“Let us raise above them the dear old flag they saved from dishonor” – May 5, 1868

The REPORTER

This year, military service members buried at Summit Lawn Cemetery in Westfield have flags placed at their graves for Memorial Day.

For as many years as the Scout leaders can remember, BSA Scouts Boys Troop 107 and Girls Troop 1070 have been participating in the annual Memorial Day ceremony at Summit Lawn Cemetery. This year, in addition to conducting the ceremony on Saturday, May 25, the Scouts placed flags on the graves of those who served in the military.

David Weiss, secretary-treasurer of the Summit Lawn Cemetery Board, said that in the past there had been a limited number of graves that had been marked with flags. For years, cemetery board member Danny Haskett has been placing flags to mark the graves of around 55 Civil War veterans. In addition, the former American Legion Post 318 placed flags on some graves.

This year, Bob Whitmoyer, of the former Westfield American Legion, turned approximately 50 flags over to the cemetery board.

The board was able to purchase additional flags in preparation for the flag laying.

“We want to be more prepared to recognize as many of the veterans as we can through this process,” Weiss said.

Fishers honors fallen soldiers on Memorial Day

By HERNAN GUTIERREZ
 WISH-TV | wistv.com

Fishers city officials honored the men and women who gave the ultimate sacrifice with a Memorial Day ceremony on Monday at the Nickel Plate District Amphitheater.

Like many ceremonies, Monday's started with the presentation of colors by a color guard, followed by the National Anthem.

Residents were then able to hear from local veterans give their perspective on the holiday.

This year's guest speaker was Army Colonel Kent Abernathy. He is a West Point graduate who went on to serve in the military for 30 years. During his time in the Army, he held leadership positions at the Pentagon and in Iraq. He had originally left the service and went to work as a banker. However, after 9/11 he decided to reenlist.

During his address, he touched on his service.

“[There are] two people that I knew, that I served with, and that are no longer here,” Abernathy said. “That's the true meaning of Memorial Day. It's remembering those who've made the ultimate sacrifice so that we can enjoy the freedoms we have today.”

Abernathy retired from the Army in 2010 and now lives in Zionsville.

After the ceremony, the city invited community members to place carnations near the green space around the Gold Star Families Monument and Liberty Plaza.

The city also invited families to honor their loved ones who have served by applying for a light pole banner with their name, or with a brick plaque on Liberty Plaza.

Noblesville's BSA Troop 222 for Girls retires American flags

Submitted

Scouts from Noblesville's Scouting America (formerly Boy Scouts) Troop 222 for Girls observed Memorial Day on Monday by retiring American flags.

The flags, which had flown at Kahlo Chrysler Dodge Jeep Ram, were tattered and in need of replacement. The Scouts accepted the flags for retirement in October and chose Memorial Day as fitting for the ceremony.

Senior Patrol Leader Ellador led the ceremony. Troop 222 scouts Evelyn, Robbin, Charli, Nora, and Sebastian from Troop 183 assisted with the ceremony. Family members of the scouts participated as well.

“Duty to God and Country is the first line of the Scout Oath, it's that important to our movement,” Scoutmaster Jenny Sherrill said. “Our scouts did such a great job with the program. It was powerful to join them in retiring the flags.”

The flags, which were synthetic material, were cut apart in keeping with flag code, keeping the field of blue intact, while the flag is cut into quarters. Burning these flags, which is the proper retirement for flags of cotton, is unhealthy for the environment or participants, so small pieces of the fabric were burned, while the rest were disposed of respectfully. Grommets from the flags were collected from the ashes and distributed to the participants as a remembrance of those who have lost their lives in service of our country.

Cicero Kiwanis provide free book to every Heights Elementary student

Submitted

One young student came up to the table displaying a group of books chosen by Karen Jones, the elementary school Media Specialist and said, “I don't have any money to pay for a book.” Cicero Kiwanis Club President Todd Clevenger replied, “You don't need any money. These books are free, so chose any one you want.”

She looked up with a smile on her face and said, “Really? I've never had a book of my very own.”

Every child deserves the joy of diving into a world of imagination through books. Yet, many young minds lack access to this magical journey due to financial constraints. Research shows that just the presence of books in the home improves educational outcomes. Books are critical and access to those resources is one of the greatest contributors to education equality. Despite all this, books are scarce to many students, meaning they are at a disadvantage from the start.

The Kiwanis Club of Cicero wants to close that gap and promote a love a reading by providing free books through its Books For a Bright Future initiative.

“Through this program, students are able to choose a free, age-appropriate book at the school book fair,” Clevenger said. “The goal of our Books For a Bright Future program is to create a love of reading and foster education and literacy among young students.”

