Noblesville donates $50K to support school mental health

The REPORTER

The Noblesville Schools Education Foundation (NSEF) announces the expansion of its Mental Health Support Fund thanks to $50,000 in support from the City of Noblesville.

The NSEF Mental Health Support Fund is a vital resource helping students and staff in Noblesville Schools access additional professional counseling services. With increasing rates of stress, anxiety, and depression among students and staff, this initiative directly supports the well-being of the Noblesville Schools community.

“When we ask school leaders where NSEF funding can best support them, mental health resources consistently rank as a top area of need,” said Adriann Young of NSEF. “By eliminating financial barriers to accessing professional care, we’re ensuring that everyone in our school community can receive the full mental health support to ultimately support their success in school.”

This donation points to the unique partnership between the city and its school system.

“We’re thankful to the City of Noblesville and NSEF for their support of our students and staff,” added Julie Thacker, executive director of student services for Noblesville Schools. “Our community is uniquely fortunate to have a partnership like this and this invaluable support allows students and staff members to access the mental health provider of their choice and receive reimbursement for those services.”

Mental health support represents one of NSEF’s most impactful programs and provides the following benefits:

- Individual reimbursement support to help with the cost of external counseling and transportation to mental health services
- Wellness initiatives for staff
- Support for multilingual counseling initiatives

Over the years, the demand for this support has increased, and this donation will go toward sustaining the program for students and teachers.

“The Mental Health Support Fund aligns with the mission and focus of our administration to support the health and well-being of our community, which includes prioritizing mental health,” Mayor Chris Jensen said. “Our community is better and stronger when resources are easily accessible to all who need them. I look forward to the positive impact this fund will continue to have on our students, teachers, and the community.”

I wasn’t ready

I heard a quote recently that really resonated with me. It said, “I asked God for flowers, and He gave me rain.”

I was not ready to get what I was asking for. I needed to grow in many ways to be prepared to take on what I needed to, in order to fulfill my purpose. If He had just given me the flowers, I would have missed the growing season. I would not have understood the purpose.

I wasn’t ready for my path. I had a lot to learn to understand what I needed to do in my life. To be educated to help the people I need to.

For so long, I prayed and prayed, “please heal me.” I felt like I was placed in the wrong body. It just didn’t feel right. I felt trapped. The lack of answers was really God telling me to wait. I had to prepare. Forty-four years of preparation is a long time.

As the puzzle pieces finally came together, the last one finally clicked into place, the bigger picture was revealed. In those early days post diagnosis, there would be times where all the incoming realizations were overwhelming, in a good way. Six years post diagnosis, I am still getting those a-ha moments. It is honestly really special to be able to look at all God wanted me to learn, and how learning those things have real-life applications.

It doesn’t just happen though. It is putting into practice what I learned all of those years undiagnosed. Making a consistent effort to not waste the years of learning. It taught me much more than I could ever form into words. It was the hardest thing I have lived through. Even harder than the physical struggles my disability brings,

Tipton resident Nicole May in need of life-saving transplant

The REPORTER

With the cost of a life-saving transplant often exceeding $800,000, most transplant families are unable to shoulder that financial burden.

The Children’s Organ Transplant Association (COTA) is a national 501(c)(3) charity dedicated to organizing and guiding communities in raising funds for transplant-related expenses. COTA works with individuals of any age with a single-gene disorder such as Polycystic Kidney Disease, Cystic Fibrosis, or Sickle Cell Disease.

In Tipton, volunteers are raising funds for COTA in honor of transplant patients like local resident, Nicole May.

May has been diagnosed with Focal Segmental Glomerulosclerosis, and the transplant team at IU Health University Hospital in Indianapolis recommends a third life-saving kidney transplant. Tipton volunteers are raising $100,000 for COTA to assist with transplant-related expenses.

Volunteers are needed for this COTA community campaign. Individuals and groups interested in more information should contact Community Coordinator Carrie Hagerty at carrie36crawford@gmail.com or (463) 272-5793.

COTA helps transplant families avoid financial devastation. Transplant procedure costs range from $100,000 to more than $800,000. Once

Horn-toting & mustachioed kids entertain the masses in Sheridan

Submitted by Sheridan Community Schools

In the past two weeks, Sheridan’s Middle and High School music departments delivered outstanding performances that highlight the talent of the choir and band students.

On Feb. 27, the choir students took the stage for an evening of beautiful harmonies. Under the direction of Libby Doublestein, the students performed a selection of music that captivated the audience. Also during their performances, select students performed their ensembles from the District and State ISSMA contest.

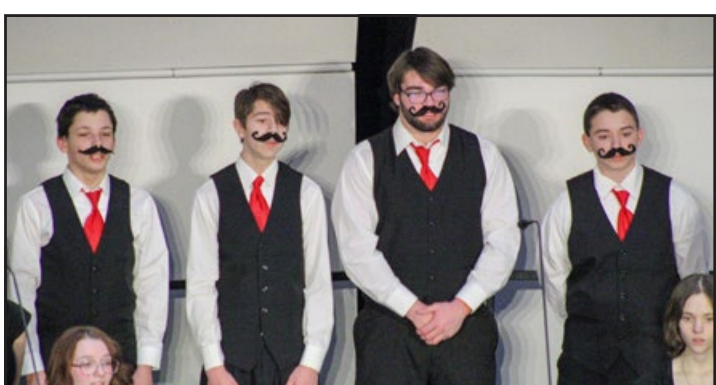

This concert focused on music from around the world. In addition to English, they sang in four other languages, and had a number of folk songs from various countries and traditions. Both high school and middle school students showcased their hard work and dedication, which left a lasting impression on the families, friends, and community members that attended.

