Noblesville Council approves funding design of Pleasant Street corridor

The Noblesville Common Council took preliminary steps at tonight's meeting to move forward on the east-west corridor along Pleasant Street. The council unanimously approved the use of $2.75 million from the Rainy Day Fund to create a preliminary design of the project and the use of $1 million for land acquisition as properties enter the market.

"The funding provides my administration with the ability to prepare preliminary designs for the Pleasant Street corridor in order to evaluate and consider the footprint of the project's impact," Ditslear said. "Until we complete this initial design, we're unable to make any decisions about the potential route, which leaves our residents in limbo. We owe it to them to move forward."

Following a year-long period of discussions with local and county officials, the City held a public meeting at City Hall on December 13, 2016 to present a summary of the alternative route analysis. Administration announced its recommendation that Pleasant Street serve as the primary route for the east-west corridor in accordance with the City of Noblesville Thoroughfare Plan that was approved in 1995.

The new funding would allow for a preliminary design and field survey of the route, assessments of environmental and utility impacts and impacts to adjoining properties in relation to proposed cross sections, as well as roadway and trail design – to be coordinated with relevant utility companies, Hamilton County and other government agencies.

City engineers anticipate the project will encompass 3-4 lanes of a low-speed urban roadway that would run alongside the Midland Trace Trail once that project moves east and connects with Pleasant Street.

"On every project, a preliminary design is essential to not only assess its impacts but to engage utility companies and to refine costs and alternatives. This funding will enable the City of Noblesville to establish a centerline corridor from State Road 37 to Hague Road and provide us more detail on the project," said John Beery, city engineer.

Meanwhile, city officials continue to study the area for its historical significance in anticipation of launching the design phase. Noblesville Deputy Mayor Steve Cooke met with Noblesville historian David Heighway and an official from Indiana Landmark to drive the potential route along Pleasant Street.

"We've said all along that this road project will present many challenges – but it will create opportunities as well," said Cooke. "We can work together to

Dillinger delivers optimistic State of the County address

By FRED SWIFT

"Cooperation equals success" was the theme of an optimistic State of the County address Wednesday by County Commissioner Steve Dillinger.

The 28-year commissioner reviewed a number of accomplishments and plans of county government set in motion during the past year revealing among other things that Hamilton County is in extremely good shape financially. The county has $51.5 million at its disposal.

With that money the county will easily provide its local share of the huge State Road 37 reconstruction. That project will see elimination of grade level intersections between Noblesville and I-69.

The total project with a $124 million price tag, is being largely financed by state funds with local entities paying $12 million each. The first phase, converting the 131st and 141st Street intersections to modern interchanges, will be completed in 2019.

At the same time plans are underway

Noblesville Parks-Ivy Tech partnership recognized at IPRA Awards Banquet

Noblesville Parks and Recreation and Ivy Tech Community College Hamilton County Campus were given the "Good to Great Award" by the Indiana Parks and Recreation Association at their annual conference this week. The Excellence in Resource Improvement Award was given for the partnership that created the Recreation Annex at Ivy Tech Community College, 300 N. 17th St., Noblesville.

"We are very proud of the collaborative project and it wouldn't be possible without Ivy Tech," Parks Director Brandon Bennett said.

The agreement with Ivy Tech allows the Noblesville Parks & Recreation Department to manage two gyms, two classrooms, a wellness room and the auditorium within the Hamilton County Campus. Joint upgrades made include batting cages in the gym, auditorium light and sound upgrades and a gym floor refurbishment scheduled for early 2017.

Community needs are met with spaces allowing for indoor programming and events like bubble soccer, pickleball and fitness classes; rental space for youth sports and birthday parties and an indoor performance venue. Partnering with Noblesville Parks allowed Ivy Tech to return the investment to the community and truly made it an asset for taxpayers, whether a student, park participant or partner. Since the inception of the partnership in October 2015, it has seen more than $43,000 in revenues and more than 15,500 participants to Noblesville Parks and Ivy Tech Campus.

"When the Hamilton County campus was envisioned, Ivy Tech Community College Chancellor of Central Indiana Dr.

Noblesville Parks and Recreation and Ivy Tech Community College Hamilton County Campus were given the Excellence in Resource Improvement Award by the Indiana Parks and Recreation Association at their annual conference this week.

Kathy Lee and Noblesville Mayor John Ditslear had in mind that the campus would be used for more than just a college. They had in mind that it would be used for the community," said Dan Clark, campus president. "The Noblesville Parks and Recreation were the first partners with our campus and set the standard with a simple ethic — they leave the place better than they found it and they do that with quality people."

IPRA presents a number of awards at their annual conference which include park projects, programs, events and exceptional individuals. The awards are voted on by a third party from outside of IPRA membership, leadership and staff.

K9 Scout locates burglary suspect

The Hamilton County Sheriff's Office responded to a report of a possible burglary in progress in the 1200 block of Twilight Drive in Noblesville on Jan. 26. Witnesses reported seeing a subject attempt to break into a home and then run away from the residence. Arriving deputies found a window broken out in the house.

In a stroke of fortunate timing, Sheriff's Office K9 Deputies and the Tactical Tracking Team happened to be training and were able to respond to the incident quickly.

Deputies on Days A squad responded to the scene and, along with Noblesville Police, set up a perimeter of the area while K9 Scout, handler Deputy Hoard, and members of the Tracking Team deployed from the scene. Scout's nose pointed the officers in the right direction to track the suspect and deputies soon observed near the Noblesville Moose Lodge an individual matching the description of witnesses at the scene.

Scout

Arrested in connection with the case was Christopher Austin Peak, age 31, of Terre Haute. Deputies forwarded a probable cause affidavit to the Prosecutor's Office listing charges of Criminal Mischief and Burglary. These charges are merely accusations and all persons are innocent unless found guilty in a court of law.

