The valley of anticipatory grief

Recently, I was asked by my writer/author/podcaster friend, Lisa Appelo, to share some thoughts on grief with her readers. She knows the pain and storm of grief after suddenly losing her husband, leaving her with seven children ages 4 to 19. Lisa has over 30,000 followers on social media. You can find all about her at lisaappelo.com.

In her book, Life Can Be Good Again, she shares how to navigate life after losing someone you love.

While I have written before about anticipatory grief, I thought some may now be in the midst of it, so I would, again, share my thoughts with my readers.

The pain, sadness, and hard emotions that come from grieving a loss before it happens has a name: anticipatory grief. Janet Hart Leonard shares six lessons she learned about the valley of anticipatory grief in her mom's final months this side of heaven.

***

"Even though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil for you are with me; your rod and your staff they comfort me." (Psalm 23:4-5, ESV)

For two years, I walked through that valley – a valley of anticipatory grief.

I never heard of anticipatory grief until I was thrown into the depths of it. The anticipatory grief got deeper as my mother began to struggle with her health and mobility.

I define anticipatory grief not as waves of grief but as an undertow. It is the current beneath the surface of every decision, health crisis, and holiday. That current is strong and flows away from the life you have always known with a loved one.

Westfield community. This year's fish fry brought in approximately $3,000, which will be used to help fund the growing annual scholarship awards the Lions announce each spring. The past two years the Club has set records with awards totaling over $16,000 in 2022 and $16,500 in 2023.

The Westfield Lions want to thank their sponsors for this year's event – BMO Bank and Sunbelt Rentals. Their support of the Lions helped make this fish fry the success that it was.

The Lions also want everyone to know what a great partner CUMC has been to the Lions Club this year, as well as over the past several years. While the Club was searching for a new clubhouse, CUMC allowed the Lions to hold their meetings at the church. And during the times that the Lions' old clubhouse was unavailable due to the downtown redevelopment, CUMC let the Next year the Lions expect to be able to hold their fish fry at their new clubhouse, located at 1101 E. 169th St. The renovation work on the building should be completed in the next couple of months and will feature an expanded meeting room, conference room, ADA-accessible restrooms, and a full kitchen. The Club will hold an open house event once the project is completed so the public can see firsthand what Westfield's Lions have done to make the building an attractive (and affordable) option for event rentals.

ANTICIPATE

The valley of the shadow of death is long, lonely, and full of what-ifs and when. Here's what I learned about the valley of anticipatory grief.

1. Anticipatory grief starts slowly.

In the middle of the night, my phone rang. The voice was the "we have an emergency" operator with my mother's life alert company. Mom had fallen again. The first responders were on their way to her house. I took off running, as she lived only three blocks from my house.

With every middle-of-the-night phone call, I knew we were approaching the day the calls would stop.

2. Anticipatory grief worsens as our loved one's health worsens.

We met with a social worker in the hospital who told my mother the doctors thought it was time she moved to an assisted living facility. My mom was silent, but I assured her we'd researched a wonderful place only 10 minutes from my home, and she reluctantly agreed.

On moving day, Mom, dressed in a new outfit, rose from her chair, moved from her recliner into her wheelchair, and slowly looked around. She knew. I knew. She would never be back.

I had just taken a deep dive into anticipatory grief. We got her moved into her cutely decorated apartment. After showing her around and meeting the residents and nursing staff, I got into my car, gripped the steering wheel, and wept. It was one of the most brutal cries I remember having since my dad passed some 14 years earlier. I was losing my mother.

God comfort her and keep her safe, I prayed. Please, Lord, help her to find friends who will love her well. And God, if it's not too much to ask, could you comfort me, too?

3. Anticipatory grief triggers guilt.

A few days after moving my mom to her assisted living facility, I got a call, "Janet, I want to go home."

My heart felt like it was being stabbed, and the tears fell as I told her that wasn't possible.

"Janet, your dad would be so disappointed in you that you would do this to me," she said, then hung up. Anticipatory grief found a new level of brutality. I was drowning in guilt.

My daughter convinced her that I loved her enough to do this hard thing. She called me, apologized for what she said, and told me she would be okay. The question was, would I be okay?

4. Anticipatory grief is a waiting game.

The anticipatory grief grew greater with each trip to the ER for recurring urinary tract infections. Her symptoms often included verbal salads where she would try to talk but would use words that made no sense. She was very confused and it was scary for both of us.

As she lost the ability to walk, the nursing staff suggested it was time to move her to a healthcare campus. We never used the word nursing home. Soon after their suggestion, Mom fell and broke a rib. I knew it was time to move her.

It was another difficult discussion, but she knew she needed more care. The problem was that she would have to share a room which meant sorting through more of the things she could not take. Every time I packed away something, it reminded me that someday I would be sorting for the last time. It wasn't just stuff I was packing away, but memories.

My mind played mean games. Every holiday, is this the last one? Last Christmas, last Easter, and last Mother's Day?

5. Anticipatory grief involves a host of hard emotions.

Anticipatory grief is "a feeling of grief that occurs before a loss." It's an intense and overwhelming form of grief that includes a mix of emotions like numbness, disbelief, sadness, anger, fear, and shock.

I felt every one of those emotions during the two years before my mother's death. It is said that anticipatory grief can be just as painful as the actual loss, but it also allows the family to prepare for the inevitable death.

During those years, I embraced the psalms. I wrote dates and thoughts in the margins of my Bible, which became my grief journal. Psalms 34:18 says, "The Lord is near to the brokenhearted and saves the crushed in spirit."

6. Anticipatory grief doesn't eliminate grief after our loved one passes.

In November 2020, I received a call that Mom had

COVID. The facility let me know she would not recover as blood clots made their way throughout her body.

Dressed in safety gear, I was allowed to be with her in a private room for three hours daily. We sang her favorite hymns and talked about what heaven would be like. I read the Psalms to her. We shared memories and held hands, but most of all, we shared our love.

That room was sacred ground. On December 16, I kissed her cheek and whispered, "I love you, Mom. I'll see you in heaven."

The next morning, my phone rang. I no longer felt the pain of anticipatory grief. The grief was now that of deep mourning. God was close to this brokenhearted daughter and had been faithful to both of us while in the valley. I knew as she gently fell into Jesus' arms, her legacy of faith would live on in me.

Carmel Mayor's Housing Task Force releases its initial recommendations

The REPORTER

The Carmel Housing Task Force, a team of local leaders, experts, and Carmel citizens established to study the state of housing in the city, shared its report in a public meeting this morning.

Designed to ensure the housing needs of all Carmel residents and support workforce needs of the business community, the task force was announced in February to take a lead role in informing the city's future housing strategy.

The task force spent the past months learning from residents about the housing needs of the community and from industry experts about best practices to support them, looking to data and trends from the city, region, and nation.

Over a series of eight meetings that included robust input from the community, the task force identified key challenges related to the housing market, including lack of supply, increased and shifting demand, and affordability.

Highlights from the 13 key recommendations included in the Finding and Recommendations Report:

- Continuing the work of the task force by making it a permanent committee to advise the mayor
- Developing a housing strategy and vision plan to further identify the life cycle of housing needs
- Facilitate development of missing middle housing – smaller ownership units desired by both seniors looking to downsize and young, first-time home buyers
- Adopt a development strategy for new apartment construction
- Acquisition of green space

Read the report at tinyurl.com/CarmelHousingReportSept2024.

Mayor Sue Finkam formed the committee with three goals in mind: securing data to better understand the myriad issues facing the city, providing transparency through engaging residents in the process and creating a blueprint to support a long-term plan.

Noting that, as part of Carmel's recent community survey, 97 percent of respondents described the quality of life in Carmel as excellent, Mayor Finkam emphasized that housing plays a key role in supporting livability.

