Sheller makes Heights history

Submitted

On Saturday, the Hamilton Heights Forestry Team traveled to the Boone County Fairgrounds to compete in the Indiana State Forestry Contest, an event that brings together top young forestry students from across the state. Hamilton Heights was proudly represented by one high school team and middle school student who qualified for this year's state competition – and she made history.

The Hamilton Heights High School Sr. Forestry team, consisting of Annie Sheller, Maddie Higgins, Lilly Higgins, and Emery Brown, was the state runner-up.

Abby Sheller, a seventh grader at Hamilton Heights Middle School, earned first place, winning the Indiana State Junior Forestry Contest and outperforming a field of 80 competitors, the majority of whom were eighth graders. Sheller's outstanding performance marks the first state individual forestry title in Hamilton Heights history, a milestone achievement for both Abby and the program.

The state contest challenges students to demonstrate their knowledge of tree identification, seed identification, diseases, insect damage, and management practices. Sheller's dedication, preparation, and passion for the subject were evident as she excelled across all components of the competition.

Sheller, who placed fourth overall at the area and 36th in the state forestry competition last year, kept studying and trying to kick up her game.

"I felt I would get in the Top 5 this year but was really excited to learn that I came in first place," Sheller said.

Sheller's dad, Adam, who is the FFA Forestry Coach, said he was really proud of the team and Abby and the hard work they put into preparing for this contest.

"However," he confessed, "I didn't think the group did very well and we headed out shortly after the competition. "You can imagine our surprise when we learned that Abby earned first and our and the seniors brought home a second place!"

a spotlight on the growing interest in agricultural and environmental education at Hamilton Heights and reflects the district's commitment to providing students with hands-on learning experiences that connect them to real-world skills and career pathways.

"Congratulations to Abby, Annie, Maddie, Lilly, and Emery, on their remarkable accomplishments and for representing Hamilton Heights with excellence at this competition," Sheller added.

Shine on, Christmas Light People

As I drove home on State Road 19 from Cicero one evening last week, I looked over to see a house still decorated to the hilt with Christmas lights. You may know the one – it's north of Forest Park.

The old me would have said something like, "Are you kidding? It's January 22 for goodness sakes." But the new me grinned with delight.

I remember scoffing to my friends decades ago when I saw Christmas lights still up in February. "What is wrong with people?" I asked. "It's almost Valentine's Day! Time for hearts and stuff, not red and green lights."

Growing up, my mother took every single Christmas item down – lights and all – on New Year's Day. In my opinion, it put a damper on the start of the year. I wasn't ready to see everything get stacked up in boxes and put away for the next 11 months. The house always looked bare afterwards.

I vowed that I'd wait until at least Epiphany weekend, and I've continued to do that today. I also like to put up my Christmas decorations the day after Thanksgiving and not one minute earlier. I prefer to give Thanksgiving its own time.

But that's me. I know many people start dragging out the tree, ornaments, stockings, and other Christmas décor on Nov. 1. I admit, it does sound nice to enjoy lights and everything for two months – or longer in some households – vs. just one.

My husband John actually changed things in our house last spring by purchasing and installing Govee Permanent Outdoor lights. He was tired of our only Christmas lights being the ones on our tree in the front window. He wanted to shine lights for all occasions throughout the year. John has had a great time with them and even changed the lights to red and white for the recent IU games.

We all are facing big and small troubles in life, most of which are out of our control. Sometimes it seems like the world is just a gigantic mess. Maybe the Christmas Light People (as I like to call them) are trying to lift their spirits and that of so many others who walk or drive by.

And don't many of us say every holiday season that we should keep Christmas in our hearts all year long? Perhaps some people are reminding us to do just that by keeping Christmas glowing on their houses, lawn, etc. as well.

As we all endure the most challenging part of winter, including the lowest temps, highest snowfalls, and seemingly never-ending darkness, maybe the Christmas Light People are onto something. Why not continue to turn on joyful lights in this time of darkness?

Shine on, Christmas Light People. Shine on.

Hamilton County expands real-time crime data center

By GREGG MONTGOMERY
WISH-TV | wishtv.com

The real-time crime information center has expanded, the Hamilton County Sheriff's Office said Tuesday.

Officials say the center serves as a centralized hub for real-time crime data, video surveillance, and coordination between agencies across the county. The expansion includes a drone program for first responders, which allows drones to launch automatically and respond to emergencies in under 90 seconds.

