The REPORTER

Hamilton County Parks and Recreation (HCPR) has received notice of funding approval for the development of a state-of-the-art indoor archery facility at Strawtown Koteewi Park.

The indoor archery facility will complement the park's existing outdoor archery range and 3-D trail, Koteewi Range, which has experienced increasing popularity since opening in 2015. The new facility will be constructed amid a fully operational outdoor recreation complex (Koteewi Adventure Area) that hosts an equestrian stable and rental service, aerial ropes courses and ziplines, miles of hiking trails, a snow tubing hill, and a fishing lake, in addition Parks and Recreation," HCPR to the range.

Currently, there are no indoor archery facilities within a 20-mile radius of the range, and no large-scale, full-service facilities within 150 miles. The addition of indoor space will provide the ability to host large-scale tournaments and educational programs regardless of weather.

This project was awarded funding via the Indiana Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Shooting Range grant. The Federal Wildlife Restoration Program provides funding for the DNR's Shooting Range Program. Program monies are generated through a tax on firearms, ammunition, and archery equipment. The total budget for the project is $4.7 million, with the grant covering 90 percent of the project's costs. The remaining 10 percent is being funded by HCPR's budget.

"Securing this federal funding for our new indoor archery facility is a monumental step forward for Hamilton County Director Chris Stice said. "This facility will provide unparalleled opportunities for our community to engage in archery and host major tournaments. We're excited to see this project come to fruition and to offer a worldclass venue for archery enthusiasts of all ages."

Gathering at a table

There's something special about gathering around a table.

The table was set, and the meal was prepared. The aroma coming out of the kitchen had my taste buds salivating. I had never eaten Indian food.

COLUMNIST

Corinne Gunter, my pastor friend, invited me to be her guest at the Noblesville Diversity Coalition Dinner. She knows me well. I love to eat, and I love good conversation, so my "yes" was easy.

I arrived to find my friend, Pooja Thakker and her friends, putting the final touches on the dinner. I had been told that Indian food can be a bit spicy. (Don't believe everything you are told.) I was given a platter with nine compartments for food. Also on the menu was an amazing hot tea. My taste buds were ever-so-happy.

While I ventured through the culinary delight of Indian food, Pooja explained many of her Indian customs. I found them fascinating. I have always been curious about why people are the way they are and why they believe as they do. It started when I was 18 years old and was selected to be a delegate at the 1974 Nazarene World Youth Conference in Switzerland. I took an extended tour of Italy – a feast of food delights and sights. You should hear my story about staying in a convent with Catholic nuns chaperoning two dozen American teenagers.

A look back at our Civil War past: the Hamilton County Surgeons

Nearly 2,400 men from Hamilton County were enlisted in the Federal Army during the American Civil War. One of the unique aspects of the war was the recruitment of companies of men from the same community. These companies of up to 100 men stayed together for the remainder of their enlistment period. They were classmates, neighbors, and relatives.

As I mentioned in last week's column, the army packed up and took everything they needed with them. That included a doctor. Each state regiment (1,000 men) was assigned one surgeon and one or two assistant surgeons. These doctors were appointed by the governor of the state.

According to Hamilton County and the Civil War by county historian, Joe Burgess, there were 13 such doctors from the Monument in Crownland Cemetery in Noblesville lists three Hamilton County surgeons near the top of the obelisk: William D. Graham, surgeon for the Indiana 101st Infantry; and James A. Garver, assistant surgeon and John M. Gray, surgeon, both from the Indiana 39th Infantry.

In an ideal setting, a doctor would only tend to the men in his regiment. However, Civil War casualties were astonishingly high and, when the bullets started to fly, field hospitals were overflowing with wounded soldiers. It did not matter what state, regiment, or company they were from, surgeons just went to work on the next patient.

The Indiana 39th was engaged county. The Civil War in several battles that became famous for the vast number of casualties suffered on both sides of the fight. There were 13,047 Union casualties at Shiloh, 13,906 at Stones River, and 16,170 at Chickamauga. Surgeons were overwhelmed with injured soldiers. However, battlefield wounds were not the only medical problems they faced. Communicable diseases and unsanitary conditions killed more soldiers than the bullets in the Civil War.

Fishers High School senior

achieves perfect ACT score

Submitted by HSE Schools

While many students anxiously await their college entrance exam results, Parker Melling, a senior at Fishers High School, had an idea of how well he had performed.

"I made sure to study hard, took a few practice tests, and focused on the areas I wasn't as strong in," Melling said. "I thought I did pretty well since I had taken the ACT before and was just shy of a perfect score. This time, I really went for it."

And his determination paid off. Melling joined the elite group of students - only about one-quarter of 1 percent – who earn the highest possible ACT composite score

The ACT exam measures proficiency in English, mathematics, reading, and science, each scored on a scale of 1 to 36. A student's composite score is the average of these four tests. Achieving a perfect 36 means Melling has demonstrated mastery in the skills necessary for success in college-level coursework.

Melling's top college choice is MIT, with Stanford as a close second. He plans to pursue a double major in Aerospace Engineering and Computer Science.

His advice for other students preparing for the ACT? "Make the most of all the free resources out there – prep courses, practice tests, and stay consistent with your studying. It really makes a difference."

Back to India ...

It has always given me such joy to sit with people and share life and a meal. During a meal, something extraordinary can happen. People start chatting and begin to realize they have so much in common. I love breaking bread together.

Carmel introduces system to enhance transparency in government spending

The REPORTER

In a continued effort to make government more transparent and accessible, the City of Carmel announced on Tuesday, Oct. 29 the launch of its financial transparency portal.

The portal will provide residents with a clear and detailed look into the city's financials, making it easier than ever to track where and how public funds are being spent. The portal was detailed at last week's State of the City address and stems from one of Mayor Sue Finkam's key goals for her first year in office – ensuring greater transparency in local government operations.

Read more about the State of the City address on Page A10.

"Our residents have a right to know how their tax dollars are being spent, and the portal system makes it easier than ever to access that information," Mayor

Finkam said. "By providing a clear and user-friendly platform, we're empowering citizens, businesses, and stakeholders to stay informed about the city's financial decisions anytime, from anywhere."