"Lack of desired housing leads to lifestyle compromises, talent and business attraction concerns. These can all negatively impact the way we interact with and enjoy our community, and our potential future success," Finkam said. "We have led on the issue of providing viable and varied housing options, and we will continue to lead on this issue."

Mayor Finkam will continue reviewing the findings of the group and expressed thanks to the task force members, citing their tireless efforts and thoughtful recommendations.

"This work will serve as a vital resource as we strive to create better housing solutions for our residents," she said.

Task force members:

- Adam Aasen, Carmel City Council
- Dave Bowers, Carmel Redevelopment Commission
- Barbara Eden, Carmel resident
- Todd Fenoglio, Carmel Clay Schools
- Matt Kaercher, Merchants Capital
- Chris Pryor, MIBOR, Task Force Vice Chair
- Jack Russell, OneZone Chamber of Commerce

ABMDI certifies individuals who have the proven knowledge and skills necessary to perform medicolegal death investigations as set forth in the National Institutes of Justice.

To achieve her certification, Taylor has acquired specialized knowledge and demonstrated proficiency in the standards and practice necessary to properly conduct medicolegal death investigations.

New state law addresses election worker safety

Indiana passed Senate Enrolled Act 170 this last legislature, now part of I.C. § 3-5-2-19.8.

In general, it makes it a Level 6 Felony under certain circumstances to threaten an election worker or to obstruct, interfere with, or injure an election worker. Election workers include the Secretary of State, employees of the election division, members of the commission, a precinct election officer, a member of a county election board, and a circuit court clerk. It also includes an employee of the office of the circuit court clerk, a member of a town election board, a challenger and poll book holder, a watcher or those appointed to the absentee voter boards or to serve as an absentee ballot counter or courier. There is no requirement in the definition that the election worker be paid to qualify.

Any person who knowingly obstructs or interferes with an election worker discharging the election worker's duty or knowingly obstructs and interferes with a voter within the voting chute commits a Level 6 Felony.

It is also a Level 6 Felony if any person who – for the purposes of influencing a voter, an election worker, or candidate – seeks to enforce payment of debt by force or threat of force, ejects or threatens to eject the person from a house they occupy, begins a criminal prosecution, communicates a threat, commit a forcible felony, or damages the trade or business of the voter election worker or candidate.

The Hamilton County Election Board is diligent in seeking to make sure we have fair and safe elections. I encourage you if you think there is violation to file a complaint with the election board or your local police department.

September 11, 2001: Remembering Stacey Peak

In 2022, Brynne and I visited the sacred grounds of the 9/11 Memorial and Museum. Inside, I saw a portrait of my high school classmate's (Stacey) face. I choked up. It still seemed so surreal, so fresh. We took plenty of Kleenex. What follows is an account of my first visit to the memorial a few years earlier.

A business-related trip in 2017 took me to the Big Apple for the first time in my life, so I tagged on a weekend to achieve a few personal goals, the utmost being to visit the memorial erected in honor of the victims of 19 terrorists, those nearly 3,000 people whose sad fates we witnessed via live TV and computer on Sept. 11, 2001.

My sobbing surprised me down near the toe tip of Manhattan. After all, at that time, 16 years had passed since it all came crumbling down on this sacred, somber spot forever known as Ground Zero. Sure, I expected to be emotionally moved in some way during my visit, but not moved to tears, not after so much time having passed.

Sept. 11, 2001:

Flight 11 cut into the north face of the North Tower. My god, how could a pilot mess up so badly, I remember thinking. A second airliner, Flight 175, sliced through the south face of the South Tower. My mind switched blame from pilot error to air traffic control error. Computer glitch obviously. I remained in a TV trance.

I no longer remember when terrorism was first theorized. Hijackings seemed to be happening all over the place that morning, a hornet's nest shake at humanity. I remember being glued to CNN. More unthinkable news. Flight 77 penetrated the Pentagon. Flight 93 crashed into a field in Pennsylvania. Gravity at its cruelest during the bluest of blue skies.

The Twin Towers rumbled and tumbled, first the South Tower, second the North Tower. (In 1974, as a 10-year-old, I watched awestruck as the evening news showed a mysterious Frenchman magically using a high-wire to cross the void between the strong Twin Towers, my first recollection of them on the New York skyline.) A simultaneous release of souls occurred as the storied steel castles, proud symbols of our country's financial might, vaporized before our very eyes.

The hellish plumes up high. The billow below that turned the day to night, devouring the streets and avenues, as if we were witnessing the getaway of pure evil.

Ash and paper. Paper and ash. Public radio's Robert Siegel so eloquently reported this later about the pieces of paper that somehow remained intact, the litter from what once was: "Paper, after all, is the great product of Manhattan: securities analyses, stock certificates, depositions, federal filings, licenses. It is the stuff that enters the workplace unfinished and exits filled with the marks of commerce, finance and government, signed, sworn or notarized. The papers underfoot, I found, documented what a nexus the World Trade Center had been, linking people all over the world through commerce."

I no longer remember how long it took for the national news about 9/11 to splinter into local news for the many of us across the country and throughout the globe who read the local names of people lost that day, the subsequent obituaries about our very own.

Stacey Peak graduated with me from Tell City High School in 1983. She grew up to become an energy power stockbroker for Cantor Fitzgerald on the 105th floor of the North Tower, several floors above where the first hijacked plane hit its mark.

The news went like this: Stacey called her mother. She said there was a fire in her building. She sounded composed, despite chaos in the background. She said her coworkers were considering going to the roof. She told her mother she loved her. Then the phone connection between a mother in Tell City, Indiana, and her daughter in Lower Manhattan died.

I walked from Midtown South, mostly via Sixth Avenue, to the National 9/11 Memorial just to find my high-school friend in the form of a name on a bronze panel.

My eyes likely scanned 2,900 other names before finding STACEY LYNN PEAK. Even though almost 16 September would pass before my fingertips would trace her name inscribed in bronze, the blue sky reflecting off its sheen, I was immediately overwhelmed at the moment of our reunion, as if her death was only a day old. I told her hello. Feeling out of sorts, I needed to escape the strangers amassed at the memorial, all those hands tracing all those names, people representing so many nationalities who surrounded me. They were likely on similar missions to mine, some being way more personal in scope. I was merely a Hoosier boy who did nothing more than joke and laugh a few times with a smart, pretty, redheaded girl, who called me "Saalmly" in a high school hallway a long time ago.

I was tight in the throat. I moved through the crowd in search of private space (impossible) and composure (impossible). I passed a 20-something woman telling three children, "... one theory is terrorists aboard planes ..."

Theory?!!!

I escaped into the Westfield World Trade Center shopping mall. I knelt behind an advertisement. I cried. Colorful, slick shopping bags in tight grips hurried by. I didn't remember our jokes, but I remembered her laughter. I remembered that about Stacey. And for that, I crumbled.

Imperfect homes are more fun

Given my column's title, I thought this week's topic was a "perfect" match. My husband John may be surprised to read this, but at this stage in life, I've completely accepted the fact that our home will never be perfect. And I love it.

COLUMNIST

spotless home. If you visit us now, you'd see some whimsical, "gently used" décor on the outside with a few perennials. My husband and son are good about keeping up with mowing, trimming, and edging, although that sometimes gets delayed on occasion when they're both working a weekend.

When I was younger, I fretted and stressed over every little thing with my house. If I noticed a cobweb in the corner of the living room, I felt defeated. I was always picking up and putting things away from morning until bedtime. In fact, it's almost unconscious now.

It all relates to being Highly Sensitive.

Highly Sensitive people, in general, don't do well with clutter surrounding them. I also grew up in an almost Victorian workers cottage and we're not swimming in money, so as they say, it is what it is!