The County Line

All aboard Nickel Plate

By FRED SWIFT

There seems to be a chance, far from certain, but a chance, that trains will run again on the Nickel Plate Railroad through Hamilton County. The future of the rail line is cloudy, but there are indications that an as yet unidentified organization will submit a proposal to operate trains on the county's only remaining railroad.

For the past 20 years or more trains owned by the Indiana Transportation Museum has used the line for excursion trips including the popular Fairtrain. That ended last year when safety concerns caused the Hoosier Heritage Port Authority to suspend the museum's use of the tracks.

The future looked grim because an estimated $3 million in repairs to the rail bed, tracks and bridges is needed according to Port Authority investigators. The authority owns the railroad, but the museum was responsible for maintenance under an agreement between the two. The museum does not have that kind of money.

The port authority then decided to consider taking proposals from anyone interested in taking over use of the line. Originally the proposals were expected to be accepted in February. But, this week the attorney for the port authority, Anne Poindexter, said that decision will have to be delayed, and any proposals will not be due until at least March.

For the past 20 years trains owned by the Indiana Transportation Museum have used the Nickel Plate Railroad for excursion trips including the popular Fairtrain. Those trips ended last year when safety concerns caused the Hoosier Heritage Port Authority to suspend the museum's use of the tracks. New plans from a yet to be identified organization could salvage the county's only remaining railroad.

The Hamilton County Tourism Bureau which considers the railroad to be an attraction for visitors, is known to be interested in getting trains running again. But, the bureau's part, if any, in current plans is unknown. Also unknown is what part the transportation museum will play in the future of the Nickel Plate. The museum, headquartered at Forest Park, owns the trains and other rolling stock.

So, the future of the 166 year old railroad is far from certain. The rail line played a big part in the county's history, nurturing its development from the mid 19th century through the 1980s. The county government along with Noblesville and Fishers officials took action in the 1990s to save the railroad from abandonment by forming the port authority to take ownership.

But, recent developments have not looked encouraging. There has even been talk of using the rail bed for a hiking trail similar to the Monon. The proposals for future use, expected in March or April, may tell a lot about the future of train travel on the Nickel Plate.

Noblesville Schools wins $50,000 counseling grant

Noblesville Schools announced today that they have received a grant of $50,000 under Lilly Endowment Inc.'s Comprehensive Counseling Initiative for Indiana K-12 Students. The aim of Lilly's Counseling Initiative is to increase significantly the number of K-12 students in Indiana schools who are emotionally healthy, realize academic success, and are prepared to compete and prosper in the global society in which they will live and work.

Noblesville Schools' grant will be focused on expanding counseling efforts in four key areas:

- Authentic career education and experiences
- Diversity appreciation
- Data analysis to measure the effectiveness of student/family counseling initiatives

• Alternative programming and supports for students at risk for suspension/expulsion

"We are thrilled to have been awarded this generous grant from the Lilly Endowment," said Laura Denis, district student services administrator. "We are already planning outreach initiatives at multiple sites throughout the community to gain feedback on how this additional funding, and the enhanced counseling focus it affords us, can best serve all of our students."

A second phase of the Comprehensive Counseling Initiative grants will be decided this fall. The district stands to gain more than a million additional dollars for counseling if they are recognized at that time.

Hamilton County Parks to receive IU Health-Saxony grant

Indiana University Health North and Saxony hospitals, both located in Hamilton County, selected Hamilton County Parks and Recreation to receive their Physical Activity Priority Grant. The grant funds, totaling $6,000, are intended to offset operating expenses or fund programs designed to encourage and increase physical activity among Hamilton County residents.

According to Joy Davis, with IU Health, "Hamilton County Parks' mission aligns well with the mission of Indiana University Health, which is to improve the health of our community and patients through innovation and excellence in care, education, research and service."

Additional support for Hamilton County Parks, by way of funding and volunteer participation, has been provided in the past by IU Health through the hospitals' highly-regarded Day-of-Service community enhancement program. Over the past four years, the program has served to improve county parks with the intent to encourage healthier lifestyles within Hamilton County.

Representatives of Indiana University Health North and Saxony hospitals recently announced their plans to partner with Hamilton County Parks for their 2017 Day of Service program in September. Planning, in which project details will be determined, is now underway.

Slaughterhouse, processing plant decision delayed

By FRED SWIFT

A decision on a proposed slaughterhouse and processing plant on a small farm northeast of Noblesville has been delayed after the petitioner amended his request. The controversial plan submitted by Art Johnson, Noblesville, went to county commissioners Monday, but because of the amended zoning request it was sent to the county plan commission for a second review.

Johnson told commissioners he is amending the size of the proposed operation from 36 acres to only 10 acres of his property on 211th Street east of Ind. 37. Several residents living near the property, and opposed the plans, appeared at the commissioners meeting represented by Noblesville attorney Gordon Byers.

The plan commission had considered Johnson's request earlier and forwarded it to commissioners without making a recommendation of approval or denial. Commissioners must make a final decision on changes in such zoning. The plan commission meets next on Feb. 15 after which the matter will return again to commissioners in late February or March.

The proposed slaughterhouse is relatively small compared to operations in the same type business, according to planning director Chuck Kiphart. Johnson who plans to slaughter and process sheep for sale, said he would have no more than 150 of the animals on the property at any one time.

Although the area on 211th Street is technically rural, there are a significant number of homes in the area.

After that battle, because of his ability to speak German, Marvin was assigned as a liaison with German prisoners of war in a large POW camp near Reims, France. Following the war, Marvin joined his father and brother, Andrew, at Kessel Implement in Ashley, which was run by the family for over 40 years.

In 1945, Marvin married his grade school sweetheart, Dolores (Huether) Kessel. They were married for 66 loving years.

Marvin was very active in the community, participating in the Lions club, school board, Medical Center board, American Legion, Zion Lutheran Church board, and assisted in the development of the Ashley golf course.