With help from a grant awarded by the Kiwanis Children's Fund, the Cicero Kiwanis purchased over 800 books that were distributed during the week-long book fair.

“The Book Fair was a huge success!” Jones said. “Thank you to the Kiwanis for all the volunteer help and guest readers. The kids just loved their new books and those who would not have gotten books were so surprised that they too could get a book at the book fair! You made the book fair a special occasion for all our students. We gave out 809 books. We can't thank the Kiwanis enough.”

For the past several years, the board has been working to transfer all the cemetery records into a database. With the cemetery dating back to the 1880s and some even older graves having been moved when the railroad was built, that meant that most of the cemetery records had been written in a book. The process of going through the records has allowed the board to increase the number of known veterans.

Out of around 1,500 graves, Weiss said they have identified around 280 veteran graves, six of which were just discovered last week in preparation for Saturday's event.

"We're just looking to try to build upon what's happened in the past and continue to build it for the future," Weiss said.

The BSA Scouts Troops say they are glad to take on the responsibility of leading the annual time of remembrance for the second year.

"It's right and fitting that we come out and honor those who have served our country," said Barry Simpson, committee chair for BSA Scouts Girls Troop 1070.

Life Scout Jackson Eyer opened and closed the commemoration in prayer. Eagle Scout Johnny Miles, Star Scout Lucy Miles, and First Class Scout Joey Miles performed the flag ceremony, and Second Class Scout Ben Wilken played Taps on the trombone. Fourth-grade Webelos from Cub Scout Pack 107, Colin Blair, Liam Lynch, and Preston Vega laid flowers at the base of the flag pole.

BSA Scouts Boys Troop 107 Assistant Scoutmaster Roy Adams, also a retired Army lieutenant colonel, spoke about duty, honor, and country as the reasons veterans serve in the military. He encouraged those present to ask themselves how they can better serve their community and improve the human condition.

As they do every year, an honor guard of members from VFW Post 10003 and American Legion Post 155, both of Carmel, fired three volleys, commonly referred to as a "21-gun salute." The combined honor guard serves at five to 10 ceremonies each Memorial Day weekend.

Despite the City of Westfield having held a Memorial Day ceremony Thursday evening, May 23, at the Fallen Hoosier Heroes Memorial on Union Street, Mayor Scott Willis attended the ceremony on Saturday in a non-official capacity, thanking the Scouts for all they do.

As part of the ceremony, Simpson read from the original "Memorial Day Order" issued May 5, 1868: "Let us raise above them the dear old flag they saved from dishonor."

Following the ceremony, that's precisely what the Scouts did, placing flags at the graves of veterans and offering a salute. Scouts will return Tuesday to remove the flags for safekeeping by the cemetery board and place coins on the markers.

BOOKS

The primary goal of the Cicero Kiwanis Books For a Bright Future program is to raise funds to purchase and distribute age-appropriate books to every elementary school within the Hamilton Heights School District. The club aims to ensure that every child has the opportunity to build their own personal library at home, encouraging them to read, explore and expand their knowledge.

"I was truly amazed at the excitement, joy and smiles we saw simply by providing these students with a book of their own," Clevenger said. "But it went further than that. Teachers and administrators have reached out expressing their gratitude and appreciation for what the Cicero Kiwanis Club is doing. Here is just one example:

"Good afternoon! I am a kindergarten teacher at Hamilton Heights. I wanted to say THANK YOU for the books Kiwanis provided to my students at the spring book fair. Usually there are tears as some students don't get books and this year that didn't happen. My students were so excited to show me the books they picked and got to keep forever. I appreciate all you have done!"

In addition to the annual book fair, Cicero Kiwanis is also working to help stock the summer bookmobile that travels throughout the district during the summer months to keep kids engaged in reading throughout summer break. The annual fundraising goal for this program is $10,000 and the Cicero Kiwanis welcome both individual donations and corporate sponsorships.

Sheridan to break ground on final Monon Trail segment

The REPORTER

At 10 a.m. this Friday, May 31, the Sheridan Town Council will hold a groundbreaking ceremony to construct the final segment of the Monon Trail in Hamilton County. Once completed, trail users will have trail connectivity from northwest Hamilton County to downtown Indianapolis.

"The first segment of the trail opened in 1993 in Carmel, Indiana, and we are pleased to be finishing what others started," Town Council President Silas DeVaney III said.

The final segment of the trail, extending north of State Road 47 to the Hamilton-Boone county line, is a testament to the community's dedication and vision.

"Funded in large part by a $2 million grant from the Indiana Department of Natural Resources Next Level Grant Program, this project is a collaborative effort that will bring the Monon into our downtown, where trail users will find our richly unique Main Street lined with storefronts that are seeing new life," DeVaney said. "We are confident the completed trail will add to the quality of life for our residents as well as invite people to Sheridan that might not otherwise have a reason to visit our small town."

