Husky 4-H'ers meet real-life heroes

By CASH CAMPERELLI
 Husky 4-Hers Club Reporter

On April 15, the Husky 4-H'ers had a wonderful meeting. We recited the pledges and started business from there. Lauren Happel gave the Secretary's Report, Stella Hartwick read the Treasurer's Report (Bottom Line: We're doing well), and McKinsey Allen did a devotion on how God treats everybody the same, no matter their age.

A motion to donate $250 to a food pantry was made, and it passed. Then Sophia Camperelli and Matthew Duprey gave a Health and Safety report on how to stay safe around tractors, which can cause a lot of injuries.

After that, we found out how many meals we packed on our IDES Service Day (15,168 — which is a lot in terms of how many people will be fed by them). Our trivia question for the night was how many bones are in the adult human body? The answer was 206 (that's a lot of bones to grow!), and our winner was Bellamy

Fouch, who won a gift card to Chick-fil-A.

May flowers

In my last column, I talked about April showers and why it's so important not to lose sight of why the rain is necessary. It might sound cheesy to say that April showers bring May flowers, but it is true. The season of spring is an awakening; it's a rebirth of nature.

There's an old St. Paddy's song sung by Bing Crosby called "Dear Old Donegal." In the song, there is a line from it that is one of my favorite lyrics from any song. It says, "You're as welcome as the flowers in May in dear old Donegal." I always think to myself when I hear that song that is one of the nicest things you can say to someone. What a beautiful way to make someone feel welcome and wanted. Maybe it's because I love flowers, but to think of embracing someone and telling them that they are as wanted as the flowers in May is just a beautiful sentiment.

The line from the song also makes me wonder what in my own life do I need to embrace? Are there things that I should welcome with open arms and the familiarity of an old friend?

"There is no place like home" in Sheridan

On Wednesday, April 15, Sheridan Main Street, Inc. held its annual celebratory dinner for all things Sheridan. All evening long, Sheridan's pride, progress, and strong sense of community were put on full display. The evening was a reflection of the year's accomplishments, but also a time to look toward the future.

The event itself brought together residents, business owners, and community leaders to celebrate the town's continued growth . . . because Sheridan is growing! All evening long, guests experienced a "Taste of Sheridan," which featured a diverse menu from local busi-

Westfield awards first Opioid Settlement Grant to help prevent substance abuse in students

Submitted by City of Westfield

The City of Westfield has approved a $25,000 grant to Westfield Washington Schools (WWS) to support evidence-based substance use prevention and early intervention programming for students at risk of substance misuse. The funding comes from the City's restricted Opioid Settlement Fund and represents the first use of these dollars in Westfield.

"Addiction is a vicious disease, and the best time to combat it is before it begins," Mayor Scott Willis said. "Westfield Washington Schools and my administration are aligned in our desire to promote a healthier, safer community, and that starts with protecting our young people so they can live life to the fullest."

The grant will fund the Prime for Life program, an evidence-based curriculum designed to reduce high-risk alcohol and drug use behaviors, educate students on substance use risks, and encourage healthier decision-making. Prime for Life also includes parent education and family engagement components, helping to reinforce these important life lessons beyond the classroom walls.

"Partnering with the city on this program was an easy 'yes.' The evidence-backed nature of the curriculum and the community-connecting elements inherent in this program mean we will be able to equip our students with potentially life-saving knowledge, resources, and confidence," WWS Superintendent Dr. John Atha said.

This investment strengthens the partnership between the city and the school district while expanding access to prevention and early intervention services for students and families who may face barriers to support. By identifying and addressing substance use risks early, the program aims to prevent more serious issues later in life, including opioid misuse

Willis and addiction.

Atha

All funding fully aligns with opioid settlement requirements and has been reviewed by legal counsel. The grant includes reporting and accountability measures to ensure responsible use of funds. These funds do not come from the city's General Fund, nor does it impact the General Fund.

Carmel announces bigger & bolder Japan SpringFest

Submitted by City of Carmel

Presented by the Carmel Sister Cities Inc. Japan Committee, in partnership with the City of Carmel, the second annual Japan SpringFest (formerly Cherry Blossom Festival) returns on Sunday, May 3. This free, family-friendly celebration of Japanese culture will take place at One Civic Square from noon to 5 p.m.

This year's festival features an expanded lineup of traditional food, entertainment live performances and hands-on activities designed for all ages.

Building on the success of last year's inaugural event, Japan SpringFest 2026 features a bigger and bolder experience for the community. Festival attendees will enjoy returning fan-favorite performers alongside exciting new acts, with a full schedule of traditional Japanese drumming, dance, and live on-stage entertainment throughout the afternoon. The festival will also offer twice the food vendors as last year, giving attendees an even wider selection of authentic Japanese cuisine and fusion offerings to explore. Guests of all ages can participate in traditional Japanese cultural activities including calligraphy, origami, kimono try-ons and more.

Our first demonstration of the night was by Levi Linder, who taught us the parts of a guitar and how to play one. Our second demonstration of the night was by Stella Hartwick, who taught us how to do Cardio-pulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) and that you must get certified to perform CPR. She also taught us how to find your pulse. The final demonstration of the night was by Bellamy Fouch and Natalie Allen, who taught us some "Rabbit Basics," along with how to show a rabbit. Afterwards, we got to pet a couple of rabbits named Bugs and Sugarfoot.

Then our guest speaker, Officer Sarah Lockhart with the Cicero Police Department and her canine partner, Simon, a four-year-old boxer, came in to talk to us about what Simon's job is: A therapy dog. When the police arrive at a scene, Simon helps those at the site who are just going through a lot of rough stuff. While Officer Lockhart talked to us about what her job was like, Simon's K-9 trading cards were passed out to everybody. Then Simon came around and let everybody pet him and autographed some of his cards with his tongue.