Brian Niec is director of the Hamilton County Real Time Information Center, located in the sheriff's office facilities off Cumberland Road north of State Roads 32 and 38 in Noblesville. The center opened in November 2024.

"When that emergency gets reported, to the point in time where the patrol responds, there's a gap of 5 to 10 minutes of nothing, of no information, of no intelligence, no technology. That's where we help fill that gap. We are doing research on the suspect. We are doing research on vehicles involved. We are doing research on that address or that place to try and feed that information to responding officers and making them more aware of what's going on."

Officials say the technology has already helped solve cases and improve public safety.

Volunteer Fair set at Carmel Clay Public Library

The REPORTER

The Carmel Clay Public Library (CCPL) will hold its third annual Volunteer Fair from 1 to 3 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 21.

Adults and teens seeking volunteer opportunities will be able to speak with representatives from nearly two dozen local organizations. Participating organizations include the Good Samaritan Network of Hamilton County, Carmel Clay Parks & Recreation, and the Humane Society for Hamilton County.

“We created the Volunteer Fair to make it easier for people to explore meaningful ways to contribute to the community,” CCPL Communications Manager Christy Walker. “Instead of searching online or calling around, people can talk with local organizations face-to-face and find a volunteer opportunity that feels like the right fit. It’s a simple idea, but it can have a big impact for both volunteers and the groups they support.”

The Volunteer Fair will take place at the Main Library at 425 E. Main St. Registration is not required.

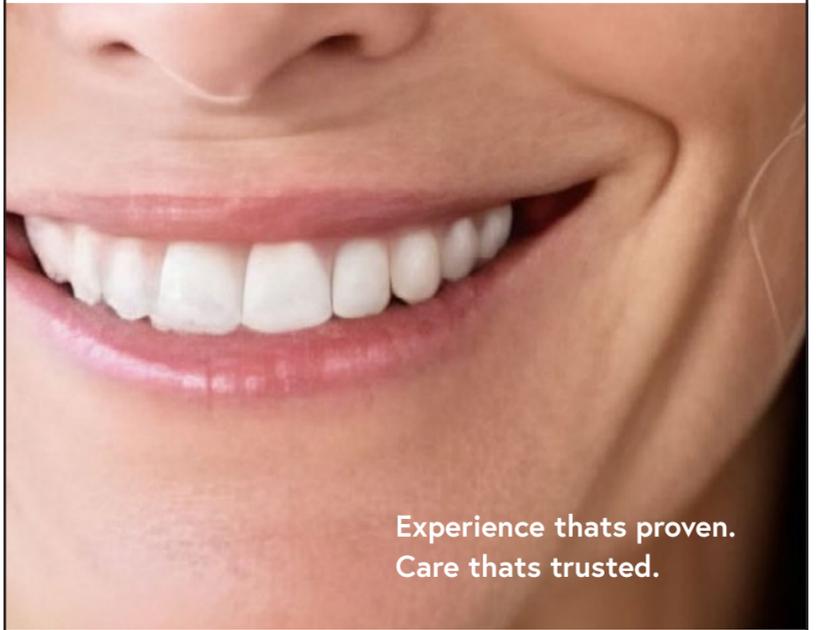

More details about the event, including a list of participating organizations, can be found at carmel-claylibrary.org/events.

Supt. Hile: Noblesville Schools not involved in any political protests

Dear Editor:

I have received several questions this week about a graphic circulating online advertising a political protest at Noblesville High School.

I want to assure the community that Noblesville Schools is not involved with this. We did not create this promotion and do not endorse, organize, encourage, or advertise any types of student political activism.

We assume this graphic may have been created by a student and shared on their personal social media, but we have not been able to confirm the validity of the promotion or event, or who originally created or posted it.

Sharing political views and values is a discussion between parents and their children, not the role of our schools. We have made our high school parents aware of this situation and have encouraged them to discuss their expectations with their children.

We are legally required to respect the First Amendment rights of students. However, students also have the responsibility to express their personal beliefs peacefully, safely, and in a manner that is not disruptive to other students or the operation of the school.

If those conditions are not met, then our staff will address it quickly and appropriately. As always, any students who are not in class will be subject to our attendance policies and procedures.

I sincerely appreciate the community members who reached out to me this week with questions about this issue. There are many things that circulate on social media, and not all of them are factual.

