 And that's how Mayor Scott Saalman of Swingtown learned the lore of pineapples.

His pineapple shirt was a hit with the swingers

Last year, in anticipation of a much-needed escape to the Caribbean, Brynne surprised me with a few "fun" shirts to populate my wardrobe for the tropics.

My favorite was a Hawaiian-like button-down shirt patterned with colorful pineapples – upside-down ones, right-side up ones, some with eyeballs, some wearing reading glasses, others donning sunglasses.

It earned a surprising amount of favorable comments.

Originally, I thought my pineapple print shirt's popularity was due to the carefree fun it conveyed. The more people who favorably commented on it, the more that I began to feel like I had become the most interesting man on the island – despite a lifelong trail of evidence to the contrary. Several years ago, my immediate boss at that time actually nodded off during my annual performance review. I've never felt less significant.

I do like it when people compliment my shirts, especially T-shirts decorated with slogans and images that define my interests. It's a way to meet new people with similar curiosities.

Recently, I ordered a T-shirt advertising one of my favorite bands from the '70s, WAR. On the shirt's front is their iconic album cover for Why Can't We Be Friends? You know ... the one with the big gold-toothed grin. The one on my T-shirt included a marijuana cigarette dangling from the traditional smile. For the record, I've never smoked pot. But I love WAR. I find peace with WAR. Besides, it's illegal in Indiana. Pot, not WAR. I'm a law and order type of guy. Should a "Hoosier high" ever become legal, who knows ... maybe I'll find peace in pot while listening to WAR.

Unfortunately, as much as I love to wear my WAR T-shirt, it hasn't gotten anywhere near the response that my pineapple shirt received in St. Croix.

“Nice shirt,” I was told by a fellow vacationer.

“Love the shirt, man,” I was told by a waitress.

“My wife got it for me,” I responded each time the shirt got a compliment. I didn’t want to take credit from where credit was due. Brynne had surprised me with it. I’m sure there were plenty of crazy shirts to choose from on Temu. Apparently, she really wanted her man decked out in pineapples down on Fantasy Island.

“Wow, really? Your wife bought it?” the strangers responded, seeming even more interested knowing my wife had surprised me with it.

I interpreted their amazement to mean: What a fun couple!

We ARE a fun couple! A couple from Georgia joined us for brunch after one of them, also in pineapple attire, noticed my festive shirt. We were like twins. That we both wore pineapples in public seemed so funny that my new pineapple compadre and I posed for a photo.

I posted a few Facebook photos of me in my pineapple shirt – one with me and the other woman. It generated several likes. It felt good to be validated for wearing a shirt picked out for me by my wife. One FACEBOOK friend commented: “LOL.

You do know what a pineapple means?”

I’m a fun guy, that’s what it means, I thought. My wife and I are a fun couple!

Some FACEBOOK friends selected the “Haha” emoji in response to the “You do know what a pineapple means?” comment, which made me a bit uneasy, the way an outlier feels in the face of an inside joke – especially if the inside joke could be at his expense.

A quick Google search taught me more than I wanted to know about pineapples: “Pineapples are used as a secret symbol for swingers to identify each other. A pineapple badge, piece of clothing or stuck on someone’s door can mean they are looking for a partner swap or using it as an invitation to a swinger party.”

Swingers!

Was that why total strangers had been going out of their way to compliment my shirt?! Were they actually swingers who thought Brynne and I were swingers? Did we accidentally land on Swinger Island? I’d heard there are cruise ships for that – but a whole damned island!!!!

Steve Miller Band’s “Swingtown” immediately came to mind: “Come on and dance, come on and dance; we may not get another chance; you know the night is falling; and the music’s calling; and we’ve got to get down to Swingtown ...”

Suddenly, I felt like the de facto mayor of Swingtown!

I don’t swing. I’ve never swung. I don’t have swinger hips. I’m not sure it’s legal to swing in Indiana – though I hear Happy Hour is back. If invited to a neighborhood key party, I’d simply Uber there just to avoid the awkwardness of blindly fishing for someone else’s keychain from a fish bowl of sin.