After that, Recreation Leaders Chiamaka Ebigbo and Natalie Knapp taught us how to play a game called Hula-Hoop Pass. Players must divide into teams and hold hands as they get ready for the game's challenge: Get the Hula Hoop (or hoops) to the other side without using your hands! After two rounds with one victory for each side, we ended the meeting with snacks and drinks. But that does not always mean this article is going to end.

Now it's time for "The Dirt," where we find out what the Husky 4-H'ers' favorite part of the meeting was:

"My favorite part was when the police came in." – Briar Galvin

"My favorite part was the dog." – Matthew Duprey

"The demonstrations were really cool, and of course, the Health and Safety report is always a favorite for me, and the game was very entertaining. – Sophia Camperelli

FLOWER

The month of April is a preparation for a full rebirth of nature. April ushers in one of my favorite months of the year, May. Before I know it, I will see the return of my beloved flowers. Their bits of green have already been making themselves known in my garden so far. I smile when I walk out and see them because it feels like old friends are paying me a visit.

I look forward to the mornings spent on my front porch with a cup of coffee. I love seeing familiar neighborhood faces as they emerge from their winter hibernations. I can't wait to spend evenings on the patio with the smell of the grill wafting through the air. I welcome this spring and what it brings with open arms and a grateful heart. After a long winter, we can't take for granted the warmth of the sunshine and return of flowers. There will still be some rainy days, but the warmth is returning and so are our flowers.

I know at least in my house, this spring is certainly as welcome as the flowers in May and I could not be more grateful to see my old friends back in my garden.

FEST

This year's festival also coincides with the recent reopening of the newly redesigned Kawachinagano Japanese Garden, located just steps from the festival grounds at Civic Square. The garden was reimagined by world-renowned designer Hoichi Kurisu, whose portfolio includes the celebrated Portland, Ore. Japanese Garden, and features refined pond areas, enhanced northern garden landscaping and a tranquil setting that visitors can enjoy year-round.

"Japan SpringFest has quickly become one of our community's most anticipated cultural celebrations," said Dr. Evan Kreutzer, president of the Carmel-Kawachinagano, Japan Sister City, Inc. "With an expanded festival and the stunning newly reopened Japanese Garden as a backdrop, this year promises to be an unforgettable experience for our residents and visitors alike."

Carmel Clay Parks & Recreation (CCPR) will host a ribbon-cutting ceremony at the Sukiya Entrance Gate, at the start of the festival, from noon to 12:30 p.m. The ceremony will feature brief remarks from Mayor Sue Finkam and Township officials, as well as representatives from Carmel Sister Cities and CCPR. The keynote speaker for the evening was Denny Spinner. Spinner is the former mayor of Huntingburg, Ind., and former executive director of the Indiana Office of Community and Rural Affairs and the IU Center for Rural Engagement. Spinner spoke about his time as mayor of Huntingburg, which has only a slightly larger population than Sheridan. Specifically, he emphasized his dedication to revitalizing Huntingburg's Market Street Park. Spinner noted that he had a willingness to do the hard work, and he wanted his hometown to feel like the movies. He wanted to have the "There is no place like home" feeling that Dorothy got in The Wizard of Oz.

Heidi Kienholz, the Promotions Chair for Sheridan Main Street, Inc., continued with Spinner's momentum. She highlighted all of Sheridan's recent and ongoing accomplishments, particularly taking note of the most impressive one to date.

The Sheridan Main Street Art Alley project is officially underway. The original fundraising timeline of $50,000 within 60 days was smashed out of the park by the Sheridan community. The goal was met in an impressive 46 days and continues to grow.

This huge achievement stands as a testament to Sheridan's strong community. No matter what, the town of Sheridan will always come together.

Kienholz closed her excitement-filled speech with a final statement that captured the theme of the night: "We are a small town doing big things, and as Mr. Spinner said, 'There is no place like home.'"

Sheridan Town Council President Silas DeVaney closed the night by echoing the strong foundation Sheridan has instilled through the generosity and unity that is at the forefront of the community. He recognized multiple individuals, specifically those who invest their time, energy, and passion into shaping the town's future.

Altogether, the evening reinforced the vision statement of Sheridan Main Street, Inc., which is "Strengthening the Sheridan legacy in ways that cultivate opportunities for prosperity in our community." That motto seems like it is no longer a vision for the future, but a fact of the present. Sheridan is growing, is prospering, and continues to be a model of community.

There is truly no place like home in Sheridan.

Thankful neighbors credit God for timing and circumstances

It has been a while since we gave you some updates on local "co-incidences" when supply meets need, so I thought we would share a few recent pantry stories from the volunteers.

MARK HALL
The Feeding Team Feature

Meet Jack and Diane (not their real names) but they were, as John Melencamp sings, "two American kids doing the best that they can." We first met this couple two months ago at a drive-thru food pick-up. A nice middle-class couple who had come upon some extremely hard times. They found out about food pick-up and pantries on social media.

Their first trip through the line was awkward, as it is with most families in their situation. They do not know how to act. Do I speak? Do I not make eye contact? Is it okay to ask for more chicken instead of fish? Am I supposed to even say thank you?

I noticed them on their first time because they drove a very distinctive, unique compact car. During the second food pick-up, they spoke to us. They are traditional friendly midwestern folks looking for a hand up. Fast forward to the third food pick-up and they jump out of the car and give hugs, no longer intimidated at the prospect of receiving help; their gratitude took over.

Move to last week - the same couple joined us in volunteering serving the 160 families who picked up food. You see, Jack started his new job the following Monday. They report that the timing of finding a food source was absolutely God's providence.

Your acts of kindness, supporting neighbors in Hamilton County bridged a gap until they were able to get back on their feet. Meet Abby (also not her real name). Abby had been homeless for four months and had found one of the Feeding Team pantries. We met her at one of our in-office Thursday food pick-ups. She was so thankful for the pantry and would visit it every couple of days to get the food she needed. Besides food, she needed some basic toiletry items.