Our staff is here to serve our students, families and community, and I am always happy to answer any questions you may have about what is happening in your schools.

Noblesville Schools

ReCenter Indiana releases new research on why young Hoosiers often don't vote

Submitted

Young adult Hoosiers care about government but remain disconnected from the political process, including the fundamental act of voting.

That's one of the key findings of new research released Wednesday, Jan. 28 by ReCenter Indiana Inc. The research also suggests what could help increase civic participation in future elections.

According to the Tufts CIRCLE 2024 youth voting report, only 39 percent of young Hoosiers voted, placing Indiana among the worst-performing states and far below the national young adult turnout of 47 percent.

ReCenter Indiana's nonpartisan research study was conducted through a statistically representative survey of 307 central Indiana residents ages 18 to 34 who were registered to vote but did not cast a ballot in the 2024 general election.

"Young adult non-voters are not apathetic," ReCenter Indiana Executive Director Jocelyn Vare said. "They really care – but they are distrustful of government, disappointed by politics and impeded by Election Day barriers."

Vare presented the research study findings at the All IN For Democracy press conference at the Indiana Statehouse on Jan. 28.

Key findings

- Young adults overwhelmingly feel their voices do not influence government actions or election outcomes, with a majority saying they believe the government isn't listening to people like them.
- Pessimism about the future is widespread. Half of respondents describe their outlook as pessimistic or negative.
- It's not disinterest; instead, distrust and disappointment deter voting. Feeling that a vote "doesn't matter" is the most cited reason for not voting.

Vare

- Different groups face distinct obstacles. Barriers to voting vary by party affiliation, gender, and identity. For some, it's not liking either candidate. Others cite personal obligations and missed deadlines as reasons they didn't vote.

• Almost half (45 percent) of the young Hoosiers surveyed have never voted. They cite distrust of the process or lack of information more often than those who have voted before.

• Young adults do want to participate. When asked whether they would vote this year, 35 percent said they would "definitely" vote, and many others report above-average likelihood of participating.

The research also shows that the following practical obstacles make it harder for young adults to turn intent into action:

- Work schedules
- Long lines at the polling place
- Limited Election Day hours
- Lack of awareness of early voting

The nonpartisan study was funded by a grant from the Nicholas H. Noyes Jr. Memorial Foundation and conducted jointly by two nationally respected research firms – Bellwether Research, typically employed by Republican candidates and causes, and Hart Research, whose clients are typically Democrats. Fieldwork took place in late October 2025. It included both a focus group discussion and a broader survey conducted by phone and online.

A summary of the research findings can be found at ReCenter Indiana's website.

Gov. Braun commends first responders & state agencies following coordinated response to extreme winter weather

Submitted by Office of Gov. Mike Braun

Governor Mike Braun announced Wednesday, Jan. 28 that the Indiana Department of Homeland Security (IDHS) State Emergency Operations Center (SEOC) returned to normal daily operations at noon on Tuesday, Jan. 27, after being activated to Level III (Emergency Conditions) since Saturday, Jan. 24, to coordinate the state's response to the extreme winter storm.

"Indiana took a proactive approach to respond to this extreme winter weather, and our state agencies worked hand in hand to keep Hoosiers safe over the past few days," Gov. Braun said. "I want to thank our first responders, emergency responders, snowplow operators, Indiana National Guardsmen and volunteers who selflessly dedicated these last 72 hours to the public safety of our state."

During the activation, the SEOC fulfilled mission requests and provided resources and support to local communities, including:

- The Indiana State Police had nearly 4,000 calls for service. They responded to 828 vehicle crashes and more than 500 slide-offs. More than 1,000 motorists have been assisted.

• Nearly 300 Indiana National Guardsmen were activated and created 24 Highway Assistance Teams. They engaged with 192 vehicles, assisted more than 80 vehicles and transported 16 stranded motorists.

• The Indiana Department of Transportation operated on a statewide full call out, with over 800 plow trucks deployed around the clock on state roads, U.S.

routes and interstates.

• The SEOC completed mission requests for intersection clearance, expedited delivery of propane to support communications capabilities, and delivered cots and blankets to local communities throughout the state.

This activation brought together subject matter experts from local, state and federal agencies, in addition to external partners, into one location to facilitate an effective, direct and coordinated response to the winter storm.

