AMY SHANKLAND
Perfectly Imperfect

One thing that surprised me about middle age is losing the ability to sleep well. From conversations I've had with many of my friends, I know I'm not alone.

We don't prioritize sleep in our society. How many times have you said, or heard, "I'll sleep when I'm dead."

In fact, a lot of us wear getting too little sleep like a badge of honor. As a Highly Sensitive Person, however, that doesn't work for me. And really, it shouldn't be the case for anyone.

When I approached menopause in 2020, sleep became elusive. As if that year weren't tough enough, I started to barely function due to lack of it. I tried multiple supplements, and even attempted to sleep in a hammock the following summer hoping it would help. (It didn't.) Thankfully things improved, although nowhere near back to my good old days.

Lately I've been grateful to get mostly decent sleep. But when I saw The Sleep Prescription: Seven Days to Unlocking Your Best Rest by Aric A. Prather, PhD, at a bookstore in Florida recently, I snagged it! And it has changed my life already.

The cruisers are packed, but the fight against food insecurity still continues

 Executive Director, Hamilton County Harvest Food Bank

Our community came together once again! Saturday, May 31 was the ninth year of Pack the Cruiser. This annual event supports Hamilton County Summer lunch programs.

Thank you to the nine Kroger stores across Hamilton County, including their management teams and store personnel, for helping make this year's event successful. The donations for the summer lunch programs across multiple school districts totaled more than 15,500 pounds of food and $6,971 was donated.

This event would not have been possible without the coordination and support of the following law enforcement organizations: Carmel Police Department, Fishers Police Department, Hamilton County Sheriff Department, Noblesville Police Department, and Westfield Police Department.

Thank you to the officers who joined the many volunteers who helped with this once-a-year food drive.

Donate today and find out how to volunteer at HCHfood-bank.org.

Fishers Health Department opens community wellbeing survey

The REPORTER

The Fishers Health Department (FHD) invites residents to participate in the 2025 Community Health & Wellbeing Survey, an essential tool for understanding the health needs, priorities, and challenges of those who live in the city.

Open now to all Fishers residents ages 18 and older, the survey is completely anonymous and takes approximately 15 to 20 minutes to complete. The survey is available in both English and Spanish.

By participating, residents will help guide decisions that impact local public health services and policies, including mental health support, access to healthcare, nutrition and fitness programs, emergency preparedness, chronic disease prevention, and more.

"Public health starts with listening," Fishers Public Health Director Monica Heltz said. "This survey gives us a chance to hear directly from the people we serve – what's working, where the gaps are, and how we can do better. We want every voice at the table so we can align our programs and resources with real community priorities."

From access to healthcare and mental health services to safe neighborhoods, nutritious food, and reliable transportation, public health touches nearly every aspect of daily life. The survey will help FHD:

- Identify urgent community health needs and barriers to care
- Improve and expand local services, including mental health, emergency preparedness, and health education
- Track the impact of local initiatives

"By participating in this survey, you're helping build a healthier Fishers – not just for yourself, but for your family, neighbors, and future generations," Heltz said.

Take the survey and learn more about FHD at health.FishersIN.gov/CommunityHealth.

School, Science Teacher). Honorees for the Building Level Support Staff of the Year were Natalie Watson Barnett (HHES, Instructional Assistant), Joelle Bolen (HHMS, Instructional Assistant – HBM Mosaics), and Lori Rickey (HHHS, Instruction). Tyler Stewart (HHSC Facilities Manager) was recognized as the first District Level Support Staff Member of the Year.

James, who begins his fifth year at HHMS in August, is deeply committed to building a strong curriculum that fosters essential communication skills, encourages problem-solving, and broadens students' perspectives. His work goes beyond the classroom – he actively connects students with real-world experiences that help them develop career readiness. His efforts extend to broader initiatives where students explore college programs and career pathways. His passion and dedication to student development underscores the profound impact that strong mentorship and innovative education can have on shaping tomorrow's leaders.

Through James' leadership, HHMS has been able to offer enriching opportunities that ensure students are prepared to confidently navigate academic challenges, make informed decisions about their future, and engage in meaningful career exploration. By fostering a learning environment that emphasizes real-world applications and personal growth, he ensures that students transition into high school equipped with the tools to succeed – not just in the classroom, but in life. His work exemplifies the power of education in shaping confident, capable individuals ready to take on the world.

"I felt humbled and honored," James said upon being selected with this honor. "Authentically, I felt the weight and gravity of the moment. I'm sitting in a room full of former and current educators and support staff who relentlessly serve students. I was thinking to myself these are truly brilliant people. To have my name called was just such an honor."