Abby is telling us this story with tears in her eyes. She prayed to God asking that he send her some toilet paper and later that week she was driving and saw a second yellow pantry; she did not know that there was more than one. She stopped, and when she opened the pantry door, she saw toilet paper and began sobbing out loud. Abby wasn't worried about who might see her or what they might think. She didn't care if anyone heard her as she thanked God for the toilet paper.

When Abby talks about Feeding Team and that time in her life, she says, "Feeding Team was my lifeline. It gave me hope that things would get better. I don't know what I would have done without it."

Abby now has a job, a home and is working with a financial advisor so she never has to be homeless again.

Meet Ruth (also not her real name). Ruth is on disability and cares for her adult son. Ruth is also a devout animal lover and learned about Feeding Team from videos that feature our mascot Mavis (a high energy 10-month-old Australian Shepherd puppy). Unfortunately, Ruth's disability income is not enough to make ends meet, so learning about food pantries and pick-ups was an incredible blessing. Ruth started with the drive-thrus and then occasionally the in-office food pick-ups. Now Ruth volunteers to help to distribute food to families that are in need.

These are typical pantry stories that we get to experience regularly. Some people believe that Hamilton County is void of hungry neighbors but telling the stories of our neighbors, who just like these three, struggled and then turned it around. You too can help others. You too can get help if you are in need. Thanks to all our pantry hosts, volunteers, donors, sponsors, and supporters.

About FeedingTeam.org
More than 44,000 people

FeedingTeam.org Facts

- 80 outdoor pantries
- Two drive-thru food pick-ups monthly and two in-office food pick-ups monthly
- 20,000 meals per month
- Over 30 volunteer families in Hamilton County struggle with food needs. FeedingTeam.org is a registered 501(c)(3) nonprofit that offers outdoor, no-questions-asked food pantries that are open 24/7, all year long. These pantries help families who may not qualify for other programs but still need a few meals to get by.

We are so thankful for all the volunteers, hosts, donors, and sponsors who help us every day. We love serving our neighbors and seeing how your generosity changes lives. Hunger doesn't always look the way people think it does, and every meal makes a big difference.

A simple can of food can mean everything to a parent who has nothing left to feed their kids. A few meals can change someone's life.

If you'd like to help, there are many volunteer opportunities. We are also looking for new spots for future pantries. If you know a good location, please contact us.

Sheriff Quakenbush: "Loves Knows Safety" & he's ready to serve you

Dear Editor:
It is my honor to endorse John Lowes as the next Sheriff of Hamilton County as my second and final term ends in 2026.

Having served our community with integrity for 27 years, John has proven himself to be a steadfast and capable leader. As Chief Deputy of Hamilton County, he has expertly guided 250 officers who work tirelessly to "Keep Hamilton County Safe." His proactive strategies, leadership skills, and commitment to transparency, accountability, and collaboration make him the ideal candidate to continue this mission.

I highly value John's wisdom and dedication to biblical principles, which have been invaluable in directing the values of the Sheriff's Office and fostering trust within our community. These principles reflect the kind of steady and ethical leadership needed to ensure Hamilton County remains one of the safest communities in the nation.

As a member of our community, I know you understand the value of preserving the safety and quality of life that make Hamilton County a remarkable place to live, work, and thrive. Together, we share the responsibility to protect that legacy. Yet, we cannot ignore the ongoing challenges of crime and violence, which, if unchecked, could disrupt the peace we've worked so hard to achieve. Without strong, experienced law enforcement, our community's safety would be vulnerable.

That is why leadership rooted in integrity and accountability is essential.

"Loves Knows Safety!" I ask that you join me in supporting John Lowes in the upcoming primary election on May 5. Together, we can ensure Hamilton County remains one of the safest communities in the nation.

Indiana Family Action PAC endorses Juanita Albright for State Senate

Submitted

Momentum continues to build for Dr. Juanita Albright's campaign for Indiana State Senate District 31 as Indiana Family Action PAC announced its endorsement, adding to a growing list of conservative and Republican leaders and organizations uniting behind her candidacy.

Dr. Albright, a Fishers physician of more than 20 years and former school board president is earning support from a broad coalition spanning public safety, business, pro-life, and conservative advocacy groups.

This endorsement by IFA builds on an already strong and growing list of support for Dr. Albright. She is the only candidate endorsed by Indiana Right to Life and holds the highest NRA rating in the field. She has also earned sole endorsement from the Indiana State Police Alliance, Americans for Prosperity, Hoosiers for Quality Education, Indiana Chamber of Commerce, and U.S. Senator Jim Banks.

Together, these endorsements reflect a unified coalition of conservative, business, and public safety leaders rallying behind Dr. Albright as the Republican candidate best positioned to lead on the issues that matter most to Hoosiers.

"I am honored to receive the endorsement of Indiana Family Action PAC," Dr. Albright said. "Strong families are the bedrock of our communities, and I am committed to fighting for policies that protect Hoosier children, support parents, and uphold the values that make Indiana a great place to live and raise a family."

Early voting has already begun in the Republican primary election held on May 5.

Shaffer questions "bizarre" situation around Christkindlmarkt huts

Dear Editor:

Carmel local government has long dominated the bizarre. It's taken a big step into all-time-bizarre ratings this month.

The Carmel Redevelopment Commission paid $700,000 for the Christkindlmarkt huts several years ago. Why the huts were considered redevelopment isn't the point.

The point is the commission, with the approval of its parent Carmel Redevelopment Authority, is now giving the huts to the city as a Thank You present for all the kind favors the street department has shown it.

Nowhere in all political science-land is there a case of intra-city gift-giving.

