Master of planning

I would call myself a master planner.

I do not mean at planning big events, outings, or vacations. I mean I am a daily master planner.

As a disabled person, many moments of the day involve a plan, even down to planning how I will get up off a certain chair or into or out of a certain car.

All of it requires thought and planning. It is mind boggling to think about all the minuscule details I must plan throughout each day just to get through one day! A huge part of that planning involves careful calculation of preserving precious energy, too. I must make sure that I have planned down to the smallest detail to make sure I can make it to the end of the day. There are many nights where I will sit in the living room for an extra hour or so, just to muster up enough energy to make it to bed. Like an inner pep talk.

When my kids were small and I was working part-time, the energy planning was SO hard. I never had enough left into the tank, often not even being able to walk to my bed at night. My incredible husband, who I am sure did not have much left in his tank either, managed to carry me to bed many of those nights. Looking back, I am not even sure how we did it, but somehow, we managed together.

His masterpiece

Here's another COLUMNIST story from my mother, Dorothy Howard Adler.

Son was growing up. He learned rapidly and relished his farm chores. Many of them were routine but now and again an unusual job needed doing.

One of these was the raising of an old log cabin which stood in the back field at Grandfather's place. Once a home, then a farm shed, now a trap. Father chose a day, loaded some tools and took Son along to help. The two of them soon had the task completed. They even had a few souvenirs: an old Ford headlight, tiny teapot.

Mrs. S. was Son's English teacher that fall and in due time she asked her class to write themes. Son decided to write about the old log house. A fine topic. Very good. Mother was pleased, perhaps too pleased. She kept making suggestions until Son began thinking of a new topic. But he did finish and he did complete a masterpiece. Mrs. S was more than pleased with his production. Son was pleased with his grade but not with his masterpiece. He tore it up, wadded it up, threw it in the wastebasket.

Mother was chagrined. What had gone wrong? And anyway what was so wonderful about an old log house? Too late Mother realized that the story was Son's but the expressions were hers. They both should have written a story. Now it is too late. The words won't come back.

The house? Old, no good, a thing to dispose of. Father and Son were chased out by a swarm of bumblebees. They are dangerous creatures and both were greatly relieved to get away from them. They had no more than reached a safe place when they were startled by a loud crash. The old house was down! The bees had scared them half to death but had saved their lives by forcing a hasty exit.

Next time write your own story. It's better that way even if it isn't so good!

(The old log cabin back the lane at grandpa Carl Adler's was torn down when I was in the eighth grade. Grandma's house where aunt Dorothy I. Adler lives had been located back near the log cabin and had been moved forward by horses and large rollers. The model T Ford taillight is still in our library. I restored and repainted it).

HEPL offers free bike helmet program to promote safety & wellness for riders

The REPORTER

Hamilton East Public Library (HEPL) will hold a "Bike Rodeo" in partnership with the Hamilton County Sheriff's Office to promote safety and wellness for children ages 7 to 10.

This program will take place from 10 a.m. to noon Saturday, Sept. 28 at the Fishers Library, located outside near the Nickel Plate Trail.

Attendees are asked to bring their own bike and arrive ready to learn safe ways to travel on bike path trails. After learning some safety basics, riders will then have the opportunity to put those skills into action through an obstacle course challenge aimed to build riding skills. Free helmets and fittings will be provided (while supplies last) and a helmet must be worn to participate.

The City Council will vote on approval of this project at its November meeting.

"We are excited to partner with Rebar Development on their first Westfield project," Mayor Scott Willis said. "Ambrose on Main will be a key gateway on downtown's east side and provide more opportunities for people to live near our downtown core."

Rebar Development has partnered with Studio Axis (architect), Kimley-Horn (civil engineer), and CPM Construction (general contractor) for the project.