Jams continued, "This weight was instantly lifted when I saw my almost three-year-old sprinting toward me with my HHSC TOR plague. I was so proud of him for not dropping it and his joy was contagious. I was also grateful to my wife, Megan, my mother, Lorri James, and my brother, Cameron, for being there to help share this news with me. Each of them (and others who were unable to be there) have all played a crucial role in helping me pour my heart and soul into students.

"I also thought about how grateful I am for our HHSC students. None of this would be possible without our amazing students. I'm so grateful for the wonderful former and current students I have had the honor of teaching. They inspire me to keep pushing. It was a remarkable moment that will stay imprinted on my heart for a very long time."

HHMS Principal Dr. Bret Bailey said that James understands the importance of his career and does whatever is necessary to positively influence students' lives.

"Mr. James is an outstanding teacher who transitioned into teaching from the private sector for the purpose of making a difference for students," Bailey said. "He works collaboratively with a number of community business partners to create transformative and immersive learning experiences for all students at HHMS. While he impacts the school, community, and his classroom through hard work, creativity, and vision, he also finds innovative ways to reach and support individual students who can be disengaged and difficult to motivate at times. He cares deeply about each student and does not give up. He does what it takes to inspire and encourage them to be their best. We are honored to recognize and celebrate Mr. James as our HHMS and HHSC Teacher of the Year."

SLEEP!

As the title suggests, within a week, I was doing much better with my sleep. I was astonished. With better sleep came better days, filled with less stress, more productivity, and calm. When I finished the book, I started over! I didn't want to forget all the things I'd learned, and I also wanted to complete the sleep diary Dr. Prather recommends. It's been enlightening.

The book helps you overhaul what you do during the day to get better sleep at night. It also tells you what NOT to do at nighttime, which includes getting out of bed to do a relaxing activity if you've been awake for 20 minutes or longer. I used to struggle greatly with that recommendation.

But even better than the behaviors is the new attitude Dr. Prather gives us regarding sleep. He stresses that even with following every single step in the book, we'll still have the occasional "eh" or bad night – and that's okay. In fact, I had a "meh" night recently, but with my new knowledge, I was okay the next day. (And had a great night after that!)

Finally, the author makes a strong case for changes in our society regarding our attitude towards sleep. It shouldn't be something we make last in our life, but rather should be as important as good food, water, exercise, and other healthy habits. And sleep affects all those things – we make healthier decisions when we've had the sleep we need.

If you're struggling with your sleep, this book is an easy, quick read that can help almost immediately. Of course, talking to your doctor along with reading this book is ideal.

The Sleep Prescription is available at many libraries and online. I'm sure our local bookstores would be happy to order it if they don't have it in stock. I hope you'll give it a try and start enjoying wonderful nights soon!

Noblesville Creates' 2025-2029 Strategic Plan seeks to expand its impact in local creative economy

Submitted

Noblesville Creates (NC) will soon launch its Strategic Plan, shaping the organization's future now through 2029. The nonprofit is embarking on a transformative journey to expand its impact within the creative economy, building upon its artist-focused foundation to become a citywide leader in economic development, cultural advocacy, and civic collaboration.

Regarding the strategic plan, NC Executive Director Aili McGill said, "We are so excited, after two and a half years, to have finally landed on a robust, competitive, and focused vision for the future. Working together through a pandemic and changes in the world, this strategic plan showcases the collaboration and vision of so many stakeholders throughout the community."

NC's strategic plan is multifaceted in its approach, focusing on three main priorities: leadership, economic development, and community. It also introduces a bold redefinition of how art is valued and integrated into community life:

Shifting the Perception of Art

This plan redefines art from "hobbyist" to "professional," emphasizing that the arts are not just "extra," but a vital contributor to the community. NC is helping others see creative work as essential to a community's identity, growth, and local vitality.

The Arts as a Tool for Community & Economic Growth

This isn't just about creativity, it's about what creativity fuels: community pride, local business and economic development, corporate attraction, and sustainable growth. The creative economy is not a luxury; it's an essential strategy for economic growth.

Creating a Community of Creators & Supporters

From artists to business leaders, NC is building a network that sees creative professionals as experts who fuel and lead the creative economy. The goal: a collaborative, thriving ecosystem of support.

Driving Results with Data & Identity

With a focus on data-driven decision-making, the plan connects creativity to tangible outcomes like increased belonging, measurable economic impact, and a stronger community identity that people are proud of. In addition to wanting people to be proud of these communities, NC wants people to be eager to be a part of these communities, whether as visitors or new residents.