My pineapple shirt suddenly lost any semblance to tropical island innocence. I decided that I better delete my Facebook post before someone – my daughter, for example – actually made some wiseass comment like, “Sleazy in the Islands.”

I looked up from Facebook and eyed Brynne, who was lounging on a hotel beach chair.

“About this pineapple shirt you bought me ... well ... it’s apparently quite popular down here.”

“Well, it’s definitely you,” she said.

“Yea, but not really.”

“Huh?”

“Honey,” I said. “About this shirt you picked out for me ... are you trying to tell me something?”

A problem delayed but not averted with Medicare Part D

Millions of people who are eligible for Medicare, but are still working past age 65, just dodged a bullet.

The new $2,000 cap on out-of-pocket Medicare Part D spending will have some unintended consequences. One will impact millions of people still working past age 65 with creditable coverage through their employer.

Creditable Coverage means that your drug coverage plan through your work insurance is "as good or better" than what Medicare Part D offers. Since most employer health plans lump the maximum you can spend on your medications in a year together with your other health costs, the government has kicked this can down the road. While this could have created a crisis for people with work insurance this year, it won't. But eventually, the government either changes the rules again or every employer group health plan will have to break out your maximum costs for medications. If the amount is over $2,000 your plan may not meet the creditable coverage guidelines.

SYLVIA GORDON
Make Sense of Medicare

When you are age 65 or older and do not have creditable coverage, you'll face a Medicare Part D late penalty. Be aware this is a pending issue for those working past age 65, but will not cause a problem in 2025.

Sylvia Gordon is known as Medicare Mama on social media. She and the Noblesville-based TheMedicare-Family.com have amassed nearly one million followers online where she teaches about Medicare, Social Security, and retirement.

All you need is the air that you breathe

"If you know the art of breathing you have the wisdom and courage of ten tigers."

— Chinese adage

Breathing ... if you are reading this you are most assuredly breathing! It is the most important job of our bodies, yet we seldom give thought to this necessary function.

Our first official act after leaving the womb is to — what — breathe! That most important activity is priority No. 1 in the delivery room! As our little bodies face the world, we actually begin life breathing correctly. (In this column, I will not address either child or adult breathing diseases and issues.)

Have you ever observed a baby or small child sleeping? If so, you probably noted the long, deep breaths that are a natural part of the intake of oxygen and the outflow of carbon dioxide. This is the natural breath for which our bodies are designed. This is the breath of those who are not stressed, not worried, not anxious. So what happened? Life, it seems ...

The next time you feel angry, stressed, or anxious, pay attention to your breathing. Chances are when negative emotions run high, your breaths become short and shallow. In fact, I would bet that many of us rarely take more than a couple of deep breaths during an entire day. Whether you experience stress, negative emotions, or physical pain, the body responds in a similar way every time and may include rapid heartbeat, tightening muscles, dilated pupils, and short, quick breaths. When these emotions or pains begin, the body starts pumping out the juices (namely adrenaline and cortisol) that fuel the responses and lead to shallow breathing.

SHARON McMAHON

So what exactly do deep breathing exercises do for you? When you learn to take deep, slow breaths your body reacts in many positive ways. Your muscles relax, oxygen delivery improves and you will notice improved mental concentration and physical stamina, your blood pressure lowers, endorphins are released which can help with pain relief, and detoxification improves which helps the lymphatic system function properly encouraging the release of harmful toxins. Proper breathing can also help your digestive tract, something that appeals to most of us! Breathing practice begins each of the FlexAbility classes I teach and enables us to both relax and focus our energy. (FlexAbility class will begin again at the Noblesville HEPL branch in January, with a special introductory class in early December. Stay tuned!)

When practicing deep breathing, remember to move the belly with the breath, breathing slowing and deeply from the diaphragm, which is the engine of breath. Keep your upper body quiet and the upper chest muscles soft. Expand your tummy as you inhale, let your tummy fall as you exhale. Lengthen your exhalation; when we are stressed our exhalations tend to grow short and choppy. Your exhalation should be slightly longer than your inhalation. Deep breathing can offer a mini-massage for the muscles and organs of your entire body, so make a point each day to practice deep, slow, and mindful breathing. Soon it will become a habit.