The possibilities are endless but, in every case, they almost would match the bizarre level of this latest honest government.

Meijer pharmacies ready for National Prescription Drug Take Back Day

The REPORTER

The year's first of two National Prescription Drug Take Back Days is on Saturday, April 25, and Meijer pharmacists are prepared for an influx of customers to come in and dispose of their unwanted, unused, and expired medications.

Meijer first participated in the national program in February 2019 and has since collected more than 300 tons of unneeded medications in easily identifiable kiosks near each of its in-store pharmacies.

At Meijer, every day is drug take back day. Customers can access the kiosks year-round for disposal of over the counter and prescription medications, including controlled substances, during normal pharmacy hours, no questions asked. Items not accepted as part of the program include needles or other sharps, inhalers, mercury thermometers, medications that contain iodine, and illicit drugs. Assistance is available, if needed.

National Prescription Drug Take Back Day aims to provide a safe, convenient, and responsible means of disposing of prescription drugs. The retailer is encouraging its customers to take advantage of the program.

State Senator Jim Buck announces more endorsements

Republican State Senator Jim Buck announced on Saturday, April 18 he continues to receive multiple endorsements in his campaign for reelection in State Senate District 21, which is composed of Tipton County and portions of Hamilton and Howard counties.

The new endorsements include:

"This is a statement of support for Jim Buck for Senator. I have known Jim for many years, both as a friend and a professional colleague in my role as a County Commissioner for Hamilton County. He has always had the best interest of the folks he represents. I personally feel the ad campaign against him is despicable and I endorse Jim in his Campaign 100%. Jim has worked very hard, for many years, for the people of Indiana, and to see him treated with ads like I have seen on television recently, is very disappointing."

Mike Karickhoff
State Representative, House District 30

"I'm excited to join the growing chorus of supporters for Senator Jim Buck. He is principled and understands how state government works best. He's never going to be influenced by outside pressures, and he represents his constituencies well!"

Ed Simcox
Former Secretary of State

Senator Buck has been a conservative voice in the Indiana legislature over the years. He stands for low taxes, life for the unborn, and traditional values. He and Judy have worked tirelessly for Republican causes through the years. As a fellow conservative, Jim has my support in his campaign for reelection.

Buck

Jim Butcher
Former State Senator, Senate District 21

I strongly recommend, without reservation, that the 21st Senate District voters send State Senator Jim Buck back to the State Senate for four more productive years."

Other endorsements previously received include:

Indiana Supreme Court skips appeals court in abortion case review

By GREGG MONTGOMERY
WISH-TV | wishtv.com

The Indiana Supreme Court will take over a case that's pitted the state's near-total abortion ban against women whose religious beliefs require the procedure, skipping the Indiana Court of Appeals.

Friday's ruling from Chief Justice Loretta H. Rush came about six weeks after a Marion Superior Court judge granted a permanent injunction preventing Indiana from enforcing its near-total abortion ban against women whose religious beliefs require the procedure.

Marion Superior Court 1 Judge Christina R. Kline-

man found that the state's abortion law, adopted after a special legislative session in August 2022, violates Indiana's 2015 religious freedom restoration law by imposing a substantial burden on the religious exercise of the plaintiffs. Her ruling on the case filed in 2022 applied to Hoosiers who argue their faiths require or allow abortion access in circumstances not covered by the narrow medical exceptions currently outlined in state law.

Indiana's near-total abortion ban came after the U.S. Supreme Court overturned Roe v. Wade on June 24, 2022, allowing individual states to regulate or prohibit abortion.

Under the state's Religious Freedom Restoration Act, a governmental entity may not substantially burden a person's exercise of religion unless it is the least restrictive means of furthering a compelling governmental interest.

Indiana Attorney General Todd Rokita in early March appealed the Marion County judge's decision.

In her March 4 ruling, Kline-man rejected the state's argument that it had a compelling interest in protecting prenatal life from the moment of fertilization. The court found the state's approach inconsistent because the law allows for exceptions in cases of rape or incest and does not apply to in vitro fertilization procedures. Kline-man wrote that the state's preference for secular exceptions over religious ones demonstrated that the outright ban was not the least restrictive means of furthering its goals.

The chief justice's order said an Indiana appellate rule allows the state's highest court to move a case directly to the justices. The order also outlines when both sides in the case must submit arguments in writing this summer, and scheduled oral arguments before justices for 10 a.m. Sept. 10.

Braun introduces Indiana All Payer Claims Database chatbot

Submitted by Office of Gov. Mike Braun

Governor Mike Braun has announced the launch of the Indiana All Payer Claims Database (APCD) public-facing chatbot, a first-of-its-kind tool among APCDs nationwide. Designed to make health price and utilization data more accessible, the new chatbot enhances transparency and supports informed decision making for Hoosiers.

This new tool supports Gov. Braun's health care agenda by emphasizing patient decision-making, greater transparency, and increased competition to reduce costs.

"Hoosiers deserve clear, accessible information about the price and quality of healthcare services," Gov. Braun said. "This new chatbot makes it easier for patients and families to get the data they need, and it is another step toward greater transparency, stronger competition, and lower healthcare costs in Indiana."

Benefits for Hoosiers

The Indiana APCD is a state-wide database that collects healthcare claims information and cash prices, and quality data from various sources, such as health insurers, and provides valuable healthcare insights. Currently, 26 states, including Indiana, have an All Payer Claims Database established or in development.

The Indiana APCD chatbot enhances the search experience within the database by offering several key advantages:

- It is interactive and provides guided, easy-to-follow responses.

Braun

- It pulls relevant information from several state websites, streamlining the search process.

- It serves as a centralized, one-stop resource for health price and utilization information.

- The tool is available 24/7, reducing response times and improving access to data for researchers, policymakers, healthcare providers, and residents.