Preparing Leaders & Experience Seekers to Champion the Arts

Through education and storytelling, NC is ensuring that leaders and residents understand and confidently invest in the creative economy. The result: more advocates, more investment, and more visibility for communities. This plan creates more moments of fun, wonder, and beauty for communities. That's something that can't be overlooked.

These priorities will be brought to life through the following three focus areas:

Leadership

Cultivate a creative economy through the collaboration of local public-private partnerships, municipal governments, arts and cultural organizations, economic development agencies, community groups, philanthropy, and the private sector.

Economic Development

Deliver data-driven results for the arts that elevates an understanding of how art creates a sense of belonging and can be used as an economic development tool.

Community

Cultivate a community of artists and supporters beyond the traditional confines of a studio or gallery that forge connections between the artist and the civic or corporate community.

This Strategic Plan establishes Noblesville Creates as a driving force for creative innovation, shaping policies, partnerships, and engagement efforts that extend beyond the arts sector to touch every part of the community.

Noblesville Creates invites the public to attend its Annual Meeting from 5 to 6 p.m. Monday, July 14 at the Hamilton County Artists' Association Art Gallery, 195 S. 5th St., Noblesville. Guests will have the opportunity to meet board members and staff, learn about the newly developed 2025-2029 Strategic Plan, and review highlights from the past fiscal year. The team will also share what's ahead for the upcoming year. This meeting is free to attend.

Westfield's own Ron Mangus celebrates 30 years of dedicated service to Indiana Bond Bank

The REPORTER

The Indiana Bond Bank (IBB) is celebrating a significant milestone as Director of Operations Ron Mangus marks 30 years of dedicated service to the organization.

Since joining IBB in 1995, Mangus has played a pivotal role in advancing the organization's mission to provide cost-effective financing solutions to local units of government across Indiana. Over the last three decades, the Indiana Bond Bank has delivered more than $21 billion in loans to Hoosier communities – and his steady leadership has been central to that success.

In his role as Director of Operations, Mangus oversees the daily operations and business functions of the Bond Bank. He brings unmatched bond experience and technical expertise to the agency. His responsibilities include managing IBB programs, working directly with clients, procuring and managing contractual relationships, and providing guidance and training to IBB staff – all in support of the Bond Bank's strategic mission.

To top it off, Indiana Treasurer Daniel Elliott honored Mangus on Wednesday with the Sentinel of the Vault. The Sentinel of the Vault is an award given by the State Treasurer to those who demonstrate an extraordinary commitment to investing in Hoosiers' lives and serve as trusted stewards in their respective fields.

"Ron's leadership and dedication have been instrumental in shaping the Indiana Bond Bank into what it is today," said Elliott, who serves as Chair of the IBB Board. "His decades of service reflect not only professional excellence, but a heart for public service and a deep commitment to Indiana's local communities."

Former Indiana State Treasurer Tim Berry also praised Mangus' contributions.

"Ron's dedication and commitment to serving Indiana has played a major role in the continued growth and stability of the Indiana Bond Bank and its mission of helping communities access low-interest financing opportunities in a simple and efficient manner," Berry said.

Throughout his tenure, Mangus has been a trusted resource for Indiana's cities, towns, schools, libraries, and other local entities. His work has helped bring critical infrastructure, equipment, and capital improvement projects to life while maintaining a commitment to fiscal responsibility.

Outside of the office, Mangus is a devoted family man. He and his wife Heidi are residents of Westfield and longtime residents of Hamilton County. They enjoy spending time with their children Josh (Sarah), Hannah (Kevin), and Rachel, and their grandchildren Jack, Alaina, Ben, and Abby. A proud Boilermaker, he is a lifelong fan of Purdue University, and you'll often find him and his family cheering on the Boilermakers at Mackey Arena or Ross-Ade Stadium.

The Indiana Bond Bank extends its deepest gratitude to Ron Mangus for his exceptional service, unwavering dedication, and leadership over the past 30 years.

About the Indiana Bond Bank

The Indiana Bond Bank was created by the Indiana General Assembly in 1984 to assist local government entities in obtaining low-cost financing. The Bond Bank serves hundreds of qualified entities across the state, helping them meet the needs of Hoosiers through responsible financial solutions.

Letter to the Editor

Shaffer suggests spending cuts to prevent Carmel budget shortfall

Dear Editor:

Carmel government officials project a $10 million revenue shortfall in 2026 and $20 million in 2027. The culprit, they say, is the new property tax law passed by the state.

They have a simple, direct and common-sense solution no one believes they will adopt.