In their retirement, Marvin and Dolores spent their winters in Phoenix, AZ. In their later years, the couple moved to Saint Paul to be with Steven and family until Dolores' death 6 years ago, at which time Marvin moved to be with his youngest son, Michael, and his family in Indianapolis.

Marvin was always at his happiest when he was surrounded by his grandchildren and great-grandchildren at the family's weekly Sunday night dinners in Indianapolis where he was surrounded by active great-grandchildren, laughter and frequently authentic German cooking. The family always looked forward to Marvin's jokes, which he had been saving all week to share.

Marvin is survived by two sons, Steve and his wife Arlene of Minneapolis, MN, and Michael and his wife Sandi of Fishers, IN. Marvin was also blessed with four grandchildren and twelve great-grandchildren (and counting), who were the pride of his life. His youngest sister, Elenore Boeddeker, also survives.

In addition to his parents, he was preceded in death by his devoted wife, Dolores, who passed away on 1/21/2011; two brothers, Andrew Kessel and Ted Kessel; and four sisters, Johanna Schock, Rebecca Thurn, Edna Geiszler and Annella Winkes.

Marvin's remains will be laid to rest in the Ashley Lutheran Cemetery. Should friends desire, contributions may be sent to Zion Lutheran Church or the Ashley American Legion.

Noblesville Common Council

After 25 years of discussion, anticipation and concerns, the Noblesville Common Council passed unanimously a request for $3.75 million dollars to fund the impact footprint for an east west corridor along Pleasant Street in old town Noblesville. The project will be a major road improvement project to improve intersections for Pleasant Street from State Road 37, west to Hague Road and State Road 32.

The project's intent is to substantially reduce the congestion of east west traffic along State Road 32 and 38 within the City. $2.75 million dollars will be spent on planning, design and permitting costs. $1 million dollars will be set aside for land acquisition once the determined route is agreed upon. The source of the money for the project will be reported back to the Council at a later meeting.

In December, a public meeting was held to discuss a summary of the route alternative analysis. The city favors the Pleasant Street route that was proposed in 1995. The SW Quad citizens group of neighbors most impacted by the project has worked for 2 years to find another route further south from Pleasant Street which will impact the greatest number of homes and families. The concerns include dividing the neighborhood by a major road that will be unsafe for children, difficult to cross and isolate a long standing part of the community. The County Government will pay for the bridge to carry the traffic across White River and on west. The county has asked the project to be considered for Federal Funding and is in agreement with the city on the Pleasant Street route. The funding could be ready in 2021 or as early as 2020. The project is estimated to take 10 years or more to complete at a cost of $40 million dollars plus not including the bridge crossing of White River.

The impacted area is called the Southwest Quad and sits south of downtown Noblesville, east of White River with Cherry Street to the north, Eight Street to the east, South Street to the south and is one of the oldest sections of the community. In February 2015, the city and the neighborhood met in three sessions to determine the needs of the area and how the city could assist along with other non for profits dealing with housing and other issues. A plan was put into place but little has been accomplished toward meeting initiatives such as home repairs, home improvements, neighborhood Crime Watch, Southside Park and connectivity to downtown and other neighborhoods. The median home price in the area is $60,300.00 including 28 significant historical homes with values into the $200,000.00 range. The area consists of nearly 400 homes and parcels. There is also industry in the area. The area was affected in 2000 - 2001 with a one hundred year flood affecting over 100 homes. Repairs have been slow coming to the area with 40% of the sidewalks considered in hazard conditions. Lack of street lighting has added to concerns with crime. The neighborhood considers the proximity to the downtown creating stronger connections as the number one asset.

How quickly things can change. Now the number one asset will be potentially blocked by the Pleasant Street Corridor that will slice the neighborhood into two pieces. It is understandable that the Pleasant Street Corridor has stalled any promises made in 2015 when the city met with the SW Quad neighbors and developed a plan which has been incorporated into the Comprehensive Master Plan for the city. Both of the city staff who developed the programs, are no longer with the city and the Community Engagement Manager position has not been filled.

With a to be funded plan for an east west Corridor now the city focus, most Council members expressed that the project will be the most expensive and complex project ever undertaken by the city. The project will either provide the new revitalization that has been promised for decades or it will be the end of the SW Quad neighborhood. Three years is estimated to complete the planning process and give the folks most impacted an idea of options available to them.

The Council gave direction for the process that the terms planning and design should mean "Best Practices" with the least impact on the existing neighborhood. Planning should mean consideration of all elements of good design concerning Corridors including economic development opportunities and new housing options along with a determination of the impact on historic structures. The Council agreed all of the design and planning will be public information with scheduled meetings for public input. A reminder was noted that Noblesville is a "Preserve America" city status and that status should be recognized.

Once again progress is difficult for the city, citizens and the future of the community. Keeping focused on a successful outcome will be difficult as well.

By JANET HART LEONARD

It was late Friday night when I wrote my column, or so I thought. Actually I was dreaming when I wrote it.

I woke up exhausted. I sometimes wrestle with ideas. Should I say this? Should I go there?

My intentions are always to cause discussion, create laughter or jog memories. My intentions are never to push my ideas, an agenda or evoke controversy.

This week my granddaughters, Abby and Alecks, were waiting in the car when they witnessed a mother screaming and swearing at her little girl who looked to be about three years old. I was inside Subway (probably good that I was not where I could hear the berating). When I got inside the car they were visibly shaken. "Grandma, it was really bad." Both girls began telling me not only what was screamed but how it was screamed.

If I had witnessed it, I probably would have asked the mother if she knew what her little girl's heart was hearing. I probably would have been told that it was none of my business.

My husband told me that he read a quote this week, "sticks and stones may break my bones but words will break my heart." And it's true.

I see it more and more every day. It makes me sad. Nothing hurts me like seeing a child hurt by actions or words.