You'll also see the dry erase boards on the fridge and inside the desk in the dining room filled with various drawings of cartoon and other characters. This tradition started with my sons' friends a few years ago.

After I erased one of the boards one time to have more room to list the leftovers inside the fridge, Jacob's friend Colton's face fell when he visited. It was like someone struck him in the heart. I laughed and told him I'd never do it again.

I rotate cleaning duties from week to week, which means my house is rarely cleaned from top to bottom and spotless all at once. You'll probably notice an occasional cat hair-filled dust bunny floating by.

It hit me a few years ago that if my home were perfectly clean and sparkling, that would mean I'd be living here all alone. No husband, no pets, no son/recent college graduate and his friends, and only the occasional visitor. It would be mostly quiet without conversation or laughter. No, thank you!

So, empty nesters, please forget about perfection. Pick your battles (that cobweb can stay for a bit longer – who even sees it anyway?) Embrace the goofy characters scrawled across your dry erase boards, create a path through those shoes. Imperfect homes are truly the best, and they're more fun!

Amy still has her "Cactus Rose" bicycle she received for Christmas more than 40 years ago.

An unexpected gift

Christmas morning, 1979, 1980 – I do not remember for sure. I could not wait to wake up to the gift I had asked for.

I just knew my roller skates would be waiting for me under the tree. The Rainbow Roller Rink was one of the most popular places for kids to hang out.

The reality was, I stunk at roller skating. Roller skating and a muscle disease are not a great pairing. All my friends were there, though, so naturally that is where I wanted to be, too. My very own pair of Strawberry Shortcake skates would surely be the ticket to making me a skillful roller skater. Finally allowing me to let go of the railing and join the others, I thought.

However, that is not the way things played out at all. When my parents revealed to me my new shiny bicycle named "The Cactus Rose" I lost it. Pouting, crying, complete devastation. I was an ungrateful brat. I regret it, but it is the truth. Downright awful. Somewhere out there is a picture of me perched on my bike that morning, with an ugly, pouting face. To this day, my family still teases me about it.

I was persistent. I wanted those skates. I just knew they were going to change my life. Had to have them.

My parents finally took me to the store to buy the skates with money that I had received for Christmas. It was not that the skates were expensive. They were far less expensive than a bicycle. My parents knew those skates were not going to change anything for me and my roller-skating dreams. I am sure they were trying to protect me from the inevitable emotional collapse. At the store, they had the exact skates I wanted. A half size too small, I squeezed my foot into one and announced they were perfect (honestly, they hurt, but I was not about to leave there without them). I could not wait to try them out at the roller rink and effortlessly skate amongst my friends.

My first outing with those skates was soul crushing. They had not changed anything for me. There were the same as the skates I had rented all the times before. I still stunk at skating. I couldn't stay on my feet. No matter how much I wanted it, I did not have the muscle power and balance that my friends did. My dreams were crushed. I am not sure if I ever put those skates on again.

What I did do is develop a love for that darn Cactus Rose. Arguably the first love of my life was that bike. It, more than anything else, allowed me to feel freedom from the physical chains of my disability. What it did for me is truly priceless. I rode for hours upon end on that bike. Of course, I still own it. I could never let it go. Who even knows where those skates are?! Of course, my parents knew that would be the gift that kept on giving. I cherish the memories of those days when my body was far more physically able than it is now. I like to go back to those days in my mind and just sit in those thoughts. They comfort me.

Looking back on those embarrassing and not flattering moments in our lives takes humble courage. Admitting our regrets and seeing the beauty of the unexpected gifts we have received in our lives – sometimes not so graciously – those are the best gifts of all.

A pirate looks at Forty-something

One of my favorite all-time artists is the late, great Jimmy Buffett. He wrote and performed songs for Parrotheads, like me, for decades.

I've always been able to take his lyrics and make it relevant to whatever is going on in my life at that time. "Changes in Latitudes, Changes in Attitudes" was a song that spoke to me when I was graduating high school. "It's Five O'Clock Somewhere" and "Cheeseburger in Paradise" definitely related to my college days. And don't even get me started on "Margaritaville."

Being a Forty-something myself, I've recently been reflecting on "A Pirate Looks at Forty." The song is actually about a real-life drug smuggler that Buffett knew. Since I'm not friends with any drug smugglers (that I know of) I take the words and use them for some self-reflection.

I'll start with the definition of a pirate. Merriam-Webster defines a pirate as one who commits or practices piracy. My high school English teacher Mr. Matheny always told us to never use the word to be defined in the definition. So, be better Merriam-Webster!

Dictionary.com defines pi-

COLUMNIST
TIM RATHZ
Forty-something in Fishers

rate as a person who robs or commits illegal violence at sea or on the shores of the sea. That's better!

Being that I don't rob people at sea or know anyone who would do that, this song doesn't really seem to apply to me. However, pop culture has glorified pirates through books and movies, and made them out to all be more like Captain Jack Sparrow than what they truly were. So, we'll go with that. Larger-than-life characters who are adventurous and 10-feet-tall and bullet-proof. Now that is definitely how I saw myself in my late teens and twenties. Now we're getting somewhere!

Then my thirties hit, and the 10 feet shrank to six.

Now I'm in my forties and definitely no longer bullet-proof. How do I know? Little bumps and bruises have become a much bigger deal. Here are some of my forty-something issues:

A few months ago, I was going to the bathroom (one-sie) and had to cough. When this happened, all hell broke loose. I could feel that the cough was inevitable while I was standing there doing what I came to do. Since I didn't want to hose down the entire area while having a violent coughing fit, I braced myself. I tried to hold it back (mistake), but when the cough broke through, it reverberated throughout my entire body and shot pain everywhere. Next thing I knew, I was limping for two days. You heard that right. I didn't pull a stomach or chest muscle. Oh no, that would have made too much sense. I somehow injured my leg ... from a cough. And I wasn't even successful in saving that area of the bathroom from a tidal wave that I'd rather not discuss.

A couple weeks after the cough-a-splish incident, there was a series of stupid injuries that I can only blame on age. After buckling my little girl, Mary, into her booster seat, I bent down to pick up her kitty toy. In doing so, I hit my shin on the car door so hard I can still hear the scream echoes in my garage.

The next day, I shook open a trash bag and hurt my wrist.

I later jumped on the bed while wrestling my little boy, Pat, and had collar bone pain for a week.

I then washed my hands

Look, it's Papa Pirate and Pat the Pirate!

and re-injured my wrist.

Finally, I sneezed and hurt my neck to bring it all full circle. This all happened within a two-month period. I'm almost starting to wonder if it's safer to go back to my pirating days.

It's always good to reflect on where you've been in life. But never at the expense of where you are now. Enjoy the little things and laugh at the stupid little injuries. They make for great column ideas!

The moral of the story is ... It's fun to be a modern day, adventurous pirate. Just be careful that you don't pee all over the walls.

Retiring to someplace other than the recliner

"At daybreak, when loath to rise, bear this thought in mind: I am rising for a man's work." – Marcus Aurelius, Meditations, c. 170

I am anticipating that, of course, Marcus is referring to humankind, and not just men, in his commentary – actually, he probably was referring to men only, but we will ignore that!

This quote reminds us of the importance of continuing a life work even though retired, and how necessary it is for us to rise to that work every day. Now that I am approaching 10 years in "retirement" I was contemplating how much the same or different that has been than I originally thought. After 42 years of professional employment, it was with trepidation that I entered the retirement scene – similar I would think to stepping out onto another planet!

