Carmel boy hopes to be youngest to complete 100-mile trail race

By ADAM PINSKER
 WISH-TV | wistv.com

Gabriel B. Abbott is an eighth grader with a big goal in front of him.

"Every day, somebody is walking up to me and being like, 'Hey, are you running the 100-miler?' And I'm like 'Yeah, that's me.'"

That 100-miler is a trail run course that is part of the Run Woodstock event taking place today and Saturday in Gregory, Mich.

Gabriel is on the Clay Middle School cross country team, and he practices religiously, but running on a flat surface isn't the same as trail running.

"You really got to watch your step because there are roots on the ground," Gabriel said.

The race starts at 2 p.m. today, Sept. 6. Gabriel will have 30 hours to complete the 100-mile course.

"My dad came up to me one day, and was like, 'Hey, if you do this when you are 12 years old, you can get a world record.'"

Gabriel J. Abbott, Gabriel's father, said he did the research and applied to the Guinness Book of World Records.

"There is a process for getting in," Gabriel Sr. said. "You have to document everything you do. Video documentation. That's the only reason why I'm doing this race with him, so I can actually do the documentation part of it. And then you have to submit your evidence that you actually did the record."

Starting today, Gabriel B. Abbott (above left) is going for a new world record as the youngest runner to complete the 100-miler. He will be joined by his dad (above right).

Gabriel Sr. also enjoys running, and his son has been his running mate for a few years, but there is more to racing than just being fast.

"He could come out and train with me and run with me a bit, he enjoyed that," Gabriel Sr. said. "But I think what really got him interested is seeing me set a goal, and then going out, putting in the work, and achieving."

Gabriel Sr. says it's a lesson that no goal is too big or too small, no matter how young or old you are.

"Honestly, I think he'll hold this record for a very short time," Gabriel Sr. said. "I think some 11-year-old kid will see this news report and say, 'Wait, that kid is 12? I run pretty good. I want to take a crack at that.'"

It will take the Guinness Book of World Records a few months to certify Gabriel's record.

Rock the boat & start a new hobby

One piece of advice I've heard about the empty nester stage of life is that it's helpful to adopt a new hobby. Trying something different takes your mind off your worries as your children begin adulthood and helps you miss them a little less.

AMY SHANKLAND
Perfectly Imperfect

Last year, my husband John suggested getting our own kayaks so we could explore the many waterways of central Indiana and beyond. I loved this idea, but we bought our used ones a little late in the season to try them out.

When the spring of 2024 arrived, my father-in-law, Ron, was in hospice. When he passed last April, I knew we had many weekends ahead of us where we'd be out of town.

We had Ron's celebration of life in June followed by multiple work sessions to get his house and property ready to be put on the market. We worked with John's brother, his wife, and other family members and friends and we now have an accepted offer!

So, to me, our summer – and subsequent kayaking – really began in August. John and I did our research and decided to start with the canoe launch on Morse Reservoir at Red Bridge Park in Cicero. Great choice! The launch was close to the parking lot and made it easy to get in and out of the water.

We traveled northwest that afternoon and had a delightful time seeing the wildlife all around us.

Buoyed by this success (pun intended), we figured we'd try kayaking on the White River over Labor Day weekend. This was ... not so easy. In fact, my brain hurt trying to plan what steps to take to efficiently park one vehicle at the start and one at the end without a ton of "back and forth." Thankfully John easily figured it all out.

And, we had an angel from White River Canoe Company direct us to a great starting

New art gallery wall to be installed at Westfield Library building

The REPORTER

The Westfield Library Foundation has announced the opening of the Michael and Karen Heaton Art Gallery Wall at the newly constructed Westfield Washington Public Library. Located in several prominent areas throughout the library, the Art Gallery Wall will offer a dynamic space for exhibiting and selling art from local artists.

"Our goal is to enrich the community's cultural landscape and provide a platform for local artists to shine," WLF Executive Director Erin Downey said. "Art has the power to inspire, provoke thought, and connect us. We're thrilled to offer this unique opportunity to showcase and celebrate the creativity of local artists."

The gallery will be located throughout the library including the large wall by Rivet at the Library Café, the staircase leading toward the Atrium, and next to the elevator. The library is looking to fill the space with an array of mediums, including, but not limited to, photography, paintings, and mixed media.

Indiana American Water schedules main flushing in Noblesville beginning Sunday

The REPORTER

Indiana American Water will conduct water main flushing in the Noblesville service area beginning overnight on Sunday, Sept. 8 and continuing through Tuesday, Sept. 10 in the downtown area from 10 p.m. to 6 a.m.