The portal was created and tailored specifically for the City of Carmel by Stone Municipal Group. Working closely with the city's finance department, led by CFO/ Controller Zac Jackson and Deputy CFO/Controller Ann Bingman, Stone Municipal Group has been in constant communication to ensure the seamless integration of Careasy-to-navigate platform.

Key Features of the portal include:

 Comprehensive Data Access: The platform highlights key financial areas, data; and employee data Visual, User-Friendly Interface: The system takes raw financial data from the City and converts it into clear, easy-to-understand visuals. With tabs that break down specific areas, residents can explore everything from general fund expenditures to department-specific costs. · Up-to-Date and Historical Data: While the City mel's financial data into this has always provided historical data, the system will now offer more current financial information, updated regularly for real-time access.

 Mobile and iPad Compatibility: Designed with accessibility in mind, the platform is fully compatible with mobile and tablet devices, allowing users to explore the City's finances on-the-go.

"We believe the financial transparency portal will foster increased trust between the City and our residents," Jackson said. "People want to feel confident that their local leaders are good stewards of taxpayer dollars, and this is an important way to demonstrate that."

The portal is seamlessly integrated into the City of Carmel website and can be accessed on the Finance department's page. Noblesville Council approves 2025 budget

Submitted by City of Noblesville

The Noblesville Common Council approved the city's 2025 Civil City budget at its meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 29. The 2025 budget totals $127,666,422 to fund all city operations, personnel, projects, and programs, excluding the sewer utility which is a separate entity.

Noblesville Mayor Chris Jensen's budget focuses on all four of his policy pillars: public safety, infrastructure, downtown and quality of life, and economic and workforce development. The budget maintains a tax rate of $1.10 for the sixth consecutive year, all while serving a growing community through supporting core services with continued investment in infrastructure and quality-of-life projects. There are property tax hardship programs available for eligible taxpayers in Hamilton County.

"Our city is growing and with that growth comes a budget strategically crafted to meet the needs of the ninth largest city in the state," Mayor Chris Jensen said. "This budget makes investments that support the expanding Noblesville community, stimulates the economy, and grows our tax base responsibly. I thank the Noblesville Council members for their thoughtful and strategic approach to the city's budget."

Jensen's 2025 budget focused on strengthening core operations and personnel while advancing key infrastructure and quality-of-life initiatives. The 2025 budget makes continued investments in top capital priorities, including Pleasant Street with the extension of the Midland Trace Trail, Innovation Mile, a new police station, trail projects, and road improvements.

"This budget addresses the increased service needs of our growing city while being fiscally responsible," Noblesville Common Council President Darren Peterson said. "The council appreciates the cooperation between its members and Mayor Jensen and his staff to create a budget that provides for critical investments in public safety, infrastructure, and improvements to the quality of life throughout our community, without increasing taxes on residents."

The budget aligns ongoing spending increases with the city's eight-year revenue growth trajectory, featuring an 6.4 percent increase funds. The proposed budget focuses on government modernization, efficiency, return on investment, cost containment, and proactive preservation of significant assets. The operational budget, which excludes pension and debt service payments, totals $110,422,574, with nearly 52 percent of on-going operational spending directed to public safety. "The certified net assessed value growth is 7.4

percent or $377.2 million higher in 2025," CFO and Controller Jeff Spalding said. "This gives the city a great opportunity to strategically invest more in the community. Noblesville is also expecting its local income tax allocation from the county to rise by 16.6 percent. The city continues to have very strong reserves and the combined balances for the General Fund/Rainy Day Fund are projected to be nearly $35.5 million by the end of this year. This allows Noblesville to budget $10 million for key onetime investments in capital projects, needed equipment, and future capacity."

Damaging assumptions

If you have a disability or any other chronic medical diagnosis, the waiting rooms of doctor's offices can start to feel like your second home. After 50 years, it is safe to say that I have seen my fair share of hospitals and doctor's offices.

As you can imagine, I have encountered many types of personalities, opinions, good bedside manner, bad bedside manner, and horrific bedside manner. I learned what that term meant early on in life. To be honest, I could count on my hands the number of doctors who I would qualify as having good bedside manner over the last 50 years. My standards are not even that high. They include respect, ability to listen, not making assumptions because I am disabled, and just being a kind human being. Somehow, many miss the mark.

This is not to bash doctors. I have had many who have helped me in many ways, good bedside manner or not. Certainly, it is a huge plus when they embody that quality.

Awhile back, I had a doctor's appointment to discuss my sleep. For as long as I can remember, I have been a horrible sleeper. The slightest noise wakes me up, that is if I even manage to fall asleep in the first place. It has always been put on the back burner because I had other more pressing medical concerns related to my disability most of the time.

The video visit started as many of my visits do with a new provider, usually with them having read bits and pieces of my lifelong medical history and most not familiar with Muscular Dystrophy. She asked me a few questions about my diagnosis, mostly related to my mobility. I told her that walking is hard, but most of the time I walk, and use my scooter or wheelchair for long distances. I told her that I have two children.

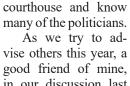

Throughout the visit there were little remarks made that were leading in a direction that I did not agree with. The part of the visit that was the most upsetting was when we were nearing the end of the visit and she said to me, "since you do not exercise and get outside due to your condition, that is likely affecting your sleep." She had not asked me if I was able to exercise or leave my home. She was assuming because of my disability that I do not exercise or leave my home to get sunlight, and she suggested I buy a light for artificial sunlight.

Every election year several people ask me how to vote. They typically indicate they know I'm often in the courthouse and know

All have been credited with great additions to our own lives. Television, radio, satellite communication, medicine, arts and entertainment, computers, automobiles, and ... all have added to the ease of our lives. My friend had arguments beyond the moral ones. The Center for Disease Control Reports for 2021 showed that there were 625,978 abortions in the United States that year. There have been an estimated 65 million total abortions in our country alone. His argument was that Jennifer McCormick promotes aborting 65 one-in-a-million brains like those people mentioned above. The opposition thinks abortion should be limited or eliminated.