In approaching retirement, I wondered exactly what kind of adventure lay before me ... Would I sleep in every morning? Catch up on reading the myriad of books and magazines which have been patiently awaiting my "spare time"? Travel extensively? Would I carpool grandchildren around to all their many activities? (Actually, this option never really made it to the list!) Maybe I would get into the best physical shape of my life now that I had so much "free" time to devote?

Well, as many of you may know who have had similar situations my "retirement" has not been very retiring! Managing an organization consulting business along with teaching fitness classes and nutrition seminars, as well as writing for publications and serving as an officer in the DAR organization and non-profit boards have taken much of my time though fortunately allowing for other volunteer activities and quality time with family and our pets! Publishing one book and working on another is a both a daunting task and one in which I rejoice.

As many of us "baby boomers" are recently retired or planning to retire from our lifelong professions or jobs, I hope that you will resist any temptation to spend much time in the recliner or on the sofa and look around to see how you can benefit from pursuing goals and interests which will keep you healthier, more active, and more engaged in your communities. Some of those activities may be income-generating and some will not; either option or a balance will benefit you.

You may wish to take classes or use your skills and expertise to teach classes, spend time with young children or the not-so-young, volunteer at the Humane Society to help them socialize the pets up for adoption, look for volunteer opportunities at your church or synagogue, or perhaps even work part-time trying something new and different.

Reflect on the goals and excitement of your youth. Find a photo of yourself when you were young – 7, 12, 15 – whenever you were joyful and excited about the world, and place that photo in a frame where you will see it often and be reminded that you are still that person who can pursue what you once dreamed.

I will remind you that the first item on your list should be a full physical if you have not had one recently. Take care of any acute or chronic issues which you may be facing. With your physician's approval, streamline your eating plan, get rid of sugar and processed food items, improve your strength and flexibility, and challenge your mind and intellect. Remember, life IS work: continue the work of life every day and you will receive the benefit of a life well-nourished and well-lived.

Just as every day is new with the sunrise, let us greet a life change with optimism, resourcefulness, and joy!

Beverly was a 1956 graduate from Purdue University with Magna Cum Laude honors. Beverly worked for several years as a Registered Dietician for St. Vincent Hospital and Stress Center, and also Women, Infants, and Children (WIC) in Brown County, Ind.

As a dedicated Oblate of Our Lady of Grace Monastery in Beech Grove, Beverly also served as a Spiritual Director. She had a special association with The Dwelling Place in Mt. Tabor Monastery in Martin, Ky. Following retirement, Beverly had a true heart and gave of her time as a Hospice Volunteer.

For 29 years, Beverly was a very active member of St. Agnes Parish in Nashville, Ind., before moving back to Carmel.

Above all, Beverly loved God, and she loved spending time in the woods camping and hiking because that was where she felt closest to God. While camping, Beverly enjoyed sitting around the campfire with friends. When she no longer could camp, she continued to enjoy sitting around any fire with the special people in her life whenever she could.

Spending time with family and friends is what brought Beverly so much joy. She touched many lives and will be greatly missed by all.

Survivors include her children, Stephanie Stark, Marcie Mitchell, Tim (Hoang) Mishler, Randy (Elaine) Mishler, and Audrey (Bruce) Burton; grandchildren, Leslie Inlow, James Mishler, Rachel (David) Tran, Kristen (Jeff) Gater, April Mitchell, Julie (Cole) Way, Chad Mitchell, Amanda (Holden) Graves, Rebecca (Ramon) Ramon, Zara (Johnny) Steverson, Patrick Mishler, Sean (Madison) Burton, Kyle (Eleny) Burton, and Kara (Justin) Welcome; and 12 great-grandchildren.

Barbara Taylor Griffith-Smith
February 27, 1932 – August 30, 2024

Barbara T. Griffith-Smith passed away on August 30, 2024. Born on February 27, 1932, in South Bend, Ind., she was a teacher, friend, wife, and mother. She is survived by three daughters – Cynthia Renshaw (Mark), Kelley Rogers (Tom), and Ann Gaspelin (Bill). Barbara was grandmother to Zach, Alex, and Erin Renshaw, Brandon and Melissa Rogers, and Nick and Brad Gaspelin. She was fortunate enough to meet great-grandchildren, Ella, Grace, Aubrey, Paige, Elaine, and Avinash.

Barbara graduated John Adams H.S. in South Bend in 1950. She was an Alpha Phi at Indiana University and after earning a B.S. in Speech Therapy, she married a young Air Force pilot, Richard (Dick) Griffith in August 1954. Together they moved to Otis Air Force base in Falmouth, Mass. She started a Speech and Hearing program for Falmouth schools while her husband flew F-94s until 1956. The couple moved back to Purdue married housing and had their first daughter while Dick finished his college degree.

Barbara and Dick had their two remaining daughters in Michigan and Indiana. They moved to Indianapolis where she worked as a Speech and Hearing Therapist in Greenfield Schools and as a private tutor. She also was a Girl Scout leader, school room mother, and was a member of the St. Alban's Altar Guild. Once they finally relocated to Carmel, Barbara went to Butler University to earn her Masters in Special Education when the girls were in high school. She then served as a Special Education Resource teacher in the Hamilton Southeastern school system for 24 years. Barbara and Dick traveled the United States, including Hawaii and Alaska. Perhaps one of the bravest things she did was to spend a month traveling the West with their three teenage daughters camping in a motor home!

After Dick died in 1985, Barbara eventually met and married her second husband, Edwin Smith. The two moved to Bradenton, Fla., once Barbara retired. She worked on the Mt. Vernon neighborhood association board and volunteered for a variety of organizations such as voter registration, Indiana University alumni association, and her Episcopal Church of the Annunciation on Anna Maria Island. She loved walking, water aerobics, reading, crossword puzzles, and watching her beloved Indiana Hoosiers play football and basketball. Well into her 91st year, she still watched the annual Indianapolis 500 where she and her extended family talked by phone to predict the winning race car driver.

Barbara was an only child and was preceded in death by her parents Clayton and Mary (Molnar) Taylor, her two husbands, Richard Griffith and Ed Smith, and her grandson Zachary Renshaw.

The family would like to thank Heartland Hospice and Kingston Memory Care in Fort Wayne, Ind., for the care and compassion they showed our loved one in her final days. There will be a private family memorial service graveside at Oaklawn Memorial Gardens, Fishers.

Please consider donating in her honor to: Mote Marine Laboratory and Aquarium, ATTN: Development Office, 1600 Ken Thompson Pkwy., Sarasota, FL 34236, (941) 388-4441; mote.org.

Jeffrey Keith Jones
February 5, 1958 – September 8, 2024

Jeffrey Keith Jones, 66, Greeneville, Tenn., passed away Sunday, September 8, 2024, in Welch, W.V.

Jeff's family life began at the First Church of God over 40 years ago where he met Karen Wicker Jones on church volleyball night; they were soon married October 1984. Eventually they dedicated to the Lord and raised two children in the church, Jedidiah Jones (wife Rachel and children Jayce, Aubrey, and Amelia) and Abigail Jones Boven (husband Sam). Jeff's pride and joy were not only his children but his three precious grandchildren as well.

Jeff enjoyed being involved in various activities at First Church over the years. He sang in the choir, participated in various roles for the Life of Christ Easter Drama, participated in Promise Keepers, traveled to Haiti with the church mission team, was the caretaker for Locust Springs Christian Retreat Center for several years, served as a Steward, was a part of the Crisis Response Team, and started the Monday night pickleball ministry. Jeff considered the church his family.

Jeff worked at DTR/SumiRiko for 20 years and was retired for two years. During his retirement, he began to live his life to the fullest by going on adventurous motorcycle rides, wood working, and finishing projects around his home and his children's homes.

As a lifetime member of the Defenders Law Enforcement Motorcycle Club of Greeneville, Jeff held the position of treasurer. He considered the group of members as brothers that only fellow motorcyclists and club members could understand.