On March 6, it was the band’s time to shine. The band concert featured an array of pieces that put on display the students’ range and skill. The band members performed with such enthusiasm that they were able to bring the music to life. This is a testament to their talent and the guidance of their band director, Patrick Cronin.

Both concerts demonstrated the incredible work being done by the students and staff at SMS and SHS. These performances highlight the hard work and dedication of the students. It also shows the strong sense of community and support within the music programs. Those who attended were treated to a lovely

Sheridan Lions get history lesson, finalize pancake breakfast plans

By CHUCK GODBY

Sheridan Lions Club members ventured back in time, way back in time, at their recent meeting.

Civil War re-enactor Greg Swank visited the local service organization dressed in full Civil War uniform and displayed various combat gear and weapons used during the bloody war fought on U.S. soil from 1861 to 1865. He also displayed other soldier essentials during the evening presentation. A question-and-answer session followed.

The local Lions also finalized plans for their first fundraising event of the year. Their annual Pancake Breakfast will take place this coming Saturday morning, March 15, at Sheridan Elementary School, located at 24795 Hinesley Road. Serving time is 7 to 10 a.m.

Along with pancakes, the morning breakfast will also include biscuits topped by Jeff Mosbaugh’s famous sausage gravy, scrambled eggs, and sausage patties.

The price to enjoy a full breakfast is simply a free-will offering. Pay what you can. Proceeds benefit Lions Club projects inside the Sheridan community.

Spring brings renewal – and safety for survivors

As the season changes, I, like many of you, welcome the renewal that spring brings. I am reminded of the importance of growth, healing, and safety – core beliefs that drive our work at Prevail.

helping Prevail open its doors in 1986.

Since then, this funding has played a critical role in ensuring that survivors of crime and abuse receive the immediate and long-term support on their healing journey. From crisis services and court support to safety planning, and case management, these federal funds help to create pathways to safety and stability for those in crisis.

Last year alone, nearly 3,200 survivors and their children received support through our services.

We are actively monitoring the federal funding situation. We are working to strengthen our funding sources, ensuring that survivors have access to comprehensive support beyond government assistance. Your generosity allows us to go beyond the basics – offering personalized support, innovative programs, and community outreach that truly change lives. With your help, we can adapt, expand, and ensure that every survivor has access to the comprehensive resources they need to not only find safety but also rebuild and thrive.

Together, we are creating a future where survivors do more than survive – they thrive.

Thank you for being part of this mission. Spring is not just a season of renewal – it is a season of hope.

Together, we are saving lives!

Hamilton County Councilman Mark Hall's February Timesheet

Welcome to the Timesheet. This column is a report of work done on behalf of the people of Hamilton County. It's to be informative, too – a place to learn about projects and how our county government works.

As your employee, it's important to me that you know what is being worked on as transparently as possible in government. You hired me as your County Councilman, and my hope is that you'll choose to be informed by regularly reading this column, getting involved, consider volunteering, and by asking questions. Council meetings are at 7 p.m. the first Wednesday of every month at the Hamilton County Government and Judicial Center in downtown Noblesville. Meetings are also available to watch online for those unable to attend in person.

Here is where my time this past month has been spent.

The month of February I worked remotely from the Sunshine State. It worked okay, but admittedly it was a bit odd. Attending meetings virtually was something new for me regarding county business. While Teams and Zoom virtual meetings seem to dominate my business meetings these days, and Facetime chats with grandkids are a way for us to stay connected, this is the first time I've been working on council and not in town. It worked, but it felt weird.

In addition to the County Council public meetings, February work included: a Central Indiana Water Planning meeting, a County Council Executive session, two Board of Commissioners public meetings, and two Noblesville Town Council meetings.

MARK HALL
The Timesheet

The personnel committee meeting was moved to a poll of the members for two position reclassifications. Both were approved and moved on to the full council for final approval.

Although the Finance Committee didn't meet during the month, we have had plenty of communication and study during February preparing for the state legislature to finalize property tax reform. As I wrote last month, the pending legislation has the potential to impact county budgets tremendously. The most recent reports are that we are not close to a final version of the bill, but plan for a reduction in property tax revenue.

This month I received two constituent service requests and two very nice notes from neighbors expressing their appreciation for this column and for being transparent in government service.

One request was regarding zoning and forced annexation into the City of Noblesville. This constituent owns property near a newly announced large residential development on the east side of Noblesville. As research revealed, the property in question was in Noblesville's city planning jurisdiction. It was not a part of the announced growth, nor was it listed on any of the development plans. We encouraged him to speak with the City of Noblesville as they have jurisdiction.

The second request was directly related to property taxes. The constituent wanted to know how his property tax rate was calculated, and how that rate was established by the State of Indiana and Hamilton County. He also wanted to know how much of that went to the city of Noblesville, Hamilton County, Noblesville Schools, and any other taxing authority (Parks, Solid Waste, Libraries). After some research, I provided the taxpayer with the breakdown by percentages as per what is published on the Hamilton County Auditor's webpage.

Noteworthy items from February include an update on the Director of Council Operations position. After several rounds of interviews, screening, background and reference checks, the council has settled on a candidate and made an offer to an individual to fill the position. They are scheduled to begin employment on Monday, March 17.

The most noteworthy topic from February continues to be property tax reform. To be clear, we need property tax reform, and I am told that some form of property tax and/or local income tax reform is coming from this legislative session. My time has been spent researching the various bills and their impact on Hamilton County. Potential changes in revenue require purposeful advance planning.

For now, until we understand the final impact to Hamilton County, my position is to pull back on long term spending commitments that have not already been funded.