But I brought up the argument that women have rights. That argument contends that the fetus is not a person but merely tissue. We should not be regulated by religious extremists, so the argument goes. Each person has a right to their own beliefs.

He then called upon my knowledge as an attorney and cited the Eagle Egg issue. I looked it up. Our own federal government makes it a criminal offense to interfere with eagle eggs and even the eagle's nest!

A good cry at a psychic fair

Editor's Note: This story originally appeared in Next Avenue on Oct. 31, 2024. Read it at tinyurl. com/msvd5jak.

Last October, Brynne showed me advertisement for a psychic fair. I arched a quizzical eyebrow, in jest to her kookiness.

"I have something to work through," she said, shrugging.

"I'll wait in the car," I said, anticipating time alone to work through my own angst.

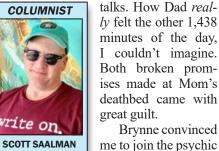

"Today's the second anniversary of your mom's death," she said in the parking lot at her psychic fair. Brynne, always the mind reader, finally addressed the elephant in the room – well, in the Corolla. The approaching anniversary gnawed, numbed – and now it was here.

That first year after her death, I wrote about my loss, conjuring my shattered, scattered orphan thoughts onto ghostly laptop glow, as if my fingertips piggybacked a planchette at a Ouija board. Often, my aimless, keyboard finger taps were as futile as failed SOS Morse code.

"I'll still write about you," I promised Mom throughout her five-year sentence on cancer's death row. She smiled. My last words to her: "You were a great mom. It's OK to let go." She was lost to merciful morphine then, mouth agape (a near-death

With written words, I tried to crawl from, and claw my way out of, the surrealism of an emotional ground zero. Also, as promised to her, I called Dad, checking on him like clockwork. Mom worried more about him than herself. "Me and Jesus, we're good," she said, "like in that Tom T. Hall song." We had never talked Jesus before ... much like we never spoke of her cigarettes either, those telltale smoke signals from the far corner of our house, smoke rings floating like ghostly nicotine nooses, from where she attempted to hide her habit, as if saving an impressionable son secondhand smoke or bitter diswith mercy.

The next year, my mom stories stopped, cold turkey. Done with Mom. Dialing Dad lessened. When people asked fine," based on our two-minute ened. It was believable, what scribbled my name on a sticker. In the community room, wobbly card tables spaced a few feet apart served as makeshift spiritualist stations. I had expected a private room, not a setting more suited for bingo. With so many people in the same room contacting the spirit world, how could otherworldly wires not cross? The risk seemed high for spirits to show up at wrong tables. I imagined the following screwball scenario between a medium and client:

"Your Uncle Ed's spirit is

"I don't have a dead Uncle Ed. I'm here for Sparky, my childhood cocker spaniel."

"Uncle Ed, you might want to try table B-5."

"Bingo," someone a few tables away shouts upon hearing

"I hear Sparky barking from the other side of the room. Mommy's coming, Sparky ..."

My assigned medium read SCOTT on the sign-up sheet and on my name tag. Still, she asked, "Are you Scott?" as if disbelieving in things that can actually be seen. That, or my medium wasn't playing with a full Tarot deck, lessening my already low expectations and further fueling my doubts.

The good cry at the psychic fair made me feel better. It lightened me, enlightened me somehow. My first parapsychologist visit brought with it a newfound clarity one might expect from couch surfing through a sea of psychologist offices. Sometimes, tears are the best form of

United Animal Health Founder John B. Swisher passes away

Submitted

John B. Swisher, founder of United Animal Health and a transformative figure in the animal agriculture industry, passed away of natural causes at the age of 95 on Friday evening, Oct.

25. Known for his vision and commitment to advancing animal nutrition, Mr. Swisher's contributions left an indelible mark on the industry, setting new standards for high-quality feed and animal health products.

Driven by a personal passion for pork production, Mr. Swisher founded United Feeds in 1956 in Sheridan. From a humble beginning, he grew the company by focusing on the needs of livestock producers, emphasizing the importance of quality nutrition. His pioneering belief that nutrition could be delivered to swine producers in a more efficient manner using on-farm ingredients helped shape a regional movement that influenced the development of the swine industry in the United States. Mr. Swisher often credited his dedication to quality and lifelong relationships as the guiding principles of his business.

"John taught us that treating customers like family, with fairness and trust, builds lifelong relationships," said Doug Webel, Ph.D., President and CEO of United Animal Health. "He had amazing foresight, a unique ability to understand market needs, and an unwavering commitment to serving customers. Most of all, John was our mentor and friend. He will be dearly missed."

Mr. Swisher's innovative approach led to a constantly evolving portfolio of products that significantly improved animal health and profitability. His legacy extends beyond agriculture; he was also a respected philanthropist who supported many local and regional charities.

A lifelong commitment to agriculture

& community Born in 1929, Mr. Swisher's early life was shaped by his father's feed mill, where he developed a deep appreciation for the agriculture business. After attending the University of Illinois, he established his own feed business in Indiana. Alongside his wife, Jean, he started selling feed from an 8-by-10-foot rented shed next to a feed mill near Sheridan. Though business was slow initially, the couple's personalized approach and dedication to learning each customer's business needs helped the company grow steadily. As United Feeds expanded, it rebranded to JBS United to reflect a broader focus beyond feed. With an industry-first animal nutrition research division and several strategic acquisitions, the company set a new course toward enhancing animal health and nutritional science. Today, as United Animal Health, the company continues Mr. Swisher's legacy of innovation and customer-centric service.

A lifetime of recognition & service

Throughout his career, Mr. Swisher earned numerous accolades for his leadership and contributions to the industry, including:

• 2016 August M. Watanabe Life Sciences Champion of the Year

• 2009 Indiana Chamber of Commerce Business Leader of the Year

• 2004 Ernst & Young Indiana Master Entrepreneur and National Entrepreneur of the

• Induction into the Indiana Business Hall of Fame in 2007

He was also the namesake of the John B. Swisher Leadership Award, which is presented annually at the World Pork Expo to honor leaders and innovators in the pork industry.