They could cut spending.

They, themselves, reported spending last year of $557 million. That means $10 million in cuts would be just a 1.8 percent reduction. And $20 million would, by extension, be a 3.6 percent hack.

Not only would thrift solve the revenue shortfall problems, but it would also reduce the need for further borrowing.

Will common sense prevail?

Hamilton County Veterans Community Page

What a Great Time to Live In Hamilton County

Hamilton County, Indiana, already one of the best counties to live in the USA and we are just beginning to bring the resources to our community. You have already read the Reporter from May 21st talking about the new Rely Urgent Care Center coming to the ASPIRE Campus, which is where they also have the Aspire Mobile Crisis Team. To access the mobile crisis team, please contact Aspire's Crisis line at (317) 574-1252 or call 988. Between these local crises care units, Hamilton County is better served to meet people where they are – when in crisis – and giving them the compassionate care and connections they need to recover. With this and what we are bringing below, we are becoming more poised to lead the nation in not only caring for our Military Veteran Community but for all residents in Hamilton County as we build Stronger Veterans and Stronger Communities.

Stronger Veterans Stronger Communities Coalition

In 2020, the Hamilton County Health Department and our local leaders saw a spike in our Veteran suicide numbers so we started bringing together city, county and state departments, as well as people and organizations who wanted to step up and make a difference. We created the Stronger Veterans Stronger Communities Coalition (SVSC) for the prevention of suicide in our Military, Veterans, their families and caregivers. This new non-profit was created under A Healthier Hamilton County: Systems of Care with Kristen Ludeker-Seibert as our leader.

With our development of foundational leadership, who have ties all across the state, we created partnerships and affiliations with many Veteran-serving and community-serving entities which has built a robust, ever-growing Coalition working to connect our Hamilton County Military Veteran community (MVC) and ALL residents to the resources they need in their time of that need. We know that to reach those of our MVC who are not connected – they don't go to their American Legions or VFWs, they don't wear Veteran related hats and they don't know of the benefits, services they have earned – we need to reach into our whole community to inform all residents of what resources, services are here and how to connect with them so we all can get answers to our questions, needs and concerns. The hope is that as we all gain a better understanding of how to find the resources needed, we will also be more open with our neighbors, cousins, aunts and uncles so we may assist them in their time of need, thus creating stronger communities because we are creating stronger Veterans.....

Please check their website to learn more about the great things they are doing here in Hamilton County and see how you too may join this awesome coalition. Website is <https://hamiltoncountyinsvsc.org/> and contact is at info@hamiltoncountyinsvsc.org.

Start navigating your resource connections here <https://www.navigatehc.org>. This FREE NavigateHC website will connect all Hamilton County residents to the resources and services closest to your home zip code. As we fill in more resources, it will better direct our Military Veteran community to the appropriate departments within the VA system to assist in healthcare, mental health issues, suicide prevention, transitioning to civilian life, home assistance, caregiver support,,,, you name it, we hope to bring it.

Stronger Veterans Stronger Communities engages our Military Veteran community by keeping them connected, educated about local resources, and fostering bonds to a greater community where we all can live a more fulfilled life here at home, Hamilton County!

Hamilton County Parks & Recreation to cut the ribbon on Bell Ford Bridge at Geist Park

The REPORTER

Hamilton County Parks and Recreation (HCPR) will soon hold a ribbon-cutting ceremony for the newly restored Bell Ford Bridge at Geist Park, 10979 Florida Road, at 10 a.m. Thursday, June 19.

The public is invited to attend and celebrate the preservation of this one-of-a-kind historic structure and its integration into the region's expanding trail system.

Originally built in 1869 to span the East Fork of the White River in Jackson County, the Bell Ford Bridge is the only known Combination Post Truss Bridge remaining in the world. After severe storm damage caused its collapse in 2006, the bridge was carefully disassembled and stored. In 2018, Hamilton County Commissioner Mark Heirbrandt and HCPR collaborated with the Jackson County Commissioners to acquire the bridge in exchange for a $25,000 donation to the Jackson County Round Barn Restoration Fund. Hamilton County then stored the bridge components in a secure area of the county jail until plans for reconstruction could be finalized. Now, after a remarkable multi-agency restoration and relocation effort, the bridge has been reconstructed as a pedestrian bridge across Fall Creek at Geist Park.

After sustaining severe storm damage in Jackson County and being in storage for many years, the Bell Ford Bridge is now ready to open.