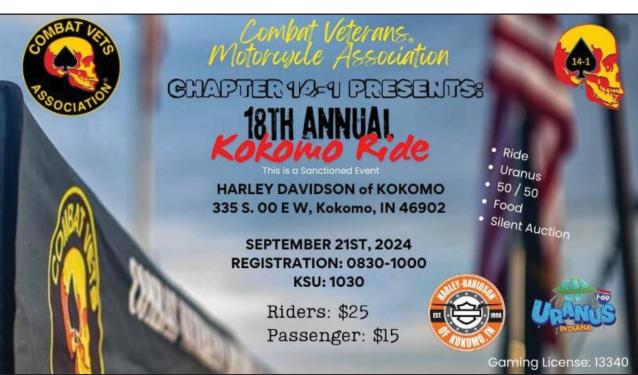

"Ambrose on Main aligns perfectly with our goal to develop high-quality mixeduse projects where people can enjoy living, working, and visiting," said Shelby Bowen, Founder and Partner at Rebar Development. "We are excited to partner with the City of Westfield to be a part of the extraordinary momentum and investment happening in their downtown."

The city has partnered with INDOT on several roundabout improvements on State Road 32. As such, the intersection of SR 32 and East Street will be converted to a roundabout.

The project was presented to the Westfield Redevelopment Commission at its Sept. 16 meeting. The project will be presented to Westfield City Council in November, with an anticipated construction start date in February 2025. The project is estimated to be completed by July 2026.

PLAN MASTER-

At that time, I was not using a wheelchair in my home, even though I am sure that would have helped me. I was stubborn in that way. Knowing I needed something badly, but I guess not wanting to really admit it to myself. That part was hard for me. Now that I have crossed that threshold, I wish I could go back and tell that young lady, "Don't be crazy, accept the help! It will change your life." In One thing I do know is that many ways, my stubborn- if it does, it will turn your ness and pride made my life so much harder.

I am thankful that I have a good sense for time management. That quality serves me very well and helps me daily. I thrive on the planning, really. It is something I have learned to enjoy because I see how much that helps me. I just need to be better about how I react when things do not go according to the way I have planned them.

It's not that I want to be rigid, but when that happens, I have to start from square one, often having to formulate a new plan very quickly. That can be super stressful for me. It can cause a sense of panic, depending on the nature of the change in plans. It is something that I am working on. I am trying to be better about controlling that internal panic when a change in plans happens.

If I tried to tell those around me what was going on inside my mind, they would think I am crazy. Most people do not have to give a second thought to many things that I have to spend a great deal of time thinking about. That part can feel frustrating and isolating to me. I share this because I know that I am not alone. Constant planning is just part of living with a disability. I never share to indicate that I have it so much harder than the person reading this. It is to help others become aware of what life with a disability looks like. Educating others on our different ways of life is so helpful in understanding one another. We all have those things in our lives that we struggle with.

The thing about disabilities is that it can happen to anyone. Maybe it is just temporary, or maybe it is not if that happens to you. life upside down and you will find yourself having to plan the smallest of details, too. Constantly trying to adapt and figure things out it is a full-time job in itself.

Many times, I have had people reach out after becoming injured. They want tips on how to manage. They are understandably at a loss for how to plan that much detail to just exist and do simple tasks for themselves.

It takes humble courage to rise each day, knowing the mountain to be climbed and what it is going to take just to get through an average day, even with no added special events. Accepting that as part of my life has made facing that each day a little easier. Even looking back on my childhood, I was doing this. It is the life I was given, and the older I get, the more thankful I am of this life. In my younger days, I often said, "I was dealt a bad hand." But I was not dealt a bad hand. I was dealt a very intentional hand. I just had to learn how to play it.

Until next time ...

During that time, the Phillips family saw a significant amount of support from the community, including Corban's rugby team, the Westfield Shamrocks. A friend started a GoFundMe to garner financial support for the family.

Through the fundraising efforts, word spread around the area, and Phillips was contacted by both a woman in Westfield who had previously worked at Craig Hospital, a neurorehabilitation center near Denver, Colo., and a man from Carmel who had been a patient at Craig.