Bullying has escalated into something we see every day. I worry about its effects on our children.

My dad was bullied as a child because he had only one shirt to wear. For all of his adult life he made sure any child that he knew would never go without. He celebrated Christmas with a passion because he knew what it felt like to be left out on Christmas morning.

Recently a man called me who had worked for my dad at Firestone. He said, "Janet, I just wanted to call you and let you know that your dad was one of the nicest men that I ever knew." He went on to tell me that several of the men that worked for my dad had talked this past summer while they were gathered around the square in downtown Noblesville. They talked about how no one ever had a bad word to say about my dad. He was fair. He spoke words of encouragement. He was a good man. He led by example.

I wiped tears as he spoke. My dad had an eighth grade education yet he made a difference in the lives of others. His words were never to bully anyone into agreeing with him. He never put anyone down for not agreeing with him. He listened with his heart. He was one who would show people how to do something, not just tell them how to do it.

We have the right to say what we think. We have the right to say it loudly. We have the right to sit in front of a screen and scream our opinion to the world. Does screaming make someone listen? Does writing in capital letters make our point of view any more important? Do we take our anger out on the innocent and tender hearts of our children? Do we realize what our children our hearing?

We have the right . . . but is it right?

I can dream of a world where kindness matters. I can dream of a world where words are chosen that make a difference for the good of others. I can dream of writing my column. And then I write.

Remember the "three-legged stool" when it comes to fitness

By SHARON McMAHON

"You have brains in your head. You have feet in your shoes. You can steer yourself any direction you choose."

In which direction do you plan to go in 2017? Are you "so done" with all the infomercials and ads about losing weight? Dropping 4 dress/pants sizes in just a few weeks?

Ring up the shopping network to order the "total gym" so that you will be transformed? The majority of Americans spend more than any other industrialized nation in their quest to be more fit and healthy.

In working with my fitness class participants, personal training, and nutrition clients, I find that initially they are either buoyed up by the rhetoric or defeated by it. Neither is particularly helpful in a quest to be the healthiest one can be. The January hype will die down a bit, and then the "get ready for swimsuit season" ads will begin. I sincerely believe that this type of encouragement can lead to yo-yo dieting and undermine our fitness goals. We are expected to indulge in holiday fare and then get to work to take it off, sometimes to the tune of spending quite a lot of money to do so.

Referring to the quote this week, let's use our brains to acknowledge that no advertisement, spokesperson, or magazine article can address our specific life situation. Over eating and a sedentary lifestyle are both behavior issues and very individual. A good personal trainer, nutrition consultant, or health care professional can work with you to get started in the direction that you want to go.

Yes, you do have feet in your shoes and you can begin any day, at any time, moving those feet to incorporate more action in your daily life. Walking...who knew? And, finally, steering yourself in the direction you choose; vitally important. A personal trainer or certified fitness consultant can work with you to determine your goals, not goals set for you by another person or a corporate entity!! A realistic direction in which you can go to achieve that goal will take you there.

Remember that a total fitness package incorporates the "three-legged stool" incorporating aerobic activity (increasing the heartbeat) along with strength training and of course, flexibility. The seat of this three-legged stool is nutrition. Your body needs fuel on which to run. If your car's manufacturer recommends premium gas to run most efficiently are you going to pump regular unleaded . . . probably not. Think of your healthy lifestyle as an investment, a much greater investment than any automobile!

Finally, do your homework. If a group fitness class works best for you then sign up and actually attend! Sometimes making a connection with a class partner can be encouraging. If your schedule or personal preference works best to hire a personal trainer, that might work best for you. In either case, be sure to ask about the class instructor's or personal trainer's qualifications; both experience and credentials. Otherwise, pick up those light weights at least three times weekly, get outside in a safe area to begin a walking routine (check with your neighbors, form a "walking club") and incorporate stretching on a regular basis. Your activities should never leave you in pain or acute discomfort but should be challenging and invigorating. The endorphins will also encourage mental clarity and a feeling of well-being.

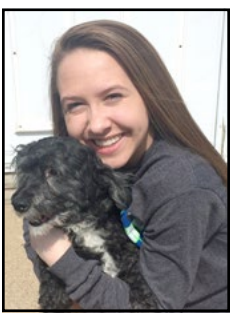

Next time I'll discuss one of my favorite topics; healthy (and yummy!) eating!

Why you should adopt, not shop

By SHERIDAN HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT MADDIE ZOLA

Crying and whining. Waiting for their forever home with your family... if only you would have visited the local humane society instead of getting a pet from a breeder. Nearly 3.5 million pets are euthanized each year in shelters all over the United States. As an avid animal lover and pitbull advocate, I was raised to love animals of any kind. My family owned five dogs, four horses, two bunnies, three cats and a whole lot of fish by the time I was four. As I grew up, I developed a passion for horseback riding and became very skilled at it. I have devoted most of my life to the care and understanding that animals and humans should live as equals. I'm always looking to adopt (if dad agrees to more animals in the house) and better the lives of any animals I can.

Just last year, my family adopted two cats named Cleo and Clover, and a guinea pig named Penelope. As many animals as we had previously owned, we had never bought and always adopted, so I have grown up very adamant about never buying from breeders. My twin sister and I were taught responsibility, passion, and affection at a very young age. By adopting pets from a shelter or humane society, you can prevent innocent lives from being destroyed and you can give them a second chance. Plus, it's so much cheaper, and these pets can provide the same amount of love, if not more, for their human companions.

You could say that you consider buying from a breeder rescuing, but animals who are already in a shelter are at a much higher risk of being killed. Shelter pets cost about $50 and under; as for breeders, they will casually sell their animals for $500 minimum. Shelters will usually offer vouchers to get vaccines or will already have them administered. As for buying from a breeder? One hundred and fifty dollars is not uncommon to pay for shots and medication. Microchipping can cost $30 or less compared to $45 to $60 at a veterinarian.