"Having been involved from the initial concept to the completion of this project, I am extremely proud of this accomplishment," Heirbrandt said. "This monumental undertaking required extensive collaboration and communication across multiple committees. The restored Bell Ford Bridge will serve as a source of pride and a sought-after destination for residents and visitors."

The project was led by HCPR and the County Highway Department and was made possible through a unique collaboration with Jackson County, the City of Fishers, INDOT, Fall Creek Township Trustee Doug Allman, and the Indianapolis Metropolitan Planning Organization (MPO), which provided $2.77 million in funding.

Despite the complex nature of the restoration – including the reuse of 90 percent of the original cast iron components – the team overcame significant engineering and logistical challenges to bring the bridge back to life.

"We're incredibly proud to give the Bell Ford Bridge a new home at Geist Park," HCPR Director Chris Stice said. "It's rare that a park feature can offer beauty, function, and historical significance all in one. "We look forward to welcoming the public to walk across this one-of-a-kind bridge."

The bridge also connects with the new Geist

Greenway, a federally supported pedestrian trail that links neighborhoods from 96th Street to 131st Street in Fishers. The joint planning effort ensures both infrastructure and recreation are enhanced for future generations.

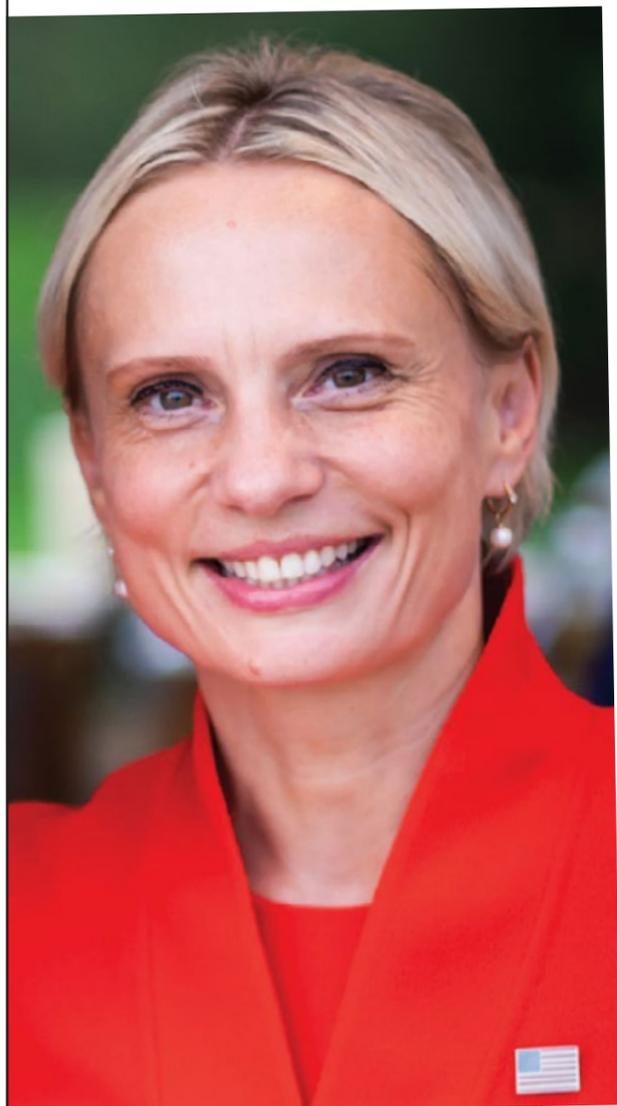

Attendees at the ceremony will hear brief remarks from representatives from partnering organizations, witness the official ribbon cutting, and have the opportunity to walk across the restored bridge.

Duke Energy Foundation provides internship funding for IU Kokomo students

The REPORTER

Indiana University Kokomo students will gain hands-on experience in the clean energy industry with paid internships funded by Duke Energy Foundation.

The campus received a $15,000 grant for the “Fueling the Future: Training Tomorrow’s Renewable Energy Leaders” program, led by the Office of Sustainability.

“We want to give our students real-life experience and exposure to companies in north central Indiana that allow them to continue work on their degrees while preparing for in-demand jobs,” said Andy Tuholski, director of the Office of Sustainability and assistant professor of political science.

“I’m excited,” he said. “We’re grateful to Duke Energy Foundation for funding these opportunities for our students. We look forward to partnering with regional businesses for this workforce development initiative.”

The program will create up to five paid internship placements with regional employers, offering them hands-on experience in fields essential to the clean energy transition. Selected students may participate in site assessments, shadow project managers, engage in research, and learn about regulatory and permitting processes.