Over Labor Day weekend, one of Craig's admissions directors contacted than an hour of his personal holiday time to talk with the family about what Craig could offer them, which included 60 days of inpatient care with eight hours a day of therapy five days a week and 40 days of outpatient care two to three days a week, plus a teen group and planned outings. As it turns out, Craig Hospital is in network with tus Property Management, the health insurance Phillips has from her work with Zotec Partners in Carmel. Currently, Phillips is on unpaid leave per the Family and Medical Leave Act. Right now, her full-time job is being present with Corban and learning everything she can about his recovery and care. As it is vital that Phillips keeps the health insurance that is covering Corban's rehab, she has requested that at the end of her 12 weeks of leave, she be provided with a laptop and allowed to work remotely, getting her 40 hours in as she can throughout the week.

Matt's employer, Jushas offered to provide the Phillipses with a first-floor, three-bedroom, two-bath apartment rent free for a minimum of a year. They are looking into making the apartment compliant with the Americans with Disabilities Act Standards of Accessible Design. The move from a two-story home will better meet Corban's needs when he leaves rehab. However, that means that Matt and Corban's sister Caelyn, who is a student at Westfield Middle School, are dealing with finishing up some home improvement projects and

"It's one thing to go through something like this accident and life change, and it's one thing to move to a new house," Phillips said. "It's another thing to do both at the same time."

The Hamilton Coun-Artists' Association (HCAA) Youth Membership Council is getting ready to start its third year with a new group of students who attend grades 7 through 12 in Hamilton County. This group was started by Celia Hamilton in 2022 as a Girl Scout Gold Award project with the support of the HCAA board.

The group meets during the school year at the HCAA Birdie Gallery in Noblesville. Over the past two years, members have had the opportunity to work with professional artists learning portrait drawing from life, oil painting, fiber arts, and botanical dye transfer.

Members are encouraged to experience different art forms, display their artwork, share their artistic talents, and build community. There will be opportunities to build leadership and teamwork as well as for volunteer hours during community events such as Fairyville, Art Fair on the Square, HCAA Art Camp for kids, and other events.

Membership is limited to 25 applicants. Interested students must be a resident of Hamilton County and currently in grades 7 through 12. Students must commit to attend and par-

Update No. 135

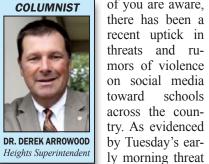

Last week, something really cool took place on our campus.

Hamilton Heights Middle School hosted an EMS and First Responders Day that gave over 350 students (all fourth- and eighth-grade students and some high school students interested in this career path) an upclose and personal look at careers in public service. Students got an insider's view at what our emergency, police, and firefighters do on a daily basis. The event also reinforced the importance of these professional's roles in helping to keep our schools and community safe. Meeting those professionals who live and work in our community was a bonus!

Thank you to Connor James, CTE Business and Preparing for College and Careers Teacher and Reaching New Heights contact at HHMS, and a talented inhouse team who worked in collaboration with our community partners for an interactive and engaging career exploration experience for our students.

What wasn't cool was an anonymous threat sent to the school district via social media this week. As most mors of violence toward schools across the country. As evidenced by Tuesday's earmade on social media, Hamilton Heights is no exception. The threat was determined to be unsubstantiated and non-cred-

As I wrote in my last message, school safety is a 24-7 responsibility. We have a comprehensive and multitiered safety plan that addresses all hazards that may affect our schools. We have the latest surveillance and security technology throughout our campus, onsite Student Resource Officers (SRO) at each building, conduct a variety of safety and crisis drills each year to help prepare students and teachers for a worst case scenario, have safety specialists, committees, and work closely with local, county, and state law enforcement on all things school safety. Schools are among the safest places for students to be.