The groundbreaking will occur on the north side of State Road 47 and the current terminus of the Monon Trail. The approximate address is 405 E. Tenth St., Sheridan.

Carmel establishes Mayor Jane's Courtyard

Community honors the city's first woman & first two-term mayor

The REPORTER

Last Friday, Carmel Mayor Sue Finkam, Former Mayor Jim Brainard, SVP of Acquisitions and Development of Onyx + East David Leazenby, and Carmel Redevelopment Commission Director Henry Mestetsky celebrated former Mayor Jane Reimen by dedicating the courtyard at the Mélange located on Veterans Way and Monon Green Boulevard.

Mayor Jane's Courtyard, centered among luxury townhomes and flats, can be accessed off the Monon Greenway through double archways adorned with iron chandeliers.

A plaque placed in the courtyard reads:

Jane Applegath Reiman served as Carmel's mayor for two four-year terms beginning in 1980. After leading a campaign to defeat a proposed horse racing track that would have changed the character of the City of Carmel, she decided to run for office and became the first woman to be elected Mayor of Carmel. Among her many accomplishments was converting U.S. 31 into a "corporate corridor" designed to attract major employers and preserve State Road 431's (now Keystone Parkway) residential character on the east side of Carmel. After leaving office, Mayor Jane continued to serve the City of Carmel as an advisor and friend to mayors, councilors and citizens of her beloved home.

Mélange is a $30 million residential project that includes for-sale luxury townhomes and flats along the Monon Greenway. The project transformed underutilized parking lots into a vibrant urban neighborhood and a public courtyard. Mélange's prime location along the Monon Greenway is just south of City Center providing residents with all of the conveniences of urban living while complimenting the success of City Center.

Future commercial taxes from the project (TIF) will be used to finance utility relocations, roadway improvements and general infrastructure. This project broke ground in the spring of 2021. The Carmel Redevelopment Commission partnered with Onyx + East on the development of this project.

Letter to the Editor

Shaffer takes issue with report on Carmel Christkindlmarkt

Dear Editor:
 Carmel's Christkindlmarkt chief executive officer provided a half-report on the 2023 yuletide circus. Prefacing her remarks by noting the market is a non-profit, she reported a 59 percent increase in sales – $8.8 million compared to 2022's $5.4 million. Omitted was the fact that $7.1 million of the $8.8 million went into the pockets of the vendors. The markt's own annual report disclosed actual revenue of $3.1 million up 55 percent from 2022's $2 million and $946,000 in expenses up 190 percent from 2022's $326,000. The alleged "non-profit" showed a two-year profit of $3.8 million (revenues $5.1 million; expenses $1.3 million). Nor did the CEO tally taxpayer subsidies:
 • Initial purchase of the plastic booths.
 • Cost of labor of city workers who set up, take down and store the circus each year.
 • Cost of the warehouses built to house the circus parts.
 • Cost of police and utilities provided free to the markt.
 • Debt service payments on money the city borrowed to pay for the circus.
 For a city council recently elected on platforms promising transparency, the markt presentation demonstrated a genuine lack of seriousness.

Anderson Arts League donates $5K for AMOA Carnegie Library preservation

The REPORTER

The Anderson Museum of Art (AMO) has announced a generous $5,000 donation from the Anderson Arts League to Phase One of AMOA's Under One Roof campaign. Phase One is dedicated to preserving the cherished historic Carnegie Library building.

The remarkable contribution was formally presented during the Anderson Arts League's final meeting of the year on May 22, which also included installing officers.

"We extend our deepest gratitude to the Anderson Arts League for their steadfast support," AMOA Executive Director Mandee Spano said. "Their commitment to our cause further propels us toward our goal of preserving this iconic landmark for future generations."

This significant donation, made possible by the generosity of the Sock Hop sponsors, notably Title Sponsor Community Hospital Anderson, brings AMOA closer to its first-phase target of $100,000. The success of the recent fundraising event, buoyed by the community's active involvement and ticket purchases, has been instrumental in this achievement.

With just under $12,000 remaining to reach the Under One Roof Phase One goal, every contribution is instrumental as AMOA endeavors to safeguard and enhance the Downtown Anderson landmark. These funds will facilitate critical repairs, ensuring the longevity and splendor of this historic building.

Join the campaign and champion the arts through conservation, reinvention, and sustainability. Together, you can help secure a vibrant future for the arts in the Anderson community.

To support the campaign, visit andersonart.org/under-one-roof.

If ever a wonderful show there was this Beef & Boards show is one because...