"By helping Hoosiers find clear, accurate information from the APCD, we empower individuals, families, and communities to make better healthcare decisions," Indiana APCD Division Executive Director Jonathan Handsborough said. "The chatbot shows our commitment to transparency, ease of use, and better health across Indiana."

How to use the chatbot

Users can access the chatbot directly from the Indiana APCD homepage by clicking the Indiana APCD Chatbot link at the top of the page or selecting the chat icon in the bottom right corner of the screen. From there, users can simply type their questions related to the Indiana APCD and receive guided, interactive responses.

Development of the chatbot

The Indiana Department of Insurance established the Indiana APCD in partnership with OnPoint Health Data. In evaluating the potential for a chatbot, the APCD Division collaborated with OnPoint through an iterative development process, resulting in a tool designed to be accurate, straightforward, and accessible to Hoosiers seeking healthcare information.

INDOT marks official start of 2026 construction & maintenance season

The REPORTER

Earlier today, the Indiana Department of Transportation officially recognized National Work Zone Awareness Week as both maintenance and construction projects begin across the Hoosier state.

INDOT Commissioner Lyndsay Quist was joined by Indiana State Police, Indiana Constructors Inc. (ICI) and the Indiana Laborers District Council (LiUNA!) near the Clear Path I-465 project site on the northeast side of Indianapolis to announce $2.6 billion in transportation infrastructure projects set to take place across Indiana this year.

"Drivers across the Hoosier State will encounter orange barrels and active work sites this spring and summer," Governor Mike Braun said. "Making improvements to our state's transportation infrastructure is critical to boosting economic growth and quality of life, and it takes all of us slowing down and paying close attention to ensure safety for everyone on the road."

"More than 1,000 projects are planned on state highways, U.S. routes and interstates this construction season," Commissioner Quist said. "One hundred and thirty of those aim to improve traffic flow and safety, and over 6,200 lane miles of pavement will be resurfaced or replaced. It's vital that motorists keep safety top of mind when traveling through work zones in an effort to protect themselves, their passengers, other drivers, and road workers."

According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), the majority of injuries and fatalities in work zones involve drivers or their passengers.

"In 2025, 16 people were killed and more than 1,500 were hurt in Indiana work zones," Secretary of Transportation and Infrastructure Matt Ubelhor said. "While we've seen improvement in these numbers in recent years, there is still work to be done. We are asking for help from drivers to continue bringing these numbers down by slowing down, avoiding distractions behind the wheel, and driving unimpaired, especially in work zones."

Clear Path 465

The Clear Path 465 project in Indianapolis served as host for this year's event.

The Clear Path corridor stretches from Allisonville Road to 56th Street on I-465 and will transform one of the state's busiest interchanges with efficient, high-capacity ramps for I-465 and I-69 to reduce traffic weaving and merging. Up-to-date information related to Clear Path construction can be found on the project website at ClearPath465.com.

9/11-inspired musical offers songs of hope and kindness

By ADAM CROWE
A Seat on the Aisle

In 2022, Indiana Repertory Theatre (IRT) was facing a changing of the guard. Longtime Artistic Director Janet Allen was being succeeded by Benjamin Hanna. Hanna and his team addressed these difficulties, in part, by going back to the IRT's roots and presenting full-sized musicals.

Thus far, the experiment has been a huge artistic success.

This month, IRT closes its 2025-26 Season with a terrific production of the multi-Tony Award nominated musical Come From Away.

Conceived by Michael Rubinoff, with book and score by Irene Sankoff and David Hein, Come From Away begins on September 11, 2001, in the tiny Canadian town of Gander, Newfoundland. We meet the citizens of Gander and learn how they faced the arrival of 38 flights grounded at their airport, once a hot spot for refueling planes for trans-Atlantic travel. The number of travelers suddenly arriving "from away," almost 7,000 in total, is overwhelming, but the Canadians step up and do what they can to provide shelter, food, and calm. The grace, wit, and comfort provided to the visitors is returned in equal measure. The story is a wonderful reminder of human decency and empathy in the face of unimaginable loss.

Director James Vásquez excels at introducing us to both the Islanders and those from away. The musical itself weaves stories of locals and foreigners in a beautifully realized tapestry of stories and song. The cast of 12 portrays all of these folks and does so seamlessly.

The orchestra, led by Angie Benson, sits just upstage of the action and fills the old Indiana Theatre with songs of sadness and kindness. Choreography from Terra C. Macleod is equally spirited. The scenic design by Diggle is incredibly bold and inventive. Lighting is by Zach Blane, with costumes by IRT veteran Tracy Dorman and a beautiful sound design by Uptownworks collaborative.

Bottom Line: Come From Away closes in less than three weeks, so your window of opportunity is closing. This story of tragedy surmounted by hope and kindness is a balm for the soul. Do yourself the favor of getting your tickets SOON. Whether you remember September 11 or have grown up in its history, IRT tells a tale of those events filled with emotion, courage and an affirmation of life that is not to be missed.

Come From Away runs through May 10 at The Indiana Repertory Theatre in downtown Indianapolis. Tickets are available irtlive.com.

Project Greenlight

In February, INDOT announced a new work zone initiative to increase worker safety called Project Greenlight, equipping workers with Guardian Angel safety lights to help bring awareness to workers in times of limited visibility.

Guardian Angel safety lights are wearable devices that improve worker visibility from all directions.

When worn with a high visibility vest, these lights help workers become 89 percent more visible to motorists according to a study from Battelle Memorial Institute. INDOT has distributed nearly 750 lights to employees statewide.

Did you know? Bright green is the most visible color to the human eye and is most visible from far distances. Green is also easily distinguishable from other standard lighting in INDOT work zones.