Tuholski currently reaching out to area business leaders to identify where students could assist with projects. He said students will be recruited from a variety of majors that intersect with environmental policy, science, technology, and business. The Office of Sustainability will coordinate pre-placement guidance, goal-setting support, and post-internship reflection opportunities.

“This is a really exciting and complicated time in clean energy and the environmental movement at large,” Tuholski said. “Giving students exposure to what businesses are doing to navigate that environment will be beneficial to them, while their expertise will benefit the employer as well.”

Submitted by Office of U.S. Senator Todd Young

On Wednesday, U.S. Senators Todd Young (R-Ind.) and Chris Murphy (D-Conn.) reintroduced the Workforce Mobility Act, bipartisan legislation to limit the use of non-compete clauses that negatively impact American workers. U.S. Senators Tim Kaine (D-Va.) and Kevin Cramer (R-N.D.) co-sponsored the legislation.

About one in five American workers – 30 million people – are constrained by a non-compete clause, which blocks workers from working for a competing employer or starting a competing business. Research indicates that workers trapped by non-competes have lower wages, and their restricted mobility makes it more difficult for businesses to recruit talent. In states where non-competes are enforced, young firms are more likely to die in their first three years compared to states where they are not enforced.

"Non-compete agreements stifle growth, career advancement, innovation, and human freedom," Sen. Young said. "Our bill aims to remove these barriers and create opportunities that help, not hinder, Hoosier workers. The reforms in our legislation will assist workers and entrepreneurs so they can freely apply their talents where their skills are in greatest demand."

The Workforce Mobility Act would:

- Narrow the use of non-compete agreements to include only necessary instances of a dissolution of a partnership or the sale of a business;

- Place the enforcement responsibility on the Federal Trade Commission and the Department of Labor;

- Require employers to make their employees aware of the limitation on non-competes, as studies have found that non-competes are often used even when they are illegal or unenforceable. The Department of Labor would also be given the authority to make the public aware of the limitation; and

- Require the Federal Trade Commission and the Department of Labor to submit a report to Congress on any enforcement actions taken.

• Homes sold in just nine days on average, remaining on the market four days longer than in May of 2024.

• The median price per square foot for a Noblesville home increased 4.8 percent to $173.

In Hamilton County in May:

• Pended home sales increased 3.8 percent, compared to May 2024.

• Homes sold in just seven days on average, leaving the market in the same amount of time as May of 2024.

• Inventory increased 31.4 percent countywide.

• The median home sale price increased 4.9 percent to $461,503.

According to F.C. Tucker Company, part of the Howard Hanna family of companies, elsewhere across central Indiana:

• Pended home sales increased 8.1 percent compared to May 2024.

• Available housing inventory increased 41.1 percent compared to May 2024.

• Homes spent three days, or 27.3 percent, longer on the market than this time last year.

• Compared to May 2024, the median home sale price for the 16-county central Indiana region increased only slightly – up 0.9 percent to $320,000.

In May 2025, 3,416 central Indiana homes were purchased, an increase of 8.1 percent from the 3,161 sold in May 2024. All but three central Indiana counties saw increases in pended home sales.

• Decatur County had the greatest increase in pended home sales in May 2025, up 54.2 percent compared to this time last year.

• Jackson County pended sales had the greatest decrease, with 37.8 percent fewer homes sold compared to May 2024.

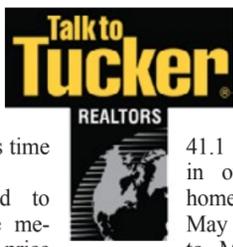

Central Indiana year-to-date home sale prices increased 3.7 percent overall.

• Bartholomew County recorded the highest year-to-date median home sale price decrease, down 0.9 percent.

• Hamilton County had the highest year-to-date median home sale price in the region at $461,503.

• Homes sold in 14 days, spending three days, or 27.3 percent, longer on the market than May 2024.

Boone County homes sold 27.3 percent faster than this time last year, the greatest increase in central Indiana.

Central Indiana experienced a 41.1 percent increase in overall available home inventory in May 2025, compared to May 2024, with 1,584 more homes available for sale.

• Jackson County had the largest inventory increase – up 79.5 percent compared to May 2024.

• All 16 central Indiana counties had inventory increases in May. Johnson County had the smallest inventory increase – up 25.2 percent compared to this time last year.

“While it took a little longer this year, we definitely saw the spring central Indiana residential real estate market kick into high gear in May, with sales and inventory both increasing,” Litten said. “Mortgage rates remain relatively unchanged and central Indiana housing prices have flattened, creating an attractive market for prospective home buyers.”