Dedicated to philanthropy

Mr. Swisher's impact extended to his philanthropic work, supporting numerous organizations such as the Indiana Pork Producers Association, Junior Achievement, local universities and schools, Indiana FFA, first responders, the Lions Club, the American Cancer Society, the Indiana State Fair, the American Legion, and many others.

Despite his professional success, Mr. Swisher never fully retired. He remained actively involved with United Animal Health, attending meetings, contributing to business strategies, and making public appearances well into his 90s.

Details regarding services for Mr. Swisher will be announced in the coming days.

Sheridan & Adams Township officials confident of reorganization plan

Editor's note: This guest column was authored by Silas DeVaney, III, Council President; Eric Gifford, Council Vice-President; Daniel Bragg, Council Member; David Kinkead, Council Member; Michelle Junkins, Township Trustee; Floyd Barker, Board Member; and Ron Stone, Advisory Board Member. It was submitted to The Reporter by Kroger Gardis & Regas,

As elected officials for the Town of Sheridan and Adams Township, we want to respond to the column submitted by two of the Hamilton County Commissioners regarding the planned consolidation of Adams Township into the Town of Sheridan.

We and other elected officials have been working for more than a year to be certain that the Plan of Reorganization, which will be submitted to the voters by referendum ful and protects the taxpayers and residents of Sheridan and Adams Township.

We have been asking the County for detailed road maintenance cost estimates for more than eight months. Ironically, the Township and Town had a scheduled meeting with the Commissioners the same day the Commis-The Reporter.

While the County insisted that the roads currently in the unincorporated area of Adams could continue to be maintained by the County through an interlocal agreement, it came with a $1,963,700 price tag. All or nothing, take it or leave it. When asked if Town and Township taxpayers would see a reduction in their Hamilton County tax rate for this additional $1.9 million payment, the answer was an emphatic "no."

If the reorganization

proximately one-fifth of the County's road inventory will be within the boundaries of the "new" Town of Sheridan, and the County intends to wash its hands of any responsibility for the roads they have maintained essentially since the founding of the County.

Why would the residents sioners' column appeared in of the reorganized Town continue to pay a full tax bill to the County, and then add more than $1.9 million to the County's coffers for what they are already providing today? The Commissioners are even planning on sending federal dollars for planned projects in the Township back to Washington, D.C. That is just vindictive and irresponsible.

Many other Counties are working cooperatively with reorganized local governments to assure all taxpayers are protected, not fleeced.

The County Sheriff also

any patrol responsibilities in their all-County operations, the reorganized Town. While the Plan of Reorganization provides immediate plans to hire additional police officers to fill that gap, it doesn't make much sense for the reorganized Town's taxpayers to pay for existing Sheriff services through their County tax rate and receive nothing in exchange.

Where is the County's sense of public service?

Additionally, while the County continues its criticism that the levels of funding provided for in the Plan of Reorganization are less than necessary, those summary figures were received from the County when asked many months ago to provide the County's internal costs for our budget planning. The original County figures received were reduced to reflect the lack of significant overhead and personnel costs currently which the reorganized Town intends to avoid.

The Commissioners also continue to claim that taxpayers in the unincorporated area of Adams Township will be slapped with a significant tax bill at the whim of the reorganized Town Council. That claim could not be further from the truth. The Plan of Reorganization clearly sets a "town district" and a "rural district" with significantly differing tax rates commensurate with the taxes collected today by the Town and Township in their jurisdictions.

The Commissioners even state that taxpayers have no ability to remonstrate against future district reclassification "other than to ask town councilors to vote against it." Whether we're talking about town, township or county officials, isn't that the only remedy on Nov. 5, 2024, is success- is approved by voters, ap- intends to wash his hands of incurred by the County for that all taxpayers have? At least until the next election.

Commissioners' The claims are designed to raise doubt and steer voters away from supporting a well thought out and successful plan to maintain true local control over growth in our community.

The County's extraordinary plans for extensive "affordable housing" to be located in Adams Township has been one of many factors that have caused such significant support for the Plan of Reorganization. We want the Town of Sheridan, Adams Township, and most importantly, the Sheridan Community Schools to remain in the responsible and caring hands of local officials, who put Adams Township, the Town of Sheridan, and our school corporation first.

We hope you will join us in supporting the Plan of Reorganization on Nov. 5,

Although there seems to a

While chatting with some friends and acquaintances at a social gathering not long ago, the topic turned to the buffet that was offered there. Among the buffet items were several raw veggie offerings. Okay, Dear Readers, you may think that I would have debated the case but the venue was not one in which that would have been appropriate. However, this discussion has stayed with me and actually rather "haunted" me that other people may have the misconception that supplements are all we need to replace vegetables and fruits.

Nothing could be further from the truth! Supplereplicate all of the nutrients and benefits of whole foods such as fruits and vegetamain benefits over dietary supplements. They offer greater nutrition; whole foods are complex, containing a variety of the micronutrients our bodies need. They contain essential fiber, which can help reduce the risk of type 2 diabetes, colorectal cancer, stroke, and heart disease. Many whole foods contain chemicals that promote health, such as antioxidants - substances that slow down a Balance is the real issue here. I absolutely do take supplements. I take only those that I know to be addressing, for me, any shortfall I may have in my nutrition plan. I primarily obtain my necessary nutrition from whole foods but I benefit from certain additional nutrients which are available in high-qualments are not intended to ity supplements. Proper nutrition is a key to a healthy life along with a fitness regimen. A healthy body needs wholesome, natural foods to obtain its peak performance. Use moderation when using supplements and keep moving!

ASSUMPTIONS

I was speechless for a second, as she kept talking like she had not offended me in the most degrading way possible. As an avid exerciser and someone who goes outside daily, I took great offense.

It is times like these that I question if all the work I do to try and raise awareness surrounding disabilities and doing my part to show how the assumptions about disabled people are very often inaccurate, is all for nothing.

After recovering from that blow, I politely set her straight. I told her that I do in fact exercise several times a week, eat well, and get outdoors daily. Her response was ... surprised. Tracy Zachary named Hamilton Heights Husky Hero for September

Tracy Zachary, a special education teacher at Hamilton Heights Elementary School (HHES), has been named the Husky Hero for the month of September. Now in her 26th year in education, Zachary loves her Hamilton Heights community inside and outside of the classroom.