Here's what you need to

· If any threats arise. they are taken seriously and are investigated. We assess and then react to determine will communicate as soon as possible with information or a directive.

• Our district utilizes a on social media number of ways to contact families including email and text. If you aren't currently receiving text alerts/ communication on your ly morning threat mobile phone and would like to, please reach out to your school's registrar.

• Every tip that the district or local law enforcement receives about a potential threat is investigated without exception.

• Students, families, and staff are encouraged to report all suspicions of threats against a person, school, or district and to local law enforcement, including through the Hamilton Heights Quick Tip Line.

• Do not repost threats on social media. This creates additional danger for schools. As a reminder, our district utilizes a number of ways to contact families including email and text.

of you are aware, what action is needed. We After communication was sent about the situation and continued developments at the school yesterday, we received some calls from parents concerned about not receiving school messenger texts to their mobile phones. If you aren't currently receiving text alerts/communication and would like to, please reach out to your school's registrar. The bottom line is we are all on the same side when it comes to school safety. We all want our kids and staff members to be safe when they are at school. Parent and student involvement are vital as part of a front line of defense when it comes to preventing the spread of harmful messages. We need the entire community working to help stop these Together, we can ensure a safe and secure learning environment for all our students. Thank you to those who saw something and said something.

Carmel International Arts Festival to present dancers from around the world at this year's event

The REPORTER

The 27th annual Carmel International Arts Festival (CIAF) welcomes international dancing artists this year in addition to the physical representations of art from around the U.S. and the world that the festival has become known for. Groups representing Latvia, Mexico, China, Greece and Romania will perform dances representative of their culture.

A Latvian Folk-dance Ensemble known as Lielupe will perform during the festival which takes place September 28 and 29 in Carmel. Ballet Folklorico Mosaicos will also be part of the festival, presenting Mexican Folkloric dance.

Jelgava, Latvia, is one of several Sister Cities to Carmel. Sister Cities were created to promote peace through people-to-people relationships. Latvian artists have been represented at CIAF for the past couple of years.

The Latvian Folk-Dance Ensemble, Lielupe from Jelgava, Latvia, was founded in 1959 as a senior's folk-dance group. Lielupe is currently made up of five generations of dedicated dancers committed to the highest standards of Latvian folk-dancing traditions. For this ensemble, traditions are handed down from one generation to another, allowing them to maintain a remarkably elevated level of professionalism and cohesiveness where every dancer is genuinely appreciated. For Lielupe and its members, folk dancing is more than simply dancing, it's an opportunity to bring people together for the passion and love of dancing and for the combined life experiences it brings to each of them, both in Latvia and the around the world.

Ballet Folklorico Mosaicos from Indianapolis will also be featured at this year's cational and charitable organization is dedicated to teaching, preserving and sharing the heritage of Mexican folkloric dance. They provide cultural education and enrichment to the people and communities in Central Indiana. They have around 50 dancers ranging in age from 12 to 55 years.

The Holy Trinity Hellenic Dance Group will participate at CIAF, as well. Representing the Greek Community, the Hellenic Dance Program is a ministry that brings Holy Trinity's youth and adults together in Orthodox Christian fellowship and affords them the opportunity to live, learn and experience Hellenic culture. The Troupe's goal is to strengthen appreciation for Greek heritage through the education and performance of Greek music and folk dance.

The Indianapolis Chinese Community Center dance group is part of the Indianapolis Chinese Community Center, Inc. ICCCI is a not-for-profit community organization that has been registered in the State of Indiana since 1995. ICC-CI members have a passion for the Chinese language and culture and contribute actively to a diverse local community through educational programming and cultural activities. ICCCI is the largest Chinese American community center across central Indiana. The Cultural Activity Group comprises performance art groups such as the lion and dragon dance team, the Chinese orchestra and the choir. The Cultural Activity Group has played a critical role in promoting awareness of Chinese culture and has contributed to building a more vibrant, multi-cultural landscape in Central Indiana.