Jeff played on the Roy Hobbs Baseball League and enjoyed the fellowship with all the players on the team.

Jeff attended and loved to watch all the sports his grandchildren played. Basketball, cheerleading, and volleyball for Doak Elementary and baseball for the Chuckey Ruritan, he never missed the chance to cheer them on!

He is survived by his wife: Karen Wicker Jones, spouse of 40 years; a son: Jedidiah Jones, (daughter-in-law Rachel), three grandchildren: Jayce, Aubrey, and Amelia; a daughter: Abigail Jones Boven (son-in-law Sam) all of Greeneville; a sister: Jennifer Beaty of Greeneville; uncle: Gary Brown (wife Amy) of Greeneville; brother-in-law: Eric Wicker; sisters-in-law: Holly Wicker and Nicole Wicker, all of Lansing, Mich.; brother-in-law: Chris Wicker (wife and daughter, Kathleen and Joslyn) of Tustin, Mich.; a special "aunt-in-law" Shirley Jennings; lifelong friends from Westfield.

He was preceded in death by a daughter: Meghan Jones; parents: Jay D and Rosa Lee Jones; mother-in-law: Mary Jo Taylor Wicker; and a special "uncle-in-law" Ronald Jennings.

Tigers take Mudsock in close fight

The REPORTER

Another year, another memorable Mudsock football game.

This season's showdown between Fishers and Hamilton Southeastern last Friday kept everyone guessing until the end, when the Tigers escaped the Royals' stadium with a 37-35 victory. It was the first time Fishers had won the annual contest since 2019.

"I'm just so proud of this team," said Tigers coach Curt Funk. The coach said this year's team has a mix of kids that have played varsity before and quite a few players who are in their first year of varsity football. But the players came together and showed "true grit when the game is on the line," he said.

"I'm just so proud of how they fight and they battle and how they just keep improving in each game and each practice," said Funk.

The Tigers blasted off to a 27-7 halftime lead. Ryan Thembulembu began his outstanding game with a two-yard run into the end zone. Thembulembu earlier ran 42 yards to get into the Southeastern red zone and kept going from there. Jon Tangara finished it with an extra-point kick.

Carter Reed answered for the Royals, as he took off into the end zone from the 14-yard line. Hugo Belmonte kicked the extra point, and the score was 7-7.

Fishers got back on top quickly. Gage Sturgill made a pair of long passes, one each to Carsen Eloms and JonAnthony Hall, which set up a six-yard TD run for Thembulembu. The Tigers led 14-7 after one.

Thembulembu scored another touchdown early in the second quarter. This one was a reception, as Sturgill found him for an 11-yard pass play score. Fishers completed its first-half scoring with another rushing TD: Thembulembu made six rushes to get the Tigers to the 20. Brady Griffiths then rushed 19 yards to get to the one and punched the ball in on the next play.

"He was a real warrior tonight and got us some really tough yards in crucial moments," said Funk of Thembulembu.

Southeastern began its comeback right away: Carter Reed scored on the first play of the second half, streaking 82 yards into the end zone. Later, Vaughn Johnson took a seven-yard trip for a touchdown, and the Royals were within 27-21.

As the third quarter progressed, Fishers found itself starting a drive on its four-yard line. Sturgill took care of that, throwing a 68-yard pass to JonAnthony Hall.

Seconds later, Sturgill ran the ball in from the nine for

The REPORTER

Westfield kept its perfect record intact last Friday, holding off a late comeback by host Noblesville to win the Midland Rail trophy game 38-18 at the Millers' Beaver Stadium.

The Shamrocks led 10-0 after the first quarter. Mikeah Webster got Westfield on the board with a four-yard touchdown run. Owen Wright kicked the extra point, then later kicked a 35-yard field goal during the waning seconds of the period.

Noblesville cut into that advantage after Ty Holmes made a three-yard TD run late in the second quarter. As a result, the Millers trailed only 10-6 going into halftime.

But the Rocks re-asserted themselves in the third quarter with two touchdowns. Ryder Birk made a nine-yard run into the end zone, then Carsen Melvin sent a 17-yard touchdown throw to Gabe Aramboles. Westfield led 24-6 after three quarters.

The Millers got themselves back in contention with two fast touchdowns late in the fourth quarter. Holmes pushed the ball into the end zone from the two-yard line, then after Noblesville recovered an onside kick, quarterback Max Miller found Indy Wilhelm for an 18-yard touchdown reception.

Suddenly, the Millers were within 24-18. But the Shamrocks let them get no closer. Aramboles hauled in a 50-yard touchdown pass from Melvin just seconds later, and Westfield led 31-18. Noblesville tried to make one more drive, but Drew Law turned an interception into a 57-yard pick six. Oliver Church kicked both extra points in the fourth quarter.

"I think this team's been a team that responds," said Shamrocks coach Josh Miracle. "They try not to get too high, too low, somewhere in between, and it seems like some of our guys just know when they need to step up and make a play."

Melvin was 11-of-16

through the air for 123 yards, with Aramboles catching five of those passes. Holmes led the Noblesville rushing with 60 yards.

Four Westfield players reached double digits for total tackles: Keegan Krupp made 15 stops, Webster had 11, while Isaac Weingart and Lennox Williams both had 10. Law and Preston Dirks each made one tackle for a loss.

Blackhawks blow by Bulldogs in first half, now 2-0 in conference play

The REPORTER

Sheridan ran its Hoosier Heartland Conference record to 2-0 last Friday with a 43-26 win at Clinton Central.

The second quarter was the difference for the Blackhawks, as they outscored the Bulldogs 14-0 in that period for a 21-6 halftime lead. Jaylen Arnold opened the quarter with a 12-yard touchdown run, then Brock Hagan punched the ball in from the one midway through the quarter.

Arnold and Hagan teamed up for a score in the first quarter, connecting on a nine-yard TD pass play. Owen Bell kicked all three extra points.

Sheridan stayed comfortably ahead of Clinton

Central in the second half. Alex Cravens helped out with two short touchdown runs, scoring in the third quarter and at the beginning of the fourth quarter. Bell completed the scoring with a one-yard TD run late in the fourth.

Arnold totaled 177 yards on the ground, with Cravens racking up 123 yards. Bell was 5-of-5 in extra points and ran in a two-point conversion after scoring his touchdown.

The Blackhawks are currently tied in the early HHC standings with Carroll and Clinton Prairie, as all teams are 2-0 in league play. Sheridan is 2-2 overall and will play at Clinton Prairie on Friday.

The Huskies scored their touchdown with 6:54 left in the second quarter when Drew Woodruff threw a 34-yard scoring pass to Nick Bichey. The Warriors led 20-7 at halftime.

Woodruff finished with 95 yards passing. Michael

Cain led the defense with 10 total tackles (six solo, four assists) and an interception. Cooper Craft also caught an interception and Nick Hulen made one sack and picked up one fumble recovery. Bichey had one tackle for a loss.

Heights is 0-4 and opens Hoosier Conference Large School Division play at home Friday against Western.

Carmel falls to Louisville Trinity

The REPORTER

Carmel dropped a 35-23 game to visiting Louisville Trinity last Friday at Carmel Stadium.

The Greyhounds got on the board first after Lukas Krishtanmoorthy kicked a 24-yard field goal with 4:21 left in the first quarter. That would be the only score of the opening period.

Trinity jumped ahead 7-3 less than a minute into the second quarter after Jemaurion Berry made a five-yard touchdown run. Berry would rush for three touchdowns in the game, including the Shamrocks' next score on a 44-yard sprint. Jeremaih Lynn caught a 42-yard pass late in the second quarter.