"Tracy has a servant heart in all that she does," HHES Principal Julie Griffey said. "Tracy is also a teacher leader that supports both teachers and students. She serves as the Special Education PLC leader. She also serves as the leader of our K-Kids Kiwanis student chapter that supports HHES events like grade level Penny Wars to earn money to buy Christmas presents for HHSC students. She is deeply involved with the elementary's annual Veteran's Day Program with K-Kids leading that charge. She organizes yearly staff volleyball game to earn money for Riley Children's Hospital. The list goes on. Tracy is an amazing Husky Servant Leader!"

Zachary has lived in the community since she has been a toddler and is a member of Hamilton Heights Class of 1996.

"Being nominated and chosen as a Husky Hero is incredibly encouraging, as it shows that my daily efforts are recognized and appreciated," Zachery said. "I truly love what I do, and my students mean the world to me. Helping them become better individuals is my ultimate goal. I hope to be that one person for each of my students and their families, someone they know believes in them and will always be their biggest cheerleader."

Here are some accolades from other community members:

"Tracy Zachary is one of the most kind, loving humans I have ever had the pleasure of knowing," Chenoa Spurlock said. "Day after day she puts the needs of her students on the top of her priorities. She genuinely cares for each student and advocates for their needs, wants and supports them in any way shape or form. She shows up for her students in and out of the classroom by extending her love for them at games, birthdays or when they are sick. As a mom, I have not had a student go through her care. I have however had the pleasure of working beside her and to witness her daily devotion my heart. She's a wonderful teacher even to adults. To have a Tracy Zachary in your corner is a blessing but, to have a Tracy Zachary as a teacher is the biggest blessing of all."

Amanda Roberts said, "She always goes above and beyond for her students. She's so great at communicating with parents and I'm beyond grateful she has been with my daughter for a couple of years. She's nothing but kind and patient with her students and their parents. Couldn't have asked for a better teacher."

"Receiving this award is something I hold dearly in will have a lasting impact on me, as it's a strong reminder that going above and beyond in my role is noticed and appreciated," Zachary said. "Knowing this encourages me to keep remembering why I do what I do."

James Leon Wallace March 28, 1948 - October 20, 2024

James Leon Wallace, 76, passed away on Sunday evening, October 20, 2024, at his home in Noblesville. Born on March 28, 1948, in Indianapolis, he was the son of the late Lloyd Leon and Mary Catherine (Hines) Wallace.

Jimmy never liked being cooped up inside. He loved to be out and about; a ride through the country was all it took to put a better spin on the day. He loved spending quality time on the farm. When he was young, he loved riding his tricycles and pedal tractors (IH of course). As he got older, he upgraded to the adult sized tricycle (still with the same enthusiasm for riding). He eventually began riding along in the grain truck, which was an old school bus that had been converted into a grain truck. Nobody else in the family would ride in that thing except for Jimmy; it was always his first choice. As the years went on, he discovered the joys of riding along in the pickup truck, running parts, picking up supplies, and most importantly, heading to McDonald's for a hamburger and a Pepsi – the well-deserved treat upon completion the day's activities.

His memory was as sharp as a tack, especially when it came to directions. He could always tell which way to get to the farm, which way to get home, and of course, which way to McDonald's. If you started off in the wrong direction, Jimmy would let you know.

James is survived by his two sisters, Peggy Jean Robinson of Port St. Lucie, Fla., and Cathy Sue Stowe of Huntsville, Ala.; two brothers, Vance Leroy Wallace of Sheridan, and Keith Allen Wallace (Nancy) of Westfield; and several cousins, nieces, and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Lloyd Leon and Mary Catherine (Hines) Wallace; sister-in-law, Susie Wallace; and brother-in-law, Cecil Robinson.

Graveside services were held Monday, October 28, 2024, at Crown View Cemetery in Sheridan. Pastor VJ Stover officiated.

Arrangements have been entrusted to Kercheval Funeral Home of Sheridan, Indiana.

She was born January 30, 1950, in Corpus Christi, Texas, to Fredric Thomas "Tom" and Jeanette L. (Hayes) Kingsley. Growing up in a military family, Kathleen lived in several states and cities in the U.S., including Hawaii, California, Vermont, and Florida.

Following high school graduation, Kathleen attended Florida State University and eventually Ball State University where she studied the art of jewelry making and learned to create different designs. She enjoyed the craft and continued to teach jewelry-making after retirement. Kathleen also worked as a Medical Transcriptionist for several years.

Barbara Jean "Puncky" McElroy June 27, 1941 – October 22, 2024

Barbara Jean "Puncky" McElroy, 83, Sheridan, passed away on Tuesday morning. October 22, 2024, at Riverview Hospital in Noblesville. Born June 27, 1941, in Lebanon, Ind., she was the daughter of the late Elza Ernest and Maxine Marie (Hayworth) Moss-

> She was a 1959 graduate of Sheridan High School and a lifetime member of the Ladies' Auxiliary with the K.V. Elliott American Legion Post 67 in Sheridan.

Barb was the very definition of a workaholic. She was so full of energy you'd get tired just watching her. During the week, she worked in the elementary school cafeteria for Sheridan Community Schools. There was never a dull moment during those 41 years. Between the kids, the staff, and the other ladies in the kitchen, you never knew what you were going to walk into that day, but Barb was going to make it fun. On weekends, she cooked and tended bar at the Sheridan Legion. Barb could handle whatever came her way and serve it right back. She truly loved every minute she got to spend with her Legion family.

Barb tried to stay busy, but not so busy that she missed out on the fun stuff. She enjoyed music and loved to sing (to her, the 50s and 60s were the best); however, her favorite activities were those that involved her friends and family. She loved going camping and having friends over to the house. If an activity involved sitting around a campfire, so much the better.

Barb loved her family dearly. She was a fun-loving mom and grandmother, and the best partner in crime anybody could have ever asked for. She took on the world at 100 miles an hour and made sure that everyone along for the ride left with a good story to tell.