Flushing of the remaining areas of Noblesville and northern parts of Fishers will start on Wednesday, Sept. 11 and run through Friday, Nov. 22 on weekdays from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The company conducts the annual maintenance program to assure high-quality water service and to ensure fire hydrants are operational.

According to Noblesville Senior Operations Superintendent Greg Stephens, "Water main and fire hydrant flushing is an important part of a regular maintenance program for water distribution systems. Indiana American Water consistently meets or exceeds all drinking water standards."

No interruptions in water service are anticipated as a result of the work. Customers may experience a slight drop in water pressure or temporary water discoloration while this program is underway. Customers should refrain from doing laundry during the time of day the flushing program is taking place in or near their neighborhood.

If your tap water is discolored, Indiana American Water recommends running the cold water taps only, at the lowest level of the house for about three to five minutes until the water clears. Using more than one faucet allows the water to clear more quickly.

The water main flushing will be performed by Indiana American Water crews. They will be working out of trucks identified with the company logo. All employees will also have photo ID badges. In addition, customers can log into their MyWater account to sign up for direct messages for emergencies, service interruptions or routine maintenance in their area.

ROCK THE BOAT

point last Sunday – Riverwood Canoe Landing. We never got the bus driver’s name but appreciate her knowledge and kindness!

Despite the heavy rains Friday night through Saturday morning, the river was quite low. We often got stuck on the rocks at various points throughout the trip. Poor John got stopped more than I did – he is, after all, a man and weighs more than me.

While we did have some fun and laughs, this experience taught us that it might be better to try the river next spring after some good rains.

I’m sure we’ll get in a couple more trips before it gets too cold this fall ... my more experienced friend Heather sent me a great list of other possibilities on central Indiana lakes that we’ll try out.

We love this new hobby. It gives us terrific exercise and gets us out in nature – two incredible mood boosters.

If you’re struggling as an empty nester, I encourage you to explore something new and be open to both the fun and the challenges. You may hit some “rocks” along the way, but you’ll learn a lot and experience so much joy.

Update No. 134

The Indiana Secured School Safety Board recently approved the distribution of more than $24 million to support school safety initiatives in all 92 counties.

The Secured School Safety Grant program, a dedicated state fund that provides matching grants to schools and districts, is administered by the Indiana Department of Homeland Security. Hamilton Heights has been a recipient of these funds in the past and we anticipate that we will be among the 499 schools/districts to receive some of this funding again this year.

Speaking of safety, one of our top priorities is to ensure a safe school environment for learning and teaching. This is a 24-hour-a-day, seven-day-a-week responsibility. We have created protocols and best practices designed to protect lives and support all aspects of the safety and well-being of our students and staff.

With school back in session, I wanted to share that we have a comprehensive and multitiered safety plan that addresses all hazards that may affect our schools. We routinely review our procedures and perform safety drills with students throughout the year and are always working to improve our training and procedures.

Our coordinated safety and support system addresses facilities, school climate, the social and emotional domain, behavioral and mental health and wellness, emergency preparedness, and crisis intervention and response. It includes collaboration with community, county, and state organizations; conducting behavioral threat assessments; and the implementation of a multi-hazard approach to prevent, prepare for, respond to, and recover from emergency/crisis situations. We have inhouse trained safety specialists, onsite school resource officers, created individual building plans and safety committees, and strong partnerships with local law enforcement, first responders, fire departments, hospitals, and other agencies who will respond to emergencies within our schools.

While schools remain among the safest places for children, we know there is always the possibility of a crisis, act of violence, threat, or emergency. We assess and then react to determine what action is needed. We will communicate as soon as possible with information or a directive.

Of course, timing is everything – too soon and without the pertinent facts can cause a panic. Not soon enough can also cause a rub, so I ask for your grace and confidence that when these situations arise the driving factor for the decisions we ultimately make always revolve around your child's and our staff's safety.

The very best way to keep our schools safe and prevent acts of violence from occurring is to build relationships and keep open lines of communication. Be kind. Be alert. If you see something that doesn't look or feel right, say something.

Protecting our children and each other is a shared responsibility and something in which we should all be deeply invested.

Entrusting us with teaching, protecting, and supporting your students is a privilege and a responsibility we uphold daily with great diligence and care. We appreciate your working with us, proactively, to support student safety and wellbeing every day.

Indiana Artisan Gallery to hold Student Art Show for upcoming Carmel International Arts Festival

The REPORTER

Rosalyn Demaree, Executive Director of Indiana Artisan Gallery, will offer an entire section in the gallery for the Carmel International Arts Festival (CIAF) Student Art Show on Sept. 28 and 29. For the third consecutive year, Indiana Artisans will sponsor two popular "People's Choice Awards" ($500 each).