Matt Obermeier booted a 42-yard field goal early in the quarter, and Dominic Shockley kept Carmel in it with a 26-yard touchdown catch from Anthony Coellner with nine seconds left in the half. The Greyhounds trailed only 21-13 going into the break.

Krishtanmoorthy added another field goal, a 27-yard kick to get Carmel within 21-16. But two touchdown runs — a 10-yarder from Lynn and a 40-yarder from Berry — kept Trinity ahead 35-16 after three.

Nate Williams caught a 20-yard touchdown throw from Coellner early in the fourth period. Coellner had a monster game, totaling 328 yards on 23-of-37 passing. Shockley had seven of those catches for 129 yards, with Williams getting another seven receptions. Jacob Bellin had six catches and totaled 101 yards.

The Greyhounds are 2-2 and host Brebeuf Jesuit Friday.

Brebeuf Jesuit outlasts Guerin Catholic in shootout to begin Circle City play

By CRAIG ADKINS

For The Reporter

NOBLESVILLE — Guerin Catholic and Brebeuf Jesuit couldn't have given the fans more of a show last Friday night than they did at The Eagles' Nest. This game was worth the price of admission and more.

The two high-powered offenses combined for 1,627 total yards, but it would be the visiting Braves that were able to take advantage and outlast the Golden Eagles, 69-62.

The first quarter was indicative of how the game flow would go for the game. After getting up 13-0, the Braves were up 35-14 after the first, which lasted over 40 minutes of real time.

"We're proud of our kids, because they kept fighting and battling," said Guerin Catholic head coach Tom Dilley.

Guerin got on the board when Malcolm Houze found Aidan Horn for an 11-yard TD to cut it to 13-7.

A few plays later, Brebeuf quarterback Maverick Geske connected with Jay Hmurovich for a 55 yard score. Tailback CJ Harris made it a three-score game 28-7.

Hayden Cler then got his first TD on the next drive to cut it to 28-14. Harris added a second TD of the first quarter for the 35-14 advantage.

"I think they had a little shock for a second and at some point shook it off and just adopted the 'all you can do is play from here and you never know what's going to happen' with a lot of ballgame left and just keep pounding away," continued Dilley. "We never shut them down, but we got it down to a one score game and that's much, much credit to our guys' fight."

The second started with Houze throwing his second interception, both to Cam Walters. The next play, Aidan Ferry picked off Geske to get the ball right back.

As the game moved on, the energy stayed high throughout and had the feel like each team was in video game mode.

Guerin Catholic's Malcolm Houze (left) and Hayden Cler put together record-breaking performances during the Golden Eagles' high-scoring game with Brebeuf Jesuit last Friday. Houze threw for 638 yards and eight touchdowns, while Cler had five touchdown receptions.

Elias Niccum caught Houze's third TD and Malcolm ran one in from 14 yards out. Just when it seemed like Guerin Catholic was finding a way to narrow the gap, Brebeuf found ways to score again and led at halftime 48-28.

Just one touchdown each was added in the third. Cler found the end zone for the second time to make it 48-34.

The Braves' fullback Parker Maiers ran in a touchdown for a 55-34 score.

The Golden Eagles were sustaining a drive and wound up turning the ball over on downs at Brebeuf's 12. The Braves returned the favor, driving deep into Guerin territory. Defensive back JB Ford put a stop to that, intercepting Geske in the end zone.

If it weren't for Harris running like the Energizer Bunny all night and adding another pair of fourth-quarter touchdowns, Guerin would have fully completed the comeback.

The play of Houze at quarterback is what made Guerin tick for 48 minutes. Having a career night in the pocket, he seemed grateful for how it happened.

Last week against Heritage Christian, Jack Linden was able to run for 325 yards on 44 carries for his career highs so far. Tonight, it would be Malcolm Houze and Hayden Cler's turn.

Brebeuf's defensive game plan was to limit the run and that's what happened, opening up the passing game for Houze to shine.

"We knew that the box was going to be packed. I have all of the faith in my receivers. I can throw it up to any one of them and I'll feel safe," Guerin Catholic quarterback Malcolm Houze said.

"It starts on the o-line as well. It's won in the trenches. They give me the time to get the ball off and from there I throw half these throws in practice every week and I'm ready for it when we come out here on Friday nights," continued Houze.

The o-line gave him enough time to uncork four touchdown strikes in the fourth to Hayden Cler of 12, 71, 36 and 12 yards. But the Golden Eagles' comeback fell short by one score.

"He's (Houze) executing at a high level. He's doing what his reads take him to and he's athletically good enough to do what his reads tell him to do. Sometimes when the reads get cloudy and things break down, he's athletic enough to make something out of nothing, too," Dilley continued on Houze.

Guerin Catholic continues play over the next two weeks in the Circle City Conference, hitting the road at Roncalli Friday and Bishop Chatard the week after.

"This is what sets us up perfectly. The Circle City Conference is full of great teams. We've got Roncalli, Brebeuf, Chatard, all three great teams. We don't want to look forward. We take it one week at a time and we're ready and excited for what's next," added Houze.

"It's obviously competition against a high-quality opponent. They're different teams no doubt with their own set of challenges and we're not worried about two weeks from now, just focused on next week," Dilley said.

The old saying is that 'records are made to be broken' and that's exactly what happened for three players last night.

For Brebeuf Jesuit, tailback CJ Harris broke the single-game rushing record with 29 carries for 392 yards and five touchdowns. The previous record was held by Levante Bellamy with 376.

Guerin had a pair of career nights that are more than likely tops in each category. Malcolm Houze threw 40 of 56 for 638 yards, good for 71.4 percent completed and eight touchdowns. Hayden Cler caught 26 of those for 396 yards and 6 touchdowns.

Aidan Horn also had a great night receiving, catching seven for 110 yards.

Guerin Catholic (3-1, 0-1 CCC) goes to Roncalli (1-2) Friday in Circle City league play. The Royals lost last Friday night at Columbus North, 14-0.

"Gage did a great job tonight," said Funk, who spotlighted Sturgill's. "tremendous composure" during the game. "His touchdown run, that was a big moment in the game. He just wasn't going to be denied."

The Royals began the fourth quarter with a two-yard TD run by Chandler Weston, and Belmonte's kick got HSE within 34-28. Fishers got down to the 12 on its next drive — including a 34-yard run from Thembulembu — and Tangara kicked a 28-yard field goal to give Fishers a 37-28 lead, which Funk called "huge."

The Royals kept the pressure on, as Weston connected with Kendrick Pennybaker for a 73-yard touchdown pass. Belmonte kicked the extra point, and the Fishers lead was two points.

The Tigers got the ball back with 6:25 left. They found themselves at fourth-and-1 on their 28 but decided to go for the first down. Thembulembu stepped up again, making a two-yard run to get the first down. That kept the drive going, and the Tigers made two more first downs to run out the clock.

Millers prove there's something to be said for consistency, Shamrocks win Bloomington North Invitational

By RICHIE HALL
sports@readthereporter.com

NOBLESVILLE – Consistency is a good thing, especially with the state tournament around the corner.

The Noblesville girls golf team put together another consistent performance last Saturday as it hosted the Courtney Cox Cole Invitational at Harbour Trees. The Millers won the tournament as their Gold team scored 312.

Noblesville's top scorers were all within shouting distance of each other. Olivia Fowler led the Millers with a 74, which tied her for second place individually. Josie Kelley added a 75, good for fourth place. Karis Shields scored 80 (tying her for seventh place) and Olivia Anderson added 83. Presley White scored 85.

"I thought they played well," said Noblesville coach Justin Werkley. "The course was difficult, but I thought we played well. We hung in there. Every round is different."