Indiana Safe Zones

Indiana's worksite speed control pilot program, known as Safe Zones, continues to be an investment in safety for all Hoosiers. Research from Purdue University shows from August 2024 to July 2025, excessive speeding, or vehicles traveling more than 11 mph over the posted speed limit, decreased 34 percent for passenger vehicles and 41 percent for commercial vehicles in enforcement sites between the hours of 6 a.m. and 6 p.m. At individual sites, reductions of 70 to 80 percent have been documented.

- Clear Path I-465/I-69 in Marion County
 - I-65 in Jasper County
 - I-70 in Hancock County
 - I-74 in Decatur and Shelby counties
- To learn more about Safe Zones, visit SafeZonesIN.com.

Automated Flagger Assistance Devices

INDOT is currently working with Purdue University on a study utilizing automated flagger assistance devices in southern Indiana. These devices replace traditional flaggers with a changeable message board and stop/slow paddles.

This type of attenuator has been used by the Missouri Department of Transportation (MoDOT) which conducted a similar study in 2017. Since the conclusion of its research, MoDOT has around 100 of these devices in its fleet.

The goal of automated flagging is to increase flagger safety by removing workers from the immediate vicinity of traffic, relocating them inside a vehicle, where the system is operated during maintenance operations.

Safe Actions Save Lives

The theme of this year's National Work Zone Awareness Week (April 20 to 24) is "Safe Actions Save Lives". Below are actions Hoosiers can take to keep themselves and others safe in work zones this construction and maintenance season.

Indiana drivers are encouraged to "Know Before You Go" by visiting 511in.org or downloading INDOT's TrafficWise app to see real-time traffic conditions and INDOT project updates.

The Tarkington receives lighting & safety upgrades

New LED system & handrails installed in Allied Solutions Center theater

The REPORTER

As Allied Solutions Center for the Performing Arts prepares to announce its upcoming 2026-2027 season, major upgrades have taken place at its mid-sized venue.

Visitors to the Tarkington, the 500-seat proscenium theater at 3 Carter Green, will notice new handrails in the aisles to enhance safety and accessibility, as well as a new, state-of-the-art LED lighting system bringing more vivid effects to performances.

Much of the original incandescent lighting system, a mix of moving and static fixtures tailored to various needs, has been replaced with High End Systems Halcyon Gold LED fixtures from employee-owned, Wisconsin-based manufacturer ETC, which offer angle, focus, and motion control along with greater brightness, sharpness, and color flexibility. All adjustments to the 88 fixtures can be made instantly from the ground console—even after sets have been constructed and a performance is underway on stage—which all but eliminates time-consuming manual work on lifts and ladders.

“We’ve really stepped up our game with these new capabilities, and that enables the artists and presenters to do the same,” said Tarkington Technical Director Joshua Hasty, who worked with Center Lighting Director Nick Brown and other colleagues to evaluate hundreds of products before selecting the new equipment. “We can respond quickly to their ideas and needs even if they’re in the theater for just one night.”

The LEDs use less energy, produce less heat on stage and require replacement far less often than incandescent lamps. The accompanying control console comes with digital modeling software that enables a lighting designer to create and experiment with setups even when offsite or when the stage is set for other productions.

they’re coming up with,” said Hasty, who has worked more than two decades in the technical theater field and nearly 10 years at Allied Solutions Center. “The fact that you can predesign in a 3D model on your laptop, even when we don’t have access to the theater, that’s a huge benefit that we haven’t even taken full advantage of yet.”

Similarly, new LED lighting was installed two years ago to replace the aging system at the neighboring 1,500-seat Payne & Mencias Palladium. Major capital improvements on the campus are funded with support from the Carmel Redevelopment Commission and the City of Carmel.

To complement the larger music hall, the Tarkington was designed for theater and dance productions, with stage wings, a fly system, special stage flooring and other features. It is housed across Carter Green in the James Building, which also includes the Studio Theater, a black box space with flexible seating and stage configurations. Civic Theatre is the principal resident company at “The Tark,” though the venue hosts a wide range of arts performances and community events.

As for the handrails, the Tarkington’s stadium-style seating area has stairstep aisles at the center and sides where patrons sometimes stumble while coming and going, said Krista Layfield, Allied Solutions

Photos by Joshua Hasty & Nick Brown

Center’s Front of House Manager. Now, continuing a series of accessibility upgrades on the campus, sleek steel handrails have been installed down the middle of each aisle to help people maintain their balance. REI Real Estate, which manages the James Building, collaborated on the project.

“The ushers were so happy when they saw the handrails, and the feedback has been very positive,” Layfield said. “We want our venues to feel as safe and welcoming as possible, and this is a simple but impactful way to make a difference for our patrons.”

ISO announces world premiere of new symphony by Augustana Founder Dan Layus

The REPORTER

The Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra (ISO) announces a landmark collaboration with Dan Layus, founder and lead singer of Augustana, culminating in the world premiere of Layus’s first-ever symphony on June 2, 2027.

This one-night-only performance, Augustana with the ISO, brings Layus’s music to the symphonic stage in a powerful new way. The program will feature the debut of his original four-movement symphony, a work shaped by influences ranging from Sergei Rachmaninoff to Aaron Copland, alongside fully orchestrated arrangements of Augustana’s most beloved songs. Audience favorites like “Boston” and “Sweet and Low” will be reimagined for full orchestra, with Layus performing from the piano.

The concert builds on a growing creative partnership between Layus and ISO musicians. In previous appearances at The Toby at Newfields, Layus collaborated with a string quartet featuring ISO Concertmaster Kevin Lin and Principal Cello Austin Huntington, presenting original chamber works alongside intimate arrangements of his songs. These performances revealed a natural extension of his songwriting into the classical world, and this next collaboration expands that vision to the full orchestra, offering a broader canvas for his music and marking a major milestone in his evolution as a composer.

Blending the emotional immediacy of pop songwriting with the scale and color of a symphony orchestra, the evening offers a unique experience where contemporary and classical traditions meet.