"The community is always so responsive to this event, and everyone enjoys the opportunity to vote for their favorite artwork entry," Demaree said. "Hosting the student art show and participating in the Carmel International Arts Festival is a highlight of the year for us."

Art Department Chairs Jenn Bubp at Carmel High School and Tasha Barger at University High School

say they expect to submit over 100 art entries for the student scholarship competition. The original artwork will include various media forms including charcoal drawings, pencil sketches, pastels, oil paintings, watercolors, acrylics, photography, jewelry, sculptures, textiles, and more.

Both teachers agree that displaying their works in a known gallery helps students' artistic talents to flourish and gives the local community a chance to interact.

CIAF will take place Sep. 28 and 29 in the Carmel Arts & Design District. Nearly 150 artists are expected this year, with various vendors and over 30,000 attendees. For more information, visit CarmelArtsFestival.org.

Standard & Poor's increases Noblesville Schools' credit rating

District is now one of top four highest ranked in state

The REPORTER

Standard & Poor's (S&P) has increased its rating for Noblesville Schools for the second time in two years, boosting its previous AA- rating to AA.

The ratings increase establishes Noblesville Schools as one of the top four school districts in the state for financial management, with the same rating as Carmel Clay Schools, Zionsville Community Schools and Hamilton Southeastern Schools.

S&P noted that the increased rating reflected Noblesville Schools' track record of delivering consistently strong financial operations, while simultaneously lowering the tax rate annually for the past six years.

"We take our responsibility to manage the community's tax dollars seriously and are always looking for ways to lower costs, create efficiencies, and increase our cash reserves while best serving students," Noblesville Schools Chief Financial Officer David Hortemiller said.

"The most important outcome of this ratings increase is that it means lower borrowing costs for our residents."

In addition to the overall AA financial rating, the district was further recognized as AA+ for its long-term debt management.

S&P is a global credit ratings agency that publishes financial research and analysis on stocks, bonds, and commodities.

Letter to the Editor

Our state highway medians need immediate attention

Dear Editor:

On a recent trip to Evansville, I wondered aloud if the tall grass and weeds in the state highway medians was a local problem or was it widespread. Conversations with friends and relatives quickly confirmed the problem is not just confined to southern Indiana. To me personally as a lifelong resident of Indiana, this situation is very embarrassing.

The weeds not only obscure the views of animals and other vehicles, but they are also downright unsightly, spreading invasive seeds throughout. This dangerous scenario is uncalled for. If you let your personal property look like this, there is a good chance you will receive a letter warning you of the consequences – possibly a fine, too.

Unfortunately, the problems are not only the medians, but tree branches also block large informational signs and intersection triangles are weed-filled and littered with trash and debris.

With Indiana being "The Crossroads of America," is this the image that we want travelers to remember when they travel through our state?

According to a press release from the Indiana State Comptroller's Office, our state had a $2.9 billion tax surplus in 2023. We can do better, and I urge each citizen to reach out to our state legislators to address this immediate danger.

Hamilton County GOP legislators: applications now open for 2025 Statehouse internships

The REPORTER

Applications to intern with Indiana House Republicans for the 2025 legislative session are now open, according to area lawmakers.

House Speaker Todd Huston (R-Fishers) said the Indiana House of Representatives offers a spring semester internship at the Statehouse in Indianapolis during the legislative session, which will start in January and conclude in April. House interns earn $900 biweekly and work full time, Monday through Friday.

"This internship paves the way for students to skill up and make professional connections," Huston said. "Many House interns land great careers in government and the private sector or unlock other internship opportunities. No matter your major, this program can be a launching point for your future."

State Rep. Chris Jeter (R-Fishers) said internships are open to college students and recent graduates of all majors. Interns get free parking, career and professional development assistance, enrollment access to an Indiana government class, and opportunities to earn academic credits through their college or university.

"Whether you're interested in helping constituents navigate state government, or you enjoy conducting in-depth research or working with the media, there is something for everyone in our internship program," Jeter said. "This is a great opportunity, and interested students and recent grads in our community should apply soon."

State Rep. Chuck Goodrich (R-Noblesville) said interns are also eligible to apply for a competitive $3,000 scholarship to use toward undergraduate and graduate expenses.

"In today's competitive workforce, having an internship on your resume will set you apart from other individuals applying for any role," Goodrich said. "This program helps students apply what they're learning in the classroom in a fast-paced and professional environment."