The Millers have two more meets this week, starting with a three-team match at Chatham Hills with Carmel and Westfield on Tuesday. Noblesville then travels to West Chase in Brownsburg on Wednesday for a dual with the Bulldogs, then host the sectional at Harbour Trees next Monday, Sept. 23.

"Anytime we can get out and compete on this course, it helps us prepare for the sectional," said Werkley.

Hamilton Southeastern, which also plays at Harbour Trees for the sectional, scored 327 to take second place as a team. Janelle Garcia scored 76, making her the fifth-place individual.

Carmel scored 328 to take third as a team. The Greyhounds had the meet medalist: senior Sophie Mock totaled a 72, which she called a "really solid" performance.

"It was a bit of a rough start, but once I got more comfortable with my irons, I was able to stick it a little closer to the pin and was able to just make some putts," said Mock.

Maddie Headlee scored 74, putting her in a tie for second place.

"I think it's good because we can push each other," said Mock. "And it's just nice, and you have someone else that has your back on the course and you can be confident in their play."

Westfield scored 344, while Guerin Catholic totaled 358. Ali Scott posted 78, good for sixth place. Fishers' Kendall Manion, Shields and Noblesville White's Peyton Kauzlick all scored 80, tying them for eighth place.

Rocks claim Brittany Kelly Invite title

By RICHIE HALL

CARMEL – The Westfield girls golf team won another important tournament last Tuesday, claiming the Brittany Kelly Invitational at Woodland Country Club in Carmel.

The No. 1-ranked Shamrocks scored 306, with two of their players finishing in the top four. That included Addi Kooi, who earned co-medalist honors with a score of 69. Zionsville's Taylor Snively also scored 69; she, Kooi and Carmel's Maddie Headlee all played in the same group.

Kooi said she enjoys playing with the other two, saying Headlee is "hilarious. I love to play with her." The senior also noted that playing with the freshman Snively is also fun, and it helps her game as well.

"Taylor pushes me," said Kooi. "I did not have some of my best game today, but she was playing phenomenal, hit 18 greens today. It really just pushes me to be better."

Westfield finished nine strokes ahead of the Eagles, who scored 315. Noblesville was third with a 316.

"It's a huge boost of confidence," said Kooi. "We've had a roll lately. We've been doing really well. For us to just go out here each time and put up a consistent score and have fun, I think is the most important thing, because when you have fun, you do better."

Kelsey Haverluck tied for third place with a 72. Everyone else was consistent as well: Kate Brown totaled 82, Sophie Raines scored 83 and Sami Hanavan carded 89.

The Millers were led by Olivia Fowler, who tied for fifth individually by scoring 75. Josie Kelley added 77, placing her eighth.

Hamilton Southeastern scored 324 as a team. Janelle Garcia also tied for fifth place with her score of 75. Sophie Roberts added 79.

Royals sweep rival Tigers for Mudsock win

By RICHARD TORRES
For The Reporter

FISHERS – The Fishers Tigers jostled the Hamilton Southeastern Royals' crown momentarily on Thursday night, but they could do little to dethrone the nation's third-best volleyball program.

The host Tigers forced 18 ties through three games and led by as many as three points in the first set against Class 4A No. 1 HSE, and then the Royals remembered who they are.

The two-time defending state champion Royals put together a pair of decisive runs in the first and second sets to win both games by a margin of 25-17 before capping their three-game, Mudsock sweep 25-14 in the third.

"Both of our soccer teams tied (Fishers this week), so we were kind of that match that decides the Mudsock. We're in the lead now, so that's really good for our team," HSE senior Lindsey Mangleson said. "I feel like this win was really good because there's just so much energy here. We just all played out, and it really feels good."

Playing in front of a lively crowd at Fishers High School, both rival Hoosier Crossroads Conference programs battled through four ties and two lead changes in the first set and nine ties in the second with six lead changes.

In both sets, Mangleson, a Mississippi State recruit, powered HSE's deciding rallies, including an ace in the first, which kicked off a 7-3 run, and a kill for the fourth point during the second set's 10-3 swing.

The Tigers (11-6, 2-1 HCC) and Royals (13-1, 2-1 HCC) were deadlocked 9-9 in the first before HSE charged ahead 16-9. In the second, an 11-11 tie quickly turned into a 21-14 HSE advantage.

"I feel like we had all the momentum, and then we just made big defensive plays that helped us push, and we just won the game," said Mangleson, who was named the game's inaugural most valuable player.

"I feel like we had a lot of pressure in the beginning of the season, and then we lost to Brownsburg (3-1 on Aug. 29). I feel like that really took the pressure off, and I feel like we've just come out and played our hardest and are coming and playing like we're ranked."

A state champion in 2022-23 with a record of 34-1 and again in 2023-24 with a flawless 33-0 record, the Royals showcased their championship pedigree with consistent attacks spearheaded by senior setter Ava Hunter, a Loyola-Chicago commit.

Hunter routinely fed 6-foot-2 Mangleson and junior Madison Miles, an Illinois recruit, to tame any potential rallies by the Tigers.

"In a rivalry such as this, records and favorites don't matter. It's about who can get the job done on this particular night in front of a really good crowd on both sides," HSE head coach Jason Young said.

"I've always said, it's special just because we're playing against neighbors, against teammates, against people we care about. Usually, it's just about fun bragging rights and that makes this game special. It's one district with two schools, but we're all in this together."

The Hamilton Southeastern volleyball team celebrated after winning the Mudsock match last Thursday at Fishers. The Indiana Class 4A No. 1-ranked Royals (who are also ranked No. 3 in the nation), swept the Tigers for the victory.

rman, sophomore Milana Mays, sophomore Ella Dragoo, senior Ava Gutt and senior Aubree Valcourt keeping the Tigers in the match with strong net play.

A dig by HSE junior defensive specialist Mia Walpole swung the momentum for good in the second set, however.

With the ball volleyed over the HSE bench, Walpole tracked down the Tigers' attack and dove through the sideline chairs to keep the rally alive. A few exchanges later, a Raegan Miles block put the Royals up 20-14.

"I think it was a pretty cool moment. I think it definitely changed the momentum of the game, which is really fun," Walpole said. "In practice, we've really been working on defense a lot yesterday, so I think we came in really prepared and with the right mindset."

Walpole's all-out effort fueled the Royals, who completed their 10-3 run and resumed later with a 4-2 finale.

"That was one of the biggest momentum changes for us. I feel like after that point, we just had all the momentum. It was a game changer," Mangleson said.

Fishers led the third set through five ties to start before HSE ran away with a 13-3 run.

"I don't think we felt any pressure. I don't think we were cocky, but we were very confident in ourselves, and we knew what we had to do. We executed really well," Walpole said.

The Royals relished the rivalry win, but there's still more to do, said coach Young.

"The way that this group is built, I don't think there is any satisfaction. I don't think we're done hunting. I think we still have something to prove, and we still have something to show. We're looking for the next crown," Young said. "The crown that's in the rearview mirror is done. It's about the crown that's in front of us, and that's what we're after. Again, there's a target on us, and good for that, but we're not done hunting."

The Royals followed up their Mudsock win by sweeping two matches at their own Southeastern Showcase last Saturday. The Royals beat Lake Central 25-9, 25-12, 25-14 and Cathedral 25-14, 25-22, 25-15.

This week, HSE hosts Pendleton Heights on Monday and Westfield on Thursday, then plays at the New Castle Invitational on Saturday. The Royals take on Plainfield before a rematch with Fishers.

Prior to that, the Tigers host Center Grove on Monday. Fishers then goes on the road for matches at Carmel on Wednesday and Brownsburg on Thursday.

Shamrocks make the comeback over Millers

By RICHIE HALL

WESTFIELD – The Westfield volleyball team scored a comeback win over Noblesville last Thursday at CSI Gymnasium.