Like many of you, I have spent time this summer watching incredible Olympians perform amazing feats of athletics unlike anything we could imagine for ourselves. However young these incredible Olympians may be, we can actually have something in common with all of them. Proper breathwork gives them the focus, strength, concentration, and necessary oxygen levels to excel in their sport. As you watched them prepare to swim, run, jump and twirl, or whatever — they all practice their breathwork before their bodies engage. So that is one thing we can incorporate into our own "training" regimen! (Keep in mind that they practice proper stretching as well to help prevent injury.)

Breathe!

Carmel Christkindlmarkt now accepting applications for Christkind & Kulturecke Docent scholarships

The REPORTER

The Carmel Christkindlmarkt team is currently accepting applications to their 2024 Christkind and Kulturecke Docent scholarship programs.

The Christkind is a long-standing tradition of all authentic Christkindlmarkts. An angelic figure, the Christkind is known for delivering Christmas presents and a Christmas tree to German families without being seen. At Christmas markets, this iconic figure gives out candy, takes pictures with guests, and more.

For the program, applicants must fill out an application and answer this essay question:

The Christkind plays an integral role during Christmas in German-speaking countries and is an important part of the Carmel Christkindlmarkt. Research the origin and history of the Christkind, and discuss why this tradition remains relevant today and into the future.

Three winners will be selected in late October for the Christkind scholarship program. First place will receive a $1,000 scholarship, second place will receive a $500 scholarship, and third place will receive a $250 scholarship.

The program is open to high school and college students, and applications are due by Oct. 4.

The Kulturecke Docents participate in the Market by serving as a guide in the museum exhibit, the Kulturecke (Culture Corner). This scholarship program is also an essay contest, and applicants must fill out an application and answer this question:

German immigrants have made significant contributions to culture and traditions in the State of Indiana. In 500 words, describe a German cultural tradition that you see alive in the state today and why you think it has remained an impactful part of Hoosier living history.

This program will also feature three winners at the $1,000, $500, and $250 scholarship levels and is open to high school and college students. Applications are due by Oct. 11.

“We are proud to support local students through these two scholarship programs,” Carmel Christkindlmarkt President & CEO Maria Adele Rosenfeld said. “Our mission as an organization is to grow our guests’ cultural awareness around Ger-

September highlights
Wednesday, Sept. 18
at 7:30 p.m.

Hilbert Circle Theatre

Conductor and composer Steve Hackman returns this fall to bring his popular Uncharted Series to Hilbert Circle Theatre, beginning with the all-new work Gershwin X Queen: Bohemian Rhapsody in Blue, featuring George Gershwin's Rhapsody in Blue and Queen's "Bohemian Rhapsody," two of the most beloved, ubiquitous compositions in the history of music.

Each work challenged the traditions of their medium by thrillingly combining disparate genres of music: Queen fusing classical, opera, and vaudeville with rock and roll, and Gershwin melding classical with jazz and musical theatre. Bohemian Rhapsody in Blue follows this tradition by combining the pieces themselves, aligning and synthesizing their many kaleidoscopic musical sections to create a cohesive new whole that is at once Gershwin and Queen, and leaves one marveling at the genius of the original compositions.

Friday, Sept. 20,
11 a.m. & 7 p.m.
Saturday, Sept. 21
at 7 p.m.

Hilbert Circle Theatre

For the first concert of the Printing Partners Pops Series 2024-2025 season, Broadway leading lady Ashley Brown returns to the ISO with her powerhouse vocals and charismatic performances in an ode to her illustrious career on the stage. Having originated the title role in Disney's Mary Poppins on Broadway and starred as Belle in the national tour of Disney's Beauty and the Beast, Brown went on to perform with nearly every major orchestra in North America. Under the direction of Maestro Jack Everly, Brown will be performing some of her favorite hits throughout her career from the stage and screen.

Saturday, Sept. 28

Hilbert Circle Theatre

The 2024 Opening Night Gala endowed by Christel DeHaan unites the ISO's sixth music director, Mario Venzago, with pianist Conrad Tao, a musician and composer hailed as a leader of the new generation of classical musicians, who will perform Rachmaninoff's Rhapsody on a Theme of Paganini. This incredible combination of talent celebrates the beginning of the 2024-2025 season. Concert-only tickets are still available for this must-see event.

