearheading legislation so that Democrats and Republicans can join together to keep our Hoosier children safe. His goal is to reach across the aisle and find Republican legislators that believe in the Second Amendment, but that also believe in requiring background checks at gun shows and on third party sales.

Victoria Garcia Wilburn

Democrat for State Representative District 32

Dr. Victoria Garcia Wilburn is a leader in the field of Occupational Therapy, a mother of 3, and an advocate for mental and behavioral health.

Victoria grew up in a working class neighborhood in the Chicago suburbs and was raised in a union family who believed organizing was critical to action. She earned a degree in occupational therapy as a first-generation college student and started as a clinician and public health advocate.

In 2005, Victoria and her husband, Christopher chose to make Indiana home. Victoria's awareness of public safety issues and the need for healthy, accessible communities deepened during this time as her husband served as a police officer. They grew their family, welcoming three beautiful children while Victoria completed her doctorate degree in health science at the University of Indianapolis.

Victoria's dedicated her career to improving the well-being of Hoosiers and advocating for equity and access to mental and behavioral health services. Her work has been instrumental in increasing central Indiana resources for children and families affected by substance use disorders and in training future health care professionals in trauma informed care.

Victoria's running to strengthen public schools, improve public health infrastructure and advocate for common-sense gun safety laws.

FEDERAL

Dr. Valerie McCray

Democrat for United States Senate

My name is Dr. Valerie McCray and I'm working hard to become your next U.S. Senator representing Indiana.

As a Psychologist, I've witnessed how U.S. policies profoundly affect the mental well-being of our people. I've worked directly with veterans struggling with PTSD, incarcerated individuals in desperate need of support and rehabilitation, and youth struggling to overcome the effects of violence. It's clear that mental health must be a national priority and we cannot address our nation's challenges one crisis at a time. That's why I'm running for U.S. Senate.

Relentlessly, I will fight for beyond-subsistence wages, unions, healthcare for all, women's rights to choose, equal rights for everyone, strengthening public education, and repealing Citizens United so people (not corporations) can be truly represented. In addition, I will champion student loan debt reduction, closing the wealth gap, and funding environmental restoration efforts.

I am both compassionate and fierce, and can relate to the struggles of working class Hoosiers. I will break barriers and build a brighter future for Indiana. Together, we can build a movement for change - one that prioritizes mental health and ensures every individual has access to resources needed and policies that help us thrive.
