4-H RESULTS SPECIAL EDITION

What the 4-H fair is all about

The REPORTER

What was the Hamilton County 4-H Fair about?

For some people, it is the culmination of a year of work, preparation, frustration, accomplishment, and everything else that goes into being part of a 4-H family.

For others, it's a summer tradition that brings friends and families together.

For this newspaper it is about two things:

1. Getting every 4-H kid's name in print with as many photos and stories about them as we can possibly fit in one giant special edition.

2. Giving as much money as possible to Hamilton County Harvest Food Bank's "Meating The Need" program.

You can see how well we did with the first of those goals on every single page of this newspaper.

You can read about how well our advertisers did supporting Meating The Need by looking at the advertiser index to the right and reading our check presentation article on Page B1.

Special thanks go out to the best 4-H coverage team in the known universe. Read all about them on the top of Page A2 in this edition.

Strap in and make an extra pot of coffee, dear readers, because this is a BIG edition. It is, in fact, our biggest single edition ever, clocking in at 42 pages.

The Reporter's people have been working relentlessly since the fair began. It has given us an even deeper appreciation both for 4-H families who work all year long and for the Purdue Extension staff who had to run the whole thing from behind the scenes and then compile and organize all the results as fast as humanly possible so we could print them for you.

Full 4-H results are in the D Section of today's special edition.

Well done, 4-H'ers. This edition is for you.

the 4-H Edition Hokey Pokey . . .

*We put some llamas in,
You get some smiling out,
We put more photos in,
And we shake it all about,
It's all about the kids and it turns some lives around,
That's what it's all about!*

X-TRA MEATY EDITION

All-Local

100% Homegrown Prime-Cut News*

*Includes over 1/4 pound of Hamilton County 4-H results, stories & photos

Below is a list of friends and supporters of The Reporter all stepped up to help us not only print full 4-H results this year, but also made it possible to give Hamilton County Harvest Food Bank's "Meating The Need" program our largest donation check ever (see Page B1).

Without the support of the advertisers you will see in this 42-page special edition, none of the 4-H participants would be getting any of the ink they deserve.

These pages are packed and stacked with every photo and bit of information we could squeeze in, and it is only possible because of the deep sense of community and willingness to give back exhibited by them. If you are reading this in print, you are holding more than a quarter pound of USDA prime cut locally sourced 4-H news. Think about that.

Just over 5 ounces of ink and paper. 42 pages of memories of sunny days, smiles, lessons and fun.

Thank you, one and all, for helping us once again earn the title "Hamilton County's Hometown Newspaper!"

The Hamilton County Reporter pulled out all the stops this year, assembling our own dream team to document as much as possible in preparation for our giant 4-H Results Special Edition coming soon to a mailbox, newsstand, or email near you!

We have THE BEST media partners anyone could ask for. WISH-TV was at the fair on opening day. Hamilton County Television (HCTV) has been livestreaming almost everything from the mission control van that we still say looks like Darth Vader’s mancave.

Grace Green and Alexander Webster have been on assignment at the fairgrounds since day one.

Sports Editor Richie Hall has gotten in on the action in a genre-bending trip through dog agility, square dancing, clogging, and more.

Robert Herrington, a 4-H pater familias, has loaned us his exceptional eye for photos and news-hound nose this year.

Even our bookworm publisher got in on the action with some photos and color commentary.

The forthcoming 4-H Results Special Edition is going to be something truly special, and all the credit goes to other people. First and foremost, to the 4-H families who do all the work all year long in preparation for this.

Of absolutely equal importance are all the folks at Purdue Extension Hamilton County who hide behind the scenes and make certain everything goes off without a hitch – except in those cases where literal hitches are needed.

HCTV, WISH-TV, Green, Webster, Hall, and Herrington: thank you for making sure everyone can read all about it in the pages of The Reporter.

Arcadia's Webel wins Supreme Showmanship

By ROBERT HERRINGTON
For The Reporter

The 53rd annual Supreme Showmanship contest took place July 21 at the Hamilton County 4-H Fair in Noblesville. While it was the first time 10-year member Ashley Webel participated, at the end of the night she heard her name announced as champion of the ultimate event for 4-H'ers with livestock.

"It was pretty crazy. I wasn't totally expecting it, but I was really grateful that I got it," Webel said.

The Supreme Showmanship contest includes the senior (or high school) showmanship winners of seven species: horse, swine, beef cattle, dairy cow and meat goat. Donning white shirts, blue jeans, and boots, the 4-H'ers show each species – one breed at a time – and are ranked by a judge after each round based on how well they show that animal.

At this year's 4-H Fair, Webel showed meat goats, sheep, and swine. She represented the Sheep Barn at Supreme Showmanship.

"I've also shown horses, but I haven't in a couple years," she said, adding that the familiarity of the four species was an advantage in the contest ring. "I think it helped with my nerves. I was a little calmer since I understood a couple more. Cattle is probably my most unfamiliar one."

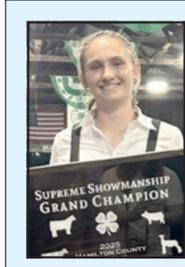

Webel also said both of her brothers were previously in the Supreme Showmanship contest and they gave her "a few pointers" to help in her only entrance in the event.

Webel, a member of the White River Blue Ribbon 4-H Club, lives in Arcadia. Focusing on livestock during her 4-H tenure, Webel said meat goats was her favorite project.

"I've really grown. I have a meat goat operation and have really grown that, so that's been a huge success," she said.

Webel will attend Kansas State University in the fall to study animal science.

Jackson Ritter earned reserve champion and represented the meat goats. Other competitors in Supreme Showmanship included Azalia Davidson (dairy goats), Eva Beckner (dairy cattle), Keagan Shively (swine), Seth Salgado (horse), and Elizabeth Dekker (beef cattle).