On Sept. 21, people living with ALS, family members, friends, caregivers, and others affected by ALS will gather at Indiana State Fairgrounds Celebration Park, 1202 E. 38th St., Indianapolis, for the 2024 Walk to Defeat ALS Indiana. Check-in will begin at 8 a.m. followed by a 10 a.m. start time.

ALS, often called Lou Gehrig's disease, is a progressive neurodegenerative disease affecting nerve cells in the brain and spinal cord. It gradually robs people of the ability to walk, move, talk, swallow, and eventually breathe. ALS has no known cause or cure, and the community is coming together to make ALS livable for everyone, everywhere.

Hundreds of people will rally together at Walk to Defeat ALS to fuel the ALS Association's mission and support people living with ALS in the region. Many who participate have a loved one who is battling ALS while others walk in memory of a loved one who has lost their fight. Some participate simply because they want to make ALS a livable disease for everyone, everywhere while a cure is tirelessly sought.

"Our Walk to Defeat ALS events bring the ALS community together, providing hope and inspiration for those impacted by ALS," ALS Association President & CEO Calaneet Balas said. "Thanks to your generosity and support, we can fund global research, nationwide advocacy efforts, and local care services. All of these efforts are critical to making ALS livable until we can find a cure."

Walk to Defeat ALS is the No. 1 way to unite and support people affected by ALS in your community.

Register at WalkToDefeatALS.org. Registered participants who raise $100 or more receive a commemorative T-shirt.

of year-round play and unparalleled access to coaching professionals. Opening The Kitchen to the public is part of the club's plan to create a connected and engaged community and to introduce the country's fastest-growing sport to new people.

ORDINANCE NUMBER NO 09-03-2024-02

AN ORDINANCE ESTABLISHING MUNICIPAL SEWAGE RATES

WHEREAS The Town of Cicero, Hamilton County, Indiana is a corporation and operates the Cicero (Indiana) Municipal Sewage Works; and

WHEREAS the Cicero Town Council recognizes the need to increase rates and charges to fund the annual revenue requirements of the Sewage Works; and

WHEREAS the Town Council adopted Ordinance 05-08-2024-03 on June 4, 2024 enacting rate increases on July 1, 2024 and July 1, 2025 as preliminary increases to cover the costs of mandated improvements to the Sewage Works; and

WHEREAS the Town Council did this with the understanding that an additional increase would likely be necessary once the project was completed and all costs, less any grants or other offsets, were known with certainty; and

WHEREAS the Town's contract with the contractor sets a guaranteed maximum price for said project, it is possible the project will cost less than that amount. In addition, the final, long-term funding interest rate cannot be determined until the project is complete; and

WHEREAS the Town Council intended to make any additional, required rate increase at that time; and

WHEREAS the Indiana Bond Bank offers the best interim financing option which will result in a savings of over $500,000.00 to the project's final costs; and

WHEREAS to be eligible for this financing the Town Council must already have rates in place sufficient to cover the estimated final cost of the project as of this date; and

WHEREAS the Town Council anticipates that between grant funds, other buy-downs, and the lower interest rate on the long term SRF loan, it will be able to reduce the final dollar amount that will be financed long-term, thereby reducing the project's final costs and the required debt service; and

WHEREAS the Town Council intends to modify the rates adopted by this Ordinance prior to their effective dates based upon the final costs of the project; and

NOW, THEREFORE, be it established by the Cicero Town Council that:

Section 1

Wellness facility Prana Bar opens in Carmel with variety of class options

New studio aims to inform community about power of personal transformation

Submitted

The Prana Bar is now open in Carmel to introduce residents to the concept of "prana," the life and energy force residing in each person's physical, emotional, mental, and spiritual bodies.

Prana Bar delivers a menu of services to help individuals live authentically and fully while embracing the power of transformation. Each menu item, from movement modalities to energy practices, is delivered from prana-informed practitioners. Its mission is to help people live and move more freely in a world with increasing complexities and stresses.