This is my timesheet. This is where my time went during February 2025. While my job is primarily the financial oversight of the county budget, it is important that I understand the Board of Commissioners' priorities and balance them with the stewardship of taxpayer dollars. That is the job, and I am excited to do the people's business.

As a taxpayer myself, and listening to so many of you, our employers, it's important for the taxpayers to have access to all the information you want. I work for you, and although you may not choose to do a deep dive into what your County Council does, it's important that you can always do so.

Feel free to contact me at (317) 832-1104 or mark.hall@hamilton-county.in.gov with questions, feedback, or if you would like to talk about county business.

Bill Shaffer: Hamilton County becoming state capital of public obligations

Dear Editor:
The extent of Carmel's public debt keeps growing and growing.
According to the Indiana Department of Local Government and Finance tallies, Carmel taxpayers are on the hook for:
• $1.6 billion in city and redevelopment authority debt;
• $307 million in school debt;
• $104.8 million in township debt; and
• $25.8 million in library debt.
That totals $2.1 billion for a city of 103,093 residents, or nearly $20,000 for every man, woman and child living there.
Fishers, Noblesville, and Westfield are following suit, making Hamilton County the state capital of public obligations.

Richard Marx to headline Center’s gala

Tables sold out for Center Celebration 2025; sponsorship opportunities still available to support arts & educational programming in Carmel

The REPORTER

Singer-songwriter Richard Marx will deliver an intimate solo performance as headliner for the Center Celebration 2025 presented by Ice Miller, the annual gala fundraiser for Allied Solutions Center for the Performing Arts.

The pop/rock and adult contemporary artist has sold more than 30 million albums worldwide, making history as the only male artist to reach the Billboard Top 5 with his first seven singles, including “Hold On to the Nights” and “Don’t Mean Nothing.” He has scored 14 No. 1 singles as a performer and as a songwriter and producer, with at least one chart-topper in each of the past four decades.

Much earlier than usual, all publicly available tables are already sold out for the Sept. 20 event at the Palladium, which also celebrates Allied Solutions Center’s 15th anniversary in 2026. A limited number of sponsorship packages that include seating and other benefits are still available. More information can be found at TheCenterPresents.org/Gala.

“This is unprecedented,” President and CEO Jeffrey C. McDermott said. “The fact that the event sold out before we even announced our headline performer speaks volumes about the level of community support for our gala and the arts and educational programming we provide at Allied Solutions Center.”

Hosted by Artistic Director Michael Feinstein, the Center Celebration 2025 will begin with the First Merchants Bank Cocktail Reception and will include an elegant dinner in the Palladium concert hall, a live auction, Marx’s performance, and after-parties in the Brham Founders Club (sponsored by Will and Yasmin Stump) and the Robert Adam Room with live music, food and drink. All proceeds support Allied Solutions Center’s arts programming and its growing menu of education and enrichment opportunities for people of all ages.

More information is available at TheCenterPresents.org/Gala.

Programs supported by the gala proceeds include the Peanut Butter & Jam performance series for families with young children; the Prism Project, a performing arts summer camp for youth with disabilities; free matinee performances and science presentations for school groups; a donor-funded Transportation Grant Program that reimburses transportation costs for school groups attending events; and arts classes for adults, including vocal music, songwriting, two levels of stand-up comedy instruction and three levels of ukulele instruction.

The gala revenue is generated through table reservations, corporate sponsorships, direct donations, and the auction for prize packages including luxury get-aways and VIP professional sports experiences, donated by Allied Solutions Center supporters.

This year’s Gala Steering Committee is co-chaired by Carmel residents Caroline and Michael Garvey, now serving their second year as co-chairs, and David and Annette Greene, serving the first of their two years as co-chairs.

Last year’s Center Celebration 2024 presented by Ice Miller, with trumpeter Chris Botti as the headliner, generated more than $588,000 in support of Allied Solutions Center’s mission “to inspire and engage the Indiana community with enriching arts experiences.”

Westfield Youth Assistance Program releases 2024 Annual Impact Report

The REPORTER

The Westfield Youth Assistance Program (WYAP) announces the official release of the 2024 Annual Impact Report, which can be found at westfieldyap.org/about-us/by-the-numbers.

The Annual Impact Report highlights the events, successes, and milestone moments experienced in 2024. Some highlighted moments include the 14th annual Youth Recognition Breakfast and inaugural “The Double” Walk/Run event, which WYAP will hold annually. Additionally, the Report is divided into various sections, with each section emphasizing a different aspect of how WYAP operates and connects with the Westfield community.

“I am honored to present the accomplishments of the hard work and dedication that our Early Intervention Advocates, Board of Directors, donors, and community partners continually put into our nonprofit to support our youth and their families,” WYAP Board President Tammy Havard said.

The Report aims to inform the community of WYAP’s impact, highlighting the numbers of youth served with different services. These service connections can include mentoring, tutoring, camps, enrichment activities, mental health counseling, and more. The Report serves as a way for the community to better understand how WYAP works to serve its mission: serving youth ages 3 to 17 who are facing challenging life circumstances by taking a holistic approach to coordinate the community’s vast array of talents, services, and resources to help youth and empower parents and caregivers.

Lastly, the Report serves as a way to acknowledge and celebrate WYAP’s incredible donors, sponsors, and partners. Without their generous support, WYAP would not be able to provide support and services to over 200 Westfield youth and their families. Each donor, sponsor, and partner are listed so WYAP can show its appreciation for the generosity of the community.

Foster Success empowers Indiana’s older foster youth with basic needs support & financial education

The REPORTER

For many of Indiana’s 24,000 teens and young adults with lived experience in foster care, the road to self-sufficiency is filled with obstacles. PTSD and other mental health challenges often intersect with economic instability, making it difficult for young adults to find employment, maintain housing or meet their basic needs.