"This is my 10th year in 4-H. Some of the challenges I've had were just figuring out how to work with new animals that I haven't ever been able to work with before. That was probably my biggest challenge. My favorite event would probably be the Meat Goat Show. It's been my favorite project for the past couple of years, and I just had a great time showing it. I love helping the youth. A lot of coaching and showmanship, and I find that's a great way to get involved."

Third time's a charm for Royal Showman

By ROBERT HERRINGTON
For The Reporter

Lauren Happel credits her experience for winning the 2025 Hamilton County Royal Showmanship Contest.

"It feels great. I've been putting in a lot of work over the past nine years to get to this point," she said. "This is my third time in the contest, so it just shows that hard work pays off and it's really rewarding to win today."

The nine-year Hamilton County 4-H'er who will begin her senior year at Hamilton Heights High School has been preparing for this win since 2023, her first year in the contest.

"I was reserve showman last year and it just really fueled me to want to win this year. That experience in past years has helped me add on my experience and just kind of continue growing my learning in this," Happel said.

The Royal Showmanship contest includes Senior Showmanship winners from six small animal breeds: dog, cat, rabbit, llama, poultry, and pygmy goat. Contestants are tested in master showmanship, not only of their own animal but all six species.

"I would say the hardest part was probably all the little animals," said Happel. "It's very outside of my comfort zone and not where I come from, so learning those definitely has a learning curve, but it was really interesting to get to know about things that I wouldn't otherwise."

Happel represented the pygmy goats. Once a senior showman learns they are in Royal Showmanship, they work with other 4-H'ers and volunteers to better understand the unique ways other breeds are shown to judges, especially those they may be unfamiliar with.

"I love how the Royal Showmanship contest tests your knowledge," said Happel. "You really can't just pretend like you know what you're doing. You truly have to know the information and you have to study and put in a lot of time and effort to be able to show these animals to the best of your ability. And I think that's what makes it unique and special."

Royal Showmanship Chairwoman Sherry Sheller said the contest was started 23 years ago to provide a chance for 4-H'ers showing small animals and non-traditional livestock to compete at a master level.

"We've always had the Supreme Showmanship and all the other barns didn't have the same opportunity," she said. "The kids really dig it. And it's fun to watch them because as I've seen over the years, it just keeps growing and growing."

Incoming junior and eight-year 4-H member Sofia Seger earned reserve champion as she represented the Llama Barn. Other competitors in Royal Showmanship included Aubrey Johnson (poultry), Madison Meyer (cat), Addison Rushmore (dog), and Emily Kip (rabbit).

Leadership: a project that needs no ribbons

By ROBERT HERRINGTON
For The Reporter

There is one 4-H project that receives no ribbon, no fanfare and isn't displayed during the county fair – Junior Leaders.

The Junior Leader project is designed to give 4-H members in grades 7 through 12 the opportunity to develop their leadership skills. Abigail Montemer, a nine-year 4-H member, served as president of Junior Leaders this year and was reelected for her senior year.

"Abigail is a great example of a person developing their skills over the course of time," Hamilton County 4-H Youth Educator Kathleen Bohde said. "She was able to have those local connections with her club, developing those leadership skills as an officer, then going on with Junior Leaders. She has taken 4-H beyond the county borders and has been able to grow and network nationwide with 4-H connections. It will launch her future career and opportunities."

Leadership has been a key focus for Montemer during her time in the project.

"I've seen myself grow in so many different ways because when I was in third grade, I could not talk to anyone," she recalled. "I was a wallflower, I was shy. It was really kind of the same way when I stepped into my first Junior Leader meeting. So really just talking to people my own age and adults and having great relationships with them, it's really helped me come out of my shell and really showcase my personality and become who I am."

Junior Leaders provide guidance to younger 4-H members, assist with local and county 4-H activities, complete community service projects, and meet new friends.

"It's really inspiring to see the impact they make in the community and knowing that others want to do that," Montemer said. "I think being a leader in this program has really inspired me to always be a positive role model, not only for the Junior Leaders but also for many 4-H members, because I feel like a lot of 4-H is mentoring."

During the 4-H Fair, the Junior Leaders club runs a concession stand and assists with project check-in, exhibit organization, judging, and check out. They also host the annual community Easter Egg Hunt, Poinsettia Sale and Halloween Carnival, Hayride and Haunted House.

"I would say my favorite for sure is the Halloween party," Montemer said. "Just seeing all the kids and even the adults sometimes dress up. It's really fun to see them enjoying our community activity."

In late November, Montemer was one of six Indiana delegates that attended the 4-H National Congress in Atlanta.

"I am so glad that I applied. I'm truly grateful for the experience," she said.

"That has by far been my favorite 4-H trip. I've learned so much from attending so many different workshops on a variety of subjects that focused on learning, teamwork, and my favorite one 'Circles of Influence.'"

Montemer said her favorite part of that trip was hearing from Keynote Speaker John Beede, author and Mount Everest climber.

"His presentation was fabulous," she said. "He really just knew how to talk to young people and 4-H members. I really enjoyed learning from him because his topics were very relatable, but he also taught us to be more helpful, social and charismatic."

Montemer was recently announced as one of the eight Indiana 4-H Ambassadors, who are 4-H members in grades 9-11 who have excelled in leadership and 4-H advocacy throughout their 4-H career.

"Basically the program is meeting other 4-H members and promoting the 4-H program as a whole, and organizing state trips," she said. "Hamilton County is a very special community. It's where I was born and raised, but I'm really excited for all the opportunities statewide. I can't wait to really dig in and listen and meet all the different 4-H members around the state and see what their counties do."

Queen Sophia finally gets her crown

Last year's first runner-up is the 2025 winner

By RICHIE HALL
sports@readthereporter.com

NOBLESVILLE – It's a nice feeling to be crowned queen by one of your life-long friends.

Sophia Hulen got to experience that feeling last Friday at the Hamilton County 4-H Queen Pageant, which took place at the Hamilton County 4-H Fairgrounds in Noblesville. Hulen, a member of the Llama Trekkers, won the 2025 pageant after finishing as first runner-up in 2024.