State Rep. Donna Schaibley (R-Carmel) said the program offers opportunities for students to work in various departments related to their studies, including legislative operations, policy and communications.

"Employers value and look for the skills job candidates gain through programs like this," Schaibley said. "A Statehouse internship is a great addition to any resume and connects young professionals with leaders in both the private and public sectors."

"Interns will have the opportunity to work with state officials and expand their professional network, which can be beneficial for their job search," said State Rep. Jerry Torr (R-Carmel). "I encourage young Hoosiers to apply for this unique experience to build their resume."

Applications are available online at indianahouserepublicans.com/internship and are due by Oct. 31.

See viral violinist Lindsey Stirling live at new Fishers Event Center Nov. 29

Submitted

Lindsey Stirling, viral premier electronic violinist, dancer, and aerialist, is tuning up her bow for the holidays. The multi-platinum-selling musician-composer is ready to embark on her North American Snow Waltz Tour 2024, a 21-date trek that brings her to the new Fishers Event Center on Friday, Nov. 29.

Tickets for The Snow Waltz Tour 2024 go on sale at 10 a.m. Friday, Sept. 6 at FishersEventCenter.com. VIP will be available at 10 a.m. at this link. VIP includes great experiences including front-row seating, a meet and greet, some new merch and an invitation to a pre-show experience, "Ice Storm." There, fans can check out a Christmas gallery featuring costumes and memorabilia curated by Stirling, a special "Sleigh Ride" photo op, and so much more.

The tour, which gets its name from Stirling's 2022 chart-topping Snow Waltz album, promises to be theatrical, eclectic, high-energy, and at least a little bit whimsical. Stirling mixes dance and acrobatics into her unique interpretations of holiday staples such as "Sleigh Ride," "Joy to the World," and "Deck the Halls" plus a few originals. Her concert performances take their cues from the 14-track Snow Waltz, which isn't your everyday Christmas album.

"I put a little bit of spookiness into it," she said during an appearance on The Kelly Clarkson Show. "I'm a big fan of The Nightmare Before Christmas as well as Harry Potter, which I feel like marries a little bit of that magic and spooky."

That is quintessential Stirling, an artist who stylishly blends sonics with visuals – from her arresting mixture of pop, classical, hip-hop and electronica, to her meticulous attention to impactful, thematic album, and video artwork. Artistically, she defies categorization. You can easily find her studio efforts at the top of Billboard's Classical Albums chart, the Top Dance Electronic Album chart, and the all-genre Billboard 200 list. She is the rare artist, especially in the new millennium, to have amassed instrumental AC radio hits, particularly from her pair of Christmas albums – "Dance of the Sugar Plum Fairy" and "Carol of the Bells" from Warmer in the Winter. "Carol of the Bells" was the first instrumental to chart in the top 5 in radio. Additional notable songs include "Joy to the World" and "Sleigh Ride" from Snow Waltz.

Her latest studio release, 2024's Duality, is yet another experimental opus that embraces Stirling's indie music spirit, featuring guests such as Royal & the Serpent and Walk Off the Earth. Stirling makes brilliant use of Duality's extravagant soundscape by exploring intricate questions of intuition and truth. "Eye Of The Untold Her" was used in Suni Lee's gold & bronze medal winning floor routines during the Paris summer Olympics.

Stirling stays on the pulse of social media as well, amassing more than 14 million subscribers and nearly three billion views on YouTube, over four million followers on TikTok, and more than 3.8 million on Instagram. It's no wonder that Forbes placed her at No. 4 on its 2015 World's Top-Earning YouTube Stars list.

In a career spanning more than a decade, Stirling has sold more than one million headlining concert tickets. She also sold over 15,000 digital tickets for her live-streamed Christmas special in 2021, which was seen by more than 100,000 fans.

Noblesville Creates announces September's featured artists

The REPORTER
 Noblesville Creates is welcoming John Dierdorf's My Floral Studies exhibit, an exhibit of Artist Members, and Gal's Guide Library's Things We Found in Books exhibit in Noblesville City Hall among its other artists of the month in September.

Details on My Floral Studies, the Members Only Exhibit, and Things We Found in Books, as well as information on the September artist exhibit dates and receptions, are available below.

Stephenson House
 John Dierdorf

Nature might be seen as a constant balancing act between structure and disorder. Much like art, flora can be perfectly manicured or expressed in more intuitive, wild ways.

Artist John Dierdorf enjoys taking inspiration from the natural world in his home garden when working on his Abstract Expressionist paintings. His September exhibit at Noblesville Creates' Stephenson House Gallery, My Floral Studies, will include multiple views of flowers from his garden, still lifes, and abstract interpretations.