The Shamrocks were down two sets to none before powering through the third and fourth sets. Westfield then won the winner-take-all fifth set to clinch the Hoosier Crossroads Conference victory. The set scores were 22-25, 20-25, 25-12, 25-16, 15-12.

The Millers built a 17-11 lead in the first set before the Rocks came back to tie it at 20-20. But Noblesville surged ahead by winning five of the last seven points; Kennedy Lutz served an ace on set point.

In the second set, the Millers steadily gained a lead on Westfield, with Chloe Macias making two kills and a block to help get Noblesville ahead 13-8. The Shamrocks battled for the entire set, but a net tip from Lauren Flynn gave the Millers set point, and they won that point to go up 2-0 in sets.

Westfield barreled through the third set, making four- and five-set runs to take a 16-5 lead. Audrey Bassett, Carsyn Comer and Paige Rudolph all hit multiple kills, with Comer serving an ace during the set. The Shamrocks repeated themselves in the fourth set, going up 8-3 thanks to two Comer aces, and a block by Izzy Jackson.

A Comer net tip pushed Westfield ahead 14-8, then Audrey Davis smacked a kill to give the Rocks a 19-13 advantage. Comer made a successful block to get Westfield to set point, and the Shamrocks soon had the match evened up.

The fifth set was a battle, with both teams making big plays. Ashlynn Turner hit two kills to take Noblesville from being down 3-2 to up 4-3. Macias made a block to give the Millers and 8-6 lead, then Lutz powered a kill to put Noblesville ahead 9-7.

But Davis ended that with her own kill, which started another Westfield run. Ava Stewart stepped up and served consecutive aces, Comer made a block and Stewart hit another ace to put the Shamrocks up 12-9. Comer hit a kill on match point to complete the Westfield comeback.

"After starting down two sets tonight, I thought the Rocks came back and fought with grit and against some adversity," said Westfield coach Emily Jackson. "It was a total team win where people had to play different positions. Everyone had to step up."

Rudolph finished with 15 kills for the Rocks, followed by Comer with 10, Davis with eight and Bassett with eight. Kendyl Strack had 22 digs, with Bassett collecting 21 and Jackson making 20. Emily Blevins dished out 25 assists and Jackson handed out 24.

Macias led Noblesville with 18 kills and five blocks. Turner hit 12 kills and Flynn had 11. Maggie Hall made 20 digs and Madison Brown had 14.

Royals, Tigers battle to tie in Mudsock classic

By RICHARD TORRES For The Reporter

FISHERS – Rivalry games typically bring out the best in teams.

Last Wednesday night, the nationally ranked Hamilton Southeastern Royals and Fishers Tigers didn't disappoint, as both programs battled to a 1-1 tie in an instant Mudsock classic.

Fishers struck first with a goal scored by junior Elise May, a Butler recruit, in the ninth minute off an assist by sophomore Iris Martin before the high-powered Royals eventually wore down the Tigers' defense to equalize 69 minutes later.

The Class 3A Tigers kept the Royals scoreless through nearly 77 minutes with junior goalkeeper Sarah Maudlin supplying 14 saves against more than a dozen shots on goal by HSE.

"We've had our ups and downs. Seven of our first eight games have been against top 13 teams, so it gives us opportunities to get great results like tonight and also teaches us some lessons," Fishers head coach Harold Spooner said. "I keep telling them, if we play to the best of our abilities, we can compete and beat anybody on any given night."

They almost shocked the 3A Royals, who are ranked second in the nation, according to the MaxPreps, and first in the state.

Led by a multitude of college recruits and commits, the Royals are averaging 21.9 shots per match and 11.2 shots on goal. Against the Tigers (1-2-1 HCC), they met or exceeded those marks.

In the first half, HSE logged seven shots on goal and 11 shots with 19 attacking opportunities. Overall, the Royals swarmed Tigers territory 41 times compared to Fishers' 21, but Maudlin and her defenders maintained a clean sheet until the end despite the relentless onslaught.

Once in the first half, the Tigers' defense aided Maudlin with a key team save by junior Reese Williams. In the second half, junior Delaney Allgeier and senior Mallory Slabaugh each posted team saves, as HSE ramped up the pressure with 10 shots on goal and 16 shots.

"They were down at our net the entire second half pretty much, and it's a great team, so they're going to do that to you. They were up for the challenge, and sometimes that happens," Spooner said. "I'm so proud of how everyone played. They did it. Unfortunately, with three minutes left that's the game sometimes."

The Royals had 27 goals to their credit in nine games prior and against their fifth Hoosier Crossroads Conference opponent so far this season, they met resistance.

HSE shut out Franklin Central, 5-0, last month, blanked Brownsburg, 2-0, and tied defending state champion Noblesville, 1-1, on Aug. 31. The Royals (3-0-2 HCC) were coming off a 4-0 win over Avon on Sept. 4 during their last HCC contest.

"When you're as good as we have been traditionally and as good as we are this year, we know we're going to get everybody's best game and that's OK. Hopefully, it helps prepare us to make sure that we're sharp and playing our best always," HSE head coach Greg Davidson said. "Anything less, then it's not good enough for us."

The Royals' deficit wasn't from a lack of effort or talent, as senior Cole Lance (Grand Valley State), junior Sydney Cook (Purdue), junior Sloane May (Michigan), senior Abby Straus (Ashland) and junior Kate Noel (Purdue) each fueled HSE's 20 shots.

Junior Blair Satterfield, who is getting looks from Ball State and Butler, kept the Royals' box unoccupied in front of goalkeeper Hannah Dodge, who finished with two saves against four shots on goal.

"Kudos to (Maudlin). She was absolutely amazing for Fishers. She stood on her head, made unbelievable saves. Goal-saving saves. There's a difference of catching the ball and making a goal-saving save, and she had a few of those tonight," Davidson said.

Sloane May proved the difference maker for HSE, as the forward lined three shots on goal and four shots, including the equalizer with 2:55 remaining.

May played a free-kick shot on goal from Straus and collected the rebound in front of the net to tie the game with her sixth goal of the season.

"We had a lot of opportunities. Abby (Straus) is one of our key players in playing those dangerous balls, and it really worked out. It was right time, right place," May said.

"It was frustrating. I think our composure was a little bit off towards the beginning, and we were a little bit frantic. Second half, we had a lot more energy and we kind of just figured it out, but it was frustrating."

Big weekend wins

The Royals picked up two big wins at home last Saturday over Fort Wayne-area teams.

First, HSE defeated Carroll 4-0 in a morning game. Margaux Henning, Blair Satterfield, Lance and Sydney May each scored one goal, with Sydney May making two assists and Lance one assist. Goalkeeper Hannah Dodge earned the shutout.

The Royals cruised past Leo 9-0 in the second game, leading 7-0 at halftime. Ry-lye Brydges put in three goals for HSE, with Sydney May scoring two. Lance, Sloane May, Gracie Pyle and Addison McClain all had one goal.

Pyle dished out two assists, followed by one each for Sydney Cook, Henning, Sydney May, Sloane May and Izzie Springer. The Royals allowed the Lions zero shots for the game.

HSE is 10-0-2 and plays a conference game Wednesday at Westfield.

Meanwhile, Fishers got wins over those same Fort Wayne teams last Saturday.

The Tigers played Leo first and won 1-0. Emerson Huneck scored Fishers' goal in the second half, off an Iris Martin assist. Maudlin had six saves.

In their second game, the Tigers beat Carroll 2-0. May and Delaney Allgeier each scored one goal. Maudlin stepped up again with three saves.

Fishers is 5-3-2. The Tigers start their week Monday with an HCC game at Franklin Central, then host Brownsburg Wednesday for another conference game. Fishers also hosts Harrison Saturday.