Immediately after Hulen was announced as this year's queen, last year's queen, Cheyenne Boggs, leaped onto the stage to give her friend a hug.

"It was a little bit of a surprise," said Hulen. "Cheyenne and I have such a close bond. I've been in the program for a few years. It was just really awesome to finally win."

Moments later, Boggs placed the crown on Hulen's head.

"Chey and I have been friends our whole lives," said Hulen. "We went to school together since preschool. It was really special that she was the one who got to crown me."

Hulen, 18, is the daughter of Chris and Lisa Hulen and a 10-year member of 4-H. She recently graduated from Hamilton Heights and will soon be a freshman at DePauw University in Greencastle. Hulen was one of 21 contestants at the annual 4-H Queen Pageant.

Contestants are judged in three different categories. The first category is a five-minute interview with the three judges, where they are scored on poise, personality and the ability to converse.

The second category is professional wear competition, with the contestants judged on poise, posture and suitable attire. Finally, the third category is the evening gown competition, in which the judges look for stage presence and overall impression.

During the evening gown portion, each contestant was asked a question by Master of Ceremonies David Collier. He asked Hulen, "What is the best advice you have ever been given?"

Hulen answered, "The best advice I've ever been given is, just say yes to every opportunity you get, because it truly could be a blessing you never thought of."

"I am truly an extrovert, so it's really a great opportunity for me to practice different life skills," said Hulen. "And it's just truly been amazing. All the people and the friends along the way have just made it really special for me."

Manges was also named Miss Congeniality, prior to the naming of the Queen's Court. She is the daughter of Chris and Chandra Manges.

Ellie Miller wins Bret Boram Award

By ROBERT HERRINGTON
For The Reporter

The Boram family honors the loss of one of its family members and the hard work and leadership of current 10-year members annually with the Bret Boram Award. This year, the award went to Ellie Miller, a 10-year member of the Walnut Lassies and Laddies 4-H Club.

"I was really surprised, but very honored because 4-H is my life. I do 4-H all year round," she said. "I love helping the kids and everything. Tony Crane, who recently passed away [in March 2025], was one of my good buddies and he was a really good example to me about being a role model and showing that it doesn't matter how you place in the 4-H Fair, just as long as you have fun and show off your hard work. Because hard work is all that matters."

The Bret Boram Memorial Award began in the summer of 1997 as a tribute to 10-year 4-H member Bret Boram, who was almost 24 when he was killed in a snowmobile accident. The award is based on nominations only, which must come from school Ag teachers or 4-H leaders and volunteers.

One of the criteria for the award is that the nominee must have done a project in one of the same areas as Boram – woodworking, electric, swine or Junior Leaders. During her tenure, Miller was in Junior Leaders, swine, cake decorating, beef cattle, pygmy goats, beekeeping, corn and soy beans.

"My favorite project would probably be beef cattle. The Beef Barn is like my family. They've done a lot for me. They're very encouraging," she said.

Looking back on her years in 4-H, Miller said her favorite memory was winning senior showmanship last year.

"That was a big goal for me," she said. "Just using all of my nine years of experience to work toward that goal. It just was one of my dreams, and I hope that everyone gets to experience it. Because it is very hard to get to that point. Working hard every single year and it may not pay off or it may."

Miller said 4-H is very important in her life and encourages other youth to get involved in the program.

"When I was a little third grader, I did not want to talk to anybody at all. I was very shy and 4-H really got me out of my comfort zone and got me to talking to a bunch of people and gaining connections," she said. "I feel it's important for the kids to get those moments, being able to talk in front of people and leadership."

This fall, the Hamilton Heights High School graduate will attend Kansas State University to study animal science with a focus on genetics and reproduction.

In the past, she's walked with me through it. This year, she just let me go on my own. So that was kind of crazy. It's my friend's pig. His name was Sheldon, from Young Sheldon and The Big Bang Theory. I was laughing a lot because my parents and my aunt were trying to talk to me, acting like they knew stuff about pigs, and they didn't know very much about pigs."

Gaylor Electric CFO supports youth at 4-H Livestock Auction

By GRACE GREEN
grace@readthereporter.com

The Reporter caught up with Gaylor Electric CFO Jim Crews at the Hamilton County 4-H Livestock Auction on Tuesday, July 22.

Crews has attended the 4-H Fair for the past five years and planned to bid on a few livestock during the auction to show his support for 4-H'ers.

"We support youth because they will become our next generation of leaders and we're always looking for great people to join Gaylor Electric," Crews said. "This is a way we can support them."

The auction had a substantial turnout and featured 4-H'ers passing out free drinks to bidders, a very experienced auctioneer, and free merchandise.

The auction was "premium only," meaning a certain dollar amount is donated to each 4-H'er as a reward for their livestock project completion.

Some of the livestock included in the auction were beef, dairy beef, poultry, and swine.

Many animals from the auction were purchased by Hamilton County Harvest Food Bank for its Meating the Need program. The purchased animals will be used to provide protein to local food pantries.

4-H'ers fight food insecurity

The REPORTER

For a full decade, Hamilton County Harvest Food Bank (HCH) has run a program called Meating the Need which provides healthy LOCAL protein for the county's most vulnerable kids and families and strengthens the partnerships between farm families and the greater community.

On Tuesday, July 22 at the 4-H Livestock Auction, HCH will purchase – with help from donors – beef, dairy cattle, and hogs from LOCAL 4-H members. Meating the Need donations go towards the sale of the animals and to the 4-H members as they pursue their 4-H, education, and life goals.

“Hamilton County Harvest Food Bank is proud to continue its partnership with Hamilton County 4-H members,” HCH Executive Director Suzanna Hobson said. “Year after year, this partnership continues to grow to provide much-needed protein to food pantries we serve in our community. We are set to purchase 19 animals – nine cattle and 10 hogs – that will provide over 5,500 pounds of food from 4-H'ers this year. This is a huge impact for our neighbors in need.”