If you would rather buy from a breeder, you might say that shelter pets will eventually cost more because they are at risk for disease and health problems, but in fact, animals who are at a shelter are well-taken-care-of, but lack the amount of love an able-bodied human can give them. People who buy from breeders often have the mentality that shelter dogs are crippled and rejected, but I am here to tell you that every single animal that we have ever adopted has given us nothing less than a full heart and love.

Just think about it, the more people who adopt from a shelter, the less people buy from breeders, which means that they won't breed their animals anymore because they can't make money. According to luckydoganimalrescue.com, for children, early introduction to dogs and cats can minimize colds, ear infections, and respiratory problems. Also, by adopting an animal from a shelter you can increase your social circle by meeting new friends walking your dog, taking it to the park, and interacting with other people by telling them your dog's story. If you adopt instead of shop, then you can feel good about your decision and will know that you are not just saving one life, but two.

WORKSHOP

Director Melissa Maulding, these daylong Active Living Workshops will bring together government staff, civic leaders and advocates to network, learn about the benefits of active-living communities, and discuss strategies for success.

“We’re very excited to engage with Indiana communities in a new way,” said Maulding. “Since 1994, our NEP Assistants have provided nutrition education lessons to youth and adults through schools and a variety of community groups, helping them to eat better and move more.”

“Now as our Community Wellness Coordinators work with Health by Design to bring these Active Living Workshops to Indiana communities, we’re looking forward to making an even bigger impact in local health.”

Each workshop will be tailored for the individual community and will build upon existing assets and projects already underway. Presenters will lead participants through various group exercises to identify active-living priorities. Other activities may include a walk audit to assess the safety and comfort of sidewalks and streets, mapping exercises designed to identify important destinations and access to them, and/or a streetscape visualization to show potential improvements to a key intersection or corridor.

“This workshop will demonstrate that healthy people and vibrant communities go hand-in-hand. Creating neighborhoods and public spaces that allow and encourage active living has vast benefits for everyone,” said Kim Irwin, executive director of Health by Design, a statewide coalition that works to create built environments that foster healthy living.

“If someone can easily walk to the grocery store or bike to work, for example, they’re more likely to do so, which is good for him or her as an individual, but also for the environment and the entire community,” Irwin added.

Throughout 2016, the Nutrition Education Program and Health by Design awarded and conducted seven Active Living Workshops in communities across Indiana.

Denny Spinner, Mayor of the City of Huntingburg, participated in the Active Living Workshop for his community that was held in October 2016. “The Active Living Workshop was an opportunity for us to bring together those in our community that are truly dedicated to improving Huntingburg’s quality of life,” said Spinner.

“We had a great day of discussion and activity that allowed us to explore some of the barriers we have in making our city more fit-friendly, while also identifying the things already in place that we are doing well. I came away with a clearer vision on how to integrate these issues into the city’s way of doing business, and energized by the community involvement that was included in all of the day’s events,” Spinner added.

For more information on the Active Living Workshop in Sheridan or to be involved in the planning, contact Gloria Del Greco, Community Wellness Coordinator, at 317-776-0854.

to rebuild Pleasant Street in Noblesville to a wider thoroughfare designed to bypass the downtown area. The city of Noblesville has agreed to proceed with the street work while the county will pay for a new bridge over White River the allow connection to River Road west of the river.

Dillinger also revealed plans, previously reported unofficially, for a multi-million dollar expansion of Riverview Health (hospital). The addition which will include a parking garage is scheduled to be built to the east of the existing hospital along Conner Street. The expansion will be financed with hospital generated revenue.

Work will begin soon on another major expansion, the addition of up to 100,000 square feet to the County Government and Judicial Center. The 25-year old building is short on office space and more courtroom space will soon be needed. The addition will be on the west front of the structure and feature an architecturally attractive façade.

County offices of the auditor, treasurer, assessor and recorder which are currently in the old Courthouse, will be moved into the new, expanded space, Dillinger reported. The use of the historic courthouse has not been officially determined, but non-profit community organizations may well be invited to occupy the building. Some of these agencies are scattered throughout the city and are paying substantial rental fees.

Dillinger reviewed more expansion news as he discussed the building of more jail space. The present county jail has a capacity of 296 and is often overcrowded. Up to 200 new cell beds are scheduled to be added assuming commissioners and the county council can reach agreement on the size of the expansion. Other changes at the corrections complex on Cumberland Road will see new facilities for female inmates and a move of juvenile facilities to a remodeled former secured building.

Opening this year at the Strawtown-Kotewii County Park will be a new stable and riding paths for horseback riders, Dillinger announced. The park of nearly 800 acres has now been connected to the White River Campgrounds by a historically authentic iron bridge over White River. Other improvements at the county's largest park are ongoing, Dillinger noted.

Tourism is playing an increasingly important part in the county's economy, Dillinger says. Tourism is now responsible for more than $97 million in tax revenue in Hamilton County. In addition, there are 13,383 jobs that have been created by the tourism and convention business. County businesses realized nearly a 12 percent increase in revenue last year from tourism, according to the commissioner's figures.

Finally, Dillinger reported that the current phase of the Noblesville Riverwalk is underway and will be complete by next year. With city cooperation, it will extend from Division Street on the south to near Clinton Street on the north where a pedestrian bridge already accesses Forest Park. From that point the paved pathway extends north of Potters Bridge.

Millers overwhelm Pendleton in regular season finale

By RICHIE HALL

Reporter Sports Editor

The Noblesville girls basketball team finished its regular season with a resounding victory at The Mill on Wednesday.

The Millers beat Pendleton Heights 72-55, running away from the Arabians with a big third quarter. It was significant because Pendleton came to Noblesville with an 18-win record, so it was good for the Millers to get a quality win with the sectional tournament on the agenda for next week.