Foster Success is working tirelessly to change this.

Studies show that 30 percent of foster youth will experience PTSD symptoms, which is double the rate among U.S. war veterans. Financial concerns can exacerbate mental health struggles. The Foster Success Basic Needs program provides immediate assistance for those facing crises such as homelessness, transportation issues, or lack of access to healthcare.

Foster Success also helps young people develop financial literacy, teaching them how to save and manage their money effectively. Studies show that having a financial cushion can significantly improve both physical and mental health. Learning to save and take advantage of tools like compound interest can also set these teens and young adults on a path toward long-term financial stability.

The Opportunity Passport program provides extensive financial education and matches participants’ savings up to $3,500 for approved assets like cars, first month’s rent and deposit, a down payment on a house or creation of a small business.

“Foster Success also offers a Credit Build program that helps participants establish a credit history or improve their credit scores, while helping them save money,” Foster Success Senior Director of Impact and Programming Angel Crone said. “In addition, our Online Financial Modules give young people the chance to earn money while they learn about topics such as the importance of insurance and how to open a bank account, information which many Hoosiers learn from their parents.”

Last year, Foster Success supported more than 1,100 young people – 70 percent of whom reported being at or below the federal poverty level. By providing critical resources and assisting in overcoming financial challenges that lead to more stress, Foster Success is empowering the next generation to lead successful, independent lives.

Two local youth caddies earn life-changing $125K scholarships

Submitted

Two local youth caddies have been awarded the Western Golf Association’s (WGA) Chick Evans Scholarship, a full four-year housing and tuition scholarship for golf caddies, and the nation’s largest privately funded scholarship program.

These awardees are Marized Eusebio-Perez of George Washington High School and Ayo-deji Fawuyi of Arsenal Technical High School, both of Indianapolis.

Eusebio-Perez and Fawuyi, caddies at Carmel’s Crooked Stick Golf Club, earned the scholarship by meeting its four selection criteria: a strong caddie record, excellent academics, demonstrated financial need, and outstanding character. The full tuition and housing college scholarship is valued at an estimated $125,000 over four years.

“The outstanding achievements of these students, both on and off the course, are only the beginning of the incredible things they will achieve as Evans Scholars,” said Brian Specht, a WGA Director and Indiana State Chair. “We know these young leaders will continue to inspire caddies across Indiana to pursue the life-changing opportunity of the Evans Scholarship.”

The Western Golf Association (WGA), headquartered in Glenview, Ill., oversees the Evans Scholars Program. Recently recognized as the Scholarship Provider of the Year by the National Scholarship Providers Association, the Evans Scholars Foundation (ESF) is one of golf’s favorite charities and the nation’s largest scholarship program for caddies.

Both caddies are part of the 19 students in Indiana to receive the prestigious Evans Scholarship this year. An estimated 360 caddies will be awarded the Evans Scholarship this year.

Currently, a record 1,190 caddies are enrolled at 24 universities nationwide as Evans Scholars, and more than 12,285 caddies have graduated as Evans Scholars since the program was founded in 1930.

“Since our founding, our Program has changed the lives of caddies who have proven their dedication in the classroom, on the golf course and in their communities,” WGA Chairman Steve Colnitis said. “We are proud to welcome this exceptional group to the Evans Scholars family.”

Evans Scholars have a cumulative grade-point average of 3.3 and a 98 percent graduation rate. An estimated 40 percent are first-generation college students, and 95 percent are employed or enrolled in graduate school within six months of graduating.

Gov. Braun signs two executive orders on environmental regulation

Submitted by Office of the Governor

On Wednesday, Governor Mike Braun signed two executive orders on environmental policy focused on preserving the state's abundant natural resources while fostering growth in Indiana.

Executive Order 25-38 “Creating Opportunity and Reducing Over-Regulation While Protecting Our Environment”

Federal laws like the Clean Air Act, Clean Water Act, and Safe Drinking Water Act establish baseline national standards for environmental protection, and states implement those standards within their borders.

Many states go further than the federal standards and create a complex web of regulations for businesses and farmers to navigate, which Gov. Braun says stifles innovation and raises the cost of living.

This executive order makes the federal environmental standards of the Clean Air Act, Clean Water Act, and Safe Drinking Water Act Indiana's standards, and ensures that the state will not adopt new regulations more stringent than those national standards unless required by state law or deemed necessary by the Governor's office to address specific needs.

“We can protect our environment and grow our economy, and the federal standards of the Clean Air Act and Clean Water Act are an appropriate baseline to strike that balance,” Gov. Braun said. “Adhering to the national standards will give Hoosier businesses and communities regulatory certainty and encourage new businesses to invest and grow here in Indiana where they know the compliance framework already — all while safeguarding Hoosiers' health and preserving our natural resources.”

Executive Order 25-37 “Indiana's Environmental Policy Will be Based on Sound Science, not Politicized ‘Environmental Justice’”

Fourteen states have “environmental justice” initiatives, designed to make environmental policy decisions on the basis of race and other factors.

This executive order makes clear that Indiana will not use the concept of “environmental justice” in the state's permitting or enforcement decisions.

“Indiana's environmental policy will be based solely on sound science — not a political agenda like ‘environmental justice,’” Gov. Braun said. “My environmental policy is all about preserving our abundant natural resources, fostering economic development, and safeguarding Hoosiers' health.”

Hoosier taxpayers need to act now to claim missed 2021 refunds

Submitted

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) announced Tuesday that over 1.1 million people across the nation have unclaimed refunds for tax year 2021 but face an April 15 deadline to submit their tax returns.