According to Hobson, 4-H'ers are still able to take part in the livestock auction for scholarships. Those dollar amounts are in addition to the actual market sale of the animals.

In 2022, owners of The Hamilton County Reporter brought back the tradition of printing comprehensive 4-H results in a special publication filled with abundant color photos of 4-H'ers and their projects. We also started a new tradition: using the advertising money from our 4-H publication to help families in need.

Despite its reputation for affluence, food insecurity throughout Hamilton County is a persistent challenge. The reality of food insecurity is stark: approximately 33,666 residents – including a staggering 7,136 children under 18 years old – grapple with the uncertainty of where their next meal will come from.

When HCH gave us those numbers, we reached out to our advertisers asking them to help us help others.

“This community has an incredible heart for service and our advertisers all stepped up in a big way to help the Meating the Need program,” Publisher Stu Clampitt said.

In this year's 4-H Results Special Edition you will see ads from more local businesses and individuals than ever, allowing us to give a full 10 percent more than last year to help HCH fill the gap.

“Duke Energy supports the Hamilton County Harvest Food Bank's 4-H partnership,” Duke Energy Government and Community Relations Manager Mark LaBar said. “We appreciate their important mission distributing protein products to food banks for the nutrition needs of those among us seeking assistance.”

The Reporter wants to stress that the HCH donation check was not from the newspaper, but from the numerous businesses and people who gave their support both to help our neighbors who are struggling and to keep 4-H results in print every year.

“The ‘Meating the Need’ program connects so many coordinative aspects of our bank history in agriculture, supporting 4-H, and providing direct assistance to families in need,” First Farmers Bank & Trust Senior Vice President Tade J. Powell said. “As the bank continues to grow in Hamilton County and specifically outside of the agricultural community, it's a unique way for us to give back as we celebrate our bank cultural history. I think the initiative is a great example of partnerships committed to the greater good through sincerity and good old-fashioned hard work.”

Reporter Owner Ray Adler said the newspaper is just doing what it should.

“This is exactly what newspapers are supposed to do,” Adler said. “Don't thank us. Thank everyone who said yes when we asked them to pitch in.”

We think every 4-H kid deserves to have their name in the newspaper. Keep reading The Reporter for updates on those forthcoming 4-H results!

Crash course in common 4-H terms

4-H Record of Achievement

It is very important that members have a current record, as this is how 4-H'ers are selected for trips, awards, and scholarships.

Record Book Completion

A 4-H member is considered complete in his or her project work if they have “completed” their project book record sheet(s).

It is the responsibility of the 4-H leaders to review the project books and contact the Extension Office prior to the 4-H project judging if a member is incomplete. The project record books should be neat and completed.

The degree of completion will vary with the age of the member. There may be areas that the 4-H member cannot complete – an explanation should be given for this blank space (you may have to discuss this with your leader). Discuss the activities you have completed on your project(s) with your adult leader.

Please remember, a project with an incomplete project record sheet cannot be considered for a champion.

It is important that all our 4-H volunteers are consistent in reporting incompletes. When you are in doubt, please do not hesitate to contact the Extension Office. There is an electronic version on the website at extension.purdue.edu/hamilton.

4-H Project

A project is described as a “piece of the world's work which I have chosen to do during this 4-H year. When completed, it will represent ME – my thinking, my skill of hands, my work ideals... my very best.”

4-H uses the project as a tool to accomplish its major task: the development of boys and girls. It allows young people to “learn by doing.” Its learning experiences expose young people to the knowledge, understanding, skills, and expected behavior of the particular area of interest chosen.

The project provides for individualized learning. The actual project work is done by the member, usually at home; familiar spaces become the laboratory or workshop of informal education. A member may complete several items related to a project area.

Subject Areas

Each project covers a definite subject area. The project may be divided into as many as 10 different divisions where the member completes one project division each year enrolled.

The project advances from simple skills to more advanced skills and information in later divisions. The member builds on prior learning at a pace appropriate to the individual 4-H'er, usually based on the member's grade in school.

Project Manuals

A 4-H project manual contains help, information and direction needed to complete the project. Some projects have a manual for each division of the project. Others have one manual that the member uses throughout his 4-H career.

Project Records

Most projects have a record sheet which the 4-H'er uses to record the project expenses, income, work completed, and progress made in developing the project.

Most records are simple, while others require the help of parents or club leader. Keeping up-to-date records is important to tell your project story.

Project Ribbons

The Danish system uses color to signify different award levels. The 4-H Youth Development program awards ribbons in these colors:

- Purple (Superior): A purple is awarded to those entries that far exceed the average standard or meet the standards established for that particular class. This award indicates a near perfect exhibit.

- Blue (Excellent): A blue is awarded to those entries that exceed the average standard. This award indicates a certain degree of excellence that exceeds the average expectation and may be given to multiple participants.

- Red (Good): A red is awarded to those entries that meet the average standard or are slightly below the average standard established for that respective class. The general level of accomplishment meets expectations, but is less than excellent.

Shortcomings are found in certain aspects to cause this ranking.

- White (Fair): A white is awarded to those entries that do not meet average standard. The level of accomplishment is less than expected. A ranking of white is deserved due to the severe shortcomings from the good standard.

- Green (Participation): A green is awarded when required components or pieces are missing from the exhibit.

Project Exhibit

Exhibits are required for most projects. This represents the member's year of work, and is usually displayed and judged (evaluated) at the County 4-H Fair.

Parents should provide the “parent helper” role of offering encouragement and advice, but the exhibit should represent the member's skills and knowledge learned in the project.

Remember, this exhibit is a small representation of what the 4-H member has learned through the 4-H process.

4-H Exhibit Judging

The exhibit judging is an evaluation held during the 4-H Fair.

The evaluation serves as a learning experience for the youth. The exhibit is only one measure of success and achievement. Members experience self-recognition, self-satisfaction, and the feeling of success and accomplishment as they complete and exhibit a project at the Hamilton County 4-H Fair.

As you prepare for the 4-H project judging, discuss the goals and procedures for the event with 4-H members in your club.