Romania is represented by Vlad the Impaler "Drac-festival. This nonprofit edu- ula" Dance Group. Vlad the Impaler "Dracula" is a Romanian Society from Indiana, promoting Romania's richness and beauty, its culture, history, and important events that they are part of or organize.

About CIAF

The Carmel International Arts Festival is a major festival that brings more than 30,000 people to the Arts & Design District in Carmel over a two-day event. Indiana Realtors RPAC endorses Danny Lopez for Indiana House

Submitted by Lopez for Indiana

Danny Lopez has earned

paign for State Representative, the campaign announced Wednesday

"Hamilton County communities consistently rank among the nation's best places to live and work, and Danny Lopez recognizes that housing is essential to both welcoming new residents and investment and ensuring the families and seniors who live here today can afford to stay," Indiana Association of Realtors CEO Mark Fisher said.

RPAC is the political arm of the Indiana Association of Realtors, a statewide diana.com.

trade association representing more than 21,000 members involved in virtually all the support of the Indiana aspects of the sale, purchase, Realtors RPAC in his cam- exchange, and/or lease of real property in the state.

"Indiana's realtors are so often the folks welcoming new residents to our incredible communities, keeping neighbors connected, and telling the stories

Lopez of the amazing quality of life we have created in places like Carmel and Westfield," Lopez said. "I am so grateful to RPAC and the Indiana Realtors for their support, and I look forward to working with them to address Hamilton County's

Mayor Chris Jensen delivers State of the City address from Ruoff Music Center

Submitted by City of Noblesville

Noblesville Mayor Chris Jensen delivered his fifth annual State of the City address on Tueday from the stage of one of the world's top outdoor amphitheaters, Ruoff Music Center in Noblesville.

With 500 guests in attendance, Jensen reflected on the successes of the start of his second term and championed what is ahead for Noblesville, including major infrastructure projects, downtown preservation, and quality-of-life investments for the ninth-largest city in Indiana.

The event was hosted by the Noblesville Chamber of Commerce. Watch the full ty TV at this link.

"Our administration will always invest in and prioritize public safety," Jensen said. "I am committed to furthering strategic development and doing so with purpose as we continue to grow. I am proud of our investment in major infrastructure projects like the Reimagine Pleasant Street Project. Our team will continue to take bold steps forward to move Noblesville into the future while preserving and honoring the historical assets in our city. Serving as mayor of my hometown is a great honor, and I will stand firm in my commitment to making investments that will have a lasting positive impact for many years to come."

Here are the highlights from Jensen's address:

New police station

The Noblesville Police Department currently shares a building with the fire administration and Station 71. NPD has been operating in the same building since 1992, when the population was approximately 20,000. However, Noblesville's population has reached 75,000, and the department has more than 100 dedicated officers.

The construction of a new police headquarters is a top priority in the city's 10vear Capital Improvement Plan and has been endorsed by the Fraternal Order of Police (FOP). Following due diligence and analysis of possible sites, the former Firestone site along Division Street was selected as the best option for the new station and will address the growing needs of the Noblesville Police Department by providing sufficient space for staff and equipment.

Construction is expected to begin in the second half of 2025. Click here to view renderings.

The development will complement the existing amenities, including Morse Reservoir, golf courses, parks, trails, and green spaces. Noblesville continues its commitment to building trails and enhancing connectivity for residents and visitors through this development. Click here to view renderings.

Innovation Mile & Noblesville Event

Center Innovation Mile is a more than 600-acre public/ private partnership by the City of Noblesville. It is located along Interstate 69 and is designed with a live, work, play, engage, and learn mindset. The Noblesville Event Center, which will be the future home of the Indiana Pacers G-League team, serves as the anchor of Innovation Mile.

Refreshment Area The establishment of a town community. Click here DORA district in Noblesville's historic downtown, approved by the Common Council in April and by the Indiana ATC in July, is already proving to be a boost to the downtown economy.