The first quarter was a fast one, with the Arabians leading 21-16 when the dust settled. Emily Kiser scored seven points, and both she and Mallory Johnson hit one 3-pointer each. That helped Noblesville to keep pace with Pendleton, which had three 3s in the period. Another 3-pointer, by Maggie Dooley, put the Arabians up 24-16 early in the second quarter.

Pendleton still led 26-18 in the second, and that's when the Millers made their first move by scoring 11 unanswered points. Maddie Knight scored six of those points, including a 3, and Sam Salmon threw in a 3-pointer as well. Kiser then scored a layin to move Noblesville ahead 29-26.

The Arabians scored five points to end the half up 31-29. When the second half began, the Millers made their second move, outscoring Pendleton 23-6 in the third quarter. Kiser added eight more points, Johnson scored six, and Brooke Herron finished the period by making a traditional 3-point play.

"We just rebounded better, and good things happen when you rebound," said Noblesville coach Donna Buckley. "We didn't give them any second chance points. We locked down on defense."

The Millers kept rolling through the fourth, not allowing the Arabians to get any closer than 10 points. That happened late in the game, but Noblesville finished on a 10-3 run, including eight more points from Kiser, who made a pair of 3-point plays in the final two minutes of the contest.

In all, Kiser totaled 29 points, and pulled 11 rebounds for yet another double-double. Knight added 16 points, while Johnson totaled 13. Herron pulled five rebounds and dished out four assists.

Want more stats? How about six assists and three blocked shots for Kiser. Johnson also had five assists and made four steals as well.

Noblesville finished its regular season with a 12-9 record. The Millers are now off until Friday, Feb. 3, when it travels to Hamilton Southeastern for play in Class 4A Sectional 8. Noblesville will take on the winner of Tuesday's sectional opener between Westfield and the host Royals; that game tips off at 6 p.m.

Buckley said her team has been playing well in the last half of the season.

"I think we started 4-6 and are 8-3 in our last 11 games," said the coach. "We just and build momentum going into next want to continue to work on getting better week."

Royals-Rocks to open girls sectional play on Tuesday

Since Class 4A Sectional 8 contains Hamilton County's five biggest schools, there are no unknowns once the tournament comes around.

Sectional 8 takes place at Hamilton Southeastern this year, and the Royals will play the tournament's very first game against a team they know rather well: Westfield. Tip-off will be at 6 p.m. Tuesday.

Southeastern defeated the Shamrocks 61-33 when the teams met just a couple weeks ago, on Jan. 14. The Royals led a 17-5 record, while Westfield is 8-14.

Southeastern lost a tough regular-season finale on Tuesday. Playing their third consecutive game against a top 10 team on Tuesday, the 4A No. 6 Royals fell to Pike 62-58 in an away game. The Red Devils were ranked No. 5 at the time, but have moved up to fourth in this week's poll, the final list of the 2016-17 season.

The Royals, who remained at sixth in the final poll, trailed 19-13 after the first quarter, but came back to within 33-31 by halftime. The Red Devils outscored HSE 20-10 in the third period to take a 53-41 lead; Southeastern made a comeback in the fourth quarter, but fell just short.

Bre Lloyd scored 17 points for the Royals, throwing in three 3-pointers and also blocking two shots. Amaya Hamilton reached double-double status with 14 points and 10 rebounds. Sydney Parrish and Malea Jackson both scored 10 points; Parrish handed out four assists and Jackson made four steals.

Westfield, meanwhile, played two games last week. First, the 'Rocks easily defeated Arsenal Tech 63-37 Wednesday at The Rock.

The Shamrocks were in control from the beginning, leading 15-6 after the first quarter and 30-15 at halftime. Westfield finished the game by outscoring Tech 21-12 in the fourth period.

Ryann Bunting had another remarkable shooting night, draining six 3-pointers on her way to 22 points. Morgan Clary added 12 points and Jade Shipley scored 11.

Annabelle O'Hair led the rebounding with seven boards. Emily Katter had six rebounds, nine assists and five steals. Morgan Clary made four steals.

On Thursday, Westfield dropped its regular-season finale at Franklin Central Thursday 63-54.

The Flashes led 17-6 after the first quarter, but the Shamrocks cut that advantage to 25-20 by halftime. Franklin Central outscored Westfield 18-14 in the third period and were able to hold that lead in the fourth.

Shipley scored 16 points to lead the 'Rocks, with Sophia Kreag adding 14. Both also had four rebounds. Clary dished out five assists and made four steals.

'Blazers go 3-0 in last week's games

University will head into the sectional tournament with momentum, as the Trailblazers won all three of their games last week.

On Tuesday, University beat Greenwood Christian 51-49 in an away game. Lindsey Syrek led all scorers with 26 points. Emma Caress added 12 points.

The 'Blazers then cruised to a 51-25 win over Broad Ripple Wednesday at the "U" Center. UHS was in control from the beginning, getting in front 16-4 by the end of the first quarter and leading 27-10 at halftime. Fifteen different players got playing time for University.

Syrek led the way, finishing with a double-double of 14 points and 11 rebounds. Syrek also made two blocks. Caress had four steals.

On Friday, University closed the regular season with a 79-26 girls basketball win over Metropolitan at The U Center.

Natalie Nickless and Syrek had 20 points each for University while Caress had 18 in the Senior Night victory. Alexa Nealy had nine points while seniors Honor Cosby and Maggie Klemsz had four each.

The teams started slowly, with neither team scoring until Cosby hit a basket with 4:40 remaining in the first quarter.

Five points from Syrek staked University to a 7-0 before the Trailblazers went on a 12-2 run over the last 2:30 of the quarter to take a 19-2 lead after one. Nickless had a pair of three pointers in the quarter ending spurt, while Caress had four points and Syrek two.

University raced to a 34-4 lead midway through the second quarter and cruised to their 19th win of the season, the most regular season wins in school history.