There aren't very many stories more familiar to my generation than The Wizard of Oz. The 1939 film version starring Judy Garland was traditional Thanksgiving Day television fare throughout our childhoods. (It ran annually between 1956 and 1974.) It has been claimed that with this yearly exposure, The Wizard of Oz has been seen by more viewers than any other film in history!

KEN KLINGENMEIER
A Seat on the Aisle

Beef and Boards' delightful offering of the stage version – directed by Elizabeth Payne and choreographed by Sally Scharbrough and James Patton, with musical direction by Brandon Vos – is this year's B&B family show. This 1987 musical adaptation is a direct companion piece to the movie, featuring original music by Harold Arlen and original lyrics by E.Y. Harburg with a book by John Kane.

Director Payne has chosen many mimics of the film production's characteristics, though a few roles are fashioned with new emphases – such as the rather sultrier Wicked Witch of the West. Portrayed by Bessie D. Smith, she loses none of her evil skills. Dorothy is deftly offered by Grace Atherholt. Her beautiful bell-like singing voice provides a lovely “Over the Rainbow” and she brings a worthy Garlandesque feel to her characterization.

The trio of Dorothy's travel companions – Scarecrow, Tin Man and Cowardly Lion – are terrifically rendered by Joey Boos, Jaden Kindle, and Brett Mutter, respectively. Boos is a floppy, droopy rag doll, full of energy and patter. Kindle is appropriately stiff in his shiny costume, still able to sing and dance with style. Mutter takes the memorable comic role that Bert Lahr perfected and makes his version just as successful.

Ty Stover brings his expertise to his set of roles – playing Professor Marvel and the Wizard of Oz, and Jameelah Leandra sweetly plays Glinda the Good Witch. Christine Zavakos and Allen Sledge round out the main cast as Aunt Em and Uncle Henry – also handling various other roles along the way.

A talented ensemble of players of various ages takes on the many other working parts of the show – Munchkins, Crows, Trees, Ozians, Guards, etc. And the all-important role of Toto is arrayed to three dogs, with Bilbo doing the honors on Media Night.

matches the film's work well and is kept crisp and visually appealing. One innovative number, “The Jitterbug,” is well-crafted and a stand-out.

I wondered how some of the technical aspects of the production would be done. After all, it's not often that a tornado needs to be portrayed on stage – and the B&B crew and cast has designed and accomplished a stunning combination of sounds, lights, and various projected visuals for the task – and definitely do it justice.

The set designed by Michael Layton covers all the different locations well, Ryan Koharchik's lighting design is more extensive than usual, while costumes by Kathy Henry, makeup by Daniel Klingler, and wigs by Andrew Elliott add much to the storytelling. Bottom line: This engaging production kept the youngsters in the audience spell-bound for two hours plus. Lively and exceptionally fun performances are offered by all – giving a magical telling to this familiar and/or new story.

This is a very popular ticket! If you haven't reserved seats for the spring/summer treat, please do so ASAP! The Wizard of Oz continues through July 7. TODAY'S BIBLE READING

JOSEPH AND THE FAMINE

So Joseph bought all the land in Egypt for Pharaoh. The Egyptians, one and all, sold their fields, because the famine was too severe for them. The land became Pharaoh's, and Joseph reduced the people to servitude, from one end of Egypt to the other. However, he did not buy the land of the priests, because they received a regular allotment from Pharaoh and had food enough from the allotment Pharaoh gave them. That is why they did not sell their land.

Joseph said to the people, "Now that I have bought you and your land today for Pharaoh, here is seed for you so you can plant the ground. But when the crop comes in, give a fifth of it to Pharaoh. The other four-fifths you may keep as seed for the fields and as food for yourselves and your households and your children."

"You have saved our lives," they said. "May we find favor in the eyes of our lord; we will be in bondage to Pharaoh."

So Joseph established it as a law concerning land in Egypt—still in force today—that a fifth of the produce belongs to Pharaoh. It was only the land of the priests that did not become Pharaoh's.

Shamrocks shock Tigers, win Sectional 8

By RICHARD TORRES
For The Reporter

NOBLESVILLE — Westfield senior ace Ty Anderson needed one more put-out, one more strikeout, just one more ball to stay inside the spacious confines of The Dunk on Memorial Day to complete his no-hit gem.

With two outs in the top of the seventh during the Class 4A Sectional 8 title game, the left fielder not only rose to the occasion; he came up clutch, tracking down and robbing a probable game-tying home run by Fishers above the outfield wall to lock down both Anderson's no-no and Westfield's 1-0 victory.

"I saw it go up, and at first I didn't think it was going to end up leaving because the wind is blowing to my right, and it's been killing the ball today, but it just kept going," Fero explained. "I was so focused on the ball. I went up, and I felt like I was just flying. My only focus was just to get this ball."