Dierdorf is a retired architect, having graduated from Ball State University's College of Architecture. He recounts that those years included design classes to study how to create buildings, functional interiors, and exterior spaces between and around buildings; how to be a curious observer of his surroundings; how light and shadow impart character; and how these environments will affect people.

Following university, he had a full-fledged career as an architect and a part-time interest in fine arts. He drew inspiration from Robert Indiana when he created large scale acrylic paintings with hard-edged images. He also photographed subjects of note, such as buildings, architectural details, flowers, and landscapes.

"My professional career replaced my time for creative painting for a number of years until 2009 when the brushes were once again in hand, working to refine my style," Dierdorf noted. Once retired, he began deeply exploring his love for painting. Painters like Monet, Miro, Kandinsky, and Pollock all played a large influence as he discovered his artistic style.

Noblesville Creates, originally Nickel Plate Arts, was founded in the same stretch of years. Dierdorf said he fondly remembers his early involvement in the organization as a board member. He observed and guided the group as it grew into a local resource for emerging artists.

"Engaging Noblesville, Fishers, and Hamilton County to the importance of art to enhance their communities has been wonderful to watch," he said.

Alongside his artistic achievements, he counts helping his children grow and thrive and building relationships with clients to be his biggest accomplishments.

Dierdorf's current style continues to be a developing exploration of "loose, spontaneous, impactful brushstrokes" that capture images of lush gardens, charming scenery, and more. He notes that some of his favorite places in Hamilton County are "the back porch at my art studio, the patio in our garden, and multiple golf courses." Visitors can expect to walk into My Floral Studies and view dynamic and vibrant acrylic paintings that reflect these places and his ongoing practice in style.

The full exhibit, My Floral Studies, can be seen in the Stephenson House from Sept. 6 to 28, Wednesday through Friday from noon to 5 p.m., and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Visitors can meet Dierdorf at his First Friday open house reception from 5 to 8 p.m. on Sept. 21 on the Noblesville Creates on 8th campus.

Judge Stone House

Artist Members
 Noblesville Creates shines a spotlight on its Artist Members in this annual exhibit, the Members Only Exhibit. This annual exhibit shines a spotlight on Learn, Promote, Showcase, and Lead level Artist Members.

Artist Members lift each other up, advance the communities they take part in, and are incredibly talented. They hold offices, raise families, sing, dance, paint, sculpt, weave, weld, carve, draw, cook, photograph, film, act, and so much more. September is all about celebrating them in their artistic glory.

The Members Only Exhibit can be seen from Sept. 6 to 28 in the Judge Stone House gallery. The Noblesville Creates on 8th campus is open Wednesday through Friday from noon to 5 p.m. and Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Noblesville City Hall Gal's Guide Library

Have you ever lost a receipt, a note to yourself, or another piece of memorabilia? Chances are you might have forgotten them in a book. The Gal's Guide Library is exhibiting all the quirky bits and bobs folks have left behind in their donated books in its August exhibit, Things We Found in Books, which is moving from the Judge Stone House on the Noblesville Creates on 8th campus to Noblesville City Hall during the month of September.

Gal's Guide Library is open for viewing through Sept. 27. Noblesville City Hall is open to the public from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Four Day Ray

Mark Rouse
 The full exhibit, The Thrill of Victory, can be seen through Sept. 27 at Four Day Ray Brewing, 11671 Lantern Road, Fishers, Sunday and Monday from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m., Tuesday through Thursday from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m., and Friday and Saturday from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Meyer Najem

Marianne Glick
 See the full exhibit, Old, New, Borrowed, and Blue, through Sept. 27. This exhibit is viewable at the Meyer Najem 2nd floor gallery, located at 11787 Lantern Road in Fishers, Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Nancy Elizabeth (Wilson) Myers
 May 14, 1952 – August 29, 2024

Nancy Elizabeth (Wilson) Myers, 72, Indianapolis, passed away peacefully in her home on August 29, 2024. She was born in Red Wing, Minn., on May 14, 1952, daughter of Alfred Everett Wilson and Marianne Lois (Whalen) Wilson.

Nancy Myers was an avid gardener and birdwatcher. She was a member of the Indiana Birdwatchers Association and Master Gardeners Association. She graduated from the IU School of Nursing and worked at Wishard Hospital. She became a realtor after leaving nursing and worked for Tucker Real Estate.