University will open Class 1A Sectional 58 play Wednesday evening against Indiana Math & Science Academy. The game will tip at 6 p.m. at Bethesda Christian School in Brownsburg.

Huskies, GC to meet Tuesday at Tipton

Class 3A Sectional 24 takes place at Tipton this year, but Tuesday will be Hamilton County night there.

Hamilton Heights and Guerin Catholic will play each other in the first round of the tournament, with the tip-off at 7 p.m. That will be the only game of the evening. The winner advances to a Friday semi-final against the host Blue Devils.

When the two teams met earlier this season, the Huskies won 56-14. Heights, in fact, finished its regular season with the best defensive average in either 3A or 4A, having held its opponents to 33.55 points per game on average.

The Huskies proved their reputation as one of the state's top defensive teams on Tuesday, as they overwhelmed Frankfort 57-16 in a game at Case Arena. Heights led 25-4 at halftime, never allowing the Hot Dogs more than seven points in a quarter; holding them to zero points in the second period.

Meanwhile, the Huskies' balance was on full display, as all nine players that took to the court scored. Taylor Boyd led the way with 14 points, while Peyton Dissett and Lexi Branham both added 11. Boyd had a fantastic game, with seven rebounds and three blocked shots. Bayleigh Runner made five steals, and Branham dished out four assists.

Heights fell at Lafayette Jeff Thursday night, losing a roller-coaster game 51-47.

The Bronchos led 29-20 at halftime, but the Huskies came roaring back in the third quarter, only allowing Jeff two points. That put Heights up 36-31 at the end of the period. But the Bronchos made a comeback of their own in the fourth quarter, outscoring the Huskies 20-11.

Three Heights players reached double figures. Bayleigh Runner threw in four 3-pointers on her way to 17 points, with Ashton Runner and Lauryn Wiley both scoring 10. Ana Collar and Wiley both pulled eight rebounds, and Ashton Runner handed out four assists. The Huskies are now 13-9

Meanwhile, Guerin Catholic won a close game at the Eagles Nest on Tuesday, edging Decatur Central 37-36.

The Golden Eagles trailed 8-6 after the first quarter, but came back to lead 17-15 at halftime. Danielle Mason scored nine points to lead Guerin, with Grace Demas grabbing seven rebounds and Mason getting six.

On Friday, GC lost to Lafayette Central Catholic 57-33. Freshman Nicole Cunningham scored 10 points, with Kate Anderson grabbing seven rebounds, and Grace Demas getting five. The Golden Eagles are 7-17.

Carmel, Fishers to face off in sectional first round

The second game of Tuesday's Class 4A Sectional 8 at Hamilton Southeastern will be just like the first: A re-match between two county teams.

Carmel will take on Fishers, with the tip-off at approximately 7:30 p.m., after the evening's first contest between the Royals and Westfield. The winner of the Greyhounds-Tigers match-up will play Anderson on Friday in that night's second semi-final.

Carmel is 19-3, and ranked fifth in the final Class 4A coaches poll. Fishers is 10-12. The two teams played each other on Jan. 17, with the 'Hounds winning 64-35.

Both teams played twice last week. First, Carmel beat Cathedral 65-44 in a Tuesday away game.

The Greyhounds were in control from the beginning, leading 19-5 after the first quarter and 37-10 at halftime. Tomi Taiwo had a sensational game, making five 3-pointers on her way to 17 points. Taiwo also had five steals.

Mackenzie Wood scored 10 points, and pulled eight rebounds. Amy Dilk was all over the stat line, with nine points, nine assists, eight rebounds and five steals.

Carmel finished its regular season on Friday with a 59-47 victory at Ben Davis in a Metropolitan Conference game.

The Class 4A No. 4 Greyhounds led the 4A No. 8 Giants 19-11 after the first quarter and 33-22 at halftime. Blake Smith scored 16 points for Carmel, with Tomi Taiwo making three 3-pointers on her way to 15 points.

Dilk led with 12 points, nine assists, eight rebounds and four steals. Smith and Wood both grabbed five rebounds.

Meanwhile, the Greyhound varsity finished its regular season at 19-3, and tied for third in the MIC with a 4-3 record. Carmel will play Fishers at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the first round of the Class 4A Hamilton Southeastern sectional.

The Greyhounds junior varsity won its game in overtime, 53-52. Maddi Sears scored 19 points, followed by Macy Berglund with 11, and Lauren Gartenhaus and Anna Kmec with six points each. Carmel's JV finished its season 22-0, the first time in school history at girls JV team went undefeated.

Meanwhile, Fishers finished up Hoosier Crossroads Conference play on a high note, defeating Brownsburg 43-28 Tuesday in the first game of a girl-boy doubleheader at the Bulldogs' gym.

The Tigers led 15-6 after the first quarter and 25-11 at halftime. Brownsburg made a run in the third period, but Fishers outscored the Bulldogs 14-7 in the fourth.

Toni Grace scored 10 points for the Tigers, and also pulled nine rebounds. Audrey Turner had nine rebounds as well, and blocked five shots.

On Friday, Fishers fell to Pike 66-37 in the Tigers' regular-season finale and Senior Night game.

The Red Devils led 18-9 after the first quarter and 32-13 at halftime. Fishers cut into the Pike lead in the third quarter, getting as close as 48-35, but the Red Devils ran away with fourth period, outscoring the Tigers 18-2.

Royals win all-county game with Millers

By RICHIE HALL

Reporter Sports Editor

Hamilton Southeastern turned up the pressure Friday night, and came away with a win in an all-county game.

The Royals beat Noblesville 61-41 at their gym. The win allowed Southeastern to stay near the top of the Hoosier Crossroads Conference standings; HSE is currently tied for second with Brownsburg with a 3-1 record. Zionsville rules the HCC with a 4-0 mark.