It was "unreal," Anderson emphasized after the Shamrocks (20-10) swarmed Fero in left field and dogpiled on top of him to celebrate Westfield's first sectional title since 2011.

"Honestly, I was really nervous. That was the deepest ball they've hit all day, and I kind of got nervous there for a second, and Fero went up there and made that amazing catch. Probably the best catch I've ever seen in person. That was absolutely crazy. He's amazing," Anderson said.

Fero was quick to say the same of Anderson, who was near perfect en route to pitching his first-career no-hitter.

Through 22 at-bats, the right-hander sat down six Tigers via strikeout, didn't walk a single batter and beyond a fielding error that allowed senior Evan Doran to reach base in the top of the fifth, the Eastern Illinois commit was literally unhittable.

"It took a lot, but my team had confidence in me, and I had a lot of confidence in them. I just went out there and felt in control the entire time," Anderson said. "You'd think it'd be stressful because you really have to be great to keep the other team from scoring, but at the same time it gives you a ton of motivation because you know you have to stay in this for your team."

Anderson set the tone quickly, retiring the first 13 batters he faced before Westfield's fielding miscue awarded Doran first base with one out. Doran stole second base, but a strikeout and a line drive to center fielder Caden Lindsey left him stranded.

Anderson induced six more putouts, including Fero's heroics on the final play.

"(Ty has) been great all season. This just solidified it. He's one of the greatest pitchers I've played behind, and he makes it easy on me," Fero said. "Every pitch matters in games like this. You have to make every play. When the ball is in play, you have to go 100 percent, especially in a sectional game. That's what it took to win it."

The Westfield baseball team won its first sectional title since 2011 by stunning Fishers 1-0 on Monday. Ty Anderson pitched a no-hitter, while Nick Fero's left field catch of a certain home run sealed the victory.

Perseverance is what propelled the Shamrocks to the sectional title game against 4A No. 8 Fishers (22-9) following a taxing season filled with setbacks, injuries and three one-run losses.

Westfield jumped out to 5-0 record to start the season, but a stretch of seven losses in eight games dropped the Shamrocks out of the IHS-BCA top-10 poll before they turned things around to win their past eight straight.

Fishers swept the rival teams' two-game Hoosier Crossroads Conference series this past April, 6-3 and 5-3.

However, after Westfield knocked off No. 6 Zionsville, 6-4, in the sectional quarterfinals and Carmel, 9-8, in the semifinals, Tigers head coach Matt Cherry knew nothing would be easy on championship Monday.

"Ty Anderson was awesome. We knew that he had that in him. He was really good once he settled in on Wednesday against Zionsville, and he was really good today," Cherry said. "We couldn't find barrel. I think (Jase) Ruggles squared him up in the fifth but hit it right at a defender. (Jack Brown) had his in the seventh, and (Benjamin) Hammond had his, but Fero made an unbelievable catch. Stinks, but it's kind of this sectional."

The fourth different team to win Sectional 8 since 2021, Westfield plated its decisive run in the bottom of the fifth off a two-out RBI single by junior Drew Law, which erased Fishers' Gavin Kuzniewski's shutout bid.

Kuzniewski carried a no-hitter over the first three innings and finished with three hits allowed, six strikeouts, a walk and two hit batters.

The Shamrocks spoiled the Ohio State recruit's perfect-game attempt in the bottom of the first when Law reached base after getting hit on an 0-2 count. A Brayden Hibler leadoff single in the bottom of the fourth broke up Kuzniewski's no-hitter.

Westfield will play McCutcheon Saturday for the Class 4A Regional 4 championship. The Shamrocks and the Mavericks will face off at 3 p.m. at Loeb Stadium in Lafayette. Their game follows a Class 2A regional game between Benton Central and Rochester, which starts at 11 a.m.

Westfield had seven base runners — one off an error in the third — and left six stranded with five in scoring position.

Law, Hibler and Akron recruit Matt Drozlek each logged singles, while Lindsey's two-out walk in the bottom of the fifth opened the door for Law's run-scoring base knock.

"We haven't won since 2011, so it's been a long time," Law said. "It's really special. Our coach has been coaching for 22 years, so it's a big moment for him. It means a lot. My heartrate was through the roof with all that adrenaline, but it was a special moment."

For Westfield coach Ryan Bunnell, the sectional title marks his fourth (2008, '09, '11) in his tenure and arguably the most memorable.

"The catch in left to save the no-hitter and win the game will forever go down for me. Who knows what would have happened in extras? Just unreal," Bunnell said.