Workshops

Nearly everyone learns more quickly by listening, seeing and doing.

Workshops are held at the county level with resource leaders each year as needed. You are encouraged to take advantage of this learning opportunity. Leaders and parents are always welcome to attend. Workshop dates and locations will be announced in the newsletter.

Several areas also have workshops at local schools; contact your area leader for the dates. A workshop can also be held at the local club.

4-H: a different kind of youth organization

What is 4-H?

4-H is a leader in youth development, which began on the local level in response to evolving needs for new kinds of educational experiences for youth.

From the beginning, this youth-serving organization offered “hands-on” learning activities for young people so they might become productive citizens. Youth participants in 4-H activities have opportunities to offer positive contributions to our diverse and changing society.

4-H uses the far-reaching Cooperative Extension System network to offer youth programs and activities to diverse groups of young people in all 3,143 counties across the United States.

What is the 4-H Youth Development Education program?

The 4-H Youth Development Education program provides co-educational “hands-on” learning experiences in subject areas of interest to youth.

Young people who participate in 4-H programs develop citizenship awareness and leadership skills as they learn about new subject areas.

Kids in 4-H have fun while they learn! Non-formal educational activities help young people fully develop their skills and talents.

While they are learning about photography, the environment, job skills, or public speaking, young people practice a variety of skills in 4-H that will last a lifetime.

4-H is a community program.

How did 4-H evolve?

4-H began as a simultaneous response to needs throughout the country, rather than as the idea of one individual. The basis for this activity was to offer agricultural education to rural youth by organizing boys and girls clubs and through “learning by doing.”

Is there a 4-H program in my community?

There are Cooperative

Extension 4-H staff in nearly all 3,143 counties across the United States.

The county 4-H staff help people in local communities by providing information about projects and programs. They can tell you about fun and interesting “hands-on” learning opportunities available for youth in your community.

History of 4-H

4-H in Indiana was started in Hamilton County. In 1904, John Haines, Superintendent of Hamilton County Schools, held a meeting for boys interested in learning to grow corn. Mr. Haines visited the project sites, held two instructional meetings, and had his members exhibit their projects at the end of the year. Mr. Haines was credited with planning the first junior club in Indiana.

In 1912 girls' project clubs were added and in 1918 the club program became a part of the Agricultural Extension Program.

The mission of 4-H

The mission of today's 4-H is to help youth and volunteers in their development through experiential educational programs, using the knowledge and educational base of Purdue University and the United States Department of Agriculture. It is accomplished through direct involvement of youth, adults, and the community.

4-H educational programs are designed to empower young people to become independent and participating members of their family and community by creating experiences to build self-confidence, developing inquiring minds, encouraging interpersonal cooperation, developing concern for the community, and teaching decision-making through real life participation.

Winner & cat both struck speechless

By RICHIE HALL
sports@readthereporter.com

Katie Sears admitted that she had “no words” after winning Grand Champion in the Hamilton County 4-H Fair cat show.

Her cat Sammy (obviously he had no words) was cool about the whole thing. But he was what the judge was looking for, thus giving his owner the grand champion banner.

“It feels amazing,” said Sears. “I’ve never expected to do it in the last seven years I’ve done this.”

Meanwhile, Sammy would be the perfect definition of a cool cat.

“I think he did pretty well,” said Sears. “He’s not much of a fighter. He was just kind of there. Just kind of in his own world.”

Judge Windy Johnston presided over the cats, and said the first two things she looks at “are their ears cleaned out” and “are their nails trimmed.”

“You’re looking for the overall health and condition of the cat. You’re checking for cleanliness of the cat, how well the cat’s groomed,” said Johnston.

Johnston said the Hamilton County 4-H cat project has been a high-quality project throughout the years, calling the 2025 edition “a very tough class of cats.”

“Any given day, this could be judged completely differently,” said Johnston. “I could come back and judge the same set of cats tomorrow and hang the awards completely differently. They’re all that close.”

Kaitlyn takes her turn on the catwalk

By ROBERT HERRINGTON
For The Reporter

As the final youth to display their garment, Southeastern 4-H'er Kaitlyn Graham confidently took the stage in a gray two-piece matching vest and trouser set. Minutes later, the smile on her face would grow as she was announced as the senior division grand champion.

"It was really rewarding," she said. "This is my last year, and it's just really nice."

Graham has done the sewing project all 10 years in 4-H.

"I definitely learned to be patient. Because sometimes this project doesn't agree with you and the fabric doesn't agree with you, and it's just really rewarding to see the progress from the sheet of fabric to the outfit," she said.

Garments modeled in Fashion Revue must be judged in sewing construction. Sewing focuses on the item's construction while the Fashion Revue is judged on modeling, garment appearance and fit, and accessorizing. "You talk to the judges after you're done and tell them about your outfit," Graham said. "I'm an anxious person, but this has helped me so much, getting in front of so many people.

It's been really rewarding." For grades 3 through 7, garments are made to grade-level requirements. The senior division includes grades 8 to 12 divided into six categories: informal or casual wear; dress-up; free choice; suit or coat; separates; and formal wear. Graham's winning outfit was part of the dress-up division and took her about a month to create. "We found the idea online for a pattern. We saw it and thought it looked really nice," she said. "We had to order the fabric from New York because Joann's was closed. So that was definitely time consuming."

This fall, Graham will be studying animal science at Purdue University. "I thought I could wear this to professional job hours, like if I were being interviewed or something, I think this would be great to wear for that," she said.

Not every animal makes a good pet

By ALEXANDER WEBSTER
alexander@readthereporter.com

Animals and 4-H go hand-in-hand – the dramatic llamas, lazy pigs, massive cows, or any of the number of different livestock or show animals on display.

What you might not expect to see is a Patagonian cavy or an African millipede, but with Diane Current's Indiana Wild Presentation, kids and adults alike got a chance to get up close to and learn about some more exotic wildlife.