Barb is survived by her husband, David Wayne McElroy. She and Dave were married on July 31, 2004. Also surviving are her two sons, Greg Gary (Ronda) of Cicero and Michael Gary (Fawn) of Muncie; brother, Kenneth E. Mossburg of Kokomo; and by her sister, Caroline J. Goodnight of Sheridan.

She was preceded in death by her parents, Elza Ernest and Maxine Marie (Hayworth) Mossburg; stepson, Timothy McElroy; nephew, William Dee Goodnight; brother-in-law, Lowell Goodnight; and her feline furbaby, Missy.

Visitation and services took place Thursday, October 31, 2024, at Kercheval Funeral Home, 306 E. 10th St., Sheridan. Burial followed at Crown View Cemetery in Sheridan. Pastor Jody Brown officiated.

Memorial contributions may be presented to either the Alzheimer's Association or to the Ladies' Auxiliary for the K.V. Elliott American Legion Post 67 of Sheridan.

Finkam's first State of the City address details strong progress & bold plans

Submitted by City of Carmel

Highlighting successes from her early months in office at State of the City address held Tuesday Oct. 29, Carmel Mayor Sue Finkam detailed future efforts toward sustaining and improving what she described as a world-class community with a strong legacy.

Hosted by OneZone Chamber of Commerce, the event held at The Palladium attracted more than 550 residents, business leaders and city team members. You can view a recording of the session at tinyurl.com/CarmelSotC2024Video.

Mayor Finkam fielded questions from OneZone President and CEO Jack Russell, sharing progress by new task forces that she formed earlier this year, which focus on housing, the needs of senior citizens, as well as veterans and young professionals.

Public safety was emphasized as part of the mayor's remarks, with the Carmel Police Department debuting the drone as first-responder program. The technology is being used for emergencies, providing crucial information to first responders.

"I hope you're proud of your public safety," Finkam said, speaking to the facilities, training and other resources supporting the police and fire departments. "The city council and I have done all we can to invest in our public safety ... we recruit and retain the best."

In support of her commitment to open government, the mayor unveiled Carmel's new transparency portal, making it easier to track how public funds are being spent as part of a user-friendly platform.

"The portal allows us to have a clear, detailed look at our city finances," Finkam said. "This is your way to evaluate how we're doing as a team."

In addition to praising the City of Carmel team and asking them to stand, several Carmel residents - from Olympic team members to a centenarian - received special recognition at the event for their respective achievements, with the mayor noting, "We already have world-class talent in our community, and we look forward to attracting more."

Youth took center stage at the address, with both students from the City of Carmel Deputy Mayor program and Carmel Mayor's Youth Council featured, and the mayor's introduction led

Can't be beat: Millers capture title

INDIANAPOLIS

And the beat goes on ...

It's become a winning beat for the Noblesville girls soccer team, a team which simply can't be beat in the IHSAA state tournament.

The No. 2-ranked Millers added another Class 3A state championship to their already packed trophy case last Saturday, defeating No. 14 Center Grove 3-1 at IU Indianapolis' Michael A. Carroll Stadium. Noblesville scored a lightning-quick goal to begin the game, then responded to a Trojans score with two more fast goals late in the first half.

The victory gave the Millers their third consecutive state title and their fifth in the past six years. During these past six years, Noblesville has compiled an incredible 106-3-10 record.

"I can't even put my mind around three in a row, five in six years," said Noblesville coach Mike Brady. "Any of those type of numbers just seem absurd at this point."

Here's something else incredible: the speed in which the Millers got their first goal. In the third minute, Atley Pittman sent a corner kick to the middle of the 18, where Meredith Tippner headed it toward the net.

The ball deflected off a Center Grove defender, but Kaydence Fleck took the rebound and convincingly booted it into the net. The goal was scored 2 minutes, 36 seconds into the game, which makes it the fastest goal ever scored in a 3A state championship game.

The Trojans tied the game in the 12th minute after Jessie Jasek put in a goal, with Mia Marlin making the assist. Anything can happen in the post-season, but Brady had confidence in his team that it would respond.

"I knew that they were going to bounce back, and they did fairly quickly, and then just played so much better from that point on," said Brady.

"I definitely think it took a deep breath," said Pittman. "Hey, let's get it together. Let's work together. Let's see what we can do to get on the right foot again. And I think once we took that deep breath, we calmed down, we started playing the ball. We connected. It opened up for us and I think that helped us get those next two goals."

Sure enough, the Millers put in the go-ahead goal at the start of the 31st minute, when Pittman booted in a 10-yard kick, with Tippner making the assist. About two and a half minutes later, Tippner assisted another goal: Delaney Stone made a six-yard strike off her right foot.

That gave Noblesville a 3-1 lead, and the score would remain so until the end. Both teams had several chances throughout the second half, with Stone taking seven shots in the game, five

Noblesville Grinders win first IEFA championship

The REPORTER

On Saturday, Oct. 19, the Noblesville Grinders gave their fans a long-awaited championship.

The Grinders won the Indiana Elementary Football Association (IEFA) championship, beating Westfield 8-6 at Beaver Materials Stadium in Noblesville. The Grinders scored a touchdown and made a twopoint conversion in the third quarter for their points.

"As a former Grinder myself, winning that championship means a lot. Not only to me, but a lot of other people I grew up with," said Grinders coach Jeremy Ely. "After the game, I gave Steve Dillinger the game ball, and that meant a lot to me, because he was my coach and ran the program for 25 years."

Dillinger was one of the founders of the Grinders, which was formed in 1969. He would later coach the team for 25 years and is still an enthusiastic backer of the a six-yard run to score. The Grinders made a two-point try from the five-yard line, with A.J. Gonzalez throwing a pass to Everet Ehle, who caught it in the end zone.

Westfield scored its points late in the fourth quarter when Zander Patchett threw a pass to Elijah Sexton for a 37-yard touchdown. But Noblesville held on for the win.

"For them to win the state championship, particularly for two Hamilton County schools to be in the finals, Westfield and Noblesville, that was extremely joyful," said Dillinger. "It was just a great event."

Eight teams played in the IEFA playoffs, including four from Hamilton County. Westfield beat Carmel 20-6 in the first round, while Noblesville beat Hamilton Southeastern 26-0 in another first-round game.