The IRS estimates that more than $1 billion in refunds remain unclaimed by taxpayers who have not filed their Form 1040, Federal Income Tax Return, for the 2021 tax year. In Indiana, an estimated 25,000 people could be eligible, with a median return of $778, totaling $22,581,300 for Hoosiers. (This estimate does not include the Recovery Rebate Credit or other credits that may be applicable.)

Under the law, taxpayers usually have three years to file and claim their tax refunds. If they don't file within three years, the money becomes the property of the U.S. Treasury.

The state-by-state table below shows the number of people who are potentially eligible for these refunds and the estimated median refund by state.

By missing out on filing a tax return, people stand to lose more than just their refund of taxes withheld or paid during 2021. Many low- and moderate-income workers may be eligible for the Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC). For 2021, the EITC was worth as much as $6,728 for taxpayers with qualifying children. The EITC helps individuals and families whose incomes are below certain thresholds.

The thresholds for 2021 were:

- $51,464 ($57,414 if married filing jointly) for those with three or more qualifying children;
- $47,915 ($53,865 if married filing jointly) for people with two qualifying children;
- $42,158 ($48,108 if married filing jointly) for those with one qualifying child; and
- $21,430 ($27,380 if married filing jointly) for people without qualifying children.

The IRS reminds taxpayers seeking a 2021 tax refund that their refunds may be held if they have not filed tax returns for 2022 and 2023. In addition, any refund amount for 2021 will be applied to amounts still owed to the IRS or a state tax agency and may be used to offset unpaid child support or other past due federal debts such as student loans.

Current and prior year tax forms (such as the tax year 2021 Forms 1040 and 1040-SR) and instructions are available on the IRS.gov Forms and Instructions page or by calling toll-free 800-TAX-FORM (800-829-3676).

Need to file a 2021 tax return?

The IRS reminds taxpayers that there are ways they can gather the past information they need to file their 2021 tax return. People should, however, start now to make sure they have enough time to file before the April deadline for 2021 refunds. Here are some options:

• Create or log in to IRS Individual Online Account: The fastest and easiest way for people to view, download or print tax records and transcripts is to create or log in to their Individual Online Account at IRS.gov. There they can find transcripts of past tax returns, tax account information, wage and income statements and verification of non-filing letters.

• Request copies of key documents: Taxpayers who are missing Forms W-2, 1098, 1099, or 5498 for the years 2021, 2022, or 2023 can request copies from their employer, bank, or other payers.

• Get transcript by mail: Taxpayers who are unable to get those missing forms from their employer or other payers and cannot access their Individual Online Account can get a tax return or tax account transcript mailed to them by using Get Transcript by Mail on IRS.gov. Taxpayers can also request a transcript be mailed to them by calling the automated phone transcript service at (800) 908-9946.

• Request a wage and income transcript: Another option is for people to file Form 4506-T with the IRS to request a wage and income transcript. A wage and income transcript shows data from information returns received by the IRS, such as Forms W-2, 1099, 1098, Form 5498, and IRA contribution information. Taxpayers can use the information from the wage and income transcript to file their tax return. But taxpayers should plan ahead: These written requests can take several weeks. People are encouraged to try the other options first.

Sen. Young sponsors two bills to support local law enforcement & first responders

The REPORTER

U.S. Senator Todd Young (R-Ind.) recently cosponsored two pieces of legislation with the aim of better supporting local law enforcement officers.

“Our police officers are on the front lines every day making sacrifices to protect Hoosiers,” Sen. Young said. “I’m glad to join these efforts to ensure our law enforcement officers have the support necessary to continue keeping our communities safe.”

Sen. Young introduced the Invest to Protect Act with Senators Chuck Grassley (R-Iowa) and Catherine Cortez Masto (D-Nev.) to help local law enforcement agencies invest in training, recruitment and retention, and mental health support. The Invest to Protect Act would also create a special grant program within the Department of Justice to support hiring and resources for agencies with under 175 officers, as the majority of law enforcement agencies in the U.S. have fewer than 175 full-time sworn officers. The bill requires that the grant application take no longer than 30 minutes to complete so applicants can spend their time protecting their communities instead of navigating bureaucratic red tape.

Sen. Young also introduced legislation with Sens. Grassley and Chris Coons (D-Del.) to enhance mental health services for first responders nationwide. The Fighting Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD) Act would direct the DOJ to develop treatment programs for police, fire, and emergency medical and 911 personnel who suffer from PTSD or acute stress disorders.

Sen. Young cosponsored the Invest to Protect Act and the Fighting PTSD Act in previous Congresses, and both bills passed the Senate during the 118th Congress.

AG Todd Rokita alleges deceptive practices by Indiana travel company

Submitted by Office of the Attorney General

A travel company based in Jasper, Ind., engaged in illegal deceptive practices, including identity theft and fraudulent timeshare transactions, Indiana Attorney General Todd Rokita has alleged in a lawsuit.

GoGo Travel Consulting LLC falsely represented itself by using the identity of an Indiana-licensed real estate broker without his knowledge or consent, the lawsuit alleges, as part of a scheme to hoodwink consumers into believing they were engaging with a legitimate travel consulting service attempting to broker timeshare rental or purchase agreements.

“As we work to protect Hoosiers, we will continue holding accountable those who engage in these kinds of illegal shakedowns,” AG Rokita said. “We encourage anyone who believes they have been a victim of timeshare fraud to contact our office immediately.”

Older adults are particularly vulnerable to timeshare scams, which often involve high-pressure sales tactics that include bogus claims of having ready buyers for timeshare properties. Victims are typically asked to pay upfront fees for supposed taxes or closing costs, only to find that the promised transactions never occur.