Prana Bar is the vision of Carmel resident Paula Lord, previous owner of Body by Gymroots in Fishers. Lord has more than 50 years of movement-based training working with a variety of clients from USA Olympic divers and Division One college gymnasts to local business leaders and individuals seeking alternative, complementary therapies.

"Prana Bar surfaced after being informed that the 11-year lease of my Fishers studio space wasn't being renewed," Lord said.

"After the initial shock passed, I realized there was an opportunity to enhance and restructure the business to help people evolve at different, higher levels of personal improvement. The space we have curated, which includes easy access to outdoor amenities near Meadowlark Park and the Monon Trail, is for community members to come together individually and collectively to support each other in the spirit of civility and understanding."

The grand opening for Prana Bar is set for 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 3 featuring special guests, menu samplings, and grand opening program discounts.

"Our vision for Prana Bar is to create a vibrant community hub where individuals can gather to heal, grow, and transform," Lord said. "From stress management techniques to spiritual development classes, our programs are carefully crafted to support both dynamic and gentle approaches to wellbeing."

The bobbleheads are now available in the National Bobblehead Hall of Fame and Museum's Online Store at this link.

The bobbleheads, which are expected to ship in October, are $35 each plus a flat-rate shipping charge of $8 per order.

Each bobblehead is individually numbered to 2,024.

Standing on a base that reads "Cardinals" across the front with a backing featuring the Ball State logo, the Charlie Cardinal bobblehead has his arms raised doing the "Chirp, Chirp" hand signal while wearing a No. 1 cardinal football jersey with white pants.

Known as the Cardinals since 1927 (after originally being called the Hoosieroons) thanks to Professor Paul Billy Williams and his love for his favorite baseball team, the St. Louis Cardinals. TODAY'S BIBLE READING

THE EXODUS

During the night Pharaoh summoned Moses and Aaron and said, "Up! Leave my people, you and the Israelites! Go, worship the Lord as you have requested. Take your flocks and herds, as you have said, and go. And also bless me."

The Egyptians urged the people to hurry and leave the country. "For otherwise," they said, "we will all die!" So the people took their dough before the yeast was added, and carried it on their shoulders in kneading troughs wrapped in clothing. The Israelites did as Moses instructed and asked the Egyptians for articles of silver and gold and for clothing. The Lord had made the Egyptians favorably disposed toward the people, and they gave them what they asked for; so they plundered the Egyptians.

The Israelites journeyed from Rameses to Sukkoth. There were about six hundred thousand men on foot, besides women and children. Many other people went up with them, and also large droves of livestock, both flocks and herds. With the dough the Israelites had brought from Egypt, they baked loaves of unleavened bread. The dough was without yeast because they had been driven out of Egypt and did not have time to prepare food for themselves.

Now the length of time the Israelite people lived in Egypt was 430 years. At the end of the 430 years, to the very day, all the Lord's divisions left Egypt. Because the Lord kept vigil that night to bring them out of Egypt, on this night all the Israelites are to keep vigil to honor the Lord for the generations to come.

Tigers tally touchdowns in final minutes, topple Millers in overtime

By RICHIE HALL

FISHERS – With the right plays at the right time, the Fishers football team picked up a huge comeback victory on Friday night.

The Tigers were down 14-0 to Noblesville with under four minutes to go in the fourth quarter, but Fishers came back to win in overtime 17-14 at Everwise Credit Union Field. The Tigers scored two touchdowns in those final few minutes, then Jon Tangara kicked a field goal in the extra period for the win.

The Millers scored first, with Israel Oladipupo running into the end zone from four yards midway through the second quarter. Caden Lytle made the extra point kick.

Right before halftime, the Tigers tried to make one more drive down the field, with Gage Sturgill connecting three passes to JonAnthony Hall and one to Denkota Fletcher. But Fishers was stopped at midfield. Noblesville went into the break leading 7-0.

“Our defense has played tough,” said Tigers coach Curt Funk. “Our offense, we were struggling there.

We were trying to run the ball but we didn't have the wind. We just couldn't sustain drives.”

Neither team scored in the third quarter. The Millers put together a resolute drive with 10 minutes left in the quarter, making two fourth-down conversions along the way. The second conversion saw Ty Holmes make a 16-yard run on 4th-and-1 carrying what seemed like all of both teams on his back.