The city's collaboration with local stakeholders, including the Noblesville Police Department, has ensured that the district is enjoyed safely and responsibly by the community, visitors, and business owners. In its first month, the DORA district is off to a great start in Noblesville's downtown, allowing patrons to sip, shop, and stroll within a safe, designated area. The historic downtown square has seen increased foot traffic, tourism, and new revenue streams for local businesses – a promising sign of what's coming. Learn more at noblesville. in.gov/dora.

The Granary

In August, the Noblesville Common Council approved a $67 million mixeduse development project, The Granary, along the new Pleasant Street Corridor. This project includes a $13.4 million investment from the city and has been one of Jensen's priorities. It is part of broader efforts to enhance downtown Noblesville and ensure that the well-being of our residents is The district will feature closely tied to economic and workforce growth.

The Granary will revitalize the former Noblesville Milling Co. granary site, which played a significant role in the city's milling history and inspired the "Millers" moniker for Noblesville Schools. As the first significant development along the Pleasant Street Corridor, The Granary marks a key investment in the quality of life for current and future Noblesville residents. This project will offer a new housing option, neighborhood-oriented amenities, and pedestrian-friendly connections to our growing trail system while maintaining architecture that complements our historic downtown.

Pleasant Street Phase 1 Completion

The Pleasant Street Corridor is a key component of the Reimagine Pleasant Street Project. This is a long-term initiative aimed at improving east-west connectivity and accessibility in the city. The project has been under study and discussion for 40 years. It is expected to greatly improve how residents and visitors navigate through and experience the city. The road design is intended to benefit Noblesville residents, local businesses, and stakeholders by enhancing mobility and public safety, while preserving the area's urban character and historic features. This collaborative effort involves the city and Hamilton County, ensuring a shared vision for progress. An exciting aspect of the project is that it will connect three major trails – Nickel Plate, Midland Trace, and Riverwalk – providing a seamless connection between Noblesville, Hamilton County, and the greater Indianapolis area.

A community celebration, Party on Pleasant, marking the completion of Reimagine Pleasant Street Phase 1 will be held from 6 to 8:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 26. The corridor between River Road and 8th Street will be open to traffic ahead of schedule by the evening rush hour on Friday, Sept. 27.

More than $13,000 in prizes awarded at annual event Carmel on Canvas winners

The REPORTER

The 10th annual Carmel on Canvas plein air event was held Sept. 13 and 14 and featured artists in an open-air painting exhibition and competition which took place on the sidewalks throughout the city's central corridor.

"This year was the 10th year for Carmel on Canvas," said Laura Campbell, who chairs the Mayor's Advisory Commission on Arts and served as emcee of the plein air competition. "I want to congratulate the winners and thank all of the participants for helping us to make this annual event one of the best of its kind in the country. It's always exciting to see the city through the eyes of such talented artists."

The Carmel on Canvas plein air event hosted 80 highly acclaimed artists from the Midwest and beyond. The artists competed in a variety of plein air contests during the two-day event, registering in a division that matched their skill or age level; professional, non-professional, teen, and children. Chicago-based plein air and impressionist artist Kathleen Newman, was this year's judge.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

Then the Lord said to Moses, "Stretch out your hand over the sea so that the waters may flow back over the Egyptians and their chariots and horsemen." Moses stretched out his hand over the sea, and at daybreak the sea went back to its place. The Egyptians were fleeing toward it, and the Lord swept them into the sea. The water flowed back and covered the chariots and horsementhe entire army of Pharaoh that had followed the Israelites into the sea. Not one of them survived.

But the Israelites went through the sea on dry ground, with a wall of water on their right and on their left. That day the Lord saved Israel from the hands of the Egyptians, and Israel saw the Egyptians lying dead on the shore. And when the Israelites saw the mighty hand of the Lord displayed against the Egyptians, the people feared the Lord and put their trust in him and in Moses his servant.