Indiana Family Institute thanks donors for continued support

Submitted

The Indiana Family Institute (IFI) recently honored its donors with a luncheon at Aspasia Coffee and Bake Shop, 3091 U.S. 421, Zionsville.

IFI opened its doors in 1990 as a nonpartisan public education research organization. IFI consists of professional staff, a board of directors consisting of state business and community leaders, and numerous volunteers. The organization works in association with over 40 other family policy councils across the nation – as well as Focus on the Family, the Family Research Council, and Alliance Defending Freedom – with the vast majority of their work and efforts centered on public policy, research, and education regarding the health and wellbeing of all Hoosier families.

IFI believes firmly that the family is a key institution of society and that the overall health of any city, state, region, or nation is largely determined by the health of its bedrock institution. An already large and growing body of published peer-reviewed social science research confirms this age-old wisdom that traces its history back to Aristotle, the Hebrew scriptures, and beyond.

As such, IFI is committed to strengthening and improving the marriage and families of all Hoosiers and seeks to partner with other organizations, groups, and individuals who share that same great mission.

IFI also supports the Hoosier Leadership Series, which disciples Hoosier leaders throughout pillars of cultural influence so that they can take their faith and apply it effectively within the professional settings God has placed them in and within their local communities. It sponsors a trip each year to Washington, D.C. to meet with the Senators and legislators of Indiana.

IFI also supports the Five Freedoms Project protecting the First Amendment rights of Hoosier citizens as they attempt to live out their faith. IFI also sponsors an educational initiative working with parents, teachers and school board members, administrators, and others to create a God-honoring educational environment in Indiana.

Celebrate the bestselling duo in rock 'n' roll history with Forever Simon & Garfunkel: A Tribute

The REPORTER

At Feinstein's Cabaret, located inside the beautiful Hotel Carmichael in Carmel, you will enjoy the very best in featured concerts and music, fine food and dining, and classic wine and cocktails. One of the featured concerts coming to Feinstein's is Forever Simon & Garfunkel: A Tribute, for two nights, Feb. 6 and 7.

Forever Simon & Garfunkel: A Tribute celebrates the bestselling duo in rock 'n' roll history. With humor, soaring energy, charm and laser precise harmony, Sean Altman & Jack Skuller lead the audience on a concert journey through Paul Simon and Art Garfunkel's teenage roots, their early success as a groovy folk act, their global dominance as hit-makers, and even some of Paul Simon's solo career. "The Sound of Silence," "Bridge Over Troubled Water," "Mrs. Robinson," "I Am a Rock," "The Boxer," "Homeward Bound," "Cecilia," "Hazy Shade Of Winter," "Feeling Groovy," "Me & Julio Down by the Schoolyard," "Kodachrome" and many more.

Award-winning singer-songwriters Sean Altman (Rockapella) and Jack Skuller (Songwriters Hall Of Fame Buddy Holly Prize) met on stage in 2010, when they were paired at a variety show to duet "Mrs. Robinson." Skuller had just celebrated his 14th birthday and Altman had just celebrated his shiny new AARP card, but the audience found their December-January musical bromance and brotherly harmony to be enchanting and mesmerizing. The pair has toured as The Everly Set since 2016, celebrating the hits of The Everly Brothers. They formed Forever Simon & Garfunkel in 2020, and they tour both acts internationally.

Sean Altman, American musician and songwriter, is a founder and former lead singer of the singing group Rockapella and a pioneer of the modern a cappella movement. He was a member of Rockapella from its inception in 1986 until he left the group in 1997 to pursue a solo career. As a founding member of Rockapella, Altman is perhaps best known for his role on the long-running PBS children's geography game show, Where in the World Is Carmen Sandiego? As a solo artist, Altman has released three solo albums on Chow Fun Records.

The Washington Post wrote, "Witty and outrageously lampooning... full of catchy melodies, clever arrangements and lyrics that yield satiric gems." In 2009, Altman wrote and recorded two songs for the popular Schoolhouse Rock series, composed and performed on two TV commercials for Wendy's and composed and recorded the theme song for the PBS show Science Mission 101.