"I brought a nice array of animals," Current said. "I brought a baby opossum, I have a hairy armadillo, a Patagonian cavy, an American alligator, African millipede, a ball python, cane toad, and a lesser tenrec."

This presentation wasn't just a chance to see some cool animals while escaping the July heat. It was a chance to educate the youth and adults on the issues of owning an exotic pet.

"They don't understand the backgrounds of the animals," Current said. "They don't understand if it's nocturnal and it will keep them up all night, or they don't understand the diet or if it needs heat lamps or how big it will get or how long it will live. That's what we try to educate people on."

The needs of the animal aren't the only issue that amateur exotic pet owners can come across. Your new unique pet could be illegal to own in your state.

"You need to know not only what it takes to make this animal thrive, but you also need to look at state and your local laws to even make sure if it's legal to have one of them," Current said.

Not being able to take care of the animal is only one issue. Often when owners can't take care or don't want to take care of these animals, they release them.

"Some people think, 'Oh I have a snake, I'm just gonna put it out in the field, it'll be fine.' Well, no," Current said. "It's not going to be fine because it doesn't understand its environment. Like Rio, he can't take the cold weather – winter will kill him."

Indiana Wild hopes that by educating children of the high needs and demands of exotic pets that they'll refrain from getting one without the proper resources.

"We're hoping that people understand and take a moment – especially when they go to get an exotic animal – that there's more to them than just treating them like a dog or letting them run around," Current said. "They have specialized diets. They have specialized needs for temperatures. Some are nocturnal, so be prepared. They don't make a lot of noise, but they're not going to be awake when you want to play with them. It's just a whole understanding of relationships between people and understanding and respecting animals."

Dogs days of summer at 4-H Fair

By RICHIE HALL
sports@readthereporter.com

While the Hamilton County 4-H Fair officially started on July 17, the dogs always provide the fair with some early excitement.

The Dog Agility show took place on July 12 in the newly refurbished llama barn, with 15 dogs running two different courses. The first was a pure agility course, which featured jumps of varying heights, teeter-totter, a tunnel and a platform where dogs were to sit and “stay” for five seconds. The second course was heavier on jumps.

Ten contestants participated in the beginners category, while the other five competed in the intermediate category.

said dog project leader Dawn Moos. “The kids do a great job showing.”

The dogs were entertaining, as always, whether they were flying through the course with ease, or maybe getting distracted. Moos said she’s more concerned about the 4-Her in those cases than the dog. “You work and train really hard, and we tell them for all the classes that your dog can get out there and act like they’ve not heard a command before,” said Moos. “You just have to keep showing and have a positive attitude.”

And everyone did have a positive attitude throughout the show.

“Agility is the fun thing in dogs,” said Moos.

Gabe Willis: Grand Grillmaster

By ROBERT HERRINGTON
For The Reporter

In the midst of charcoal burning, smoke pouring out and the sounds of delicious beef sizzling on the grill stood Westfield Cloverleaves 4-H member Gabe Willis. Entering his senior year at Westfield High School and playing offensive line for the varsity football team, Willis towered over his grill with tongs in hand and a smile on his face as the sun began to fade on July 18.

On his grill was Willis' 4-H Beef Barbecue Contest entry – Korean BBQ Beef Short Ribs with a side of cucumber salad. An idea he came up with when bouncing ideas around with his parents.

"We were like, everybody's usually doing steak and hamburgers here is what I've heard, this is my first year doing it. So I was like, let's do something different," he said. "What has nobody probably ever done here? I was like, 'Korean barbecue.' I've never even had it personally. So I doubt anybody here has ever tried to cook it before."

Earlier that day, Willis also competed in the 4-H Chicken Barbecue Contest. When preparing for his fifth participation in that event, again Willis had to turn to his parents for inspiration.

"Well, it was really kind of last minute. We bounced ideas around and I landed on a chicken bacon barbecue wrap with a tortilla. After making it, I felt that was just alright – not great, not horrible," he explained. "I was going to make a side of mac and cheese with it. And then we were like, 'Huh, why don't we just put the chicken and the bacon on the mac and cheese?' It was delicious. We loved it."

For his culinary efforts, Willis earned grand champion in both the Beef and Chicken Barbecue contests.

"It's just fun – life skills," he said. "You can use it for your whole time. You'll never forget it.

You'll always remember how to light your charcoal, cook a chicken. You might have to look at those temperatures again, but it'll always be there."

In the barbecue contests, 4-H'ers develop and refine recipes, competing to create the most mouth-watering dishes. Youth have 90 minutes to prepare their grills, cook their entries and have them tasted by the judge.

"It's a lot of planning," Willis said. "It's a lot of preparation to get all your stuff here and all keep it all sanitary, like sanitation is very important for this. I believe it's a quarter of what they judge us on. So you have to make sure you're keeping your beef cold and everything cold that needs to stay cold. You also need to be sanitizing, making sure you're not crossing contaminating." In addition to the barbecue contests, Willis also participated in basic craft and small engines this year.

As the day turned into night at the Hamilton County 4-H on July 20, the Sheep Barn's volume turned from loud to louder.

That's because it was time for the Farmer Olympics. The event started late due to a rain delay during the preceding sheep show, but all that did was give extra energy to the teams.

Farmer Olympians raced in teams of two, delivering slippery watermelons, hanging blue jeans, "shearing" shaving cream from sheep, and taking wheelbarrows back and forth.

The Bun Buns won the Juniors division, with the Buck Brigade placing second. Pinktastic won the Seniors division, followed by the Hawaiian Hillbillies in second.

"I think all the kids had a great time," said Farmer Olympics director Josiah Rhea. "It's a great way for the kids to let out a little extra steam, come togeth-

Llamapalooza begins right here

By RICHIE HALL
sports@readthereporter.com

The llama project had another successful year at the Hamilton County 4-H Fair, and it did so in a place worthy of the occasion.