Tickets go on sale July 21, 2026, at this link.

Platinum-selling American pop-rock artist Augustana rose to prominence with their 2005 debut album All the Stars and Boulevards. Its breakout single “Boston” became a defining song of the era, amassing more than 200 million streams and appearing in numerous films and television shows. The band went on to release Can’t Love, Can’t Hurt (2008) and Augustana (2011), further establishing a dedicated global following.

At the center of it all is Dan Layus, whose songwriting has always emphasized authenticity and emotional connection. In recent years, Layus has continued to evolve creatively, exploring stripped-down reinterpretations of Augustana’s catalog, releasing new solo material, and collaborating with the ISO to reimagine his music with orchestral arrangements. His work bridges genres while staying grounded in the honest, human storytelling that first resonated with audiences.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

THE JOURNEY TO MOAB

The Israelites moved on and camped at Oboth. Then they set out from Oboth and camped in Iye Abarim, in the wilderness that faces Moab toward the sunrise. From there they moved on and camped in the Zered Valley. They set out from there and camped alongside the Arnon, which is in the wilderness extending into Amorite territory. The Arnon is the border of Moab, between Moab and the Amorites. That is why the Book of the Wars of the Lord says:

“ . . . Zahab in Suphah and the ravines, the Arnon and the slopes of the ravines that lead to the settlement of Ar and lie along the border of Moab.”

From there they continued on to Beer, the well where the Lord said to Moses, “Gather the people together and I will give them water.”

Then Israel sang this song:

“Spring up, O well! Sing about it, about the well that the princes dug, that the nobles of the people sank—the nobles with scepters and staffs.”

Then they went from the wilderness to Mattanah, from Mattanah to Nahaliel, from Nahaliel to Bamoth, and from Bamoth to the valley in Moab where the top of Pisgah overlooks the wasteland.

Modern retelling of Shakespearean tragedy

“Antony & Cleopatra” hits Tarkington stage this June

Submitted

The first show is at 7 p.m. Friday, June 6, and the second takes place at 5 p.m. Saturday, June 6.

Synopsis

Enter the world of Club Isis, a place where stars are born and hearts are broken. This is not a distant tale, but one that takes place at your favorite nightclub in the City, with style to die for.

Antony & Cleopatra tells the classic tale of love and betrayal, lost fortunes and miscommunications, that spiral into tragedy. Set to the lush, original contemporary rock score composed by Cory Gabel, this is a truly inclusive nightclub event to be embraced by all. This lush, crystal encrusted, full-length production takes place in Club Isis, and centers around Caesar Octavian; a music mogul, and his partner and rock star, Marc Antony. Their uneasy alliance is strained when Marc Antony, married to Caesar's sister, falls hopelessly in love with Cleopatra, the beautiful Drag Queen and star of Club Isis. What follows is a classic Shakespearean tale of domination, deceit, loyalty lost, trust shattered, and love torn.

Danced to perfection by GHDT and accompanied by an electrifying commissioned rock score by Cory Gabel, Antony & Cleopa- tra is a sparkling summer kick-off and a celebration of Pride Month.

Mr. Hancock and Mr. Gabel will discuss this collaborative effort onstage in a pre-performance talk, and enjoy the world premiere launch of the soundtrack onto streaming services.

Tigers outdueled by Center Grove

By RICHARD TORRES
For The Reporter

The Fishers Tigers found themselves in a pitcher's duel at Class 4A Center Grove on Monday, April 20.

Facing Tennessee commit Gannon Grant, a right-handed senior, the 4A Tigers could only muster four hits, falling 2-0 despite a quality start from sophomore lefty Luke Benefiel.

Benefiel pitched 5.0 innings with seven hits allowed, one walk, five strikeouts and two earned runs charged.

Top-ranked Center Grove plated one run in the bottom of the second and another in the fifth on a sacrifice fly by senior Tristan Yeman and a one-out single by junior Liam Delp (Michigan commit).

Benefiel escaped a bases-loaded jam in the fifth with a swinging strikeout. He struck out three batters in the frame, including Grant.

Grant, however, won the pitching battle by tossing a complete-game shutout with nine strikeouts.

Fishers' seniors David Pina (1-for-3) and Evansville commit Owen Lukac (1-for-2) each recorded doubles against Grant. Seniors Justin Brown (1-for-3) and Andrew Baldini (1-for-2) reached base on singles.

Fishers dropped to 5-7 overall with the non-conference loss. The Tigers (2-2 HCC) resume action at home on Thursday against conference foe Westfield to open their two-game series.

Heights baseball falls to Maconaquah

By CRAIG ADKINS
For The Reporter

The Hamilton Heights Huskies headed north to Bunker Hill to face Maconaquah in a non-conference battle on Friday, April 17.

Heights was unable to manage a hit against Braves' pitcher Deven Mitchell and were shut out on the road, 4-0.

Maconaquah scored one run each in the first through third and fifth innings. That's all that was needed in taking down the Huskies.

In seven innings of work, Mitchell no-hit Heights, struck out 10 batters and gave up just three walks.

Owen Hughes would also send down 10 Braves via the strikeout, but he allowed seven hits and four runs (all earned) in 5.2 frames on the mound.

Hamilton Heights (3-5) gets a break before getting back to Hoosier Conference action on Tuesday at home versus Tipton at 5:30 p.m.

Millers fall to Rossville

The REPORTER

Noblesville dropped a Monday game to Class 1A No. 3 Rossville 3-2 at Don Dunker Field.

The Hornets scored all three of their runs in the first inning. Blake Riggs scored for the Millers in the second inning on Ryan Ruse's sacrifice fly. Riggs scored Aiden Reynolds in the fifth inning with another sacrifice fly.

Noblesville was held to two hits, a triple from Slade Hodges and a single by Reynolds. Riggs pitched four innings, striking out four and allowing one hit.