But he made it and gave Noblesville 1st-and-goal at the three. Holmes then Sturgill sent a pass to Cars-

Guerin Catholic put on a show when it came to offense during its game with Heritage Christian Friday at the Eagles Nest.

The Golden Eagles took care of Heritage 53-34. Guerin Catholic scored just 67 seconds into the game, as Jack Linden finished a 66-yard drive with a two-yard touchdown run. Linden then ran in a two-point conversion.

Late in the first quarter, Malcolm Houze connected with Aiden Horn for two short touchdown passes, and that gave GC a 22-6 lead going into the second quarter. Houze kept the momentum going in the new period, hitting Hayden Cler for a 31-yard TD throw just seconds into the period.

Nick Wilson kicked a field goal with less than a minute left in the second quarter. Heritage scored a last-second touchdown to end the half, then scored on a 20-yard pass with 7:25 left in the third period to get within 32-27.

Sheridan's Alex Cravens made a touchdown run for the Blackhawks in the second quarter, their first score along the way to a 29-0 win over Tri-Central Friday.

Blackhawks back at it, shut out Tri-Central in first win of the season

The REPORTER

Sheridan picked up its first win of the season Friday, shutting out Tri-Central 29-0 at Bud Wright Stadium.

It was the Blackhawks' Hoosier Heartland Conference opener as well. Sheridan scored its first touchdown of the game in the second quarter, with Alex Cravens taking an 18-yard run into the end zone. Jacob Hall caught a two-point conversion throw from Caleb Alexander, and the Hawks had an 8-0 halftime lead.

"We played a lot better than we had been," said Sheridan coach Bud Wright. "We had a slow start, but we kept getting better. We played pretty good the second half."

The Blackhawks put up 21 points in the second half. Caleb Alexander caught two touchdown passes from Brock Hagan; both throws were over 40 yards.

"He was awful nervous to start with," said Wright. "He settled down in the second half and did a nice job."

Hagan also ran for a touchdown, a three-yard sprint with 36 seconds left in the third quarter. Owen Bell kicked all three extra points.

Hagan threw 5-for-8 and totaled 121 yards. Jaylen Arnold led the rushing with 109 yards. Sheridan's defense was exceptional, especially on the pass – the Blackhawks held the Trojans to minus 4 yards over the air.

Too much to cover

Well, this week in motor-sports was big.

The NASCAR Cup Series set its playoff lineup with another new winner at the "track too tough to tame." INDYCAR has a chaotic weekend at the Milwaukee Mile and hometown driver, Conor Daly, reached the podium for the first time in eight years. And McLaren's Formula 1 team left another win slip through their fingers as Ferrari won at home.

Few in the NASCAR community doubt the driving ability of Chase Briscoe, though his driving ability has been seriously tested by the underperformance of Stewart-Haas Racing. Briscoe entered the Southern 500 at Darlington Raceway 18th in points and in a must-win scenario. Given his lack of performance in 2024 and the emphasis Darlington places on car performance, Briscoe was an afterthought. The focus was on Chris Buescher, Bubba Wallace, and Ross Chastain, who were all vying for the last spot in the playoff field. Barring a new winner, either Buescher, Wallace, or Chastain was headed to the playoffs.

In dramatic fashion, Briscoe ruined playoff dreams and won his way into the Cup Series Playoffs. Briscoe's car was strong, running second to Kyle Larson for much of the race. Second, however, was not good enough to keep his playoff hopes alive. A late race restart gave Briscoe the opportunity to make a spectacular three-wide pass down the backstretch, pushing Kyle Larson high and punching his ticket to the playoffs. Even Kyle Busch, on new tires and desperate for a win, could not catch Briscoe.

As a cut-off race for the playoffs, Darlington was remarkable. I was not sure if it would live up to the hype of Daytona. That question is settled. Darlington surpassed the excitement of Daytona. Daytona derives its excitement from chaos and carnage.