"Initially off the bat, I didn't think it had enough, but it just kept carrying. Obviously, it benefited us because it gave him a chance to get back. We were in no-doubles, so he was deep to begin with, which gives him a chance, and he's a plus defender. He obviously showed it there."

NOBLESVILLE — The Guerin Catholic girls lacrosse team is heading back to the state championship game.

The Golden Eagles reached the final of the Class 2A title game by beating Noblesville 18-7 at the Millers' Beaver Materials Field on Tuesday. Guerin Catholic will go for its third consecutive state championship Saturday, with the championship game also taking place at Beaver Field.

The Millers scored the game's first goal, with Lydia Dumas scoring off a Chloe Barnett assist. But the Golden Eagles took over after that, pouring in five goals over a five-minute span to lead 5-1 at the end of the first quarter.

Guerin Catholic then put in eight goals in the second period for a 13-3 halftime lead. Caroline Ford scored three of those goals; she also added a first-quarter score for four goals overall.

"I was impressed with our girls today," said Golden Eagles coach Joe Bellflower.

Huskies shake off Beech Grove to claim regional title

The REPORTER

The Hamilton Heights softball team won the Class 3A Regional 14 championship on Tuesday, taking down Beech Grove 6-3 at the Hornets' field.

It was a regional rematch between the two teams, with Beech Grove winning at the Huskies' field last year. Heights got in position to reverse the result in the second inning by scoring three runs: Cassidy Schakel scored when Melanee Forrester drew a bases loaded walk, then Addie Doak blasted a left field double to score Hailey Hall and Isabel Morrow.

A two-run home run in the fourth inning brought the Hornets back to within 3-2 with two outs in the bottom of the fourth. But Heights held firm, as Lily Roush got a strikeout to end the inning, then retired the side 1-2-3 in the fifth.

Kamryn Rhoton got the Huskies' offense going in the sixth inning with a lead-off home run. Beech Grove scored a run in the bottom of the sixth to cut Heights' lead to 4-3, but the Huskies responded again with two runs in the top of the seventh. Roush's center field hit sent Doak home, then Roush was brought in by a Hall single.

Roush retired the side in the seventh inning to clinch the win; a line out to Rhoton finished the game. Roush pitched a complete game, striking out seven and allowing only four hits. Meanwhile, Doak and Rhoton both had three hits for Heights, with Schakel getting two hits.

This is the third regional championship for the Huskies, who also won back-to-back titles in 2015 and 2016. Heights is now 22-7 and added one more victory to its record for season wins.

Heights will play in the 3A south semi-state at Jasper on Saturday. The Huskies take on Tri-West in the 1 p.m. second semifinal, after the first semifinal between Silver Creek and Gibson Southern. The championship game is set for 7 p.m., with the winner going to the state finals.

GC & University seasons come to end at sectional championship games

The REPORTER

The Guerin Catholic and University baseball teams both lost in the championship games of their respective sectionals on Monday.

The Class 3A No. 3 Golden Eagles fell to Sectional 27 host Brebeuf Jesuit 3-0. The Braves scored one run each in the second, fourth and sixth innings.

Guerin Catholic had five hits: A double and a single for both Davis Wagner and Karson Smith, and a double from Ian Taylor. Tate Troxell pitched six innings, striking out seven.

In the semifinals, the Golden Eagles beat Shortridge 24-0 in five innings. Grant Beard went 3-for-3 at the plate and drove in five runs, while Nolan Ratcliff hit a triple as part of a 2-for-2 game. Beard hit two doubles, with five other players (Cunnin Morrow, Nate Gremelspacher, Ryan Zimmerman, Taylor and Carson Kail) each hitting one double.

Aiden Ochall scored four runs, with Taylor, Wagner and Gremelspacher all scoring three. Gremelspacher went four innings for the win, striking out nine. Gremelspacher and Max Meyer teamed up for a no-hitter; Meyer threw three strikeouts in the fifth inning.

Guerin Catholic finished its season 22-7.

University's comeback fell just short against Covenant Christian, as the Warriors beat the Trailblazers 13-8 in the championship of Class 2A Sectional 43 at Sheridan.

Covenant scored seven runs in the top of the first inning. University put up three runs in the second inning: Owen Schellhase bunted in Ethan Cutsinger for the first run. Later, Jimmy Caldwell and Schellhase scored when Charlie Ranek hit a sacrifice fly.

Schellhase stepped up again in the third inning, blasting a center field double with the bases loaded to bring in Cutsinger, Beckett Suh and Caldwell. With that, the Blazers had cut the Warriors' lead to 7-6.

A two-run home run in the fifth inning gave Covenant a 9-6 lead. University added a sixth inning run when Ryan Castetter singled in Cooper Cammack. But the Warriors scored four in the top of the seventh to solidify their lead. Caldwell doubled in Griffin Wright in the seventh inning for the Trailblazers' final run.