The Millers are 6-6 and travel to Franklin Central on Thursday to begin a Hoosier Crossroads Conference series.

Sheridan dropped a 10-0, six-inning game at Northwestern on Monday.

The Tigers held the Blackhawks to one-hit, a double from Levi Gellert.

Sheridan is 3-5 and plays a Hoosier Heartland Conference game at Carroll on Wednesday.

Tigers cruise past Millers for HCC win

By RICHARD TORRES
For The Reporter

For the first time this season, the Fishers Tigers carried a losing record in the Hoosier Crossroads Conference, but it didn't last long.

After losing to rival Class 4A Noblesville, 5-3, at The Dunk on Thursday, April 16, the host 4A Tigers roared back to split their HCC series with an 8-0 shutout victory on Friday, April 17.

Fishers logged seven hits, including a two-run home run by junior Ethan Buelt, and junior pitchers Austin Conley (4.0 IP, 5 Ks) and Carter Strole (3.0 IP, 5 Ks, SV) combined to blank the Millers.

The Tigers improved to 2-2 in the HCC with the win.

Fishers plated two runs in the bottom of the third off Buelt's (2-for-2, 2 RBI, stolen base) second homer of the season.

A two-run fourth and four-run fifth padded the Tigers' advantage with freshman Henry Cherry (1-for-3, 2 RBI) lacing a two-out single scoring pair, 4-0.

A sacrifice fly by senior David Pina, a two-out single by senior Connor Hackworth (1-for-1, 2 RBI) and a two-out, run-scoring double by junior Parker Congdon (1-for-1) made it 8-0.

Evansville commit Owen Lukac (1-for-2, 2 runs) had a double in the fourth to set up Cherry's RBI situation.

Blazers sail past Greenwood Christian

WESTFIELD – University has been all around the eastern United States this spring, playing games in Tennessee and Florida.

The Trailblazers were back at their home field, RoundTripper Academy in Westfield on Friday, April 17. University celebrated that homecoming with a 12-2, six-inning victory over Greenwood Christian Academy.

The Blazers' out-of-state trips were part of the Legacy Project, which pairs an inner-city school with an established program for workouts and training during the IHSAA's limited contact period. Both schools then go on a Spring Break together. University was paired with Arsenal Tech and Purdue Poly this year.

"It was really an awesome thing," said Blazers coach Chris Estep. "The kids that worked with Tech High School and Purdue Poly all went. To be able to do that and then go and play, watch each other play, it's really neat. We're trying to find a couple of games where we can go and watch Purdue Poly play, we're going to go see Tech play. It's a really neat program that the IHSAA put together."

University slowly but resolutely made its way to the run-rule win. Ryan Castetter scored the Blazers' first run in the first inning, getting home on Beckett Suh's RBI groundout.

Oliver Kingery doubled in Castetter in the third inning, then David Gasper sent a two-RBI hit into left field to bring in Suh and Kingery. University held a 4-0 lead after that.

The Cougars scored one run each in the top of the fourth and fifth innings. But University dominated the remainder of the game. Suh hit a solo home run in the bottom of the fifth, then Finn Steiner blasted a left field double to score Kingery and Gasper.

The Blazers wrapped up the game with five runs in the sixth inning. Ethan Cutsinger was walked, then Castetter smacked a double. Both players were sent home by a Kingery single. Steiner doubled in Suh and Kingery, then Philip Jacobs ended the game with a single to bring in Gasper.

Castetter, Suh and Kingery all finished with three hits. Chase Fankhauser pitched 3.1 innings of hitless ball for the win, tossing four strikeouts.

"They're searching for the identity of how to come out and play, put people away," said Estep. "They're searching for that right now. We've played a lot of really good teams. We've played a lot of games already. I think they're going to figure it out here down the road."

University is 6-5 and plays at Lewis Cass this afternoon.

Golden Eagles go 2-1 for weekend

The REPORTER

Guerin Catholic picked up two run-rule wins before taking its first loss of the season this past weekend.

On Friday, April 17, the Class 3A No. 2 Golden Eagles zoomed past Alexandria 15-1 in five innings.

Guerin Catholic scored nine runs in the second inning and sailed to victory from there.

Grant Beard hit a grand slam during the second inning, this after being a part of a three-run home run from Brody Cain earlier in the inning. Karson Smith and Ben Canada both hit one double.

Smith and Cain both got two hits, with Smith driving in three runs. Jayce Cunningham pitched four innings for the win, striking out three and allowing just one hit. Will Countryman threw the fifth inning, striking out two.

The Golden Eagles played two games at Zionsville on Saturday, April 18. In its first game, GC cruised past the host and 4A No. 8 Eagles 13-3 in six innings, putting up six runs in the first inning.

It was Tate Troxell's turn to hit a grand slam, which he did during that big first inning. Carson Kail also hit a homer, one of his two hits. Ian Taylor, Smith and Canada all hit one double. Canada and Liam Zorger both had two hits.

Harrison Haq got the win, tossing five strikeouts in five innings. Tyler Larsh pitched a perfect sixth inning to close the game.

Guerin Catholic dropped its first game of the season later at Zionsville, falling to 4A No. 9 Homestead 7-3.

The Spartans scored a run in the bottom of the first inning, but GC answered with three runs in the top of the second. Troxell hit a one-out double and was brought home by Cain's RBI groundout. Nolan Ratcliff singled in Zorger, then Canada's left field hit scored Ratcliff.

The Golden Eagles led 3-1, but Homestead tied the game with runs in the third and fourth inning. A four-run fifth inning from the Spartans was the difference.

Kail was 3-for-3 at the plate, while Canada had two hits.

Guerin Catholic is 10-1-1 and begins a Circle City Conference series with Brebeuf Jesuit tonight at the Braves' field.