But setting the playoff field at Daytona comes with a hint of arbitrary luck bent. Darlington, on the other hand, feels more genuine. It is a driver's track. Darlington is typically won by the driver who makes the least number of mistakes and outlasts the field. Its nickname, "the track too tough to tame," reflects the battle drivers face each lap in racing one another while attempting to keep their cars from sliding into the fence.

The back-and-forth between Buescher and Wallace was great. The three-wide pass for the lead by Briscoe was great! The late but unsuccessful charge by Kyle Busch was great. Darlington is an exceptionally difficult track. Having it host the cut-off race was brilliant. Enough said.

While NASCAR was in Darlington, INDYCAR was at the Milwaukee Mile for a Saturday-Sunday doubleheader. One of the oldest ovals in the country, Milwaukee did not disappoint. Particularly because Noblesville's own Conor Daly drove his way through the field and onto the podium with a third-place finish at the Saturday race.

Daly's first lap heroics on the highline of the race-track put him in sight of the top 10. He continued making steady progress when a late race caution put him into the second position. After pitting and getting shuffled back to sixth, Daly again took to the highline and made quick progress to fourth. When Santino Ferrucci slowed after being pushed up the track by Will Power, Daly made quick work of Ferrucci, his final

Westfield makes quick work of Zionsville at home

The REPORTER

Westfield came out fast in its Hoosier Crossroads Conference opener with Zionsville on Friday, and that led the Class 6A No. 1 Shamrocks to a 28-10 victory at Riverview Health Stadium.

Westfield scored two touchdowns in the first quarter, both on short rushes. Carsen Melvin got the Rocks on the board with a five-yard trip into the end zone, then Mikeah Webster punched the ball in front of the one with 17 seconds left in the period.

A Zionsville field goal was the only scoring in the second quarter, so Westfield led 14-3 at halftime. The Eagles cut that lead to 14-10 with a 22-yard passing touchdown early in the third period.

Melvin answered that late in the third, as his 20-yard throw to Preston Pakala resulted in a touchdown. Midway through the fourth period, Melvin connected with Broc Parker on a seven-yard TD pass, and the Rocks stayed comfortably ahead from that point forward. Owen Wright kicked all four extra points.

Melvin was 12-of-17, totaling 143 yards, with Parker Knott and Pakala both making three catches. Deacon King led the rushing with 70 yards. Keegan Krupp had 10 tackles (five solo, five assists), including 2.5 for a loss and one sack. Krupp and Isaac Weingart both forced one fumble and after inducing a Noblesville three-and-out, and Sturgill struck again, sending a nine-yard TD throw to Hall. Tangara kicked both extra points.

Sturgill finished the game 16-of-29, totaling 177 yards. "Gage, he's a fighter. He's a warrior," said Funk, who praised his quarterback with making good decisions for the entire game.

The Tigers got another three-and-out, giving them the ball back at the 50-yard line. Fishers made a couple of first downs to reach the 18-yard line, but a 1st-and-10 pass was intercepted by Holmes. That sent the game to overtime, where Tangara's 3rd-and-5 field goal from 22 yards won the game.

"I thought, 'Well, maybe we can sneak it in, maybe a run where it doesn't even come down to that,'" said Funk. "But we decided to go third down kick in case we had a bad snap or something, we'd have a little chance."

Hall, a Stanford commit, made 11 catches for 97 yards. Brady Griffiths led the rushing with 91 yards. TJ Grace had nine total tackles, while Jev Hutton made six solo tackles, including a sack.

Holmes led Noblesville's rushing with 94 yards. "Very proud of our guys," said Millers coach Dave Sharpe. "They didn't deserve to lose this one, but sometimes funny things happen in the final couple minutes of a game. But I'm incredibly proud of how hard we played."

The game was the first Hoosier Crossroads Conference contest of the season for both teams. Overall, Fishers is 2-1 and plays the Mudsock game at Hamilton Southeastern next Friday. Noblesville is also 2-1 and hosts Westfield next Friday.

Southeastern kicks off conference play with solid win over Avon

The REPORTER

Hamilton Southeastern hit the road for the second time in their first three games and that didn't seem to matter.

The Royals used a steady run game and an interception return score to cruise to a 28-10 win at Avon to start Hoosier Crossroads Conference action off on the right foot.