Schellhase was 3-for-4, driving in four runs. Mark Hamby and Caldwell both hit a double.

In its semifinal game, University beat No. 4 Cascade 9-4. Castetter doubled in Ranek in the third inning for the Blazers' first run, then Caldwell smacked a double to bring in Cooper Burnett for a fourth-inning score.

The Cadets scored three runs in the bottom of the fifth to go up 4-2, but University came back with five runs in the top of the sixth. Schellhase tied the game with a two-run hit to send Burnett and Caldwell home. Later, Castetter singled in Schellhase and Jasper Owens, then Suh doubled Cutsinger home to give the Blazers a 7-4 lead.

Cammack doubled in Caldwell and Burnett in the seventh inning to finish the game. Caldwell was 3-for-4, including two doubles. Castetter threw five innings for the win.

The Trailblazers completed their season 15-12-1.

Green flag waves on Month of May ticket renewals for 2025

Deadline to renew is June 17; logo unveiled for 2025 Indianapolis 500 presented by Gainbridge

Submitted by IMS

Fans weathered a four-hour delay to witness the checkered flag wave for the 108th Indianapolis 500 presented by Gainbridge and will never forget witnessing the first back-to-back winner in more than a two decades as Josef Newgarden took home his second win at Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Race fans should race to renew their tickets for the Month of May in 2025 – before the deadline of Monday, June 17 – to ensure they'll be there to witness more unforgettable action at the Racing Capital of the World.

Fans can renew or upgrade their Indy 500 tickets at ims.com/renew, by calling (317) 492-6700 or by visiting the IMS Ticket Office. The renewal window will continue through Monday evening, June 17, approximately 500 hours following the checkered flag of the 108th Indianapolis 500 presented by Gainbridge.

These are the best prices of the year for renewals and upgrades. Prices will increase when tickets go on sale this fall, and again in 2025 before each event.

"The waving of the green flag is one of the most powerful and exciting moments in all of sports as it signals the start of the Indianapolis 500 in front of more than 330,000," IMS President J. Douglas Boles said. "This year the green flag represents another important race as our fans race to renew or request seat upgrades by the June 17 deadline."

The 2025 Indianapolis 500 presented by Gainbridge logo is inspired by the green flag, which signifies the start of "The Greatest Spectacle in Racing" each year. The green flag was first used to start the field for the Indianapolis 500 in 1930 and has been a recognized symbol of the speed and exhilaration of 33 cars crossing the Yard of Bricks on their way to history ever since.

The logo is the latest iteration of a series that began in 2019 with Gainbridge's inaugural sponsorship. Surrounded by the identifiable gold of the Wing & Wheel, the inside of the logo boasts a rich emerald green for the first time. The words "Indy 500" are presented in the iconic slanted font.

The Icon Series logos celebrate the iconography of the 500-Mile Race. Since 2019, the logo has featured the bricks, the checkered flag, the Pagoda, the winner's wreath, the famed oval and Victory Podium.

Fans renewing their tickets to the Indianapolis 500 and/or Sonsio Grand Prix Race Day also can order additional Month of May products at the lowest prices available during the renewal period. Those products include:

- Month of May practice and qualification day tickets
- Bronze Badges
- Indianapolis 500 Victory Celebration presented by

Gainbridge tickets

- Miller Lite Carb Day tickets and concert upgrades
- Coors Lite Snake Pit wristbands

- Parking (including ADA parking) and camping passes

Those who take advantage of the renewal period also will have priority for ticket upgrades and are eligible for presale offers for IMS and partner events.

All renewal customers can visit ims.com/Reform for more information.

Fans who didn't attend IMS during this Month of May but are planning to attend in May 2025 can apply for tickets now at the lowest prices of the year. Visit ims.com/apply for more information.

Hamilton Heights senior Sam Dawson has signed a letter of intent to play basketball for the University of Saint Francis Cougars in Fort Wayne. Dawson (seated) is pictured with Sam Haymaker, Mary Ann Haymaker, and Jim Dawson.

Heights' Dawson signs to play basketball with University of Saint Francis

Submitted

Sam Dawson, Hamilton Heights senior, has signed a letter of intent to play basketball for the University of Saint Francis in Fort Wayne this fall. The University of Saint Francis is a member of the Crossroads League and a NAIA athletic institution. He is the son of Mary Ann and Sam Haymaker and Jim Dawson.

"I liked the small school environment," said Sam Dawson, after his visit to the University of Saint Francis campus. "I really like the university's values and focus on faith. After meeting with the coaches and team, I knew that this is where I wanted to be." Dawson plans to study business administration and pursue an MBA to seek a career as a surgical sales representative.