Week 5 football previews: Part 1

By CRAIG ADKINS

For The Reporter

6A No. 8 Hamilton Southeastern (3-1, 1-1) at 6A No. 2 Westfield (4-0, 2-0)

The Royals and Shamrocks meet up in what is always a crucial Hoosier Crossroads Conference matchup in the middle of the regular season. HSE holds a 21-10 advantage in the all-time series. Westfield has won six of the last 10, including playoff battles.

Last week, HSE trailed just 14-7 after one in the Mudsock with Fishers. The Royals then found themselves in a deep hole at halftime, 27-7.

Southeastern stormed out with a quick score on an 82-yard run from Carter Reed just 20 seconds into the third and another from Vaughan Johnson to cut it to 27-21. Despite scoring twice in the fourth, including a 73-yard pass from Chandler Weston to Kendrick Pennybaker, the Royals fell short 37-35 in a thriller.

Carter Reed had 11 carries for 127 yards and Vaughan Johnson was a great one-two punch with 98 on six rushes. Weston went 10 for 18 through the air for 176, with Pennybaker catching two for 92 yards.

Westfield was able to win its sixth Midland Rail trophy against Noblesville last week. The Rocks had a 10-6 lead at halftime.

The Rocks scored two 24-6 through three.

It got interesting in the fourth. Noblesville scored two in a row, narrowing it to 24-18. But, seconds later Gabe Aramboles caught a 50-yard TD pass and Drew Law ran back a 57-yard interception with 1:11 left to seal it 38-18.

Deacon King ran for 58 and Webster 52 on the ground, while caught four for 85 and his two TDs.

6A No. 1 Brownsburg (4-0, 2-0) at 6A No. 11 Fishers (3-1, 2-0)

The Tigers jumped out to a commanding 27-7 lead at halftime. That win was Fishers' first since 2019 and ended a three-game losing skid in the Mudsock.

The first half belonged to Ryan Thembulembu, scoring three of the four Fishers touchdowns, Brady Griffits the fourth.

After HSE scored twice in the third, Gage Sturgill ran in a nine-yard TD to push it to 34-21.

A Jon Tangara 29-yard field goal with 7:27 left that was sandwiched between HSE's final two touchdowns was enough to secure the 37-35 win.

Thembulembu had a career night on the ground with 28 carries for 163 yards and 30 receiving. Jon-Anthony Hall finished with five catches for 105 yards.

calli has won all eight previous matchups.

Guerin and Brebeuf got into a shootout with 131 total points, but fell short, 69-62.

The two combined for 1,627 total yards, Guerin 773 and Brebeuf 854.

Down 35-14 after one, Guerin took the second 14-13, but still trailed 48-28 at halftime.

offenses The two slowed down in the third with just 13 points and Guerin down 55-34.

The Golden Eagles outscored Brebeuf 28-14 in the 40 passes completed, 56 fourth, but fell short in their comeback bid. Hayden Cler score four touchdowns, but Braves' tailback CJ Harris scored twice to keep Brebeuf ahead.

Harris broke the Brebeuf single-game rushing record of 376 yards and wound up with 392 and five four passing records. He Brebeuf Jesuit and Carmel. broke the state record for single-game passing yards with 638. He also broke three school records with attempts and eight touchdown passes. Cler broke into the top 10 nationally with 26 receptions in a game and broke school records with 396 yards and six TDs.

4A No. 9 Brebeuf Jesuit (3-1) at 6A No. 11 Carmel (2-2)

Friday night will be the first Malcolm Houze set ever meeting between Class 4A

Last week, Carmel hosted Louisville Trinity and came up on the short end of a 35-23 score.

The 'Hounds found themselves down 21-13 at halftime, but it was a 14-10 second half that helped Trinity stay ahead.