AG Rokita filed the lawsuit through his Homeowner Protection Unit (HPU), which is part of the office’s Consumer Protection Division.

HPU’s investigation revealed that the phone number utilized by GoGo Travel, which was spoofed to appear as a number originating from southern Indiana, was ultimately linked to two Mexican nationals living in Puerto Vallarta who are alleged to be conspirators in the fraudulent scheme.

In conjunction with this legal action, the Attorney General’s office is raising awareness about the broader issue of timeshare fraud, which is often linked to organized crime. According to a joint notice by the Financial Crimes Enforcement Network (FinCEN), the Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC), and the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), timeshare fraud schemes are frequently perpetrated by Mexico-based transnational criminal organizations. These organizations use the proceeds from such fraud to fund other criminal activities, including drug trafficking and human trafficking.

Hoosiers are encouraged to contact the Office of the Attorney General about any suspected scams or scam attempts. Consumers may file a complaint by visiting indianaconsumer.com or calling 1-800-382-5516.

John “Mike” M. Schmitt*April 27, 1939 – March 3, 2025*

John Michael Schmitt, 85, Carmel, born on April 27, 1939, made his final journey to the Lord March 3, 2025.

He is preceded in death by his wife, Nannette Toups Schmitt of 54 years; daughter, Lisa; his parents, Richard B. Schmitt and Alice Manning Schmitt; and brother, Lawrence Schmitt.

He is survived by his daughter, Erin (Jack) Beery; grandsons, Britt Beery and Bryce Beery; daughter, Deborah Schmitt; cousins, John (Nancy) Wolf, Fritz (Sharon) Kreutzinger; brothers-in-law, Peter (Denise) Toups and Prosper (Beverly) Toups; sister-in-law, Fay Toups; as well as many nieces and nephews.

“Mike” was a true American hero. He grew up in Indianapolis, graduating from Cathedral H.S. 1957. He then went on to Xavier University (Class of 1961). He was a member of the Knights of Columbus as a 4th degree Knight.

After college he joined the Army and was stationed in Huntsville, Ala., as an Army intelligence agent.

In 1962, Mike was instrumental in the desegregation of the University of Mississippi when he went undercover as a student guarding James Meredith at the Ole Miss riot of 1962. With the start of the NASA space program as an Army Intelligence agent, he interviewed Dr. Werner Von Braun.

In 1963, he was honored with a position in President John F. Kennedy’s Honor Guard Armed Forces Day in 1963 and again on Veterans Day in Washington, D.C.

The most important event in his Army career was when Mike met Nan at the community center over the pool table. They got married in Houma, La., in 1964.

Mike was a businessman working various executive positions in Tampa, West Palm Beach, Homestead, and Miami, Fla. He took a position with the Michelin Tire company, which brought him to Clermont-Ferrand, France, for three years, then on to Greenville, S.C.

Mike and Nan eventually came back to his hometown, Indianapolis, in 1979 and then settled in Crooked Stick in Carmel.

When he returned to Indy, he worked for Bio Dynamics (now Roche DX). At the request of his father, he then started working with the family Insurance business, eventually taking over the Richard B Schmitt Agency.

Mike had many other hobbies. He started ironworking and forged several pieces that are still located around Indy. One was the Bronzed Lilies on the Eli Lilly Mausoleum in Crown Hill Cemetery and above the Space Quest dome at the children’s museum, the sphere of Earth.

After 16 years in Florida, Mike and Nan returned to Carmel to be with family, especially the two grandsons Britt and Bryce. Mike loved going down to Bloomington to watch Britt play football at Indiana University.

In 2018, Mike lost the love of his life Nan. Mike spent time with the St. Elizabeth Ann Seton Choir and weekly lunches with the guys, that kept him busy.

His faith as a Roman Catholic was the most important thing to him, and he spent his last years as a scholar of Catholic history. Till we meet again, Captain Papa Mike.

Memorial contributions can be made to The Carmel Dads’ Club.

A Funeral Mass will be held at 10:30 a.m. Friday, March 14, 2025, at St. Elizabeth Ann Seton Catholic Church, 10655 Haverstick Road, Carmel. A Visitation for family and friends will be held at 9 a.m. until time of Mass on March 14, 2025, at St. Elizabeth Ann Seton. A graveside service will follow at Oaklawn Memorial Gardens Cemetery.

Millers hold off GC comeback to win opener

By RICHIE HALL
sports@readthereporter.com

NOBLESVILLE – The Noblesville boys lacrosse team was happy to wait until Wednesday to play its season opener at Guerin Catholic.

The Millers were happier to get out of the Eagles Nest with a win. Noblesville held off Guerin Catholic 13-10 in a hard-fought game, surging ahead in the third quarter before holding off a Golden Eagles comeback in the fourth.

The game was supposed to be played last week but was switched to this week. That was a good thing, since the weather has been much nicer this week.

“Last week, it was supposed to be 30 degrees, cold, wet and pretty unpleasant,” said Millers coach Mark Milam. “Tonight it was 65, sunny, so I’m glad (Guerin Catholic) Coach (Charlie) Barry and I made the decision to switch it to this week.

The teams were tied at 2-2 after the first quarter, with Noblesville senior Zach McMichael scoring just 23 seconds into the game. The Millers went on a tear early in the second quarter, putting in four goals in four minutes. McMichael scored three of those goals.

The Golden Eagles were in control of the second half of the period, getting three goals to cut Noblesville’s lead to 7-5 by halftime. Sophomore Gavin Soucie scored twice.