While she had worked as a nurse and realtor throughout her early life, she later found a new calling in studying the natural world. Her beautiful yard was a sanctuary for birds, possums, squirrels, chipmunks, butterflies, and all wildlife lived happily together. It was a Backyard Wildlife Habitat certified by the National Wildlife Federation.

She was married to Dr. Robert A. Munsick until his passing in 1999 and resided on the north side of Indianapolis for many decades.

Her independent spirit shined through her creative work and home life. In addition to her parents, Nancy was preceded in death by her nephews, Greg Wilson and Paul Michael Wilson.

Survivors include brothers, Wayne A. Wilson, Gary D. Wilson, and David Wilson; nieces, Shannon Weides, Mallorie Wilson, and Christy Dye; nephews, Brandon Wilson and Ryan Wilson; great-nieces, Kelsey Simpson and Harper Wilson; and great-nephew, Cuyler Weides. Nancy also dedicated many years to the care and rescue of cats leaving behind several feline children: Coco, Mattie, and Mickey.

A special thanks to whom we are eternally grateful to Cherie Woodring and David Stancel.

Family and friends will gather at 1 p.m. Saturday, September 14, 2024, at Bussell Family Funerals, 1621 E. Greyhound Pass, Carmel, where the Funeral Service will begin at 3 p.m.

The family has requested donations in memory of Nancy be given to Indiana Wildlife Federation, P.O. Box 55245, Indianapolis, IN 46205.

Bussell Family Funerals is privileged to assist the family in arrangements. Condolences: bussellfamilyfunerals.com

Sharen Kay Ritchie

August 21, 1953 – September 2, 2024

Sharen Kay Ritchie, 71, Carmel, was called to her heavenly home on September 2, 2024. She was born on August 21, 1953, in Washington State. As a young girl she moved to California where she resided until she was an adult. Sharen was preceded in death by her mother.

Sharen loved God from the time she was a child. This love of Christ led her to move to Ohio where she could help spread the Gospel of Christ to those around her. She served in ministry in Ohio for several years before settling in Indiana. Throughout her life, Sharen worked in several service and sales industries. At the age of 12, she actually managed a hotel! After moving to Indiana, Sharen worked as head cashier at the Carmel Marsh on the night shift. This would make perfect sense as Sharen was a night owl! She retired from Marsh and began cleaning homes and churches. She took great pride in her work.

Sharen had a wonderful sense of humor and genuinely loved all the people in her life. In the Spring of 2023, Sharen became a faithful member of Faith Apostolic Church and will be greatly missed by the entire congregation.

A Worship Service and Celebration of Sharen's life was held Wednesday, September 4, 2024, at Faith Apostolic Church, 1212 E. 116th St., Carmel.

One of the greatest joys in Sharen's life was generously giving her offering to support the missionaries who would continue spreading the Gospel of Christ to many foreign lands. Each week she looked forward to attending church, especially on Sundays.

In lieu of flowers, and in honor and memory of Sharen, please consider donating to the same missionaries that Sharen supported. This can be done by sending a check to Faith Apostolic Church. In the memo line, include missionaries.

Bussell Family Funerals is privileged to care for Sharen. Condolences: bussellfamilyfunerals.com

The Reporter's policy on obituaries

The Hamilton County Reporter does not charge families for publishing obituary notices in our pages. Every obituary appearing in online editions Wednesday through Saturday also appears in our Monday print editions. Families and funeral homes are asked to send obituaries to obits@ReadTheReporter.com.

Dave M. Carrington

Sept. 30, 1972 – Aug. 30, 2024

Dave M. Carrington, 51, Sheridan, passed away suddenly in his home on Aug. 30, 2024. He was born in Stanley, Wis., on Sept. 30, 1972, to Mark R. Carrington and Yvonne M. (Ludvik) Carrington-Buss.

Dave adored his children and all who surrounded him. He was effortlessly compassionate, and everyone who knew him has a story of him showing up in their time of need. Dave was already a guardian spirit during his years here on Earth.

Dave's interest in design engineering began at 18 years old and his career of professional hobbyist at a young age. There was no project he couldn't get 90% done, allowing those close to him the opportunity to learn, while helping finish the remaining 10%.

You could find Dave in his workshop, behind a dungeon master trifold, on a soccer field (coaching or playing), on the victorious side of a Magic game, on the track behind the wheel of his Camaro, rehabilitating animals, in the front row of a concert, anywhere he could cheer on the Redskins, Liverpool, or his children, providing private guitar sessions, gardening, preparing beautiful meals – the list goes on and on. Dave loved using his many talents and skills to benefit others, for which he rarely even accepted a proper "thank you." He was the sort of guy that not only fit in anywhere but would light up any room he entered.