Of the pended home sales in the region last month, 10 were priced $2,000,000 or higher; 76 were priced $1,000,000 to $1,999,999; 522 were priced $500,000 to $999,999; 1,219 were priced $300,000 to $499,999; 967 were priced $200,000 to $299,999; 534 were priced $100,000 to $199,999; and 88 were priced at $99,999 or less.

Editor's notes

• All statistics were compiled by F.C. Tucker Company from a report drawn from BLC® statistics on June 7, 2025. Because of delayed processing through other agencies or boards, these numbers are subject to change.

• Effective with January 2025 reporting, in order to provide a more reliable measurement of sales price, median sales price will replace average sales price in monthly reporting.

• “Pending” means the sales contract has been signed, but the transaction has not closed. According to the NAR, pending sales typically are finalized within a month or two of signing.

• “Active Listings – Inventory” is a snapshot frozen in time at the end of the stated month. Per MIB-OR, effective April 1, 2018, “Active with Contingency” no longer is a status in the BLC® listing service in order to present a true picture in advertising and marketing. Those listings that were in the “Active with Contingency” status have been moved from the “Active” status to the “Pending” status.

• For this report, F.C. Tucker tracks the following counties: Bartholomew, Boone, Brown, Decatur, Hamilton, Hancock, Hendricks, Jackson, Jennings, Johnson, Madison, Marion, Montgomery, Morgan, Putnam and Shelby. The first report tracking Jackson County data was pulled Aug. 7, 2019.

Boys Golf

Millers and Royals go 1-2 at regional Fishers' Tommy Klinker makes state as individual

By RICHIE HALL
sports@readthereporter.com

YORKTOWN – After his Millers proved it at the sectional tournament, Noblesville boys golf coach Gary Deakyne reiterated the reason his team has been so successful during the post-season.

The Millers used their depth to win their first regional title since 2019 on Thursday, claiming the Muncie Central regional at The Players Club in Yorktown. Just like at the sectional, Noblesville had to hold off Hamilton Southeastern to win, 295-298.

The regional win was the eighth in program history for the Millers and also qualified them for the IHSAA state finals, which begin Tuesday at Prairie View Golf Club in Carmel. The Royals are also going to state, along with Cathedral, which placed third with 301.