The Millers had a huge third quarter, pouring in four goals during the first two-thirds of the period. Max Sala scored 27 seconds into the quarter, then McMichael took over again. He scored at the 7:38 mark, then assisted on both goals that Logan White scored.

Noblesville led 11-5, but a Guerin Catholic goal at the 2:17 mark from Luke Shrift brought the Golden Eagles within 11-6 going into the fourth quarter. GC then came roaring back, putting in four consecutive goals to cut the Millers’ lead to 11-10 with 3:54 to go. Soucie scored two goals during Guerin Catholic’s run.

But the Millers held on by getting two goals during the final three minutes. Brighton Kojetin scored with 2:58 left, then Hayden McCaslin completed the scoring with a goal at the 1:29 mark.

“We got 14 seniors,” said Milam. “This was the way to split the series for them. So more than happy and nothing but up from here. Let’s keep on working.”

McMichael finished the game with five goals and two assists. Junior Charlie Boe had three goals and two assists; Boe got his first score with 16 seconds left in the first quarter and added two more in the second period.

On defense, senior Monty Atkins led the ground balls with seven, followed by sophomore Dylan Knaga with five. Junior Gage Bass collected four ground balls.

Soucie totaled four goals for the Golden Eagles, with Shrift scoring twice. Senior Dominic Elliott, junior Vincent Elliott, senior John Stordy and senior J.B. Ford all had one goal. Dominic Elliott and Ford both collected four ground balls.

“We told the boys that this is one big battle, and they got to win the small fights,” said Barry. “In the fourth quarter, they fought really well. They won those small fights. But there were some other fights along the rest of the game that they didn’t win and that put us in this position. So you got to win the small fights throughout the entire battle, the entire time.”

The Golden Eagles are 1-2 for the season. Guerin Catholic began play last weekend with a 15-12 loss to Evansville Memorial, the Class 1A defending state champions. The Golden Eagles then easily beat Evansville North for their first win of the season.

Noblesville plays its first home game of the season Friday, taking on Fishers at 8 p.m. Guerin Catholic hosts South Bend St. Joseph at 1 p.m. Saturday for its next game.

Regional preview, 2A at Lebanon

By CRAIG ADKINS
For The Reporter

Triton Central Tigers (16-9) vs. University Trailblazers (17-9)

Lebanon High School will host two separate regional championships on Saturday. The first game at 1 p.m. will feature Triton Central and University. At 4 p.m., Class 3A’s Indianapolis Crispus Attucks Tigers (19-6) face off against the Northview Knights (24-2). This will be the second meeting ever between the Tigers and Trailblazers. University won the 2A regional matchup in 2022, 56-49.

University won its sixth sectional championship last Saturday night against Cardinal Ritter at Park Tudor, 58-43. The Trailblazers are in just their 20th season as a program.

Heading into this Saturday’s regional at Lebanon, they’re in search of their second regional title in school history. That first regional crown was in 2013 when it was a two-game format. Wins over Central Christian and Jac-Cen-Del in the Class 1A regional 12 years ago advanced them to semi-state before being edged in the semi-state championship by Borden, 47-44.

Head coach Justin Blanding is in his second season as the University boys coach. He was the University girls coach from 2015-23, leading the team to five sectional and three regional championships.

Last year, the ‘Blazers boys finished 12-13. Their first five sectional titles were in 2006, 2012, 2013, 2018 and 2022.

University’s 2024 portion of the season started off kind of shaky. They began 3-6, including a five-game losing streak. Then, rattled off eight wins in a row over with big wins over Sceecina, Covenant Christian, Anderson Prep, Lutheran and Bishop Chatard.

The ‘Blazers ended the regular season 3-3 but are now on a four-game winning streak. Breezing through the Park Tudor sectional with double-digit wins over Covenant Christian (56-46), Monrovia (62-49) and Cardinal Ritter (58-43), University looks to make its second semi-state appearance.

Senior Max McComb leads in scoring at 15.7 points per game, along with 4.7 rebounds, 3.5 assists and 2.4 steals. Junior Blake Gray joins him in double figures at 11.1 points, 3.1 boards and 2.5 assists. Fellow junior Faisal Mohamud is at 9.4 per outing and 2.6 assists, while sophomore Joshua Henderson (5.3), junior Cooper Cammack (4.9), sophomore Peter Morales (4.9) and senior Zien Bland (4.7) are all key contributors.

Triton Central head coach Mark James is 32-16 in his second year with the Tigers. James is currently ranked 4th amongst active coaches in victories with an overall record of 631-368 in 42 seasons with previous coaching stints at Franklin Central, Ben Davis and Perry Meridian. He spent 26 seasons coaching the Flashes, seven at Ben Davis (where he won the 2017 4A state title) and seven at Perry Meridian prior to TC.

The Tigers had an up-and-down regular season and sandwiched a five-game winning streak right in the middle to get to 10-5. TC lost four of six heading into sectional play. Triton Central escaped through the Christel House sectional by a total of 11 points

Italian-based Motorsport School setting up shop in Indianapolis

Hands-on weekend courses available to anyone interested in mechanics & race engineering

Submitted

MTS US, an Italian-based motorsport school, is set to launch its first U.S. location in Indianapolis in May. The school offers hands-on weekend courses for anyone interested in becoming a racing mechanic or data engineer.

MTS School is woman-owned and woman-founded by Eugenia Capanna, a professional driver and racing team manager. The school has successfully placed 80 percent of its graduates into racing teams around the globe like F1, MotoGP, and IndyCar. The curriculum teaches practical skills and technical knowledge with a blend of classroom-instruction and real-world experience, on real race cars, both in the shop and on the track. Courses are led by motorsport industry pros whose experience ranges from engine assembly to machine and team management.