Dave is survived by his mother and stepfather, Yvonne M. Carrington-Buss and Mark D. Buss; his partner and her daughter, April M. and Danielle L. Deuschle; his paternal siblings, Evan D., Auriana T., and Breylen R. Carrington; his children, Dominique M., Daniel J., and Dylan M. Carrington; also, his other-species children, Tessa the Great Dane, Bella the Ori Pei, Finn the Pug, Charlie the turtle, and a couple generations of wondrous fish.

Dave was preceded in death by his maternal grandparents, Joseph B. Ludvik and Patricia A. Salter; his paternal grandparents, Euel D. Carrington and Colleen C. (Clifford) Carrington; his father, Mark R. Carrington; as well as his dear brother, Brian J. Carrington. His family all find great peace in knowing Dave is reunited with his brother, loved ones, and his zoo of animals.

The celebration of life for Dave Carrington will be held on Friday, Sept. 6 at Cornerstone Lutheran Church Carmel, 4850 E. Main St. The visitation will be held at 10 a.m., followed by an 11:30 service.

In lieu of flowers the family asks to consider donations to the following causes: Noblesville Youth Soccer League, Kicking the Stigma, and Hope for the Day. Condolences: randallroberts.com

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

THE PASSOVER AND THE FESTIVAL OF UNLEAVENED BREAD

"Obey these instructions as a lasting ordinance for you and your descendants. When you enter the land that the Lord will give you as he promised, observe this ceremony. And when your children ask you, 'What does this ceremony mean to you?' then tell them, 'It is the Passover sacrifice to the Lord, who passed over the houses of the Israelites in Egypt and spared our homes when he struck down the Egyptians.'" Then the people bowed down and worshiped. The Israelites did just what the Lord commanded Moses and Aaron.

At midnight the Lord struck down all the firstborn in Egypt, from the firstborn of Pharaoh, who sat on the throne, to the firstborn of the prisoner, who was in the dungeon, and the firstborn of all the livestock as well. Pharaoh and all his officials and all the Egyptians got up during the night, and there was loud wailing in Egypt, for there was not a house without someone dead.

Fishers wins five-set battle with Noblesville, Royals sweep Avon for first conference win

By RICHIE HALL
sports@readthereporter.com

NOBLESVILLE – The Noblesville and Fishers volleyball teams battled their way through five sets Thursday at The Mill, with the Tigers prevailing to stay unbeaten in Hoosier Crossroads Conference action.

Fishers edged out the Millers 21-25, 25-18, 25-20, 20-25, 15-10. It was a hard-fought match, with the Tigers going on late runs in each of three sets they won to seal the victory.

The Tigers went on an 11-1 run in the fifth set to take a 13-5 lead. Senior Ellen Roberts put down a kill to begin the run, then senior Juliana Kellogg later hit back-to-back aces. Sophomore Milana Mays hit four kills in the set.

Fishers led 14-7, setting up several match points. The Millers saved three of them, all courtesy of kills by Ashlynn Turner. But the Tigers converted their fourth match point to get the win.

“It’s nice that when the backs are against the wall and it’s a decisive set that we play our best,” said Fishers coach Steven Peek. “We had two aces, we had a great block, we had Milana get four kills, all in the fifth set. Some of our best, most consistent serving was the fifth set.”

Noblesville led 13-8 in the first set, including an ace by sophomore Piper Endris, then Turner struck again with a kill to put the Millers up 14-9. Noblesville was able to stay comfortably in front for the remainder of the set.

The second and third sets were both close until Fishers pulled away late in both sets. The Tigers were up 11-8 in the second set before Madison Brown’s net tip and an ace by Kennedy Lutz helped tie the set at 11-11.

But with the score tied at 14-14, the Tigers went on an 8-1 spurt to lead 22-15. Isabella Bowman hit two kills during the run, and Ella Dragoo, Aubree Valcourt and Ava Gutt all put down kills as well. Gutt made the kill on set point.

In the third set, the score was again tied 14-14 before Fishers jumped ahead 16-14. A run of three straight points got the Tigers up 22-17, including a Dragoo ace. Fishers fought off some resistance from Noblesville, and Tinch dumped a pass over the net on set point to give the Tigers the third set.

The Millers turned the tables in the fourth set, when they broke out of a 15-15 tie to score four straight points. Turner hit a kill for the first point, then Lutz and Turner each hit a kill. Miranda Bledsoe served an ace and Noblesville led 19-15. The Millers won the set when Chloe Macias served an ace.