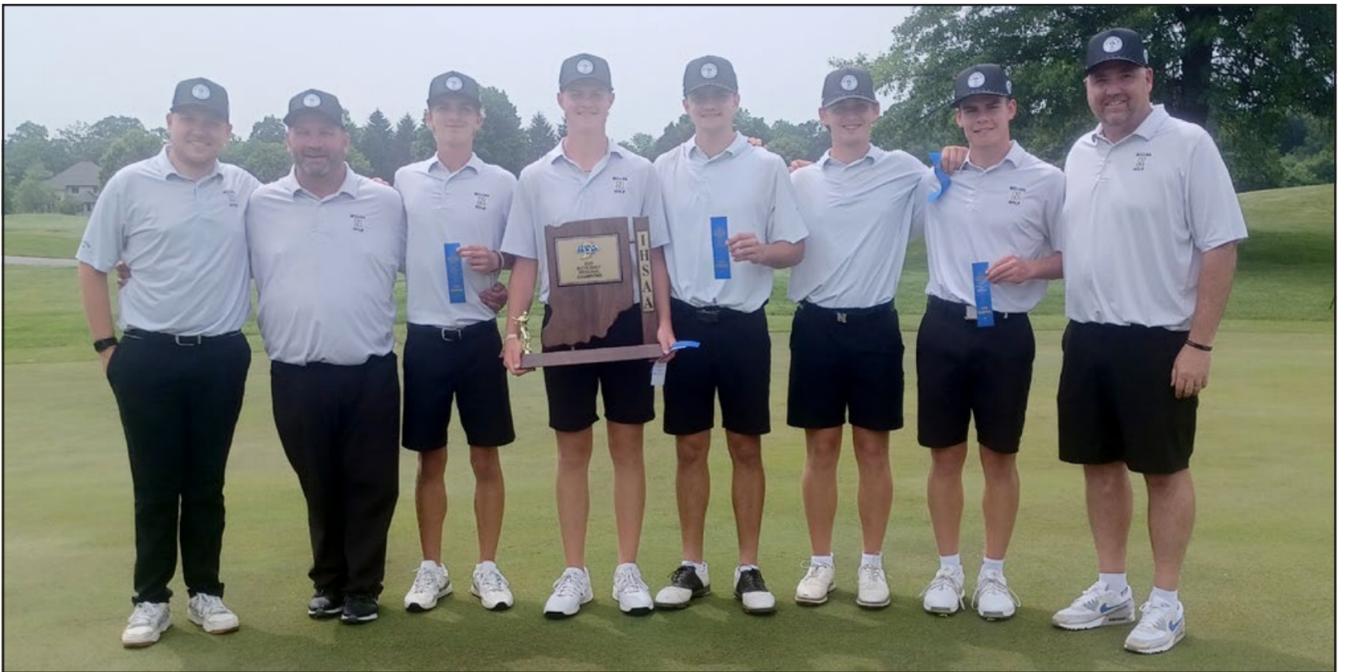

Tyler Marucci was Noblesville’s low man at The Players Club, scoring a one-under par 71. He made five birdies in his round and tied for second individually.

“Whenever someone is playing bad, there’s always someone else playing good,” said Marucci. “I feel like there’s never a round that we play where we don’t have each other. We’re really close off the course, too and on the course, which is really beneficial for us on the course.”

“My No. 5 (Dustin Turpin) was low at sectional and my No. 4 is low at the regional,” said Deakyne. “It’s like I said the other day, we have a team, a full team and it’s not about No. 1 or No. 2 that have to best, they have to go the lowest. We’re strong one through five and that’s what makes us a good team.”

Lance Decker was next in line for Noblesville with 73, making three birdies. Drew Werkley totaled 75 with five birdies. Jackson Umthum scored 76 and Dustin Turpin carded 81, both with two birdies.

Southeastern also had solid scores across the board, with everyone finishing lower than 80. Dane Starnes led the Royals with 72, tying him for fourth individually. Starnes collected three birdies during his round.

(TOP) The Noblesville boys golf team won its first regional title since 2019, claiming the Muncie Central regional championship at The Players Club in Yorktown. The Millers scored 295 and are headed to the state finals for the fourth consecutive year. (ABOVE LEFT) Hamilton Southeastern placed second at The Players Club to qualify for state for the seventh consecutive year. (ABOVE RIGHT) Fishers’ Tommy Klinker placed second individually and advanced to state.

“We had high expectations coming into here and we did pretty well,” said Starnes. “We’ve been close to Noblesville all year, but fell behind them with three shots.”

“All that really matters is we’re going to state,” said Starnes. The Royals advanced to state for the seventh consecutive year.

Blake Babb scored 73, including three birdies, followed by Mattingly Upchurch with 76. He made two birdies. Brody Colburn’s 77 and Kai Warner’s 79 rounded out the HSE scoring, both made one birdie. “That’s the name of the game is survive and advance, so we did that to represent our school and community one more year at the state finals,” said Royals coach David Young.

Fishers’ Tommy Klinker is also heading to state. His score of 72 tied him for second individually and made him one of the three low scorers not on an advancing team. Klinker totaled three birdies in his round.

“Being in Hamilton County, a lot of great teams, a lot of great players, so it’s great to play with them and really test my abilities,” said Klinker.

Huskies Summer Basketball Camp set for June 23-26

The REPORTER

Hamilton Heights boys basketball coach Chad Ballenger is hosting his annual Summer Camp next week.

The camp is for boys who are entering grades 5 through 8 this school year. The camp takes place from 10 to 11:30 a.m. June 24 to 27 at the Hamilton Heights High School gym. Enter through Door H, on the north side of the gym.

The cost is $35, with a family discount of $5 for each additional child. If any boy cannot afford to pay the camp fee at this time, call Ballenger at (765) 438-2016.

“The basic requirement in developing a strong basketball program is to instill in all our boys a desire to improve themselves so that some day they can become part of the Husky Basketball team,” said Ballenger. “This can be best accomplished by developing the proper fundamentals and pride in themselves and their school at an early age.”

The Indianapolis Colts have long been advocates for youth flag football. They helped prove their commitment Wednesday, announcing a new scholarship that aims to reduce financial barriers to the Colts Flag Football Leagues.

Families can apply for

the scholarship online. Registration fees range from $80 to $150, and the scholarship would cover most of the cost for more than 100 athletes.

The Colts are the first NFL team to offer a scholarship fund to flag football athletes across its network.

"Football is a game that should be shared and played by all who want to participate," Colts Owner and Chief Brand Officer Kalen Jackson said. "This scholarship fund will help create more opportunities and access to the great sport of flag football for young people across Indiana."

The leagues are open to boys and girls 4 to 14, with no experience necessary. Registration for the fall season is now open online with leagues in Indianapolis, Noblesville, Fort Wayne, New Haven, and Elkhart.