In the semifinals, the Rocks defeated Brownsburg 22-14, with the Grinders beating Center Grove 13-12. In the consolation games, Ben Davis beat Carmel 22-15 in the fifth-place game, with Southeastern defeating Pike 13-6 in the seventh-place game.

The REPORTER

Hamilton Heights Middle School's boys cross country team defended its MIC championship and brought the traveling trophy home again this year.

The boys dominated by having all seven runners in the top 11 out of 61 runners. Nick Bragg was the MIC champion with a time of 10:29 and Tommy Girolamo was the runner-up. The others placing in the top 11 were Benji Girolamo (fifth), Levi Heuer (sixth), Kaden Cantlon (seventh), Jonah Wolfgang

"The team this year has been very competitive against other teams and themselves," HHMS Boys/ Girls Cross Country Head Coach Meg Hite said. "The top 7 that are the scores and bumpers for the team has changed throughout the season, it hasn't been the same runners every meet. The boys' team are hard workers, and they push each other to do their best. It has been a fun season. Christi Crosser

Candidate for Noblesville School Board, At Large

I am the current Noblesville School Board President. My husband Craig and I have lived in Noblesville for 25 years. Both of my children graduated from Noblesville High School. I'm a small business owner in Noblesville and I serve on nonprofit boards in our community. I am extremely proud of the accomplishments of Noblesville Schools over the past four years. The fiscal responsibility of Noblesville Schools is essential. The S&P rating has increased two times over the past four years. The current rating is AA and Noblesville Schools are only one of four school districts in the state with this rating. Noblesville Schools have lowered their tax rate for five consecutive years and are on track to be lower for a sixth year. I champion meeting students' needs to be successful after graduation. This includes college, workforce and military. The expansion at Noblesville High School will add STEM programing through a bond with no increase to the tax rate. I support teachers and staff of Noblesville Schools. They need to paid well, have the benefits they deserve and be treated as the professionals that they are. Noblesville Schools was named in Forbes Magazine as one of America's Best Midsize Employers.

Alison Hanley

Candidate for Noblesville School Board, At Large

Alison is a wife and mother to triplet girls who attended Noblesville High School. She is a Speech-Language Pathologist with 35 years experience treating children with speech/language delays and adults/seniors with communicative-cognitive impairments. Alison loves the performing arts and enjoyed watching her daughters perform in choral concerts, piano recitals and dance performances with the Miller Girls at NHS.

Alison believes a strong academic foundation is vitally important to prepare children for adulthood. She feels increased focus on academic achievement is needed due to a high percentage of students (roughly 40-50%) not performing at grade level in reading/writing and math (2024 iLearn scores on IDOE website), putting them at risk to fall further and further behind. With her work experience plus her own daughters' learning struggles, Alison knows how these challenges can impact every area of a child's life.

Alison also wants to see more support for teachers as they face tough challenges in the classroom such as growing numbers of ELL learners and larger class sizes.

Alison believes a renewed focus on academic excellence, transparency with parents/the community, and careful use of tax dollars will help Noblesville Schools continue their excellent reputation for generations to come.

They have 3 children-a son at Purdue majoring in mechanical engineering, a senior at NHS and an 8th grader at Noblesville West.

She has been a Forensic Scientist with the Indiana State Police, a substitute teacher in the district, a Hamilton County CASA and is the current Republican Precinct Committeeman at Grace Church. Stephanie has a record of supporting all students-no matter their path, including voting yes to a NHS expansion project that will increase Career and Technical Education opportunities like welding and construction management. She also has supported a collaboration with IU Kokomo for a College Core certificate that will give students 30 credit hours of college credit when they graduate-potentially saving families thousands of dollars in college expenses. Stephanie is fiscally responsible and has worked hard to decrease the school tax rate and the district's overall debt every year she has served on the board-while maintaining state of the art facilities and top tier educational opportunities.

Greg Lannan

Candidate for HSE School Board, Delaware Twp.

I'm Greg Lannan – a lifelong Fishers resident, and candidate for Hamilton Southeastern School Board.

As a proud 2009 graduate of Fishers High School, husband to Megan, also a Fishers High School graduate, and the dad of a future student, I am proud to be running for school board. This community has given me so much, and I look forward to being a voice and tireless advocate for students, parents and teachers alike.

I firmly believe that we can empower parental involvement, uplift our teachers so they feel inspired to give our children the best education every day, and run our district in a fiscally responsible manner.

I'm the only candidate that has walked the halls of these schools as a student and can give insight on how to best address several issues, particularly student mental health.

I have worked with state and local elected officials for over a decade and can be an effective advocate at the statehouse next year as property taxes and school funding are addressed. I would appreciate your vote this November!

Latrica Schooley

Candidate for HSE School Board, Delaware Twp.

I am a dedicated mother of four and have been happily married for 31 years, all while running my own small business. Like many families, one of our motivations for relocating here was the quality of the schools. I have found immense satisfaction in volunteering within our schools and the broad-

These opportunities have enabled me to collaborate with educators, parents, and community members.

Being married to an educator has given me a profound understanding of the challenges that teachers and their families encounter. I am honored to have the endorsement of the Hamilton Southeastern Education Association (HSEA), which represents more than 60% of our district's teaching staff, highlighting my commitment to supporting the educators who play a crucial role in guiding students toward success.

My experience in the insurance benefits sector equips me with essential skills to manage human capital costs for our school district, ultimately benefiting our employees and ensuring effective resource allocation. Additionally, my participation on various professional boards has enhanced my knowledge of governance and strategic planning.

As a mother of a child with special needs, I am dedicated to ensuring that our district fulfills its educational promise to serve all students.

My name is Terry Tolle, I have been married to my wife Lisa for 27 years. We have 3 children. Two have graduated from HSE and gone on to Purdue and Auburn University. My youngest is a Junior at HSE. I was previously elected to the HSE School Board and served from 2015 to 2018 as the legislative liaison. I testified in the state senate and successfully worked with our state legislators and local officials to help secure the largest increase in operational funding in our school's history. That funding helped decrease class sizes, improve teacher pay, and strengthen the quality of education for our children. I am running again to help solve our budget problem and promote parental involvement and school safety. My goal is to bring civility, collaboration, and professionalism back to our schools, and work diligently to secure the financial future of this district so that our students and teachers can achieve their educational and professional goals within our district.