Skuller signed his first recording contract at just 14 years old with Bar/None Records. His debut single "Love is a Drum" was called "arguably the best single released by anyone [that] year" by The Examiner. His music career has since earned him a reputation for powerful live shows rooted in old school rock 'n' roll. In his teen years, he performed his original music for thousands of people across the U.S. as a Disney recording artist. He has been featured on the Disney Channel, FOX-TV's Good Day New York, Amy Poehler's Smart Girls, and with the GRAMMY Foundation. His music was selected for an ASCA campaign and is continually played on indie rock radio across the U.S. (including Sirius XM). The Songwriters Hall of Fame recognized his talent by awarding him the esteemed Buddy Holly Prize. As frontman of blues rock trio The Skullers, he worked with acclaimed Americana artist/producer Don DiLegio on Freight Trains & Party Games.

This show runs for two evenings: Friday, Feb. 6 and Saturday, Feb. 7. Doors open at 5:30 p.m.; shows begin at 7:30 p.m. Get your tickets and learn more about this and other shows at feinsteins.com/events. You can also call The Hotel Carmichael, home of Feinstein's, at (317) 688-1947. Feinstein's at Hotel Carmichael is located at 1 Carmichael Square, Carmel.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

QUAIL FROM THE LORD

Moses heard the people of every family wailing at the entrance to their tents. The Lord became exceedingly angry, and Moses was troubled. He asked the Lord, "Why have you brought this trouble on your servant? What have I done to displease you that you put the burden of all these people on me? Did I conceive all these people? Did I give them birth? Why do you tell me to carry them in my arms, as a nurse carries an infant, to the land you promised on oath to their ancestors? Where can I get meat for all these people? They keep wailing to me, 'Give us meat to eat!' I cannot carry all these people by myself; the burden is too heavy for me. If this is how you are going to treat me, please go ahead and kill me—if I have found favor in your eyes—and do not let me face my own ruin.

The Lord said to Moses: "Bring me seventy of Israel's elders who are known to you as leaders and officials among the people. Have them come to the tent of meeting, that they may stand there with you. I will come down and speak with you there, and I will take some of the power of the Spirit that is on you and put it on them. They will share the burden of the people with you so that you will not have to carry it alone.

The Sheridan football icon has been hired as the new coach at Southwood High School, located about five miles southeast of Wabash. Val Tsoutsouris, the sports editor of RTC4 in Rochester, broke the news with a post on X (formerly Twitter) just before 10 p.m. Wednesday. Wright spent 59 seasons as the Blackhawks' coach. He is the winningest football coach in Indiana with 463 career victories and led Sheridan to nine state championships. Rocks cruise past Ben Davis

The REPORTER

Westfield had to wait a day to play its game at Ben Davis, but it was worth the wait. The Shamrocks took care of the Giants 68-42 Wednesday evening in their regular-season finale. Westfield outscored Ben Davis in all four quarters, leading 19-9 after one and 35-20 at halftime. MaKayla Hatcher was dominant in the second quarter, pouring in 10 points. Ellie Wheeler nailed two 3-pointers during the opening period.

The second half belonged to freshman Lillian Clark. She scored 17 points in that half, with nine in the third quarter and eight more in the fourth. Clark finished the game with 22 points, including three 3-pointers. Hatcher was right behind with 21 points; she scored in each quarter. Wheeler finished with 15 points. Audra Parker scored seven. Westfield is 17-7 and plays Hamilton Southeastern Tuesday in the first round of Class 4A Sectional 8 at Carmel.

CARMEL – A big play in basketball doesn't always have to involve scoring. A steal works well, too. Carmel's Taylee Fisher came up with a takeaway with 30 seconds left in the Greyhounds' game with Cathedral, and that helped the Hounds clinch a 47-41 victory Wednesday on Bill Shepherd Court at the Eric Clark Activity Center. Carmel had to claw back from a large first-quarter deficit to get the win, which halted a four-game skid. "I think we were down 9-1, and then I called a timeout," said Greyhounds coach Jess Darmelio. After that,