The first quarter got off to a slow start. Corby Mertens got the Millers on the board first with a layin. The Royals had to wait until the 5:29 mark to get their first basket, a 3-pointer by Austin Holzum. That started a 12-0 run for Southeastern, with Zach Gunn scoring seven of those points.

Noblesville's Rico Duncan ended the run with a jump shot. The Royals' Noah Smith then made two free throws with no time left on the clock at the end of the first period, which made the score 14-4.

Southeastern pushed its lead to 26-10 with 1:11 left in the second quarter, with Gunn scoring six points. The Millers were able to work their way back in the final minute, cutting HSE's lead to 28-17 by halftime. Corby Mertens helped out by making a 3-pointer at the buzzer.

Duncan opened the third quarter by making a floater, and that immediately got Noblesville within 28-19. But the Royals answered with a 6-0 run; Smith's steal put Southeastern up 34-19.

"All night long I thought our defensive pressure and intensity was good," said HSE coach Brian Satterfield.

Noblesville came back again, with a putback from Xavier Hines getting the Millers within 34-24. The quarter ended with Smith draining a 3-pointer to put HSE ahead 39-26.

"I thought defensively we did what we wanted to do," said Noblesville coach Brian McCauley. "Where we struggled was offensively. Their pressure bothered us."

The Royals steadily increased their lead in the fourth period. Nick Bowman threw in a pair of 3-pointers, as well a basket off a steal. Bowman wound up with 10 points on the night.

"It all started with that steal," said Satterfield. "I thought that was the key thing. One thing he likes to do is get up and pressure people, and I thought getting that pressure, getting that steal allowed him to do stuff."

Gunn reached double-double status by scoring 17 points and grabbing 12 rebounds, and also had four assists and four blocked shots. Smith scored 11. Aaron Etherington scored eight points and had six rebounds.

Mertens led Noblesville with 17 points. Hines scored 10 points, going 5-for-5 from the field.

Carmel defends title over HSE, Millers second at Elwood

There was nothing light about Carmel's lightweights during the Zionsville wrestling sectional Saturday.

The Greyhounds won championships in the first four weight divisions at the sectional, and that pretty much sealed up a defense of their team championship. Carmel repeated as sectional winner with 232 points, eventually taking six of the 14 weight classes. Just as importantly, the 'Hounds qualified 13 wrestlers on to next Saturday's regional at North Montgomery.

Hamilton Southeastern finished second, scoring 192 points. The Royals got one win, and will send 11 wrestlers to the regional next weekend. Westfield placed fourth, also taking an individual title, and advanced seven to the regional. Fishers finished sixth, getting one individual win, and qualified five to North Montgomery.

Brendan Mattingly was the first Greyhound to win a blue ribbon, as he defeated HSE's Reece Luhmann by a 13-4 major decision in an all-freshman 106-pound championship match. Kyle Holman was next for Carmel, edging the top seed and fellow sophomore Tallon Surber of Clinton Central in a 6-4 decision.

Next up for the 'Hounds were two seniors. Dominic Pecoraro, a 120-pounder, beat Royals' junior Blake Forbes in a 6-0 decision for the title in that class. At 126 pounds, Adam Jerde got past HSE junior Jacob Garcia in a 6-5 decision to make Carmel 4-for-4.

The Greyhounds' other two winners were 152-pound junior Jack Eiteljorge, who easily took his record to 25-1 with a 14-5 major decision victory over Zionsville junior Sam Gobeyn. Finally, at 285 pounds, junior Jack Williams won in an ultimate tiebreak over Westfield senior Austin Dollens, with the score 4-2.

Other place-winners for Carmel included Chad Sauder, who took second at 145 pounds. Placing third were Logan Hart at 170, Jayden Williams at 195 and Eric Boleman at 220. Fourth-place Greyhounds were Garrett Sharp at 132, Cameron Bacon at 160 and Bryce Sharp at 182.

The Royals' champion was 182-pound senior Alec Jessop, who edged Lebanon senior Evan Stambaugh in the final bout 3-2. Stambaugh came into that match with a 30-0 record before Jessop's close victory.

Luhmann, Forbes and Garcia were among five runners-up for Southeastern. Also getting second for the Royals were two seniors, 170-pounder Joe Mazero and Joe Myren at 220. Myren was edged by unbeaten Lebanon junior Jacob McClaine in an ultimate tiebreak, with the score 3-2.

Freshman Tyler Wagner (at 138) and sophomore Crae Kunkelman (at 285) both finished third, while freshman Jacob Simone (at 113), freshman Ronan Hiner (at 145) and senior Kyle Wagner (at 152) all placed fourth.

Westfield's winner was Liam Jagow, who got past Zionsville's Drew Williamson in an all-senior final at 195 pounds. Jagow needed a tiebreak to win 3-1, and improve his record to 36-1 on the season.

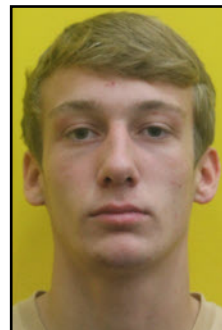

Dollens was one of three runners-up for the Shamrocks. Also placing second were junior Noah Robinson at 138 and senior Justin Miller at 160. They will be joined at the regional by two third-place finishers - freshman Carson Eldred at 106 and senior Reid Hutson at 113 - and freshman Milo Merkel, who took fourth at 120.

Senior Beau Wilbrandt was Fishers' champion. He took the 145-pound title over Sauder with a second-period pin, the only county wrestler to win by fall.

Junior Jaren Tunstill (at 132) and senior Spencer Bischoff (at 152) each placed third for the Tigers. Placing fourth for Fishers were junior Alexander Streuder (at 126) and sophomore George Vrachnos (at 138).

Sheridan finished ninth at the sectional, and had two wrestlers place fifth: Junior Justin Delph at 145 pounds and sophomore Ian Pence at 285 pounds.