Noblesville led 4-2 in the fifth set before Fishers made its run.

“They got on a run, and it was difficult to crawl out of that,” said Noblesville coach Joe Marcum.

Roberts and Gutt each hit 11 kills for Fishers, with Mays putting down seven. Tinch dished out 23 assists, while Ava Tester handed out 16. Tinch collected 15 digs, Kellogg had 14 and Tester made 13 digs. Valcourt totaled five blocks and Kellogg served three aces.

Turner led Noblesville with 12 kills, followed by 11 for Lauren Flynn. Lutz made 16 digs, Maggie Hall collected 15 and Macias served two aces.

Fishers is 2-0 in HCC play and 9-3 overall. The Tigers will play in the Providence Invitational on Saturday. Noblesville is 0-2 in the conference and 4-2 overall; the Millers’ next match is Monday at McCutcheon.

Hamilton Southeastern picked up its first HCC win of the season with a home sweep of Avon Thursday.

The Royals won 25-14, 25-21, 25-17. Madison Miles led the hitting with 18 kills, while Lindsey Mangelson put down nine kills. Maye McConnell served six aces, with Mangelson adding another three aces.

Breana Morgan made two solo blocks. Ava Hunter dished out 22 assists, and McConnell collected 17 digs.

Southeastern is 1-1 in conference play and 7-1 overall. The Royals play at the Fort Wayne Carroll Invitational on Saturday, facing off against Belmont at 10 a.m. and the host Chargers at noon.

Hamilton Heights cruised to a Hoosier Conference victory over new league opponent Logansport on Thursday.

Westfield native ready to step up for Colts on Sunday if Matt Gay can't play

By ANDREW CHERNOFF
WISH-TV | wistv.com

The Indianapolis Colts are gearing up for their regular season opener.

The Colts host the Houston Texans on Sunday at 1 p.m. EDT inside Lucas Oil Stadium.

The status of two Colts players though remain a question mark entering the matchup.

Wide receiver Josh Downs did not practice on Wednesday or Thursday this week. He continues to recover after suffering a high ankle sprain last month.

Head coach Shane Steichen said on Wednesday that "we'll see" when it comes to Downs' status for the game.

"He's progressing really well though, I'll say that," Steichen said.

The other key player whose status remains a question mark is kicker Matt Gay. Gay confirmed on Wednesday that he recently underwent hernia surgery.

"The whole thing that went into this whole decision was timing and not wanting to let it prolong and get worse and miss more time later on," Gay said. "Being able to get it done now and take care of it now. And then obviously, you want to be smart and work your way back so you come back healthy and fully and you don't set yourself back."

Like Downs, Gay did not practice on Wednesday

Spencer Shrader lines up for a kick at practice on Wednesday.

or Thursday.

"Obviously, you want to be out there week one," Gay said. "I mean, it's a big game. Yeah, I want to be out there."

Should Gay miss the game, Spencer Shrader would take over kicking duties for the Colts.

The rookie was signed to the team's practice squad on Aug. 29. He was originally signed as an undrafted free agent in May before being waived on Aug. 25.

"I just feel so blessed honestly," Shrader said. "That's my biggest emotion. Just feeling blessed to be here. I just got another day. Hopefully Sunday comes for me, but, for now, I have today. So I'm just focusing on maximizing that."

Shrader saw some playing time during the Colts' final preseason game against the Bengals last month. In that contest, he was 2-of-2 on his field goal attempts, and also converted his two extra point attempts. One of the field goals he made was a 56-yarder.

"It goes to show that everything you know you can do in practice, you can also execute on the biggest stage," Shrader said. "So it helps you as a confidence booster. But it's not like I didn't know I wasn't capable of that to begin with."

Shrader is prepared should he need to step up in Gay's absence on Sunday.

"I'm always looking at ways to refine my routine and get a little bit better," Shrader said. "But yeah, it's mostly stayed the same with a couple tweaks here and there."

What makes this experience even more special for Shrader is that he is back home. The kicker grew up in Westfield, Ind. before he moved out of the state.

"It's so cool to be back," Shrader said. "To me, I believe that's a God thing. The fact that I ended up back here, close to friends and family back home. It's just been an unbelievable experience for me."

Shrader began his collegiate career at South Florida, where he played for four seasons. He transferred to Notre Dame for the 2023 season.

Brian Mason, who is currently the Colts special teams coordinator, was the special teams coordinator at Notre Dame during the 2022 season.

"He (Mason) had recruited me to Notre Dame," Shrader said. "So that is when I first made that connection and then (he) helped get me here (Indianapolis) as well."