Carmel came roaring back, cutting the Irish's lead to 15-13 by the end of the quarter. "Our kids have proven all year that they don't give up, they don't stop," said Darmelio. "They don't quit at all. They always keep fighting." Cathedral led for the entire second and third quarters, but the Greyhounds never let the Irish's lead grow beyond five points. Bella Ramsey scored six points in the second, giving her 11 for the first half, which finished with Cathedral ahead 26-22. Carmel kept it close in the third quarter, getting within 35-33 by the end of the period. Sydney Bonds had four points, while Catherine Bassi opened the quarter with a 3-pointer, her third of the game. The Greyhounds finally took the lead early in the fourth when Fisher nailed a 3 and put Carmel ahead 37-35. Tatum Triggs tied the game at 37-37 with a jumper. Then, it was Maddy Wallace time. The sophomore drained a triple and put the Hounds ahead for good, at 40-37. But just in case, Wallace made a floater was up 42-37. "Both of them [Fisher and Wallace] are very good at anticipating where the ball is, getting their hands in places to get deflections, get steals," said Darmelio. "And I just think it shows they're at the right spot at the right time." "Defensive effort was definitely what kept us in the game today," said Wallace. "It was an all-around effort. Communication really stepped up. A really good win for us." Carmel led 44-41 with 30 seconds to go. Cathedral had the ball, but Fisher was there to make the steal, then made a free throw with 23.8 seconds left. Wallace finished the game with two free throws 13 seconds later. Ramsey scored 15 points for the Hounds, while Bassi totaled 12. Wallace scored nine, Fisher had six points and Bonds finished with five. The Greyhounds are 9-12 and finish the regular season Friday against Ben Davis, then host Class 4A Sectional 8 next week.

Golden Eagles outlasts Crispus Attucks in regular season finale

By CRAIG ADKINS
For The Reporter

NOBLESVILLE – The Guerin Catholic girls basketball team knew by scheduling a fast-paced team like Crispus Attucks that they would be tested. Balanced scoring, a lot of rebounding and sharing the basketball were big factors in being able to outlast visiting Indianapolis Crispus Attucks in their regular season finale at home on Wednesday, 64-59. The Golden Eagles got up 4-0 on a pair of quick Caroline Ford layups. But Attucks came back quick to take a 5-4 edge. The lead changed hands another five times for six total in the first. The score was also tied on three different occasions in the first eight minutes.

After Ford tied it at 17-17 with 10.8 left, the Tigers turned the ball over, leaving time for something to happen. Brinna Wolf bounced a pass to Ella Horvath in the right corner and the freshman drilled a three at the buzzer for a 20-17 lead heading to the second. "I think the speed of the game was intense. There were points and times where I wanted to slow it down and bring it back out," said Guerin Catholic head coach Danielle Cardinal. "But we were getting layups, so it's really hard to look at your team and want them to slow down." Horvath started the second with an offensive rebound putback. Emersyn French sank a triple from the right wing and then Horvath scored on a fast break for a 10-point lead at 27-17.

Attucks got it under double digits at 29-23, but two baskets in a row by Cecilia Titus pushed it back to 10 for a 33-23 score. "I told the girls that this was going to be an up and down game, because they can shoot and they can shoot deep," Cardinal added. The Tigers showed that and made three-pointers on three straight possessions to cut it to a 33-32 score at halftime. "The game went up-and-down and I knew we would be fine, because this is the kind of game we are conditioned for," Cardinal continued. "I assumed they would continue to score. If you look, they've played really good teams and scored a ton of points." See Finale . . . Page 11

There would be four more lead changes in the third. The Golden Eagles used an 11-3 run to end the third with a 48-44 lead.

"I think it was a game of adjustments and thankfully we finally started to put some of those layups in," said Cardinal.

The fourth was tight with a slight edge to Guerin 16-15, which aided them to the five-point win.

Rebounding gave Guerin numerous opportunities on both ends of the floor. Four players grabbed six or more and they were also selfless with the ball.

"I think the Horvath's talk about how they've watched Dennis Rodman," Cardinal stated on Horvath's knack for the ball. "There are that many people that want that. You can tell she wants that and that's a skill you can't teach. It's a mentality thing."

Dana Dues led with five assists and she also had six boards. Caroline Ford and Ella Horvath both grabbed eight rebounds, while Cecilia Titus had seven.

"We just want the ball. We understand that those extra possessions are what help us win games," Cardinal said.

The Golden Eagles were led by Ella Horvath's team-high 18 points, along with four assists. Caroline Ford scored 17 and dished out three assists. Cecilia Titus had 14 and Emersyn French came off of the bench to score 12 for four in double figures.

Guerin Catholic (15-8) has won four of its last five and six of eight. They open Class 3A Sectional 25 at Lebanon on Tuesday, Feb. 3 at 7 p.m. against Brebeuf Jesuit (11-10).

The Golden Eagles are looking to avenge their Friday, Jan. 23, 37-34 overtime loss at Brebeuf.