Dawson has been passionate about basketball since the time he first picked up a basketball around the age of five. He played year-round as a member of the Hamilton Heights Huskies basketball team and AAU. He said lots of hard work, practice, and playing on both teams was a great experience that helped prepare him for the opportunity to play college basketball.

Dawson, the recipient of the John & Deliah Lewis Award and Hugh O'Bryan Leadership Presidential Award, also participated in Unified Football and Unified Track. He is as strong in the classroom as he is on the court. He is an officer with the National Honor Society, is a HOBY Youth Leadership Ambassador, serves on the Hamilton Heights Athletic Council, a Peer Mentor for sixth-grade students, Cadet Teacher, and member of the Cicero Christian Church.

He credits his parents for their support and influence in his development as a student athlete. "They have taken me all over for lessons, games, camps, etc.," he added. "They have always supported me and my dream to play basketball. I also appreciate for all the help from Coach Ballenger as well as my trainers and teammates over the years."

"I am really excited for Sam to get the opportunity to continue his basketball career," said Chad Ballenger, Head Varsity Boys Basketball Coach, Hamilton Heights High School. "He has worked as hard as any player in our program over the years to give him an opportunity to play at the next level. His senior year he faced some adversity early in the season with a broken wrist. He rehabbed hard and was able to come back, but it definitely had an impact on how he played. But he stayed committed to his team and teammates to finish the year. I am looking forward to watching him grow and flourish as a player at the next level."

"We are very excited for Sam and the opportunity he has to continue his basketball career at the next level," added Kurt Ogden, Hamilton Heights High School Athletic Director. "He has been a model student/athlete at Hamilton Heights and a pleasure to watch the past four years. We wish him the best at the University of Saint Francis."

"I am thankful for the opportunity to play at the next level," noted Dawson.

Indianapolis 500 purse soars to new heights

Back-to-back winner Newgarden receives largest payout in '500' history

Submitted by IMS

The Indianapolis 500 purse record was shattered for the third year in a row after a weather-delayed 108th Running of the Indianapolis 500 presented by Gainbridge, with two-time race winner Josef Newgarden of Team Penske earning $4.288 million from a total purse of $18,456,000.

After record-breaking payouts in 2022 and 2023, this is the largest purse and largest winner's payout in the century-plus history of "The Greatest Spectacle in Racing." The year's average payout for NTT INDYCAR SERIES drivers was $543,000, which also exceeds last year's average of $500,600.

In 2023, the Indianapolis 500 purse was $17,021,500, and the year's winner payout was $3.666 million. In 2022, the Indianapolis 500 purse was $16,000,200, and the winner earned $3.1 million. Prior to 2022, the largest Indianapolis 500 purse was $14.4 million for the 2008 Indianapolis 500.

Second-place finisher Pato O'Ward of Arrow McLaren took home $1,050,500, exceeding the take-home prize for last year's second-place finisher.

"The Indianapolis 500 is the greatest race in the world, and this record-breaking purse is reflective of just how monumental competing in and winning at Indy is for these drivers," Penske Entertainment President and CEO Mark Miles said. "Despite weather challenges, the Month of May featured packed grandstands and intense on-track action. Presenting this purse is the ideal end cap to an epic month."

NASCAR Cup Series champion Kyle Larson earned Indianapolis 500

Josef Newgarden received the largest payout for an Indianapolis 500 winner Monday night at the race's Victory Banquet. Newgarden earned $4.288 million, including a $440,000 rollover bonus for his back-to-back wins.

Rookie of the Year honors for his performance during the Month of May. Larson, driving for Arrow McLaren/Rick Hendrick, made his first attempt to complete "The Double," by racing both the 108th Indianapolis 500 presented by Gainbridge and the NASCAR Cup Series Coca-Cola 600. Larson earned a $50,000 bonus for being named Rookie of the Year, adding to a total take-home prize of $178,000.

The Indianapolis 500 purse consists of Indianapolis Motor Speedway and NTT INDYCAR SERIES awards, plus other designated and special awards. Purse awards are presented annually at the Victory Celebration, held this year at the JW Marriott in downtown Indianapolis Monday night.

Newgarden's purse included a $440,000 rollover bonus from BorgWarner for earning back-to-back wins in the "The Greatest Spectacle in Racing." The jackpot increases by $20,000 each year but has only been awarded one other time since its inception when Helio Castroneves won the Indy 500 in both 2001 and 2002.

The next NTT INDYCAR SERIES race is the Chevrolet Detroit Grand Prix presented by Lear on Sunday, June 2 on the streets of Downtown Detroit. The race will be broadcast live on USA Network, Peacock and the INDYCAR Radio Network starting at noon.