Anthony Coellner had a career night in the pocket, going 23 of 37 for 328 yards and a pair of touchdowns. Three receivers had great nights to help Coellner. Dominic Shockley caught seven for 129, Jacob Bellin joined in triple digits with 101 on six catches and Nate Williams had seven for 81. Shockley and Williams each found the end zone.

HSE's May scores game-deciding kick to beat Westfield, Noblesville gets 300th win for Coach Brady

The REPORTER

The Hamilton Southeastern girls soccer team won a Hoosier Crossroads Conference game Wednesday almost at the last min-

It was a next-to-last minute for the Class 3A No. 1 Royals, as freshman Sydney May kicked in a goal with 1:48 left in the second half to lift Southeastern to a 1-0 victory at 3A No. 4 Westfield.

"Our team plays for 80 minutes," said HSE coach Greg Davidson. "And that is really exciting for us coaches, because we're playing till the end. We're not holding back and we're not hoping. We're playing for the 80 minutes. The referee has to stop the game before we're going to quit."

Davidson said his Royals team was "pretty dominant" in the first half, then credited the Shamrocks in the second half, saying that "Westfield had a good majority of the second half with some better play than us." But in the last 10 minutes, Davidson said his team got settled in, and that helped Southeastern score its goal.

The Royals are 4-0-2 in conference play and 11-0-2 overall. Southeastern has two games next week, playing at Pendleton Heights on Monday before hosting Zionsville next Wednesday to finish conference play.

"I think that we still aren't even at our peak yet," said Davidson. "It's looking like we're going to peak at the perfect time." Westfield goalkeeper Emma Deitsch had six saves.

"I think we played really well," said Shamrocks coach Hannah Eggert. "I think Emma Deitsch in goal had an outstanding game tonight. I think our backline played well. It wasn't the result that we wanted, but we saw a lot of good things offensively and defensively that we think we can carry forward into the rest of the season."

Westfield is 2-2-1 in HCC play and 7-3-2 overall. The Rocks host 2A No. 8 Brebeuf Jesuit Saturday morning.

Noblesville, the No. 2 team in 3A, picked up a historic win when the Millers beat 3A No. 10 Zionsville 1-0 in a Wednesday HCC game.

The victory marked the 300th win for Noblesville coach Mike Brady. Senior Meredith Tippner made a penalty kick in the first half to score the Millers' score and get her coach up to that milestone number.

Noblesville is 3-0-2 in the conference and 8-0-2 overall. The Millers play another conference contest Saturday at 3A No. 12 Brownsburg.

Fishers, ranked No. 17 in 3A, fell to Brownsburg 2-0 in a Wednesday HCC

The Tigers are 2-2-1 in conference play and 6-4-2 overall. They host Harrison Saturday morning.

No. 1 Brebeuf Jesuit prevails over No. 5 Carmel, HSE beats Park Tudor, Westfield takes down Avon

The REPORTER

The Carmel boys tennis team welcomed Brebeuf Jesuit to the Todd Witsken Tennis Center on Wednesday for a showdown between two topfive ranked teams.

The Braves are ranked No. 1 by the Indiana High School Tennis Coaches Association, while the defending state champion Greyhounds are ranked No. 5. Brebeuf Jesuit played like a top-rated team, beating Carmel 4-1.

The Greyhounds got their win at No. 2 doubles. Sophomores Grant Mu and Rajeev Singh dropped the first set 7-5, then held off the Braves in the second set to win a 7-6 tiebreak. The two teams played a 10-point super tiebreak to decide the third set, and the Carmel team took an early lead and rode that to a 10-6 win. All the other matches were settled in straight sets for Brebeuf, but the Greyhounds did put up a battle in each one. The No. 1 doubles team of Michael Bao and Andrew Kim lost 7-5, 6-3. In singles, No. 1 Wesley Worobel fell 6-2, 6-4, No. 2 Sanjith Boddu lost 6-1, 6-3 and No. 3 Vishal