"We're thrilled to bring MTS's expertise to the United States, and Indianapolis is the perfect location for our first U.S. facility," Capanna said. "This city has an unmatched passion for motorsport, and a high demand for skilled mechanics and engineers. We have a proven track record of placing our students with teams globally, and are excited to continue this success in the United States."

The first round of MTS courses is set to begin in May, with a second round following in August.

"Indianapolis is the epicenter of American motorsport and having MTS School establish a presence here is a fantastic development for the local racing community," says Stefano Eugenia Capanna said Indianapolis is perfect for MTS School's first location in the United States.

DePonti, CEO of Dallara USA, which has a factory in Speedway, just a stone's throw from the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. "The Dallara Group is committed to helping support the next generation of motorsport professionals, and MTS' dedication to producing highly skilled mechanics and race technicians in an important piece of that."

Iconic blue envelopes containing Indy 500 tickets mailed to fans across globe

Submitted by IMS

Indianapolis 500 fans will watch their mailboxes after the highly anticipated blue envelopes featuring Race Day tickets were mailed Wednesday from the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Ticket Office.

Rahal Letterman Lanigan Racing's Devlin DeFrancesco and Louis Foster and Meyer Shank Racing's Felix Rosenqvist were on hand to assist with the initial mailing, which included shipments to all 50 U.S. states, the District of Columbia and 38 countries around the world as race fans eagerly await the 109th Running of the Indianapolis 500 presented by Gainbridge on Sunday, May 25.

"I just like to do this to kind of amp myself up a bit for the '500,'" Rosenqvist said. "It feels like you're actually kind of starting May when you're here. I love it."

"It's cool to see the manual processes. It gives you a good perspective when you see all the tickets and everything, and the logistics behind everything."

DeFrancesco, Foster and Rosenqvist also took time to write notes and signatures on a few envelopes, with these special messages going to ticket buyers from their native countries. DeFrancesco hails from Canada, with Foster from Great Britain and Rosenqvist from Sweden.

"It's hugely rewarding and very grateful to be here, helping loading the tickets for them to get shipped out," DeFrancesco said. "So many fans from my country in Canada, to be able to see passes already going out today and people's anticipation for this race in May is great."

It takes approximately nine weeks to package all pre-ordered tickets for mailing, from orders the day after the previous year's race up to current orders. Hard work from employees in the Ticket Office and other Penske Entertainment Corp. departments ensures the ticketing process runs smoothly and on schedule.

A few facts and figures about this year's initial ticket mailing:

- Number of tickets sent: More than 215,000 items (includes 170,000 Indy 500 Race Day tickets, parking, qualification and practice tickets, concert tickets, etc.)
- Number of blue envelopes sent: More than 32,000
- Number of U.S. Postal Service trays to accommodate envelopes: More than 650
- Weight of all ticket envelopes and trays in first mailing: More than 6,600 pounds
- Hours needed to fill envelopes by hand: More than 1,000 person-hours
- Number of working days to package envelopes: 46
- Number of Penske Entertainment employees who fill envelopes: 56
- Number of states distributed: 50
- Number of countries distributed: 38 (including United States)

Federal postal inspectors came to IMS with a large truck for the first mailing. DeFrancesco, Foster and Rosenqvist joined several IMS employees in helping to load the trucks.

"It's pretty impressive," NTT INDYCAR SERIES and Indianapolis 500 rookie Foster said. "I didn't know exactly what to expect, but it's super cool to see all the guys and girls here working super hard and getting fans ready who have probably been waiting for this day since Monday after the '500' last year. It's a super-cool event, and I'm super happy that we've been invited to be here."

Receiving an eagerly awaited blue envelope in the mail is a rite of spring for thousands of fans of "The Greatest Spectacle in Racing." But why are the envelopes blue?

In the 1970s, Indianapolis 500 tickets were mailed in brown envelopes with the IMS return address in the upper left corner. In the 1980s, a heavier-stock, gray-colored envelope was introduced to mail the tickets, with just the IMS Post Office box number in the upper left corner.

A computerized printer also was used for the first time in the 1980s to print ticket customers' name and address on each envelope.

When the NASCAR Cup Series was added to the IMS schedule in 1994, the Ticket Office needed a way to distinguish between the envelopes containing tickets for the Indianapolis 500 and the annual NASCAR race, especially if the Postal Service returned the envelope as non-deliverable.

So, the IMS Ticket Office decided to color-code the ticket envelopes for each event. Indianapolis 500 ticket envelopes became blue, Brickyard Weekend envelopes became purple, Sonsio Grand Prix envelopes became green, and ticket envelopes for other IMS events use a variety of colors, including red, cream, gray and yellow.

Tickets for the 109th Running of the Indianapolis 500 presented by Gainbridge on Sunday, May 25, the Sonsio Grand Prix on Saturday, May 10 and all other Month of May events are available at IMS.com/Tickets or via the IMS Ticket Office at 317-492-6700.

with wins over Heritage Christian (58-55), Christel House (48-47 in overtime) and Seccina (37-30).

Junior Eli Sego is one of two Tigers in double-figures with 16.5 per game. Sego also grabs 4.2 rebounds and has 2.9 assists and 2.3 steals. Senior Silas Blair is at 11.6 points and 5.1 boards. Junior Max Crouse (9.0), sophomore Cael Butler (7.5) and senior Sam Collier (4.0) all help make the Tigers go on offense.

Triton Central has won nine sectionals in program history, including last Saturday. The Tigers' lone regional crown was in 1989. That year, they lost in the semi-state semifinals to the late Eric Montross, Todd Leary and eventual state champion Lawrence North, 82-56.