The 4-H llama barn was refurbished just in time for this year's fair, with llama club leader Marilyn Nenni calling the new barn "fabulous." The barn is air-conditioned with upgraded lighting, while llamas and their handlers walk on artificial grass to perform their routines.

"Everyone's enjoying it," said Nenni. "No dust, no dirt."

The llama barn hosted the usual slate of events, including the PR obstacle course, leaping llama exhibition, and the llama costume contest. Nenni said she tells her 4-Hers that the theme is "think like a llama."

"If it's not working, it's not we just say 'There's a dumb animal. I don't know why it won't do it,'" said Nenni. "We step back and we think, 'What are we doing wrong in the training?'"

Nenni said in an event like the obstacle course, the llama and its human are a combination, and it comes down to how much the animal trusts its handler.

"They're very, very intelligent," said Nenni. "You can teach them something new, sometimes in three tries, but once they're scared and you haven't figured out how they're going to react, then you got to start a round again."

Llama costume

The costume contest winner was Vivian Wiggins and her llama Slugger, both dressed up in disco regalia. With Slugger resplendent in a black suit decorated with shiny disco balls and accompanied by music from the Bee Gees, Wiggins literally danced her way to the grand champion banner.

The reserve champion was Bennett Williams and his llama Maria. The two were dressed up as corn stalks, promoting My Dad's Sweet Corn, a long-time family farm in Tipton.

Champions honored

"It feels really good," said Tricker. "It's both of our last years and we both worked really hard for Grand and Reserve, so it feels really nice to have all the hard work pay off."

"I have lots of good memories," said Pickett. "It's been a great 10 years and I'm super thankful."

By ROBERT HERRINGTON
For The Reporter

It was a family affair at the 2025 Homemade Ice Cream. Of the 13 total entries, 11 came from two family trees. But it was Bret Burrow's Pistachio Ice Cream that won the grand prize.

"There's a lot of stiff competition, and it's all really good ice cream," Burrow said. "Everybody does a great job, and it's just luck of the draw. The judges chose mine, but had many good options to pick from. I'm very honored to be able to take home the grand champion."

2025 marks Burrow's third grand champion title. He previously won with a blueberry cheesecake and a banana split ice cream. Last year, his son-in-law, Robby Bray, won the title.

"In the off season, we tried different flavors. We just go through recipes and if something looks intriguing, we'll try it. Over the winter, we'll try several different ones and try to pick the one that we like the best out of that," Burrow said. "But pistachio was just weird. It seemed to me to be a good flavor, but not overdone, not too much. A lot of times you can get too many flavors in there and they get too complex, too complicated."

Burrow said he started participating in the ice cream contest 12 or 15 years ago to beat the McMillians.

"They seemed to always have a handle on it and were very good competitors. We miss them not being here this year and really hate that Charlie passed away. They are why we've got to keep the legacy going," he said. "It's a fun environment. It's all the people that we know come and hang out and are excited. It's really a fun event at the 4-H Fair."

Burrow said making homemade ice cream is just something they do occasionally, maybe five to 10 times a year.

"It's not something we do all the time," he said. "The main intent is to have something for the 4-H Fair. Our whole goal is to try to find something next year different for the fair to win again."

Each entry, up to four people, has 40 minutes to make its favorite ice cream recipe. Prizes are awarded in three categories: all flavors – electric freezer, all flavors – crank freezer, and youth (ages 18 and under).

Jeff, David, Elisabeth, and Luke Parobeck won Reserve Grand Champion for their Mint Oreo ice cream. Ben Munson, grandson of Burrow, claimed the youth title for the second year in a row for his "Rasp Swirl" ice cream.

"It is exciting. It's fun to get the grandkids involved in anything that you do. I'm excited for him," Burrow said.

The contest was judged by Hamilton County Tourism CEO Karen Radcliff, Hamilton County Extension Board President Phil Anderson, and 4-H Council President Dani Robinson.

"It was a lot harder than I thought it would be," Robinson said. "It was fun to judge it. The biggest thing was not all of them got all the way to ice cream. The consistency wasn't quite to ice cream, but the flavors were delicious."

Reporter photos by Robert Herrington

Bret Burrow (above) won the grand prize, but The Reporter tips our collective hat to everyone who worked to make the favorite frozen flavors during a hot summer fair. Thanks for helping everyone keep cool.

The Silver Notes serve up elephant ears at 4-H

By GRACE GREEN
grace@readthereporter.com

One thing people look forward to at the 4-H fair is eating the elephant ears. While the sweet treat itself is a huge hit, what many fairgoers don't realize is that a team of women is behind the scenes making them.

The Silver Notes are a women's choir and are part of the Hamilton County Extension and the Melody Makers of Indiana (MMIA). The group has one yearly fundraiser, selling handmade elephant ears at the fair.

"With those funds we are able to contribute to 4-H plaques and awards and advertise in the 4-H book," Silver President Darlene Musselman said. "We also give out a scholarship in the name of one of our past presidents, the Sharon Piper scholarship, to any student in Hamilton County who is pursuing music school."

The funds are also used to help buy music and outfits for the group's performances.

The choral group has been around for more than 50 years and has been selling elephant ears for around 25, selling thousands each year.

"We may sell anywhere from 2,000 to 3,000 elephant ears," Musselman said. "It varies from year to year. The weather has a lot to do with it. If we have a lot of rain, you don't have a lot of people. If it gets too hot, you don't have a lot of people."

Nights at the fair can be overwhelming for the group, as that's when they get the most customers.

"In the evenings, we get pretty crazy out here and we'll have lines, and we'll tell the people cooking 'Don't look behind you, just keep cooking,'" Musselman said.

Despite the long days and busy shifts, the women say the effort is worth it.

"It's something that we all get together and do every year. It's a lot of work, a lot of preparation, but we have fun doing it," Musselman said.

The first day of the Hamilton County 4-H Fair was a day of celebration for Purdue Extension.

The organization celebrated the 25th anniversary of its purpose-specific program on leadership for youth. Extension members gave out free cake in the Hamilton County Exhibition Center.