After a stalemate at 0-0 in the first, Avon struck first to get up 7-0. But, it didn't take long for HSE to tie it 7-7 on a Carter Reed touchdown, which would wind up as the halftime score.

An Orioles field goal with just under four minutes in the third gave them a temporary lead of 10-7.

Carter Reed helped regain the lead at 14-10 late in the third, which Southeastern would not relinquish.

The advantage lengthened when Ty Earlewine intercepted an Avon pass and ran it back for a TD, pushing the lead to 21-10.

Chandler Weston put the icing on the cake with a five-yard touchdown pass to Kendrick Pennybaker that would account for the final score of 28-10.

Brennan Baker led the Royals with 94 yards rushing on 18 carries, while Carter Reed ran 14 times for 60 yards and his pair of TDs.

The Royals' defense forced a total of three interceptions. Kian Kelly and Andrew Babb joined Earlewine with picks.

'Hounds show Ohioans how it's done

The REPORTER

Carmel took a trip to the Dayton, Ohio area on Friday to play Centerville, and came home with a 44-23 victory.

The Greyhounds rolled through the first quarter, scoring 20 unanswered points. Andrew Pemberton made two long touchdown runs from 40 and 41 yards during the period, with Anthony Coellner tossing a 13-yard touchdown pass to Jacob Bellin in between.

The Elks scored 10 points in the second period, but Carmel avoided a second-quarter shutout when Lukas Krishtanmoorthy made a field goal at the end of the period. That gave the Hounds a 23-10 lead at the halftime break.

Coellner threw for his second touchdown of the game in the third quarter, finding Nathan Williams for a 21-yard score. In the fourth quarter, Dominic Shockley punched the ball in for a one-yard TD, then Aiden Dickerson got a pick six, taking an interception return 59 yards to the end zone.

Pemberton reached 100 yards rushing on 11 carries. Coellner went 19-of-29 for 185 yards, with Williams collecting nine receptions for 104 yards.

Carmel is 2-1 and hosts Louisville Trinity next Friday.

pass for position. A remarkable day for both Daly and his team, Juncos Hollinger Racing, as the young team claimed its first ever podium. Race 2 did not bode well for Daly. A clutch issue relished him to 17th.

Alex Palou's championship hopes took a hit when the hybrid system on his car malfunctioned, causing him to go more than 20 laps down. His saving grace came when Will Power, who was running inside the top 6 with a chance for a podium, spun coming to a restart. While Power rallied back to 10th, Palou was able to preserve a 33-point lead heading into the final race at Nashville. Is the gap insurmountable for Power? No, but he will need some help from Palou.

The most bizarre race of the weekend was the Italian Grand Prix at Monza. McLaren drivers, Lando Norris and Oscar Piastri, qualified 1-2 ahead of the Mercedes of George Russell and the two Ferraris of Charles Leclerc and Carlos Sainz.

On the opening lap, Oscar Piastri made a daring move to the outside of his teammate, Lando Norris, who sits second in the Drivers' Championship. Piastri and Norris were unable to pull away from the Ferraris, and an advantageous pit strategy ultimately put the Ferrari of Leclerc to the front, taking the win in front of an enthusiastic Italian crowd. What struck me as bizarre was the aggressive battle between Norris and Piastri, which very well may have cost McLaren a 1-2 finish.

McLaren is in the hunt for the Constructors Championship, only eight points behind Red Bull. With Verstappen finishing 6th and Perez finishing 8th, a McLaren 1-2 would have put them ahead of Red Bull.

More intriguing is the Drivers' Championship. Lando Norris currently sits 62 points behind Max Verstappen. Given McLaren's pace and Red Bull's struggles, Norris can catch Verstappen. Yet on at least two recent occasions, Piastri has taken points from Norris. I'll admit that I am no fan of team orders, but I think it is time that McLaren prioritize Norris. McLaren's tactical struggles are reminiscent of Ferrari over the last few years and McLaren has left a lot of points on the table. Zac Brown should be commended for the job he has done at McLaren. But they need to straighten things out fast.

There are two championships within McLaren's grasp. Inexperience and pressure seem to have cost them thus far. They must turn things around because Red Bull will not be on the back foot long.