She spearheaded the Fishers Elementary School renovation, saving the district $15 million. Sarah Parks-Reese

Candidate for HSE School Board, Wayne Twp.

I've spent over 25 years in the field of early childhood education and have a Master's Degree in Education. The majority of my career was spent as an early learning program administrator, where responsibilities included: the budget, staffing, hiring, performance evaluations, marketing, enrollment etc. I was not a teacher, but while working in collaboration with schools and then at the department of education, I understand how K-12 education operates. My time working on different teams at IDOE, from school improvement, to special education, and teaching & learning has also given me the knowledge of the right questions to ask regarding student outcomes to ensure we continue to move in the right direction for all students, and that our teachers and building leaders have the support they need. My decisions are student-centered, and grounded in data. As a public school district representative, it is my job to protect our budget. I've done that in a number of ways during my time on the board including preventing an unnecessary vote to reject a mental health grant awarded to the district. In the future I would like to see HSE create a vision for career and technical education, and fund it's own program.

I envision our schools as vibrant communities where every child feels valued and supported, diversity is celebrated, and both academic and personal growth are prioritized. I am committed to ensuring our district exceeds its educational goals while managing resources responsibly. Improving our marketing and communications is essential to showcase Hamilton Southeastern Schools as the top choice for quality education in the region. Kevin Cavanaugh

Candidate for Heights School Board, Jackson Twp.

I am running for my third term as Hamilton Heights School Board of Trustees for Jackson Township. Education has been very rewarding to me as I have earned a MS and PhD from Purdue University in Plant Genetics. I am the owner and President of a corn genetics licensing business and have previously been on the Leadership Team of a large seed company for over 25 years before starting my own business. Preparing kids for their future success is where my passion lies. My experience in business and academia gives me the opportunity to make a difference in Heights students' lives. I have a deep understanding of the financial inter-workings of school budgets with an excellent knowledge of the Operation and Education funds. While on the Board the last eight years, we have stayed within budgets, have not increased the tax rate for the community and implemented such money saving projects as solar fields at our three main buildings. Moving forward, it is imperative to search for ways to continue to attract and retain top talent in the teaching area which will directly correlate to our kids' success now and into the future.

Brandon "Brad" Beaver

Republican for County Council At-Large

Brad Beaver is currently serving on the Hamilton County Council At Large. I am a lifelong resident of Hamilton County and have been a small business owner for the past 40 years. My wife and I have three adult children and two granddaughters.

The main role of the County Council is to set the county tax rate, fund county departments and approve bonds for county projects. The county tax rate has not increased in the last 10 years. We have a AAA bond rating on property tax bonds and a AAA rating on income tax bonds. No other county in Indiana has a AAA rating on both. I pride myself on being a true advocate for Hamilton County citizens and I am mindful of spending your tax dollars. I ask for your support on November 5.

Whether it's leading the courtroom or leading in the community, Steve Nation wants everyone to reach their highest potential. From day one, he has been passionate about handling issues locally to make government better, not bigger. When making the decision to run for Hamilton County Council, it was simple: Steve wants to continue to help build a better life for the people here in the county. He will continue to keep the people of Hamilton County safe through his councilor position.

In his first term, Steve served the county through honesty, accountability, and impactful governing. He took tangible actions to fulfill the commitments he made. Steve was clear and transparent with his vision, and he delivered.

If elected into the Indiana State Senate, Levi's top priority would be spearheading legislation so that Democrats and Republicans can join together to keep our Hoosier children safe. His goal is to reach across the aisle and find Republican legislators that believe in the Second Amendment, but that also believe in requiring background checks at gun shows and on third party sales.

I love Indiana and all my fellow Hoosiers who call Indiana home. I was born and raised here. I have watched firsthand as extreme policies have emerged from the Statehouse causing Hoosiers to face many unfortunate challenges.

My priorities include ensuring public school funding, educator empowerment, and preschool access. I will fight to protect workers' voices, rights, and safety. No one should be victimized because of a broken system.

My experience and passion will enable and guide me as State Representative. I am an established public servant with 20 years leading large healthcare and education non-profits. My commitment to service began in AmeriCorps managing programs for diverse groups of students. My commitment continues in my career and as a volunteer. Robby Slaughter

Independent for Fifth Congressional District

To earn a spot on your ballot this November as an independent candidate, I spent a year traveling our district and collected over 6,000 signatures. I also met nearly everyone else in this section of the paper who is running for office. I believe they are good people. But as the old saying goes, "A bad system will defeat a good person every time." We all know that our current system---one of political parties and special interests---is no longer helping our country. Polarization, extremism, and the wealthy donors behind them are in control instead of everyday Americans.

The biggest problem we face in our country is not education, it's not the border crisis, it's not the economy or injustice. It's that we, the people, no longer trust our politicians. Without trust, nothing is possible. And the only way to earn trust again is for politicians to give up power through term limits, through radical financial transparency, and by actually spending time with voters regardless of their political party. My goal is to earn your trust. Have questions? Want to help? Call me at 317-670-4563.

Victoria Spartz

Republican for Fifth Congressional District

Victoria is a natural leader who has a proven track record in the business world, civic organizations and the public sector.

In many ways, she embodies the American Dream: born overseas, immigrating to the United States over 20 years ago after meeting her husband, a born and rope, becoming a US Citizen, and working her way up from bank teller to a CPA, finance executive and successful business owner.

Growing up in socialist-controlled Ukraine, she experienced firsthand the dark side of socialism. Living through this molded her conservative political philosophy: limited government is always better, and financial and healthcare decisions should be made by individuals in the free market, not bureaucrats and special interests.

In 2020, she was elected to Congress from Indiana's 5th District. Re-elected in 2022. In an era of politicians with sound bites, Congresswoman Spartz is a policy leader who is already make a legislative difference even in her first two terms – 12 bills signed into law and many policies developed from scratch.