Susan Peterson, extension educator and county extension director, said the program is "a five-point leadership program that we do in six school systems in our county. It's designed to be for freshmen and sophomores."

At the end of five weeks of training, students serve on different boards and committees, learning about leadership – "giving back to the community and serving the community in that way," Peterson said.

throughout the year," Cox said. "Like our Madam Carroll boat ride, our Indiana Beach trip, and sometimes we even go bowling or do laser tag, which are very popular events."

From running the snack shack to volunteering, 4-H Junior Leaders are doing more than just raising money – they're building life skills, friendships, and a sense of community.

The group holds meetings that focus on a specific topic each time – oftentimes topics that can teach life skills.

"Junior Leaders is just like any other project in 4-H, but it's not turning in a physical project. It's a service," said Zain Cox, an eight-year 4-H member and longtime Junior Leader. "We serve the fairgrounds and often, our community."

"The meeting topic that I enjoy the most is 'jobs night,' which is where they teach us how to write a check, how to complete a job application, and build a resume," Cox said.

The group runs a snack shack every year during the fair. The shack sells pizza, chips, and drinks. The money made goes back to the group to fund activities.

In addition to skill building and service, Junior Leaders has become a place to create friendships.

"We use every bit of funds that we collect during the fair to pay for our trips

"I love going to meetings and seeing everybody," Cox said. "It's where I've met most of my friends. I think Junior Leaders is very beneficial."

Lego Master Grace Macky builds dream home, one block at a time

By ROBERT HERRINGTON
For The Reporter

All throughout high school, Noblesville's Grace Macky has always been selected to show her 4-H construction set project at the Indiana State Fair. She continued that streak in her 10th and final year of 4-H by winning the purple grand champion ribbon.

"The idea is actually a vision board. It represents what I would like to have in real life someday," she said. "The Legos are a homestead. That's where the inspiration came from - I love gardening, being outside."

The massive project took two adults to carry into the 4-H Fair. Macky said she worked on it off-and-on for four months. When asked how many Lego bricks were included in the build, Macky only smiled and laughed.

"I never count, but thousands. Maybe 3,000 if I had to guess," she said.

Reporter photos by Robert Herrington

Macky began the construction sets project seven years ago, using her childhood toys as the material.

"My brothers and I always had Legos growing up," she said. "We had sets then eventually took them apart and put them in a big bucket of pieces. I really enjoy just free building, coming up with my own ideas and designs. I tried the Lego project one year in 4-H and really enjoyed it. The first thing I made was a Lego Friends Park and it was so small, nothing like this - it's funny to compare them. Every year I learned a lot more and developed more skill. I developed a love for it."

In addition to construction sets, Macky is showing rabbits and participates in the aerospace, which she won Reserve Grand Champion on her rocket and Grand Showmanship on the rocket launch.

"My biggest achievement in 4-H was last year in the aerospace project," she said. "I got to take it to the State Fair and won sweepstakes. That was the most exciting thing for me because aerospace is a project I've done all 10 years of 4-H."

Macky recently graduated from Wisdom Builders, a homeschool co-op.

She is one of 67 10-year 4-H members in Hamilton County.

"I've loved all of 4-H. It's been an incredible learning experience and I have tried so many different projects," she said. "I didn't love all of them, but I found ones I did and discovered new talents and skills."

Lots of bahs, but no humbug for sheep show Grand Champion Ashley Webel

By RICHIE HALL
sports@readthereporter.com

The sheep weren't the only ones saying "Bah!" to the weather on July 20.

Rainy conditions forced a long delay for the Hamilton County 4-H Fair's sheep show, which didn't conclude until after 8 p.m. It was a long day, but it was ultimately worth it for Ashley Webel, who was named the Senior Showman Grand Champion.

Webel said she had put "quite a bit" of work into winning. "I've shown sheep for a couple years now," she said. "I've been working towards this moment."

Webel said her sheep did pretty well during the rain delays.

"We're lucky that he's a pretty calm sheep and was able to work through it," said Webel.

There were 59 different classes shown, with each one getting a thorough lookover from judge Taylor Lautenschlager of Doniphan, Neb.

Give a little credit where it's due

The REPORTER

When we brought 4-H results back into print in 2022, the goal was to publish every kid's name and, hopefully, live up to the name "Hamilton County's Hometown Newspaper." Now, it's all about community relationships. It is about friends and families coming together at the fair. It is about giving as much as we can to the Meating the Need program to help our neighbors who are struggling in a shaky economy. It is about bringing all our community partners together to help with all the above. The owners and staff of The Reporter are proud to be a small part of the web of relationships that make Hamilton County the great place it is. In the pages that follow you will find comprehensive results. Please take just a moment to consider how these results get on pages. In an era when AI companies are making their bids to take over ever more of the media world, The Reporter is a newspaper written by human, for humans. These results were compiled from exhibitor lists with data filled in by hand. In ink. With actual pens. The results were then handed to Purdue Extension staff and entered into a giant spreadsheet with well over 3,000 rows. Behind the scenes Purdue Extension worked all year so the 4-H'ers could show off all their hard work.

For many years, that work was done with zero recognition or appreciation because no one bothered to print the results. HCTV literally lived in a van at the fair all weekend. Robert Herrington, Richie Hall, and our summer interns paid for this publication in sweat and exhaustion and more than a little frustration (they did have to deal with our publisher, after all). The 4-H kids do amazing work that deserves recognition. They have earned their place in the newspaper of record. 42 pages is not enough, but it's what we have to offer. Now, without further ado, here are those human-entered results listing the 4-H kids who participated this year ...

Congratulations 2025 4-H exhibitors!

See you next year, Hamilton County 4-H . . . in print, of course!

Reporter photos by Grace Green & Alexander Webster

As The Reporter people who used to work in radio would say, "The Hamilton County Reporter now concludes another broadcast day." This does, however, conclude our 2025 4-H Fair coverage. We will see you again next year, along with all the baby goats, young llamas, and cute bunnies you could ask for.
